STATIONS, MISSIONARIES, AND OTHER LABOURERS, MAY 1, 1876.

 A STATION is the place at which a Missionary or European Catechist is stationed, or at which Native Christians are located under Native pastoral superintendence in connexion with the Society. The letter (m) means Married.—Wives of Missionaries, &c., though not named, except when engaged in some specific employment, are always expected by the Society to lay themselves out to do good, in every practicable way, among Native Females; such as cultivating familiar intercourse with them, educating children, and instructing Female Adults.

The figures after the Names of the European Labourers show the date of their first connexion with the Society's Missions.

The asterisk (*) denotes that the Missionary is on his way out. The mark (†) that he is on his way home.

LAWS AND REGULATIONS

OF THE

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY FOR AFRICA AND THE EAST.

(As revised at a Special Meeting of Members of the Society, held April 20, 1875.)

I. THIS Institution shall be designated "The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East;" and shall be conducted by a Patron or Patrons, a Vice-Patron, a President, Vice-Presidents, a Committee, and such Officers as may be deemed necessary, all being Members of the Established Church of England or of the Church of Ireland.

II. The office of PATRON of the Society shall be reserved for Members of the Royal Family; and that of VICE-PATRON for His Grace the Primate of all England, if, being a Member of the Society, he shall accept the office. The PRESIDENT shall be such Temporal Peer or Commoner as may be appointed to that office; and VICE-PRESIDENTS shall consist of all Archbishops and Bishops of the Churches of England and Ireland, who, being Members of the Society, shall accept the office; and of such other persons as, being also Members, shall be appointed thereto.

OF MEMBERS AND GOVERNORS.

III. Annual Subscribers of One Guinea and upward, and if Clergymen, Half-a-Guinea, with Collectors of Fifty-two Shillings and upward per annum, shall be Members of the Society during the continuance of such Subscriptions or Collections. Benefactors of Ten Guineas, or upward, and Clergymen making Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas, shall be Members for Life.

IV. Annual Subscribers of Five Guineas shall be Governors during the continuance of such Subscription; and Benefactors of Fifty Pounds and upward shall be Governors for Life.

V. Members and Governors of Auxiliaries and of Associations who contribute the above sums shall be considered as Members and Governors of the Parent Society.

VI. The Committee shall have the power of appointing such persons as have rendered essential services to the Society, either Honorary Members for Life, or Honorary Governors for Life.

OF GENERAL MEETINGS.

VII. An Annual Meeting of the Members of the Society shall be held in London, on the First Tuesday in May; unless that day shall fall on the 7th of May, in which case the Annual Meeting shall be held, for that year, on Tuesday the 30th of April; when the Proceedings of the foregoing year shall be reported, the Accounts presented, and a Treasurer and Committee chosen.

VIII. The Committee may summon a Special General Meeting of the Members of the Society [at which not less than Thirty shall constitute a Quorum] at any time, and they shall do so on receipt of a requisition in writing, addressed to the Secretaries, and signed by not less than Fifty Members of the Society, and specifying the object of the Meeting. Ten days' notice shall be given in Three public Newspapers, of any such intended Meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called; which shall be deemed sufficient publicity.

IX. None of the Laws and Regulations of the Society shall be repealed or altered, nor any new ones made, but at the Annual Meeting, or at a Special General Meeting called for that purpose.

X. An Anniversary Sermon shall be preached at some Church in London, by a Clergyman appointed by the Committee. An Annual Report of the Society shall be printed, for the use of its Members.

OF THE COMMITTEE.

XI. The Committee shall consist of Twenty-four Lay Members of the Established Church of England or of the Church of Ireland; and of all Clergymen who are Members of the Society and have been so for not less than one year. Of the Twenty-four Lay Members, Eighteen shall be re-appointed each year from the existing Committee, and Six shall be elected from the General Body of the Society.

XII. The Committee shall elect, at their First Meeting in every year, either from among themselves, or from the other Members of the Society (being Members of the Established Church of England or of the Church of Ireland), a Committee of Patronage, a Committee of Funds, a Committee of Correspondence, a Committee of Finance, and a Committee of Estimates, and shall have power to fill up vacancies. Each of the said Committees shall keep Minutes of its Proceedings, and shall report the same for confirmation to the Committee.

XIII. The office of the Committee of Patronage is, to procure patronage and support to the Society; and to nominate to the Committee, proper persons as Patrons, President, Vice-Presidents, Honorary Life Governors, Honorary Life Members of the Society, and preachers of the Anniversary Sermons.

XIV. The office of the Committee of Funds is, to circulate information respecting the Society; to adopt means of obtaining Subscriptions, Benefactions, and Collections in Churches, Chapels, and at Meetings; to take a general oversight of the Associations; and to nominate, from time to time, to the Committee, suitable persons to act as Agents and Representatives of the Society for these objects.

XV. The office of the Committee of Correspondence is, to seek for proper Missionaries, to nominate them to the Committee, to superintend their instruction, to recommend their location, and to correspond with them when sent out, and generally to direct the foreign work of the Society.

XVI. The office of the Committee of Finance is, generally to superintend the accounts and financial affairs of the Society.

XVII. The office of the Committee of Estimates is, to prepare and submit to the Committee an Estimate of the probable expenditure of the Society, and from time to time to note and to report to the Committee how far the expenditure corresponds with the sanctioned Estimate.

XVIII. The Committee of Correspondence shall elect from among themselves, at their first Meeting in every year, a Clerical Sub-Committee, for the examination of Missionary Candidates.

XIX. The Committee shall receive and deal with the Reports of the other Committees, shall decide upon the countries where Missions shall be carried on, and shall superintend and control the affairs of the Society in general.

XX. The Committee shall have power to appoint such Officers and Assistants as they shall deem necessary for the well-conducting of the affairs of the Society, subject, in the case of the appointment of Secretaries, to the approbation of the next Annual Meeting. One, at least, of the Secretaries shall be a layman.

XXI. The Committee shall meet on the Second Monday in every Month, and oftener if needful; but should the second Monday be a Bank Holiday the Meeting shall be held on the day following. The other Committees shall meet as often, and at such places, as shall be by them agreed on. All Committee Meetings shall be opened with reading a Form of Prayer composed for that purpose, or one or more suitable Prayers selected from the Liturgy.

XXII. The Patrons, Vice-Patron, President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Secretaries, shall be considered, ex officio, Members of all Committees. Governors, being Members of the Established Church of England, or of the Church of Ireland, shall be entitled to attend and vote at all Meetings of the Committee.

XXIII. Five Members shall be necessary to form a Quorum of the Committee; and Three of each of the Committees provided for in Law XII.; in each case exclusive of the Secretaries. In cases of equality of votes, the Chairman shall be entitled to a second or casting vote.

XXIV. All payments on account of the Society shall be signed by Three Members of the Committee, in Committee, and the Lay Secretary, or in his absence by one of the other Secretaries.

XXV. Five Auditors shall be appointed by the Committee, annually, for the purpose of auditing the Accounts of the Society, of whom not more than two shall be Members of the Committee. Three shall be a Quorum.

OF MISSIONARIES.

XXVI. In the selection of Candidates for the Missionary office the following course shall be pursued. The cases of Candidates who are already in Holy Orders, or who are University Graduates, or whom it is proposed to send out without further training, shall be considered by the Committee of Correspondence, the Candidate having (as a rule) appeared in person before them, and a report having been given, after a personal interview, by one or more members of the Clerical Sub-Committee. If any Member of the Committee of Correspondence shall show reason for requiring further information, the consideration shall be deferred till a subsequent Meeting of that Committee. Other Candidates shall be examined by the Clerical Sub-Committee, which shall report to the Committee of Correspondence.

XXVII. A Candidate nominated by the Committee of Correspondence, and accepted by the Committee, shall receive instruction in such parts of knowledge, and be prepared in such a manner for his future employment, as the Committee of Correspondence shall judge expedient.

XXVIII. Each Candidate shall consider himself engaged to go to any part of the world, and at any time that the Committee shall decide, and be subject to such Regulations as may be established by the Committee for the direction of Missionary Candidates: respect, however, being had to his personal circumstances, or to any previous stipulation made by him with the Society.

XXIX. Each Candidate, after due preparation, shall be sent out, either ordained or unordained, at the discretion of the Committee*.

XXX. The Missionaries who go out under the direction of this Society shall be allowed to visit home, permission having been previously obtained from the Committee: and after having laboured in the cause of the Society, to the satisfaction of the Committee, at the Stations committed to their care, until age or infirmity prevent further exertion, such provision shall be made to render their remaining days comfortable as in the judgment of the Committee is suitable. The Committee shall have the power to assist also, in particular cases, the dependent Relatives of those Missionaries, who, by devoting themselves to the service of the Society, are prevented from contributing to their support. The Committee shall be further empowered in special cases to make such arrangements with those employed by them as they may think fit.

GENERAL.

XXXI. A friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

XXXII. All questions relating to matters of Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, respecting which a difference shall arise between any Colonial Bishop and a Committee of the Society, shall be referred to the Archbishops and Bishops of the Church of England, whose decision thereupon shall be final.

XXXIII. The object of the preceding Law being only to provide a mode of settling questions relating to Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, as to which no provision has yet been made by the Society, it is not to be so construed, as in any other respect to alter the principles and practices of the Society, as they are contained in its Laws and Regulations, and explained in Appendix II. to the Thirty-ninth Report.

The proposed reference shall be made, through His Grace the Primate, by the Committee, accompanied by such explanations and statements as the Committee may deem advisable; and the Committee will be bound so to refer all questions, falling within the scope of the Rule so understood as aforesaid, which the Colonial Bishop shall require them to refer.

While all decisions of the Bench of Bishops on questions so referred will be considered by the Committee as binding on them and their agents or representatives, the Colonial Bishops or other Ecclesiastical Authorities, unless concurring in the reference, cannot properly be considered as so bound.

XXXIV. It is recommended to every Member of the Society to pray to Almighty God for a blessing upon its designs; under the full conviction, that, unless He "prevent us, in all our doings, with His most gracious favour, and further us with His continual help," we cannot reasonably hope to meet with persons of a proper spirit and qualifications to be Missionaries, or expect their endeavours to be crowned with success.

* The following passage, from Appendix II. to the Thirty-ninth Annual Report, illustrates the practice of the Society in reference to this Rule:—

"The Bishops of the Church, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth [ecclesiastically speaking] our Missionaries: these Missionaries are licensed and superintended abroad, in every case where it is practicable, by Colonial Bishops of the Church of England; as are the other Clergymen of the Church officiating in the same Colony. The Services which the Missionaries perform are in strict conformity with the Ritual and Discipline of the Church."

APPENDIX II. TO THE THIRTY-NINTH REPORT

REFERRED TO IN THE NOTE TO LAW XXIX.

REMARKS ON THE CONSTITUTION AND PRACTICE OF THE CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY, WITH REFERENCE TO ITS ECCLESIASTICAL RELATIONS.

It is the object of the following Remarks to show, that the constitution and practice of the Church Missionary Society are in strict conformity with Ecclesiastical principles, as they are recognized in the constitution and practice of the Church of England.

Throughout the system of the Church of England there is a recognized co-operation of temporal and spiritual functions in MATTERS ECCLESIASTICAL; that is, the Laity and Clergy have not only their separate and distinct provinces, but, in many important respects, they unite their agency for the accomplishing of Ecclesiastical acts.

For instance, in supplying a vacant Church, a Lay-patron selects and presents "his Clerk"—as the Clergyman is technically called—to the Bishop; who thereupon invests him with authority to minister in that Church. So, also, there are certain Lay-officers appointed to every Church—the Churchwardens or Sidesmen—whose duty it is, not only to guard, in conjunction with the Minister, the temporalities of the Church, but also to watch over the due performance of Divine Service, the morals of the parishioners, and the conduct of the Minister; and to report, from time to time, on each of these matters, to the Ecclesiastical Authorities. The duty of these officers is implied in the old appellation, "Sidesmen," or "Synodsmen"—men summoned to attend and give information at Synods and Visitations.

The distinction and co-operation of lay and spiritual functions in the Church of England might be further illustrated in the case of Ecclesiastical Courts, and various relations which arise out of the principle, that the Sovereign is the Supreme Ruler of the Church.

Keeping the foregoing distinction in view, the Church Missionary Society may be regarded as an Institution for discharging the temporal and lay offices necessary for the preaching of the Gospel among the Heathen. It is strictly a Lay Institution: it exercises, as a Society, no spiritual functions whatsoever.

Such being the constitution of the Society in theory—are its proceedings conducted in conformity with this theory, and with the Ecclesiastical principles of the Church of England?

In order to review these proceedings, they may be conveniently arranged under the FOUR following Heads:—

I. THE COLLECTION OF THE HOME REVENUE, and THE DISBURSEMENT OF IT ABROAD.

These acts are altogether within the province of Laymen.

II. THE SELECTING AND EDUCATING CANDIDATES FOR MISSIONARY EMPLOYMENT.

In this department there is no necessary encroachment upon spiritual functions. The Colleges in our Universities are Lay-Corporations, and may, in many cases, be administered and presided over by Laymen.

Yet it may be urged that in this department there is an approach to the peculiar province of Clergymen; because spiritual persons seem the more proper judges of a Candidate's fitness for Missionary employment; and it is generally admitted, that a Bishop may exercise a control over the education and training of Candidates to be advanced by himself to Holy Orders. Now, in both these particulars the Church Missionary Society has carefully guarded its proceedings. The examination of Missionary Candidates is referred to a Clerical Sub-Committee; and the General Committee consult and act upon the report of this Clerical trial and judgment. In respect of the other point, the education and training of Candidates for Holy Orders, the Church Missionary College at Islington has the sanction and approbation of the Bishop of London; who, in this country, admits to Holy Orders all the Society's Candidates; and his Lordship has repeatedly expressed his satisfaction at the results of the system of instruction, as they have been manifested in his examinations for Holy Orders.

III. The Third general head of the Society's proceedings is, THE SENDING FORTH, TO PARTICULAR STATIONS, THE MISSIONARIES THUS ORDAINED, OR OTHER CLERGYMEN WHO HAVE BEEN PREVIOUSLY ORDAINED.

Now, here an objection against the Society has been founded on the use of the term "sending forth:"—it sounds like an exercise of Ecclesiastical power. But, Ecclesiastically speaking, the Bishop of London "sends forth" every Missionary ordained by him. The Law of the land has sanctioned the Two Archbishops, and the Bishop of London, in ordaining persons to officiate abroad. The Secretary of the Church Missionary Society requests, by Letter, the Bishop of London to ordain, in conformity with the provisions of the Act of Parliament, such and such persons, whom the Society is willing to support in some Foreign Station. The Bishop, by the imposition of hands, gives them authority to preach the Gospel, with a view to their Foreign location.—In the case of persons already in Holy Orders, who may join the Society, they may be said to go forth by their own voluntary act; but their Letters of Orders, given by a Bishop of our Church, are their mission and commission, Ecclesiastically speaking.

Hence, to call the acts of the Church Missionary Society—in selecting the station, paying the passage-money, and agreeing to provide the Missionary's salary—to call these acts a SENDING FORTH of Preachers, in an Ecclesiastical sense, is to confound names with things, and to lose sight of all true Church principles.

IV. The Fourth general head under which the proceedings of the Church Missionary Society may be arranged, is, THE SUPERINTENDENCE OF MISSIONARIES IN THEIR LABOURS AMONG THE HEATHEN.

Here a distinction must be made between the case of those Foreign Stations which lie within the jurisdiction of a Colonial Bishop, and other stations, which are not so situated, and may therefore be termed Extra-diocesan.

In the first case, the Church Missionary Society has expressly determined, that all its ordained Missionaries shall be submitted for licence to the Bishop of the diocese in which they may be stationed; and that no Missionary shall exercise his spiritual functions in such diocese without a licence. The Society has further recognized the uncontrolled discretion of the Bishop to grant or withhold his licence, and the propriety of specifying in such licence a particular district as the field of labour, so that a Missionary cannot be removed from one district to another without the sanction of the Bishop.

These principles were stated in a Letter from the Society to the Bishop of Calcutta, signed by the Right Honourable the President—December 17, 1835—in a manner so satisfactory to the Bishop, that he embodied them in the four following Rules, expressed for the most part in the words of the Society's Letter: which were, at the Bishop's request, entered upon the minutes of the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, as the recognized Rules of their practice:—

"1. The Bishop expresses—by granting or withholding his licence, in which the sphere of the Missionary's labour is mentioned—his approbation, or otherwise, of that location.

"2. The Bishop superintends the Missionaries afterward, as the other Clergy, in the discharge of their Ecclesiastical duties.

"3. The Bishop receives from those—the Committee and Secretary—who still stand in the relation of Lay-patrons to the Missionary, such communications respecting his Ecclesiastical duties as may enable the Bishop to discharge that paternal superintendence to the best advantage.—The Archdeacon of Calcutta or Bombay acting under the Bishop's immediate directions when he happens to be absent.

"4. If the Bishop* or Archdeacon fills, at the request of the Society, the offices of Patron, President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary, &c., he receives, further, all such confidential information, on all topics, as the Bishops officially neither could wish nor properly ask [to receive]."

The Bishop also wrote to the Parent Society in the following terms: "You seem to me to lay down the principle most correctly.....This is to me perfectly satisfactory; as I shall instantly inform the Archbishop of Canterbury, to whom I report all the proceedings of the diocese."—9th June, 1836.

It will be perceived, that the Missionaries, thus licensed, stand toward the Bishop in the relation rather of Stipendiary Curates, than of Beneficed Clergymen. For a Bishop in England cannot refuse a licence, or institution to a benefice, without assigning a reason which will bear investigation before a Court of Common Law; nor can he deprive a Clergyman of his benefice without a judicial process. But no law has provided any such check in the case of Missionaries; the Bishop has the power of withholding a licence, or of withdrawing it, at his sole discretion, without assigning any cause, as in the case of Stipendiary Curates in this country.

If it be asked, What are the checks and safeguards against the undue exercise of this discretionary power of the Bishop?—it may be replied, in the words of the Bishop of Calcutta, in a Letter to the Parent Society, April 12, 1837,—

"We are not to take for granted, that discretionary power will be abused; but, on the contrary, to provide, by a cheerful and friendly spirit and conduct, against the likelihood of such an occurrence. If the event of arbitrary conduct should arise, or be supposed to arise, the remedies are—public opinion—an appeal to the Archbishop—and the Society's refusing to make other appointments and locations than those unreasonably objected to. Nothing is the least likely—and probability is the guide of life—to arise to impede or cramp the Committee; since they unquestionably and avowedly possess, The choice of men—The appointment of spheres of labour—The Temporal power, including pecuniary support."

But though the Bishop's licence is at once the pledge and proof that the Society's Missionaries are under Episcopal superintendence and jurisdiction, and that the spiritual oversight rests altogether with the Bishop; yet the Society may seem, to some persons, to keep up a kind of spiritual jurisdiction and oversight, by requiring accounts from the Missionaries of all their proceedings, and by giving them directions, from time to time, which may bear upon their spiritual duties. But it must be remembered, that the Society stands towards its Missionaries in the relation of Trustees of the fund out of which their salaries are paid. In the case of a Beneficed Clergyman in this country, the Minister is the guardian and possessor of the temporalities of the benefice, because the benefice is an endowment; and the Patron has no further connexion with the Minister whom he has once presented to the Bishop. In our case, the office of Patron is, in a sense, perpetuated by the payment of the salary, and the possession of all the temporalities of the Mission.

This matter has been well explained by the Bishop of Calcutta, in a Letter to the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, May 26, 1837:—"The Missionary Committees," says his Lordship, "have a far greater latitude in India than any Lay-patrons at home. Upon presenting his Clerk to the Bishop, the Patron at home is functus officio. The Clergyman is removed, on being once instituted and licensed, totally and for ever from the Patron, and is transferred to the superintendency of the Bishop. The Patron has nothing whatever more to do with him. But in India, the Committee is (1) the continued paymaster of the Missionary after he is duly licensed;—for institution and induction there are none. (2) They correspond with him. (3) They supply him with Catechists. (4) They report his chief proceedings home. (5) They propose removals and changes of Station to the Bishop. (6) They exercise, unavoidably, an influence which does not belong to the mere Lay-patron; and are aiding, in a variety of ways, to the comfortable and honourable discharge of the Missionary's most exalted and most spiritual duties."

It remains to consider the case of those Stations which are Extra-diocesan; i. e. where there is no Colonial Bishop of the Church of England having jurisdiction over them.

In these cases, the Society has endeavoured to procure for such Stations the benefits of the Episcopal office from the nearest Bishop of the Church of England. Application was made by the Committee both to the late and to the present Bishop of Madras to extend, as far as circumstances would admit, these benefits to the Mission of Travancore; which as an independent state, not forming part of the British Dominions, was not included in the diocese of Madras. A similar application was made, on behalf of the New Zealand Mission, to the Bishop of Australia, who at once acceded to the request, and kindly promised to visit New Zealand as soon as his other duties would permit; stating, in a Letter to the Society's representatives at Sydney, "It is highly satisfactory to me that our friends at home are taking a view of these things which proves them to belong, not only to a Missionary, but also to a Church Society." (See Annual Report, 1838.)

Such is a General View of the Constitution and Proceedings of the Church Missionary Society.

It is not intended to assert that errors are not sometimes committed in the application of these principles to matters of detail. It must be remembered that Missionary operations are, alas! new and anomalous in the system of the Church of England; and that it is not always easy to draw a definite line between the two provinces which belong respectively to the Bishop and the Committee. It has been observed by the Bishop of Calcutta—Letter, May 26, 1837: "The boundaries of the power of Committees, as they approach to those of the Bishop, can be ascertained, in many points, only by time and observation." Perplexities have consequently occurred; and, unhappily, misunderstandings have sometimes arisen between the Representatives of the Society abroad and Ecclesiastical Authorities. But these are the principles by which the Home Committee have endeavoured to guide the proceedings of the Society; and they confidently respond to a sentiment expressed by the Bishop of Calcutta—"The principles of our new relations are now fully recognized: the details will soon find their level."—Letter, 9th June, 1836.

* The Three Bishops of India, and the Bishop of Australia, are the Presidents of the Corresponding Committees in their respective dioceses.

In reviewing the Ecclesiastical relations of the Church Missionary Society, there are two or three points which it seems very important to notice.

1. Missionary operations, as they are conducted by the Church Missionary Society, though apparently anomalous in the system of the Church of England, are yet in strict conformity with its constitution and principles: they are analogous to many other instances of voluntary exertion for the extension of true religion within the Church, in which Ecclesiastical authority and Lay co-operation unite for the accomplishment of the same end: so that these operations may be regarded as the acts of the Church of England, putting forth its energy for the Conversion of the Heathen World. For it has been shown, that the Bishops of the Church, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth our Missionaries—that these Missionaries are licensed and superintended abroad, in every case where it is practicable, by Colonial Bishops of the Church of England; as are the other Clergymen of the Church officiating in the same colony. The services which the Missionaries perform are in strict conformity with the Ritual and Discipline of the Church. Even in the few cases in which Lutheran Clergymen are employed, this rule is observed; and all the congregations which are gathered into the fold of Christ are trained up as Members of the Church established in this land.

And here it may be observed, that nothing less than the sanction of a duly-assembled Convocation can more fully identify the acts of any Missionary Society, within the Church of England, with the Church *. Without such sanction, all associations of Churchmen must stand in the same position. Still further, not to notice the present abeyance of Convocations, it may be asserted, that even if the Church were to assemble in her provincial Convocations, and to decree and to regulate Missionary operations, such proceedings could not essentially add to, or alter, those important particulars which, under present circumstances, entitle the operations of the Church Missionary Society to be regarded as Missionary operations of the United Church of England and Ireland.

2. It must be ever borne in mind, that Missionary operations are, in their very nature, temporary and preparative;—that they are to be gradually but eventually superseded by a different order of things, when the Heathen Nations shall have become Christianized. In some cases, as in the West Indies, this change is further advanced than in others. Now, it must be expected, that in proportion as this change advances, difficulties and perplexities will arise in our Ecclesiastical relations, peculiar to this TRANSITION STATE—from Missionary operations, to that happy consummation when there shall be an endowed and established system of Christian Instruction, and a territorial division of Ministerial labour. This consummation the Church Missionary Society has ever kept in view, and devoutly desired; and, as far as possible, has prepared for its approach. In an interview with the Bishop of Barbadoes—April, 1835—this point was expressly alluded to: and it was stated by the Committee to his Lordship, "that whenever a district should be brought into the state of an organized Christian community, it should assume entirely the Parochial form, and cease to be occupied as a Missionary Station.—The Bishop entirely acquiesced in this view; and only expressed his anxiety that it should not be so acted upon as prematurely to deprive a district of the Missionary's services."—(Extracts from Committee's Minute.)

3. Lastly, it must be evident, from a review of the whole subject, that our Ecclesiastical relations depend, in many important respects, upon a mutual confidence and good understanding between the Committee and its representatives, and the Ecclesiastical Authorities both at home and abroad. This must be the case, to argue upon no higher grounds, while those relations are governed by Ecclesiastical laws and canons made without reference to Missionary operations, for an Established Church in a Christian country; and where so much is also necessarily left to the discretion of both parties. If we look to our Home operations, the Committee places confidence in the Bishop of London, that he will continue to ordain the Missionary Candidates introduced to his Lordship by the Society, according to the provisions of the Act: and the Lord Bishop of London relies upon the Committee's using every means to select, train, and duly qualify proper Candidates to be thus introduced to him.

So, also, in its Foreign operations, the Society places confidence in the Colonial Bishops—as it has been already shown, in a quotation from the Letter of Bishop Wilson—that they will not exercise an unreasonable or arbitrary discretion, in withholding or withdrawing licences from our Missionaries, or in refusing ordination to our Candidates. And the Bishops, by granting licences and ordination to the Missionaries of a voluntary Society, whose income is liable to fluctuations, and whose agents are constantly changing, manifestly place confidence in the Committees, that they will use every endeavour to keep up the Missions once established; and that they will not, on their part, act in an unreasonable or arbitrary manner, or withdraw the salary from a licensed Missionary, without reason sufficient to prove to the licensing Bishop the necessity of the proceedings.

It seems impossible to supersede this conventional understanding—as it may be termed—till Missions are supported by endowments, or till a code of Missionary canons be established by competent authority.

This mutual confidence and good understanding now exists, it may be thankfully asserted, between the Committee of the Society and the Ecclesiastical Authorities of every Colonial Diocese in which Missionaries are labouring. And may He, who is the God, not of confusion, but of peace, and "the great Shepherd and Bishop of Souls," unite together the hearts and hands of those who are labouring in this Holy Cause—"that all and every of these may, IN THEIR SEVERAL CALLINGS, serve truly and faithfully, to the glory of His name!"

February, 1839.

* The American Episcopal Church has, in Convention, thus identified itself with a Missionary Society.

At the Annual Meeting of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, held in Exeter Hall, Strand, on Tuesday, May 2, 1876, being the Seventy-seventh Anniversary—

The Right Hon. the EARL OF CHICHESTER, President, in the Chair,

AFTER PRAYER AND THE READING OF A PORTION OF HOLY SCRIPTURE, THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE HAVING BEEN READ BY THE REV. H. WRIGHT, M.A., Honorary Secretary;

On the Motion of the LORD BISHOP OF GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL, V.P., seconded by the REV. JOHN BARTON, M.A., Secretary of the Madras Corresponding Committee, it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the Report, of which an Abstract has now been read, be received, and printed under the direction of the Committee; that the thanks of the Meeting be given to the Rev. E. Garbett for his Sermon before the Society last evening; to His Grace the Vice-Patron; to the Right Hon. the President and Vice-Presidents; and to all those friends who, during the past year, have exerted themselves in its behalf; and that the following gentlemen be appointed to the Committee for the ensuing year, with power to fill up vacancies.—[See List, p. iv.]

On the Motion of the RIGHT HON. VISCOUNT MIDLETON, seconded by the VEN. ARCHDEACON COWLEY, Missionary from Rupert's Land,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That this Meeting thankfully acknowledge, as an encouragement to renewed and persevering effort, the marked success which the Great Lord of the Harvest has vouchsafed to the labours of the Society, in the growth of the Native Churches, as shown, not only by numerous baptisms, by abundant accessions of catechumens and inquirers, and by the increase of the native pastorate, but also in their enlarged liberality, their greater zeal for the spread of the Gospel, and the many individual instances of consistency of life, and joyful trust in the hour of death.

On the Motion of the REV. D. BRODIE, Missionary from the Derajat, seconded by the REV. CANON HOARE, M.A., Vicar of Trinity Church, Tunbridge Wells,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the indications of increased interest at home in Missionary work, and the new and remarkable opportunities which God in His providence has graciously supplied for the more extended evangelization of heathen nations, especially in the Continent of Africa, should lead to enlarged expectations and increased exertions, and in entering in at the doors thus opened, the Society desires, as in former years, to rely only for the conversion of the heathen to Christ, and their building up in Him, in the power of the Holy Ghost, using as his instrumentality the earnest, loving, and prayerful preaching of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

At a Second Meeting, held in Exeter Hall, on the Evening of the same Day—

JOSEPH HOARE, ESQ., in the Chair,

Addresses were delivered by the Ven. ARCHDEACON COWLEY; the Rev. SHOLTO D. C. DOUGLAS, M.A., Vicar of All Saints, Derby; and the Rev. DAVID BRODIE, Missionary from the Punjab.

EPHESIANS III. 9.

"THE ECONOMY OF THE MYSTERY, WHICH FROM THE BEGINNING OF THE WORLD HATH BEEN HID IN GOD, WHO CREATED ALL THINGS."

IN thus quoting the passage and venturing to change one word in our Authorized Version, I only adopt an emendation of the text supported by common consent, and to which the new version of the Scriptures now in progress may be expected to give recognized authority. I use the words, not as containing within themselves the whole aspect of truth to which I propose to call your attention this evening, but as the central, and therefore the representative words of the entire passage of which they form a part. There is scarcely to be found any other passage of the inspired Word, not even excepting the language addressed by the Incarnate Son to the Eternal Father, contained in John xvii., which is so replete with themes of wondering thought as this—so wide and deep is the insight it gives into the Divine wisdom. It does nothing less than state the central purpose of the whole history of man, the ultimate plan on which is constructed God's government of this our world. The existence of such a plan is no more than the mind itself instinctively apprehends. It appears to follow from the Unity of God: the one purpose issues out of the one mind. One wisdom is at work; but its exercise is manifold. It flows out into every direction, and is perfect in each, like the rays of the natural sun, which spread from the central orb, above, below and around, till they flush the world with light and beauty.

When I speak of the unity of the Divine plan, I do not mean unity in the narrow sense in which it is true of human purposes. The feebleness of the human eye looks but in one direction. The mind conceives a purpose and pursues it without being able to see, except very imperfectly, its indirect and collateral results. This imperfection of all human works broadly distinguishes them from works which are of God. The painter charms the eye, but the ear misses the rustling of the wind amid those bending trees upon his canvas, and the merry music of that running stream. The sculptor reproduces the stately form and face of manhood, with the thoughtful brow and the parted lips and the eloquent gesture; but the icy coldness of the marble to the touch of the warm living hand dispels the illusion. Thus experience teaches that it is with all our human schemes, whether of industry or of philanthropy. In remedying one evil, we create others which we did not foresee. One-sidedness is the attribute of human ignorance. It is otherwise with God. His wisdom is many-sided, rather all-sided. When I speak therefore of there being one central purpose in God's mind, I do not mean after the manner of men. God's purposes are doubtless many, and involve facts so complicated, conditions so intricate, and designs so vast, as to be wholly beyond the comprehension of the human or even of the angelic intellect. But I mean that these designs are all harmonious. We cannot conclude otherwise than that all things converge together in His mind and meet in one purpose, just as all the life and force of the world emanate from His one Being.

This idea is natural to us, and what we know of the physical world confirms it. There is unity in our planetary system, for all its worlds revolve round their central sun. The modern astronomer, gifted with a second sense in the powers of the telescope, escapes from the narrow limitations of the system of which we form a part, and looks out from its confines to the world beyond. He finds an universe filled with countless myriads of similar systems, so vast as almost to overwhelm the mind with its magnitude, and quite to overtask all powers of definite and precise conception. All these systems of worlds make up one universe, for there is a centre round which its numberless shining globes are all in motion. The telescopic vision penetrates through the maze to the outer edge of this universe, and even looks beyond, just so far as to see that the vastnesses of the world of God are filled with groups of similar universes—numberless, illimitable, infinite. It is a wondrous process to raise the mind from the individual life to our globe, and from our globe to the planetary system; then higher yet to the enormous universe of which it constitutes an organic part; and lastly, higher still, to other universes, of which we just see enough to learn that they exist, and then to see and recognize the centre of them all—God.

An analogous order evidently exists in the world of grace. Here again we begin with the unit, the individual soul with all its inward world of joy and sorrow, and its infinite preciousness before God as measured in the wonders of the atonement. Then we rise to groups of souls in churches, and then to the whole of mankind—that whole which is co-extensive with the globe, and of which the spiritual history is contained in the Sacred Book from Genesis to Revelation. Then we pass on to other worlds and other orders of beings, associated with us in the common interest of redemption, though how, and how far we know not as yet—the angels and archangels, the cherubim and seraphim, the principalities and powers in heavenly places of the Word of God. Nor must we suppose that even these are the only creatures of the Divine hand, or that the unknown depths of creation are not full of marvellous worlds, and resonant with everlasting praise.

Now the existence of the definite purpose, suggested by this material unity, is strongly asserted in this passage. It leads us backward till faith itself is lost in the eternal purpose, which God purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord. Does it seem to any one that I am rash in venturing on such a line of truth? I simply reply, It is written; and if written, is it not written for our learning? Is it faith to stop wilfully short of what God has been pleased to teach us? Is it presumption, humbly to take His guiding hand and follow where He leads us, stopping absolutely where He stops, and not daring to cast even a glance into the impenetrable darkness that lies beyond? We must not confound intentional incompleteness of revelation with ambiguity of revelation. Incompleteness in the truths revealed in this passage there is; but ambiguity in the passage itself there is not. The words are as clear as words can be, and the truth they express perfectly simple and comprehensible. That the whole of God's dealings in grace with the family of Adam form one mighty plan, infinitely complex and wonderful, directed to the purpose that "the Gentiles should be fellow-heirs and of the same body, and partakers of His promise in Christ by the Gospel;" and that this plan has a further and a wider object, even that to "principalities and powers in the heavenly places might be known by the Church the manifold wisdom of God," are truths as clear and palpable as any in the whole compass of the Word of God.

Nor can I doubt for a moment that God has a practical purpose in revealing this to us, and that it bears in some direct mode on the conduct of Christian life, and on the dearest hopes and most solemn obligations of the Church of God. We can clearly see that it is so. In the first place, this knowledge of God's purpose bears strongly on the audacious speculations of modern religious thought, and its daring arraignment of the Divine goodness and justice at the bar of human opinion. It seems to my mind it sets to rest, or at all events it hushes into reverent silence, those questions relative to the benevolence of God which the doctrine of eternal punishment has awakened in some minds more sensitive than comprehensive, and more scrupulous than reverent. For the scheme of human salvation, great and marvellous as it is, is here declared to be after all no more than an episode in the general history of the universe. I may compare it to a stream which flows out of some majestic river, and which, after following a course of its own for a while, flows into it again. That the Gospel plan has reference to Intelligences who lie beyond the area of human history and that it was intended by the Divine Omniscience to have this reference, is most certain. Scarcely less certain is it, that the Gospel arose out of pre-existing conditions in the eternity before human time began. The very abruptness with which, in the early chapters of the Divine record, the tempter of mankind is suddenly presented to us, without explanation who and what he was, is proof of this; and intimations of the same kind, small yet clear and precise so far as they go, abound in Scripture, though I must not dwell upon them. If, then, the whole of this mighty plan of redeeming love be but an episode in the history of the universe, what must be the immeasurable vastness of that history, and the complexity of its interests! What we know is little, even of the episode! Who shall think to understand the whole? who dare to judge of a wisdom of which we are unable to comprehend the facts, and do not know the conditions? Let us be content to trust God in everything He has revealed, to the last word and syllable of it, and let us be sure that He will vindicate His own wisdom, that He is vindicating it even now before the eyes of beings, more capable than ourselves as yet of knowing the deep things of God. "Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right?"

Yet more clear is the relation which this truth, of an eternal purpose in the mind of God, has to our object of this evening. We cannot doubt that His scheme will be accomplished, is actually being accomplished even now. The text, as we shall see, asserts this. Against His will all opposition of earth or hell is as vain, as is the rushing of the wind to roll back the current of a great river, or to check the tides of the deep sea. The surface of the water may be driven irregularly, and the eye may be deceived by it; but the strong, swift stream moves on unchecked, and the tides will ebb and flow while the world lasts. The question therefore occurs whether God's plans are our plans, or whether He is working one way and we another. If the principles on which the Church Missionary Society is founded, and the methods in which it carries on its work are not in accordance with the eternal counsels of God, the sooner we know it the better. But if we find that they are, and that the founders and managers of the Society have been led by the Spirit of God to adopt methods absolutely identical with His will, should it not be with a holier courage and fuller energy than ever that we press on our noble work? To answer this question we must look more closely into the passage, and, accepting the Divine invitation, endeavour reverently to see what is "the economy," the arrangement, and organization, "of the mystery which from the beginning of the world hath been hid in God, Who created all things."

I do not propose to undertake any formal exposition of the passage, but only to lay emphasis on those parts of it which bear upon our purpose this evening, and I pray that the Spirit of truth may endow me with grace and wisdom.

I. The ultimate and highest object of the Divine scheme is the manifestation of the glory of God throughout the worlds. The slightest possible shadow of misgiving relative to this object is dispelled by the recollection, that to know the glory of God is the highest conceivable happiness of the creature—"This is life eternal to know Thee." We have experience of it in ourselves. For is it not a happiness to live that we may know such a God of perfect beauty, and form the conception of such a love as has been manifested to us in the Gospel of our Saviour—a happiness so great that not only are the sorrows and pains of life small in comparison, but that they are actually transformed into messengers of joy? Nothing, therefore, can be more worthy of the highest conceptions of the God of love, nothing more sublime than the purpose of manifesting the glory of God not alone to our own race, but to the countless other races of intelligent creatures who crowd the universe with life, and make it resonant with praise. There is some little critical difficulty in settling the exact reference of the words "to the intent that," whether to the calling of the Apostle, or to the preaching of the unsearchable riches of Christ, or to the enlightenment of all men in the economy of the mystery, or to the creating of all things. It is safest to refer them to the whole counsel of God in all these particulars, especially as the reference is covered by the phrase which follows, "the eternal purpose which He purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord." That the phrase "principalities, and powers in heavenly places" refers to those bright inhabitants of other worlds, of whom St. Peter records that they "desire to look into these things," admits of no fair doubt. The use of the parallel language in the first chapter relative to the session of Christ at the right hand of the Father, the expression in the second chapter of our sitting in heavenly places with Christ Jesus, and the description in the sixth chapter of the fallen spirits as principalities and powers, the rulers of the darkness of this world, concur to fix the reference in this sense. The general argument and the nature of the attribute by which God is to be manifested, confine it at the same time to the blessed spirits, who stand before God and do His will. It may help our feeble conceptions of the dignity of our own calling in Christ Jesus, that even the angels, of whom Peter says that they are "greater in power and might" than ourselves, learn from God's dealing with us their deeper lessons of the glory and majesty of God.

Nor can I appreciate the difficulty, which some have felt relative to the particular side of the Divine glory which is made clear to them—His "wisdom." For it seems to me that to the limited faculties of a creature God can only be known through its wants. For God is one, and has neither body, parts, nor passions. Separate attributes such as exist, and often inconsistently in creatures, strictly speaking, God has none. He is all in all, every perfection in one indivisible glory. When we speak of God's attributes we speak as much after the manner of men, as when we speak of His eye and ear and hand. God being every perfection in one, the aspect in which He is seen must be conditioned by the side from which the creature approaches to Him. We are fallen creatures, and we need pardon, and therefore God is known to us by His saving love, and the riches of His mercy in Jesus Christ. But the angels are unfallen, and need not to be taught the love of Him, in the joy of whose presence they bask for ever. Nor do they need to learn His power, for had they not seen it in the blow which smote the disobedient angels, and, casting them down to the abyss, reserved them in everlasting chains under darkness unto the judgment of the great day? But His wisdom, that their finite and limited intelligences may need to learn, in the sight of a disordered world and creatures in rebellion—in the presence of that vast and prodigious problem of the origin of evil, and its permitted existence in a world framed by faultless wisdom, suggested by infinite goodness, and upheld by Almighty strength. Even the angels learn, and their pupillage enables us to realize in the more undivided lustre the single greatness and wisdom of God.

But here the lesson turns towards ourselves, and very precious we shall find it to be. For this wisdom is to be learned through the Church, not from, but through, that is, through God's dealings with the souls of men in the Gospel of His love; and this not alone in the general, but in the particular. But if the angels are to see God's wisdom in these dealings, it implies that the dealings must be infinitely wise and perfect, infinitely good and gracious; not tracks of Deity all disordered and confused, but footsteps all radiant with love, and grace, and truth. For observe, the lesson is present, not future: acquired in the present dispensation of things, learned from the actual experiences of the life in which we live. It is not that hereafter, when the whole dispensation is wound up, they will see order and beauty evolved out of previous confusion and disorder; but it is that in the process there is order and beauty all through. The word "now" is emphatic. That there might be made known "now," in contrast with from "the beginning." The plan was schemed from the beginning, but the revelation takes place now. The actual dealings with God to His Church, therefore, are not failure, not disappointment, not weakness, not mistakes and defeats; but they are success, triumph, strength, victory. They hold up to the admiration of other worlds the "manifold wisdom of God."

But is not this a lesson we much need to learn? Are we not apt to be downcast and to complain, to think that things are all going wrong, and to cry out that everything is against us? Not thus speaks God. Not thus think the principalities and powers. The fretful accents of earthly complaint are lost in the swell of angelic praise, "Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God Almighty. Just and true are thy ways, thou King of saints."

But can we trace, however faintly and imperfectly, any of these workings of the manifold wisdom of God in the present order of things? I think we can, by the help of the Word. I have said that this passage affirms a double purpose, the ultimate and widest one the publication of the glory of God to the worlds; but the narrower and more immediate one, that "the Gentiles should be fellow-heirs, and of the same body, and partakers of the promise of Christ." Now the economy of the mystery, by which this has been accomplished is considered by St. Paul in the ninth, tenth, and eleventh chapters of the Epistle to the Romans, and he sums all up in that precise lesson, which we are told in this passage that the principalities and powers learn from it. "O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God!" If we can discriminate the points which called forth the admiration of St. Paul, and can apply them to the existing circumstances of the Church, we can scarcely be wrong in thinking that with us, as with them, they are bright with the manifold wisdom of God. There are many such points, but I can only very hastily mention three.

(1) The Apostle calls attention to the mode, in which God overruled the unbelief both of Gentile and of Jew for the good of the world. How was that unbelief possible, but from the same cause which renders modern unbelief possible, and throws its dark shadow across the broad track of Christianity? God has not been pleased to compel belief, or to force upon a reluctant nature, by visible demonstration, the sight of the power and glory of Christ. In every age He has been a God that hideth himself; to be found, indeed, at once by the anxious conscience and teachable mind, but not to be searched out by a sceptical curiosity, or by the daring analysis of the infidel. Hence unbelief is no new thing that it should terrify us, or shake, even with the quivering of a breath, the deep foundations of our faith. Out of Gentile unbelief grew the separation of the Jews, and out of Jewish unbelief came the calling of the Gentiles. Neither the one nor the other checked the progress of the mighty plan, but helped it onward. Unbelief itself had its place in the counsels of God. Shall we doubt that it is so likewise in the unbelief of our own day? We may stand aghast at its extent, and appalled at its arrogance and presumption. We may dread its subtlety, and lament its fatal influence; but let us not fear its victory for a moment. Be sure that it is overruled to the deepening of the foundations of the faith, to the quickening of the Church's life, to the promotion of her thought, and to the final confirmation of the Gospel, against which it rolls its ineffectual strength as idly as the wave that dashes itself to pieces against the deep-rooted cliff. All may seem to be conflict and agitation here below—"The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together against the Lord, and against his Anointed. Let us break their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us." But how calmly replies the voice from the throne, "Yet have I set my King upon my holy hill of Zion."

(2) We may be perplexed at the apparently inadequate provision, which God has made for the preaching of the Gospel. In ancient times the Jew was left to convey it to the Gentile, and then the Gentile was urgently pressed to give it back to the Jew. But in both instances the agency was human, and the motives prompting it the ordinary motives that act upon human nature. It is the more remarkable, because in all the other parts of the saving scheme the agency is the direct agency of God.

The organization of the great plan, and the preparation of the world for it, was of God the Father: the execution of the great plan, in the atoning sacrifice of the Cross, was of God the Son: the effectual application of that blood-shedding to the conscience, and the quickening of the dead soul into spiritual life, is of God the Spirit: but the one link that lies between, the proclamation of the Gospel message, is of man. Shall we say that God had forgotten the necessity of this one step, or had failed to provide for it. Far be from us the unbelieving thought!! Yet what a mysterious wisdom it is which leaves the preaching of the Gospel, with all the eternal issues of life and death which hang upon it, to that apparently most uncertain, most fluctuating, most capricious agency, the voluntary zeal of individual Christian men. Who know better than the officers of this great Society the anxiety of mind, the toil and effort in detail, the difficulties and perplexities, that arise from it? the grief of seeing an open door for the saving of souls, into which we cannot enter for want of paltry gold and silver; the stern lesson of submission to an inscrutable will, which compels us to reduce expenditure and to lessen the staff of labourers at some particular point and period under the imperative demands of common honesty. Who does not know the apparent drudgery and sorrow of soul, the ceaseless wear and tear of heart and life, by which the work is kept going, till the head is sick, and the heart faint? Yet check the repining thought that it awakens. Is there not a Divine wisdom in it all? There must be, for this is His ordained order. This tension of soul, this struggle of heart, this effort of love, are they not the discipline of faith and the spring of prayer? Were the work easy, and the gold and silver so lavishly supplied as not to awaken an anxiety, think you there would be the same zeal—the same self-devotion—the same earnestness of effort—the same supplication; and if these failed, would there be the same blessing? Difficulty is the school of heroes, in the Church as well as in the world. Take it away, and a self-indulgent Church, demoralized by the very facility of her work, would sink into decay. Let us not complain, for surely God is right. The law of labour is the law of love. The brow never moistened with the dew of labour will never wear the crown of glory.

(3) Lastly, we see in the history of grace the sure accomplishment of all the purposes of God. Nothing could be more disastrous to a human eye, and especially to the eye of a patriotic Jew, than the weary history of human unfaithfulness, and of Divine chastisement, which filled up the long lapse of years from the call of Abraham to the day of Pentecost. Yet the Apostle saw, radiant over the disasters of man, the victory of God. "O the depth of the riches!" And there was good reason for the exclamation, for God's will was accomplished. The Jews did fulfil, however reluctantly and under the rod, the great purpose of their call, and gave to universal man the completed Gospel of the Messiah. We complain, because we do not see the end from the beginning, nor can trace the successive footsteps of the Providence of God. To us the kingdom of heaven seems hardly beset with a throng of enemies in every one of its aspects, and we balance with anxious despondency, which springs of ignorance and unbelief, the dark and dubious chances, just as a soldier, in some corner of a wide battle-field, hotly pushed with crowding foes, may think of defeat at the very moment that the battle is being won, and the shout of victory is about to ring aloud over the din of the strife. We are too near the events, too closely engaged in the heat of the struggle, to judge of the results. But let faith speak of nobler things. What may become of individual Churches we know not; and though we should mourn over the fall of the Church of England, which may God avert, sadly as the Apostle wept tears of blood over the Old Testament Church, yet even that sadness would be lost in the certain triumph of the cause. "The people shall labour in the very fire, and the people shall weary themselves for very vanity. For the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the glory of the Lord as the waters cover the sea."

How different is the way in which men judge, to the mode in which God interprets His own deep purposes to the admiring adoration of principalities and powers. Where we see nought but fears, there is being made manifest, even now, in the heavenly places "the manifold wisdom of God."

II. But from the great design itself, it is still necessary that we pass on to the method of its accomplishment. We must trace the economy of the mystery, not in its broad combinations alone, but also in the detailed work and the principle which underlies it. We are encouraged not only to look at the eternal purpose, but to watch likewise the mode of its historical development as God has wrought it, is still completing it, in Christ Jesus our Lord. One hasty glance of wondering praise must be thrown, as I pass, on the perfection and beauty of the Gospel, that is, the perfection and beauty of Christ in His person, offices, and work. The personal evidence of it is to be found in the living experience of each individual soul. Is there one among us this evening who knows not the sweetness, the charm, the strength, the fascination, and the peace passing understanding of the love of Christ, as, kneeling beneath the Cross, we look up amid our tears to the great God who created all things, and in the consciousness of forgiven sin address Him "Abba, Father." That experience is the same in every saint in every part of the world, beneath the cold of the poles, or the heat of the tropics; in the wild Australian bush, or amid the sunny islands of the Pacific; amid the teeming heart of Africa, or the stereotyped civilization of China and Japan, in the waste and weary solitudes of the wandering Arab or rude Tartar, or in the centre of great European cities, restless with activity and ever teeming with life.

In this fact we see the width and universal adaptability of the Gospel remedy. It goes down, deep below all the accidental differences that part man from man, into the very core of the human soul, and those recesses of its sin which the omniscient eye alone can penetrate. How can it be other than a Gospel for all, when it comes from the Creator of all; other than a cure for every festering sore of a fallen nature, when it has been schemed and wrought out by Him who framed human nature, and knows all its intricacies. We are often told that our Christianity is but one form of an universal religion, and adapted to one type only of the world's civilization. Nothing can be more absolutely inconsistent with the plainest facts of past history, than such an assertion. "The glorious company of the apostles, the goodly fellowship of the prophets, the noble army of martyrs, the holy Church throughout all the world," witness against it. Palestine, Greece, Rome, Africa, Asia Minor, the East, and the dim regions of Germanic barbarism, to say nothing of every land in which in modern times the Lord Jesus has planted His blessed foot, proclaim its falsehood. It is a gift for man, and it bears the stamp of God. The Giver's attributes of wisdom, grace, and truth shine in it, and from it, everywhere.

But we see further that the agency through which this Gospel is spread is human; it is the foolishness of preaching. The great Mission entrusted to the Apostle, was that he should preach among the Gentiles "the unsearchable riches of Christ," and that Christ was, as he tells us elsewhere, "Christ crucified." It is not round the preaching of any thing or any one, but round the preaching of this one definite Saviour, that the eternal purposes of God revolve, for they are "wrought in Christ Jesus." The preaching of the Church militant is gathered round Him, before whom will be offered for ever the praises of the Church triumphant. He is the "power of God and the wisdom of God." Would we save souls this must be our theme. Not the claims of a Church, however venerable and apostolic; not the grandeur of a scheme of doctrine, however wide and heavenly; not the claims of a historical Christianity, however true and valuable in their place, must be the theme of the Missionary. Our hearts must burn with a diviner theme, our lips burst into eloquence with a higher inspiration. Our preaching, and we know and will know no other, is the perfect glory of a Person; the suffering, dying, risen, reigning Saviour; the Christ of the Word; the Christ of Good Friday and Easter Day; the Christ of primitive Christianity; the Christ of the Reformation; the Christ of God. Great is the honour put upon the man, and proportionate should be his self-devotedness, who holds this place in the eternal counsels of God, that he should "preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ."

But the passage points likewise to the principle which underlies this preaching of the Gospel, and which is the true animating principle of all Missionary work. For, observe the width of the commission given to the Apostle, to preach "among the Gentiles." The word "among" is of doubtful authority, it should probably be preach "to" the Gentiles. But in either case, such a work would transcend the utmost possibility of any human powers, on any idea of a methodical and settled ministry. On the supposition of an itinerating and progressive work, the language is perfectly intelligible. The same remark applies to the subsequent phrase "to make all men know," enlighten all men on "the economy of the mystery." But how could one apostle, even though abundant in labours as was St. Paul, possibly make all men know in the sense of a modern pastorate, which aims to reach every individual within a definite area. If the words be used to express the width, freedom, and unlimited extent, with which the preaching of the unsearchable riches of Christ was to be spread over the world, they are again perfectly intelligible. We must interpret the words in the sense which is possible, not impossible. They express the extension of the Gospel anywhere and everywhere, when an open door of entrance was made by God. St. Paul himself was a representative man: of all the apostolic company he was most distinctively the type of the Missionary, and his life was the first true Missionary life, the first of the great company of preachers whose "sound has gone out into all lands."

The first Missionary commission was given by the Blessed Lord to His Church in the memorable words, "Go ye into all nations and preach," and to them we are generally accustomed to refer the inauguration of Christian Missions. But it is evident, that two alternative modes of discharging this commission were left open, or rather, as I believe them to be, two concurrent modes. The pastoral plan might be adopted, and the labourers, fixing themselves at a given spot, might continue to work there, so long as work remained to be done; or the plan might be adopted of moving continually from place to place, and carrying the Gospel of the Kingdom ever forward across the world. Both plans were consistent with the Lord's words. I do not scruple to admit, that the first plan, of doing the work completely in one place before moving elsewhere, is the most natural plan to our human thoughts, and upon it for a time the Apostles themselves evidently acted. The thirteenth of the Acts presents the picture of such a work at Antioch, the great, busy, witty, luxurious capital of Syria. Its population was immense, like Rome itself—colluvies omnium gentium. A city of singular stateliness and beauty, it has been called the Paris of the East. The morals of its people were on a par with the soft voluptuousness of its climate. The groves of Daphne made it notorious even in Gentile estimation. There five devoted preachers were labouring. Think you that they had Christianized in one year's labour all the inhabitants of Antioch? The work was immense, and had they waited to finish the work there before they carried it elsewhere, the blessed sound had never been heard amid the fragrance-breathing groves of Cyprus, or in the scattered cities of Asia Minor, or within the classic precincts of Athens. The five labourers had evidently no idea of moving. But God Himself interfered. "Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them." That was the distinctive Missionary call. From that day till his death the great Apostle was not simply the preacher, but the Missionary. His course was ever onward. Not to preside over gathered Churches and watch their spiritual growth was his; but to gather the Churches, perhaps weak in numbers and in faith; and then to go on elsewhere and gather Churches anew, was his life-work, till he closed the toils of the Missionary with the death of the Martyr. Such a life evidently agreed with the terms of the commission entrusted to him. It is the acted comment on the words to "preach to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ, and to make all men see the economy of the mystery."

Let me not be thought to depreciate by a single word the Pastorate of the Church of Christ, the holy vocation which belongs to myself, and the greater number of those I address this evening. That we should teach the lambs of Christ and watch over His sheep, is clearly a part of God's mind, and Scripture is rich with warning, admonition, and encouragement. But it is equally part of His mind to preach the Word where it is yet unknown, and to carry forward the Gospel of the kingdom into the darkest strongholds of Satan's empire. The two are concurrent parts of one harmonious design. Let Simeon, Lucius, and Manaen remain to work at Antioch; but let Paul and Barnabas go to the Gentiles. I cannot conceive how in the face of this positive command, this most pregnant instance, any devout mind can doubt that true Missionary work is a definite part of the "eternal purpose which God hath wrought in Christ Jesus our Lord."

If this be God's design, it may be expected that His other dealings, both in grace and in the Providential government of the world, should be harmonious with it. Everything should concur to the accomplishment of the great work. Let us look around, and see if it is not so. If we look at the work of grace, there is one striking characteristic in it, wholly inexplicable on the supposition of an universal triumph of the Gospel, the actual conversion of the world, by the preaching of the Gospel, in the present state of things. I refer to the strict limits within which converting grace operates, as if for a time God checked the outflowing of His own saving love, as He checks the tides of the sea, "hitherto shalt thou come and no further." Who ever yet heard of a land, of a city, a village, a congregation, in which every single soul was savingly converted to God? How rarely, even in the narrow circle of a family, can the blessed epitaph be written over all its members, "these all died in faith"! Whence comes it, but from the self-restraint of the sovereign will of God; for conversion is His work, His work alone, into the secret depths of whose electing purposes we cannot look as yet. Labour at this one spot, and perhaps a scattered soul here and there may be given as your hire. Collect a Church, and when a certain religious progress has been attained, the old world-wide evils of the hollow profession, and the insincere heart, assert their influence to corrupt it. But carry the Gospel forward, and there will not be a spot on earth trodden with the beautiful feet of them that preach peace, where God will not save souls. Why? I know not, but that it is His pleasure who doeth what He will with His own. Why should it surprise us, with the dying warning of the Master in our ears, "this Gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world, for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come."

The same purpose is not less apparent in God's providential government over nations. This is a wide and tempting theme for thought and for inquiry, which I can barely touch before I close. The subservience of God's providence to His grace, in His dealings with individual souls, is a matter of personal experience to us all. Surely it is the same with nations. If the purpose of His grace be to gather souls out of all people and tongues and nations and languages, the purpose of His Providence must be to forward the design, by opening the highways of the world to the messengers of peace. How God prepared the world for the Gospel by providing the universal language in the pliant tongue of Greece, and then establishing security of communication beneath the iron rule of Rome, has been made familiar to us all in the charming volumes, "The Life and Epistles of St. Paul." But it yet remains that the lesson should be traced downwards, in the manifest footsteps of God in the history of later ages. For three hundred years the life of the Church was refined with persecution, and the fire of a devoted zeal was strong and active. Then the Roman Empire became nominally Christian. Obscure as is the religious history of those ages, it seems evident that the existence of the Roman Empire, which at first facilitated the extension of the faith, would subsequently imperil it, and tend to bury its vitality beneath an enormous weight of nominal profession—Christian in name, but pagan in heart. God therefore broke up the huge mass into pieces, and in the ferment and disturbance brought nation into contact with nation. A strange impulse stirred the whole peoples of the North, and sent them forth to conquest. It was a period of shift, and change, and conquest, and wild vicissitude, one of those revolutionary periods when the seething elements of national life are in a state of convulsion, before they settle and harden into new nationalities. Was not the wisdom of God preparing the instruments for the vast Missionary enterprises of these latter days? He was hardening and toughening the metal, out of which He would frame the future instruments of His wisdom; giving strength and flexibility to the fibre of that Anglo-Saxon race, on whose shoulders He has laid the solemn burden of Missionary responsibility.

Such a period must have offered wonderful opportunities for Missionary work, and it was at this period that Europe became Christian. Devoted men from our own land were among the foremost in the work; Ireland received the Gospel from Patrick, Germany from Columban, Friesland from Boniface. These labourers appear to have been true Missionary labourers. But then the pure fire was lost in the deepening pagan darkness. Nations were to be converted, not individuals. To spread the profession of the Gospel became the policy of kings. Thus Charles the Great forced it upon the Saxons, Olaf on the Norwegians, and Casimir upon the Poles, at the point of the sword. What wonder that true Missionary labour ceased, when the Gospel itself had lost its life in the gathering corruptions of the dark ages. How God chastised Christendom; how He broke up the festering mass of the world, and brought the East and the West into contact through the Crusades; how His blessed Spirit prepared the way for the Reformation, and finally accomplished it, are all familiar topics. Then the Missionary spirit woke again into activity, and every condition of the world's life has been made to subserve it. The triumphs of science and art, the restless instincts of the Anglo-Saxon race, the adventurous energy of commercial enterprise, the wondrous facilities of communication drawing the ends of the world together—who has ordered them but God, and is it not for the accomplishment of His predetermined purpose? Are they not like the hands of God to point the Church onwards?—the visible glory of His presence before the soldiers of the Cross, as they take possession of the world in the name of the Lord Jesus, that He may "have the heathen for His inheritance, and the utmost parts of the earth for His possession."

God's manifest dealings, both in grace and providence, teach this lesson. The work of the Church on earth, as regulated in the mind of God, is to gather Churches to Christ all the world over, and set them up as light-bearers in the midst of the thick darkness of unsaved human nature. Does this appear to any one an inadequate and disappointing result, sadly different to the great commission to evangelize the world, and the promises of an universal triumph that burn upon the sacred pages? I reply that the work actually done by the Church is really, in itself, enormous. Who but God can count the number of saved souls, each one worth a world, the lives that have been blessed, the hearts that have been comforted, the consciences that have been soothed with the peace unspeakable, the rapturous intercourse with God, the triumphant death-beds from which the last shadow of terror has disappeared, and then the throng of souls that will spring to endless life at the resurrection, and the eternity that will crown, with an exceeding weight of glory, all this work of saving love! In our own land the number of the saved we know to be great, whatever may be their proportion to the unsaved. Stretch the thoughts all the world over, and few and far between are the spots, whence are not heard the accents of prayer and the songs of praise, rising as acceptable incense before the throne. Carry the imagination backwards from age to age, the very darkest of them never without a remnant according to the election of grace. Sweep back from period to period through the blood-stained generations of Vaudois martyrs to the scattered Churches which held up the true light in the dark ages, and to individual souls who, in the secret silence of their cells, or the rush of their life-work, have enjoyed sweet communion with a Covenant Father in Christ Jesus. From them look backwards still to the saints of the primitive ages of persecution, and when you try to comprehend the total of these saved souls, surely your thought will be admiration and your words praise. The amount of peace and happiness, thrown over a sin-stricken world by the Gospel, is at present immeasurable to human minds. Nor is this all. For we must add the influence of the Gospel on the general progress of the human race; how it has softened its innate barbarism, multiplied its pleasures till life has become worth having, tamed its native savagery, purified and elevated its morality, stimulated its intellect, and by teaching the true dignity of human nature and the essential equality of all men, opened a thousand channels of benevolence and love, in which the living waters may sound "glory to God and on earth peace." The improvement which Christianity has effected in the aspect of the world and the state of nations is feebly represented by the contrast between the waste howling wilderness of the Hebrew wanderings, and the land flowing with milk and honey, the land of fountains and depths springing out of valleys and hills, golden with the waving corn, fragrant with the pale olive, rich with the clustering vine, and above all sacred with the footsteps of the God in flesh.

Who shall dare to say that this is little? If it seems for a moment to be disappointing, it is only in comparison with the magnificent pictures of an universal triumph with which we contrast it. But have these passed? Do they not stand before the eyes of faith to crown the whole; not in our order, perhaps, but in the order of God's eternal purpose? The doctrine of the personal coming of the Lord Jesus Christ, to complete His work, is wholly independent of all disputed questions of unfulfilled prophecy, and of views which we may hold, or may not hold, of the pre-millennial advent, and the nature of the millennium itself. The mixing up of the two separate questions is much to be lamented, and has clouded that doctrine of a second personal coming, which actually burns upon the pages of the Word, and will be found constantly in our own Liturgy.

There is a remarkable analogy in the circumstances of the Lord's first coming, and that work of the Church, which I imagine to be the eternal purpose of God in preparing for His second. It almost rises beyond illustration, into argument and proof. In the four hundred years which elapsed between the Old and New Testaments, the Jew was literally scattered over the world, and was found in every highway of human life. Wherever he went, there he carried his Scriptures; and wherever the Scriptures were known, there was awakened in the pining, anxious heart of humanity, the hope of a redemption, and the expectation of a Redeemer. And then, when every one was looking for Him, then He came, centering in His august self the wonder and the hopes of the world. The same thing was repeated in a narrower and more personal scale in the Lord's life. For our Lord sent His disciples before Him throughout the cities of Israel to every place "whither He Himself would come;" and then, when all men wondered, then He came in person, with the Deity breaking out continually in visible sign, and wonder, and miracle, from the flesh of Jesus of Nazareth. It is exactly this which I conceive to be the predetermined office of the Church, to preach the Gospel in all the world, to make all men see the economy of the Mystery. And when it is done? Will not Christ come to complete the work Himself, and cut it short in righteousness? I dare not trust myself to speak of the great visions, that come crowding on the mind around that advent—the sublime eschatology, of which Scripture gives wonderful glimpses here and there. Suffice it, that no incompleteness will be left then; nor will one lingering shadow of possible disappointment cloud the rapturous anticipations of the saints, as they "look for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ."

Such then I conceive to be the great plan, stated in the grand passage from which I have taken my text. It is not a plan thwarted and frustrated, but in such a course of triumphant accomplishment that the principalities and powers, who look on this struggling state of ours, see in every stage of its development the manifold wisdom of God. The ultimate object is the manifestation of the glory of God to an adoring universe. The more immediate purpose is the making known to all the world—Jew and Gentile—the unsearchable riches of Christ in the completion of that atoning righteousness, by which He made peace by the blood of His Cross. The agency is the Spirit of God. The instrumentality is the preaching of the Church, in the impulse of its individual zeal, rather than in the authority of its formal action. The result to be accomplished is the calling of Churches, till there shall not be a tongue, or people, or nation, or language, in which the Lord shall not have a people. If it be asked, what is the place of Churches already gathered and of the pastorate in this scheme, the answer is easy. In addition to the saving of souls, and the glory redounding to God in the work of grace upon His saints, it is, that they should be the centres of the human organization, the source of the motive power which is to carry the Gospel everywhere, the witnesses for Christ, so great and conspicuous as to compel the attention of mankind, the reservoirs, so to speak, whence the living waters may flow to the furthest confines of universal man. When they have done their work, then will come the end, when Christ shall return to complete His own triumph, publicly to claim the glory, and to be acknowledged of earth and heaven, and even of hell itself, "King of kings, and Lord of lords."

No further words are necessary to point out the bearing of all this on the work of the Church Missionary Society. The connexion stands before us in all its grandeur self-revealed—self-evidencing. The principles and purposes of the Society are identical with what this great passage declares to be the eternal purpose of God, alike in the work to be done and the mode of doing it. Its holy jealousy that Christ, and Christ alone, should constitute the message it scatters throughout the world; its anxiety that the Churches founded by its means should have their own life and ministry within themselves; and that the work of planting new Churches shall not be compromised by the pastorate of Churches already planted; the faith which ever looks onward for fresh scenes of Evangelical conquest; the promptitude of zeal which, watching every new opening in the empire of heathen darkness, recognizes in it an instant call to go in and possess the land, in the same spirit as actuated saintly Bishop Wilson, when, standing up in his boat upon the Indus, and stretching his hands towards the shore, he took possession of the Punjab in the name of the Lord Jesus; are all witnesses to its Scriptural character and claims; bands, not of gold, but forged of the very grace and truth of God, which blend up its history with the present progress, and its hopes with the final accomplishment of the "eternal purpose which God hath wrought in Christ Jesus our Lord."

Such a work is one for which it is a happiness to live, and for which it would be an honour to die. It reflects its own dignity on every one who takes part in it, from the humblest subscriber, or collector of subscriptions, up to the honoured men who give themselves and their lives to it. It lifts us all up into a higher sphere, from the pettiness of personal and private interests, and the fleeting ambitions which alone we are apt to crowd into our three score years and ten of life, into the sphere of the Divine action, and the stately march of the Divine counsels. The eternal purpose, never resting from the beginning, moves on ever to the time when the crowned Jesus shall blaze out of the heavens, and the kingdoms of the world shall visibly become the kingdoms of our God and of His Christ. None of us have a position so humble, a sphere so small, gifts so limited, but that to us is given the unutterable honour of occupying each one a place, and doing each one a work in the "economy of the mystery which from the beginning hath been hid in God, who created all things."

THE following system for spelling NATIVE NAMES is recommended to the Society's Missionaries generally for adoption in their letters and reports, unless any of them should prefer a still closer approximation to the more elaborate scheme of Professor Lepsius. This system should not be applied, of course, to those well-known places of which the spelling has become so fixed that it would be mere pedantry to disturb it; as, for instance, Tinnevelly and Mysore.

RULES FOR PRONUNCIATION.

The powers of the vowels are as follows:—

a as in 'about.'
â usually as in 'father' (in North-Indian words as in 'all').
e as in 'hen.'
ê as in 'fête.'
i as in 'thin.'
î as in 'pique.'
o as in 'not,' or as in the French 'bonne.'
ô as in 'note.'
u as in 'full.'
û as in 'truly.'
ai as i in 'thine.'
au or ou or ow as in 'bough.'

It needs only to be noticed further that—

y always sounds as in 'you.'
g ,, as in 'go.'
j ,, as in 'join.'
gn as in 'poignant,' 'Epagne.'
ng as in 'thing.'
ei as in 'vein.'

h has always a separate sound, except in ch as in '*ch*urch,' and sh as in '*sh*e.'

c whether for k or s, being superfluous, is not used.

Doubled letters should each be pronounced distinctly, as in Italian.

ae represents a sound intermediate between a in 'mat' and e in 'met.'

The above Rules are not adopted in the N. W. America Mission.

REPORT,

&c., &c.

THE Committee cannot do otherwise than meet their friends to-day with a note of praise and thanksgiving.

The openings presented to them by the Lord of the Harvest, and the opportunities for extension in their older Missions, have led them to make fresh ventures of faith, so that their Expenditure has risen considerably above that of any previous year—amounting to £191,237 19*s.* 9*d.*, and, including the amount spent in connexion with Special Funds, to £198,033 19*s.* To meet this expenditure the Committee can thankfully report an income largely exceeding that of last year, and amounting to £189,457 17*s.* 1*d.*, or, including Special Funds, to £195,116 8*s.* 1*d.* Thus, with last year's surplus of £4499 8*s.*, the new year commences with a balance in hand to the credit of the General Fund of £2719 5*s.* 4*d.* The Committee are specially thankful for the upward tendency of the Associations —the best index of the interest felt in the work throughout the country. To last year's increase upon the former year of £3934 there has been added this year the sum of £2213, making a total from the Associations of £133,830 3*s.* 4*d.* The state of the Hibernian Auxiliary also calls for thankfulness. With the exception of a single year, a larger sum has been received from Ireland than ever before, viz. £7540. The Committee rejoice greatly in this evidence of the blessing of God resting upon the sister Church in Ireland. Under "Benefactions" the Committee have received £11,904 3*s.* 3*d.*, being a decrease of £5000 on last year, and of £6000 on the average of the preceding five years. Legacies have reached the unprecedented sum of £36,519 13*s.* 10*d.*, nearly £15,000 more than last year, and exceeding the average of the preceding five years by £18,395.

If the Committee were disposed narrowly to criticize the sources of income of the past year, they might find some ground for anxiety; but when the Lord so graciously supplies what is needed, they prefer to be trustful and hopeful for the time to come. The silver and the gold are His, and from His hand the Committee would receive it. At the same time, looking forward to the probability of yet larger demands upon them, the Committee deem it only right to put distinctly before their friends that the policy upon which they have advisedly entered—of not holding back, but, in proportion as men are sent to them, taking advantage of fresh openings as they occur—must necessarily involve an ever-increasing expenditure. If the Committee read the times aright, the Lord of the Harvest is by His providence most emphatically calling His servants to go forward: and they would not fall back from that noble position with which GOD has honoured the Society in the forefront of the agencies He is employing for the evangelization of the world. In this resolve they cannot doubt that they are in full accord with their friends throughout the country.

The Committee would beg to call special attention to the East Africa Mission Fund, the objects of which are fully known. The fund is exhausted, and they have been compelled to advance money to it in order to carry on the work at the settlement. They would point with gratitude to the fact that in the recent debate in the House of Commons on Sir John Kennaway's motion relating to the East African Slave Trade, the Government took the opportunity of publicly expressing its indebtedness, and that of all interested in the welfare of Africa, to the Church Missionary Society, for what they were doing at their settlement at Mombasa. The special fund for the Mission in Persia is also exhausted and urgently needs replenishment.

LABOURERS.

In the matter of labourers the Committee see cause for devout thanksgiving to the Lord of the Harvest who is the Hearer of Prayer. Although neither the Universities nor the Church at large can be said to have as yet awakened to their responsibilities in regard to the claims of the Mission field—and the want of qualified agents in certain fields is at the present moment very urgent—yet there are unmistakable prospects of a considerable increase in the number of labourers—so much so indeed, that, unless there is a steady advance in the income, the Committee may ere long be constrained to decline offers of service which they would otherwise rejoice to accept. The total number of those accepted during the past year is 55;—17 prepared to go forth at once, and 38 for further training, so that the Society's College has become full to overflowing. Of the 17 qualified labourers, 7 have been accepted (6 of them laymen) as volunteers for the Nyanza Mission, and the remaining 10 for the general work of the Society. Oxford this year contributes three. Three were also accepted from Cambridge, but the failure of the health of one of them has compelled his withdrawal for the present. Dublin has supplied one; Edinburgh, one; Tubingen, one (the son of Weitbrecht of Burdwan); while St. John's Divinity Hall, Highbury, gives her first contribution of three of her sons for the Mission field—the earnest, the Committee trust, of a succession of godly, devoted, and well-instructed labourers from that valuable Institution. It may here be stated that with the exception of one Missionary whose designation was changed from West to East Africa, the new openings in Japan, East Africa, Nyanza, &c., have scarcely absorbed a single labourer who could have been sent to the older fields.

PATRONAGE.

The Very Rev. W. R. Fremantle, Dean of Ripon, the Rev. Sir George Glyn, Bart., Major-General Edward Lake, C.S.I. (whose seven years' service in the Secretariat the Committee most gratefully acknowledge), and the Hon. A. Leslie Melville, have been appointed Vice-Presidents of the Society. The following, having rendered essential services to the Society, have been nominated by the Committee as Honorary Governors for life:—The Rev. J. W. K. Disney, Vicar of St. Saviour's, Retford; the Rev. Canon Garbett, Vicar of Christ Church, Surbiton; the Very Rev. John Mee, Rector and Vicar of Westbourne, Sussex; Rev. Canon C. F. S. Money, Vicar of St. John's, Deptford; Rev. W. N. Ripley, Vicar of St. Giles', Norwich; Ford Fenn, Esq., of Stratford; and H. R. Upcher, Esq., of Cromer. The Committee have lost by death during the past year the wisdom and experience of General George Rowlandson, and the large-hearted ability and energy of Henry Carre Tucker.

PUBLICATIONS.

The subject of the Publications of the Society has for some time past occupied the serious attention of the Committee.

In the early days of the Record, the Intelligencer, and the Gleaner, those periodicals stood almost alone in the missionary branch of serial literature. Since that time, by the grace of God, the missionary spirit has greatly increased, missionary agencies have marvellously multiplied, and, in consequence, missionary periodicals have sprung into existence of every shape and size. Greater facilities have also arisen in the way of illustration and printing. The Committee, therefore, knowing that they possessed an ever-increasing fund of information, unequalled, perhaps, in interest by that furnished to any other body, felt it due to the Society's work, as well as to its Missionaries and its supporters, that nothing should be wanting, on their part at least, to keep a leading place in the general advance of missionary literature. They determined, therefore, while steadfastly maintaining their old principles, to endeavour to make the above periodicals more readable and more attractive. The result has been the resuscitation of the Gleaner in the shape in which it has appeared for the last two years, and the incorporation of the Record with the Intelligencer in, it is hoped, a more acceptable form. The testimonies they have received from many quarters, the extensive circulation attained by the new Gleaner, and a decided increase already in the sale of the Intelligencer, lead them thankfully to believe that the changes have met generally with the approval of their friends. They would, at the same time, affectionately press upon the Association Secretaries, the Hon. Secretaries, and all supporters of the Society, the importance of making these periodicals known wherever they have the opportunity. It is hardly to be credited what ignorance on the subject continually comes to light among those who might be expected to be fully informed. As the maintenance of a prayerful and sustained interest depends in a great measure on the supply of regular information, the Committee will be pardoned for urging the matter strongly as one of much consequence for the continued prosperity of the work.

ORDINATION OF MISSIONARIES.

Thirty-four of the Society's Candidates during the year were admitted to Deacons' Orders, namely, five Europeans, by the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Bishop of London, and the Bishop of Saskatchewan; and twenty-nine natives and country-born, by the Bishops of Sierra Leone, Calcutta, Madras, Auckland and Athabasca, and Bishop Russell. Twenty-two of the Society's Missionaries also have received Priests' Orders during the same period.

NUMBER OF LABOURERS.

Eleven European Clergymen, and seventeen laymen have been sent forth from Europe or received into the Mission during the year; one European layman has been ordained in the Mission; one female teacher has been removed by death; five ordained and two lay labourers, on account of death and other causes, have ceased to be connected with the Society. The number of European labourers in connexion with the Society at present is as follows:—

Abroad—
Ordained Missionaries	168
Unordained Labourers	36
Female Teachers	10
		214
At Home—
Ordained Missionaries	40
Unordained Labourers	7
Female Teachers	2
		49

Of the Native ordained labourers, four have died during the year, and two have been transferred to the Native Church of Sierra Leone. Their number at present is 174—an increase of twenty on the previous year. There are also seven country-born ordained Clergymen labouring in the Society's foreign Missions.

SIERRA LEONE.

THE Mission and Native Church of Sierra Leone enjoy the advantage of a Bishop not only abounding in zeal and energy, but also in thorough accord with the spiritual principles of the Society. Bishop Cheetham has recently, in the unerring wisdom and love of God, been called upon to endure the heaviest of all earthly bereavements. On the 16th of August, 1875, Mrs. Cheetham died, after a few days' illness. The Rev. L. Nicholson thus speaks of her departure:—

Death of Mrs. Cheetham.

Mrs. Cheetham began to be seriously ill on the 12th, and gradually became worse until she breathed her last at twenty minutes past one on Monday afternoon, the 16th. She bore her sickness with great patience, and the truths of the Gospel were her comfort and stay; for though she could not speak much, yet whenever the Bishop said any word of comfort and hope from the Word of God to her, her face lighted up with a sweet smile, which seemed to say, 'Yes, those precious truths are all my salvation and my desire.' The Bishop is wonderfully supported, though he keenly feels the loss. I think I have never witnessed such resignation before. Her funeral was very large: thousands were present, from the highest to the lowest of the population. We laid her next to Bishop Bowen's wife. In that spot of the burial-ground many of our Missionaries are buried: Millward, Ehemann, and others."

In referring to the same sad event, a well-known native brother, the Rev. J. Quaker, writes as follows:—

Good and kind-hearted Mrs. Cheetham, you and the Committee will deeply regret to learn, is no more. She died of fever yesterday, and was interred this morning amidst an overwhelming multitude of Native mourners of all denominations of Christians, and most of the Europeans in the Settlement. She died, I believe, just seven months after she had embarked with the Bishop for our coast. This is a very sad event for poor Africa. She was a mother in Israel.

The European Missionaries connected with this Mission in March, 1876, were the Rev. L. Nicholson, Secretary of the Mission, the Rev. A. Menzies, who devotes himself to the Sherbro Mission, the Rev. M. Sunter, Principal of the Fourah Bay College, and Mr. Schapira, who is connected with the same institution. The Native clergymen on the Society's staff are the Rev. J. E. Taylor, who assists Mr. Nicholson at Kissey Road, the Rev. N. J. Cole, who labours under Mr. Menzies' superintendence at Sherbro, and the Rev. J. B. Bowen, Tutor at Fourah Bay. Mr. Cole and Mr. Bowen were admitted to Deacons' Orders on Trinity Sunday, 1875. Mr. Cole is a son of a faithful departed brother, the Rev. Jacob Cole, one of the first ordained African clergy at Sierra Leone. Mr. Bowen was born in the Mendi country, kidnapped when nine years old, rescued by two British officers, and sent to the School for Liberated Africans at Sierra Leone. He subsequently had the advantage of being taught by Mr. Quaker at the Grammar School, and was at length brought to England and instructed for two years at the Society's College at Islington.

I. Congregations still connected with the Society in the Colony.

The Native Christians connected with Trinity Church, Kissey Road, have increased in number during the year from 1260 to 1430, and the Communicants from 522 to 585. The Sunday School flourishes. Communicants' classes, monthly prayer meetings, gatherings for prayer in private houses, and associations of male and female voluntary helpers, continue as in the preceding year. The Native Curate, while encouraged as regards some of his flock, laments in others "formality, selfishness, malice and revenge."

Christ Church, Pademba Road, has now been transferred to the Sierra Leone Church. With its 475 communicants, its evangelistic work in the strongholds of the lingering heathenism of the colony (Brookfields and Oke Mauri), as well as among the seafaring population of Krootown, this district and its pastor, the Rev. M. Pearce, will, it is hoped, be still remembered in the prayers of many friends in this country, and will continue to enjoy that "blessing of the Lord" which only in things spiritual "maketh rich."

Among several similar instances illustrative of the working of Divine grace in the African character, the following may be selected from the journal of a Catechist in one of the outlying Missions.—The dying man had once been a seller of spirituous liquors, but had relinquished the employment on becoming a communicant. He had been ill for some months from consumption; and had previously given proofs of serious conviction and true penitence. The Catechist writes:—

Death-bed of an African convert.

Read a few verses of John iii., and then knelt and prayed for him, commending him to the care of our Covenant-keeping God. Prayer ended, I inquired of him, "Brother, how is it now between you and God? Are you saved?" "Oh, yes!" he said, "I am saved. Jesus has had mercy upon me. His grace has saved me." And then he burst forth into the words of the glorious hymn,—"Amazing grace! how sweet the sound, That saved a wretch like me; I once was lost, but now am found; Was blind, but now I see." He then asked that it should be sung for him, which was accordingly done. I quoted some other sweet passages of God's Word to him. Then he exclaimed most exultingly and said,—"There is a land of pure delight, Where Saints immortal reign; Infinite day excludes the night, And pleasures banish pain." This also was sung to the end of the 3rd verse. Then, with an air of triumph, he said, "Get away from me, Satan; it is too late for you; Jesus has taken possession." So saying, he breathed his last in the arms of our Covenant-keeping God, with a hope full of immortality.

II. Work among Mohammedans in the Colony.

On the 20th and 21st of October, 1875, a Conference of Missionaries and Members of the Committee was held at the Society's House in London to consider plans for carrying on and extending Missionary work among Mohammedans. One of the recommendations then made was, that special efforts should be commenced for this branch of the population in Sierra Leone. Mr. Schapira, a convert from Judaism, who had been originally instructed in Palestine with the view of becoming a Rabbi, and who, subsequently to his conversion, had been educated at the Society's College at Islington, has been set apart for this work. Mr. Schapira reached Sierra Leone in December, 1875; and his familiarity with Arabic was at once found to be a great advantage. Under date 24th January, 1876, Mr. Schapira writes:—

Arabic is a good key for entering amongst the Mohammedan families, as they have great respect for any one who knows that language. They began to call on me very soon after my landing here. I am also invited to visit them and their families, and am treated with much courtesy. I have been proclaiming the Gospel of Christ in many a respectable Mohammedan family since my arrival here. The seriph, who is looked up to by them as being a saint, sent me a letter of salutation. He is staying here with the headman of the Mandingos, and I had a very good opportunity of preaching of the Redemption of Christ in that very house. The seriph, in company of many Mohammedan chiefs, called on me here at the college, and I brought him into Mr. Sunter's rooms. Mr. Sunter made him a present of an Arabic Bible, and this brought us into very long discussions. I have also been visited by many Arabic-speaking Mohammedans from the interior, and sold to them some Arabic Bibles. They are very willing to buy them. My belief is that God has some work for me here, for it is thirteen years since I left Palestine; and yet He gives me words to converse freely and fluently in that language of Christ and His Gospel. One of them presented me with a dagger from the interior; I gave him in return for it a Bible, and told him that this book is of more value than precious stones and sharper than a dagger; and that a person pierced by a dagger is brought from light into darkness, while he whose heart is pierced by the words written in this book is brought from darkness into light. He asked me to point to him where to find the doctrine of Christ, and I showed him the Sermon on the Mount, so as he may see for himself the difference between the teaching of Christ and Mohammed.

I was asked by Mr. Nicholson to give an address in his church especially to Mohammedans. The appointed time for it was the 30th of December. There were about 800 present in the church when I delivered my address, and many Mohammedans, both male and female, were among the audience. I dwelt especially on the first origin of Christianity and Mohammedanism and the respective modes of their propagation.

III. Education.

The new plans for the re-organization of the FOURAH BAY COLLEGE will evidently require a little time for development. It opened on the new footing on 1st February, 1876. The Students are at present very few in number, but the Principal (the Rev. M. Sunter) sees no reason to doubt its ultimate success. Mr. Sunter writes :—

In Hebrew, the senior students are reading the Psalms; in Greek, 2 Corinthians; in Arabic, St. John's Gospel; Scripture in English, Isaiah, with constant reference to original text; Latin, Tacitus, Book ii. Juniors are, of course, only commencing some of the subjects. I have commenced a Series of Lectures on Inorganic Chemistry, which the students quite appreciate. Next Term we shall commence Greek Classics, but I am waiting at present for news concerning the affiliation, which will determine our future course. Our Mohammedan student is getting along also very well. He takes Scripture lessons along with the other pupils, to which he makes no objection.

The "affiliation" referred to, is to the University of Durham. It has now been assented to by that body. The same University gave Mr. Sunter his honorary M.A.

In the GRAMMAR SCHOOL, under the Rev. J. Quaker, the number of students (about one hundred), the course of study, and the general character of the work, have undergone no change.

No special reports have been received of the FEMALE INSTITUTION, but the Committee believe that it is still doing good service.

At CHARLOTTE, Mrs. Brierley, aided by her sister, educates fifty-seven girls and a few little boys in the building originally used as a school for the African children rescued from slave-ships by H.M. cruisers. The complete cessation of the West African (Ocean) Slave Trade has removed the need which the school was in the first instance intended to meet. The children now under Mrs. Brierley's care are girls from some of the wealthier families, Mrs. Brierley endeavouring so to arrange matters as not to interfere in any way with what she justly terms the "time-honoured" Female Institution. The secular subjects taught at Charlotte comprise Natural Science (popularly treated), Ancient and Modern History, French, and Music.

IV. Missionary efforts in the adjoining countries.

The transfer of the BULLOM and QUIAH Missions from the Society to the Sierra Leone Christians themselves has been cheerfully accepted by the latter. This was done by a Minute of the large Executive Committee of the Sierra Leone Native Pastorate Auxiliary Association, at a meeting held 27th April, 1875. The Minute is a lengthy one, as became the occasion; but the two following resolutions which formed part of it will be read with deep interest:—

Acceptance of Missionary work by the Sierra Leone Church.

That the six recommendations of the Bishop in Council, touching proposals made by the Church Missionary Society of England to deliver over to the Church in Sierra Leone certain Missions to be in future maintained and conducted by the Church in Sierra Leone, and the proposed organization required by the acceptance of such proposals be approved; and that, so far as it is in our power to do so, we, the Bishop, Clergy, and Lay Representatives of the Church, chosen to this office by the Church Members of our several parishes, do solemnly, and after prayer to Almighty God in the name of His dear Son, who is Very and Eternal God, desiring to have each one for himself and for the whole Church of which we believe ourselves to be the best possible representation at present attainable, to be filled with the Holy Ghost for our special guidance and help in the matter in hand, give the sanction and authority of the Church to this undertaking, imploring for it on this day and for ever the continual fulfilment of the promise of the Church's Head, 'Lo, I am with you;' the continual fulfilment of the promise of the Father, in the gift of the Blessed Comforter, who is the Spirit of Truth; and the continual blessing of the Great Triune Jehovah, Father, Son, and Holy Ghost.

That this Committee having heard, and in the name of the Church in Sierra Leone accepted, the proposals of the Church Missionary Society of England as contained in a memorandum of the Parent Committee, headed "Memorandum on the formation of an Independent Church Missionary Association at Sierra Leone, and transfer to it of certain of the Missions of the Society," desire to thank the Society for this expression of its confidence, and trust the future history of the Church, in regard to its Missionary work, may never show that such confidence has been either premature or misplaced.

The following are extracts from a solemn and stirring pastoral issued by the Bishop relating to the same subject:—

Pastoral of the Bishop to the Sierra Leone Church, on its entrance upon direct Missionary work.

The change thus determined on, and provided for, marks another further and decided advance in the history and progress of our Church. Twenty-three years ago the first great step was arranged for by which the Settlement was ultimately to cease to be a sphere of Missionary operations, and was to come under a settled and authorized Ecclesiastical arrangement. In furtherance of this the See of Sierra Leone was erected, and the Church received and welcomed its first Bishop. This provided the needful facilities for the ordination of ministers; but it was not till 1862 that the arrangement agreed upon by the first Bishop and the Church Missionary Society, and approved by the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Bishop of London, came into operation by the establishment of what is commonly known among us as the Native Pastorate. Till that time all the Clergy and Ministers of the Church had been agents of the Church Missionary Society; but now several of them ceased to be so, and were placed in charge of Ecclesiastical Districts, exchanging the position of a Missionary for that of a settled Pastor, and deriving each one his ministerial income, no longer from the Missionary Society, but from a local Church Fund instituted for the purpose. That marked a very great change in the history of our Church, and was thought to mark very decidedly the success of the great Missionary enterprise in this Settlement. But now another step, of almost equal importance, is to be taken; we are called upon as a Church to give more decided evidence than we have hitherto done that we are a living Church, and that we bear upon us one of the principal characteristics of life—extension and propagation: we are called upon to show that we are the true offspring of the Church Missionary Society of England, by becoming a Missionary Church ourselves, and undertaking the direction and maintenance of our own Missions. The bare statement of this circumstance ought to be, and will be, I trust, sufficient to kindle among us, not only deep interest, but also strong resolution to let nothing that it is in our power to effect be wanting to give success to this our undertaking. We may depend upon it, the Church Missionary Society and the whole Church of England will be greatly interested in observing our course: we shall be to many a very interesting spectacle—a Church, the result of Missionary agency, manifesting and evidencing its own life by becoming a new centre of Missionary activity. We shall be watched to see whether we do bear upon us the true marks of a living Church: whether we are prepared to be obedient unto the Word of the Lord in this particular, and to endure much, and to give much, and to risk much in token that we love much for all the great love which has been manifested towards us.

But there is yet another request I have to make. Interest, prayers, contributions I ask from all; it is for all to give these; yea, there is peril in withholding, in keeping back; let all accustom themselves to give; let the young begin, whilst they are young; as soon as they have money of their own, let the Lord's portion be set apart; let parents, teachers, pastors move to this; let it be an oft-repeated lesson; let the lambs of the flock, in this particular, be trained up in the way they should go, and the Church will never want for willing contributors; let the grace of giving be early planted and take root, and then through manhood and age it will continue to bear fruit. But of some the Lord will require more than these; to some the voice will come—depend upon it, it will—the Lord hath need of thee; not merely of thy interest, thy prayers, thy offerings; but of thee: thy person, thy will, thy powers, thy soul, thy whole being; all that thou hast; not simply to be the Lord's, but to be the Lord's in this special work of Missions. And if any hear such a voice addressed to him, he must go, he must say as Samuel of old, "Speak, Lord, for Thy servant heareth;" or as Isaiah, "Here am I, send me." A great matter is this, great in privilege, great in blessing, great in responsibility, great in importance; let pastors see to it, let parents see to it, let the Church see to it.

The Rev. A. Menzies, who has charge of SHERBRO, writes as follows:—

Just nine months have elapsed since I landed in Africa for the fourth time in seventeen years. I desire to have a deep sense of God's great mercy in preserving me for so many years, and granting me more than an average term of Missionary service in this country. More than fifty Missionary friends and their wives —most of them well known to me—have been removed by death and other causes from the Sierra Leone Mission since 1858. Since my return to Sierra Leone in February last, my time has been divided between the colony and Sherbro. I have made four visits to the latter place (my own peculiar sphere), ministering the Word of Life among my brethren there, administering the Holy Communion, and calling them together for conference and prayer. We have had two very refreshing gatherings this year—the first at Victoria on the 29th June, held in the chapel, and the second at Bonthe, September 22nd. The "Pearl" insured our assembling punctually at one o'clock, and dispersing to our homes in daylight. Without the aid of this useful little vessel, it would not have been possible to accomplish so much within so short a time. The circuit is about twenty-five miles.

At Bonthe the congregation consists partly of immigrants from Sierra Leone, and partly of converts from the neighbourhood. The Catechist is encouraged by their liberality, as well as by their devout attention both at the regular Services of the Church and at other meetings for united prayer. The congregation numbers about 150 persons, of whom 86 are communicants.

At Victoria, on the Sherbro Island, as also at Bendu, on the opposite shore of the mainland, the resident Catechist is studying the Native language in order to carry the Gospel to the Native population, which is still almost entirely heathen. There is reason to believe that the message will be willingly listened to. The attendance at Bendu is 115, and the communicants number 36.

The Missionary labourer at York Island is the Rev. N. J. Cole, who at the beginning of the year 1875 was labouring there as a Catechist, and who was admitted to Deacon's orders on the 23rd of May. The average attendance at the English Service is 90; and there are some indications among the English-speaking population of an improved moral tone, as well as of increased attention to religious ordinances. Visiting among the heathen is carried on, and a few heathen children attend the day school. Opportunities also are frequently found of addressing the "country people" after Morning Service on Sunday. There is a considerable resident heathen population crowded together within ten minutes' walk of the Mission-house, and a great number of the Natives from the interior visit the trading factories in the island all the year round. Greater results may be hoped for from Mr. Cole's visits when he has gained more mastery over the language.

At all the stations the Native Agents mention that the work among the nominal Christians from Sierra Leone leaves them but little time for preaching to the heathen. Arrangements will be doubtless made by the Superintendent for calling out fresh agency, paid or voluntary, to supply this defect.

Some of the neighbouring inland towns are in a disturbed state, and there have been hostilities, attended with bloodshed, between them and the British authorities. Mr. Menzies thus refers to the military efforts of the local Government, writing under date January 20th, 1876:—

> The Governor's expedition has recently returned. Sufficient time has not yet elapsed to show what benefits have been obtained, and whether these are likely to be permanent. Matters, however, are so far settled now that I purpose starting for a journey to the largest of the Native towns to ascertain the mind of the people. I leave Freetown again next week to meet Mr. Golmer at Shingy, from which place there is a direct road to Tiama Wah, made in the olden days of slavery, when the Rev. J. Newton was a slave upon the Plantain Islands, just a mile off. We expect to be away for ten days. Tiama Wah is the birthplace of Mr. Bowen of Fourah Bay College, whose uncle, I believe, is one of the chiefs. They are reported to be very well disposed to Missionaries, and anxious to have teachers among them. Mr. Golmer is a Missionary of an American Mission, an African, born in America, an excellent Christian man, and devoted to his work.

The project of occupying PORT LOKKOH by two European Agents has not been carried out. One of the two assigned to this station, the Rev. H. K. Binns, has been diverted to meet what seemed the still more pressing demands of the East Africa Mission. The Native Catechist sent thither from Sierra Leone reached the place about the beginning of April. He gives a sad account of the immigrants from Sierra Leone. Some of these, however, together with eight Natives of the place, attended his first Sunday Service. A Day-school commenced with six children, one of whom was a Native boy, who attended rather against the wishes of his parents. Mr. Schapira has also twice been to the place. On the former occasion he was accompanied by the Society's valued Industrial Agent, Mr. Ashcroft. Mr. Schapira thus describes some of the incidents of his brief sojourn:—

First beginning of work at Port Lokkoh.

We stayed at the king's place, and he paid us a visit early in the morning. Mr. Ashcroft gave him some presents, and I believe him to be a kind and sensible man. We had a very long conversation with him, and he was particularly pleased when informed of my knowledge of Arabic. He is able to read the Koran in Arabic, and has some knowledge of the Bible. I made him a present of St. Luke's Gospel in Arabic, which I bought for my own use, and he was pleased with it. He asked me for the whole of the Bible which I had with me, but I told him that I have only the power of selling it, for a very small sum, viz. 5*s*., for it belonged to the Bible Society. He paid me the money at once, and was rather surprised at its demand being so little; and this gave me the opportunity of telling him of the many blessings which God has brought upon many different nations by the means and agents of our Society, and brought before him examples of many persons who, either themselves or their parents, had led a savage life, but are at present civilized and good men, having the fear of God in their hearts, and being respected by white men. He was very attentive, and said to me, "It is my greatest desire that the same should be done to my country and people." He is very rich in slaves, and is the owner of many towns. Alas! the evil of slavery is there still in existence; 3*l.* is the price of each slave, whether male or female, and they exchange a man for a cow and three men for a pony. One of them asked me to buy a pony, and told me that he paid three slaves for it. I told him that I would not have that pony even if he would give me with it the whole of his riches, for it was bought with men who were created in the image of God. We held a meeting in the evening, and a great many of them were present. The king was not well enough to attend, but sent the most of his household. He made me a present of a leopard-skin before I left his place, and asked me to be his friend. My own belief is that there is a general desire among the different tribes round about Sierra Leone that the salvation of the Gospel should be proclaimed amongst them.

LAGOS.

IMPORTANT steps have been taken by the Bishop of Sierra Leone, in concert and consultation with the Committee at home, with the Society's Missionaries and the leading Native Christians at Lagos, for the organization of the Native Church. The constitution of the Sierra Leone Church has supplied the model. A Church Committee and a Church Council have been formed, as also a Native Pastorate Auxiliary, and a Church of England School Society. These plans were carried into effect during the Bishop's recent visit to the Yoruba country in February of the present year. At the same time three African Catechists, Messrs. D. Coker, N. Johnson, and Charles Phillipps, were admitted to Deacons' orders, and 400 Native candidates received confirmation.

The European force at Lagos has been strengthened by the arrival of the Rev. J. A. Maser, but on the other hand loses, it is hoped only for a brief season, the Rev. V. Faulkner, who returns to recruit his health in England.

Native Christian Congregations.

For the present the Rev. J. B. Wood acts as Pastor of the Faji congregation, having as his assistant a Native brother, the Rev. J. B. Wright. Mr. Wood writes as follows:—

The statistics of this station are as follows:—Baptisms during the past year, adults, 17; children, 16. There are 40 inquirers; of these, 30 have joined the class during the year. The candidates for the Lord's Supper are in number 68; the communicants are 222, being an increase of 26 for the year. The number of Native Christians connected with the station is 620. In the day and infant schools there are 281 children—151 boys and 130 girls. The Sunday-school has been well attended upon the whole, but there has been a want of teachers who belong to the district. The contributions of the year are as follows:—Church-building, 86*l.*; Native pastorate, 74*l.*; school fees, 45*l.*; and miscellaneous, 83*l.*: making a total of 288*l.*

The Yoruba-speaking part of our people are more particularly under the charge of Mr. Wright; the oversight of the English-speaking part falls to me.

As I grow older I become increasingly conscious that there is much need of being careful in regard to indulging and giving expression to feelings of dissatisfaction when things do not come up to our wishes, and that there is often in a certain class of people more religious feeling and principle than is obvious to superficial observers. There are such connected with this congregation. There are others who evidence that they are on the Lord's side, by their more manifestly Christian lives, to a much greater degree embodying their faith in their actions. It is no want of charity to say of a third class, that they are more careful to appear than to be religious.

The C.M.S. bookshop has continued to be a means of good. Even that portion of the population which can read cannot be called a reading people. Talking is easier, and there is less knowledge gathered from books than should be gathered. Hence the necessity of putting sound books within easy reach of those wishful to obtain them; and this the bookshop does.

Mr. Wood's Native associate (above referred to), the Rev. J. B. Wright, writes:—

It is a matter for heartfelt thanks to God, that those of our converts who have tasted of the water of life, and proved the satisfaction it affords to the soul, are offering the same with untiring effort to their heathen neighbours and friends; and the result of it is that new faces—one, two, or three—are to be seen Sunday after Sunday. This results in their attending our class meetings, and finally asking that their names may be enrolled in our lists.

Connected with the Breadfruit Station there are 786 Native Christians, of whom 333 are communicants. Twenty adults were baptized during the year. The pastor (Rev. James Johnson), a well-known Native brother, is able to speak of the reverent demeanour of the congregation, while he longs for clearer evidence of the work of the Holy Spirit. The morning service is in Yoruba, attended by about 570 persons; the evening in English, with an average congregation of 385. Some of the congregation suffer spiritually from their great desire to be regarded as English-speaking, and from their consequent unwillingness to avail themselves of Yoruba instruction either oral or written. Mr. Johnson writes:—

On Sunday, August 29, I admitted nineteen adults into the Church by baptism. The sight of so many persons, dressed almost all of them in white, as is the fashion here, around our Communion rail (we have no font put up in the church yet), was imposing. It was delightful to hear those who, till some time ago, were heathens, and those who had been Mohammedans by birth, confess Christ crucified their only Saviour. Some of them had been led by Christian relatives and other friends to forsake heathenism. One, a heathen priest, had had his eyes opened under a Christian sermon, and others had known in their sad experiences the disappointing character of the prophecies of their gods. One of them, an old woman, when asked whether she would not go back to heathenism if she should be called upon to bear crosses in Christianity, replied, "Never! never! the Lord being my helper. Heathenism has been sufficiently disappointing." The Missionary part of our work has been kept up. Heathens and Mohammedans of all classes have been sought after and spoken to. On Sunday mornings two of my District Visitors are out on one of the streets much frequented by non-resident heathens and Mohammedans from the interior countries, to tell them of Jesus. Everywhere these people meet with some to speak to them of the way of salvation. A large number both of residents and of non-residents have been spoken to in the course of the year. Many have been willing to hear us, but very many, especially of Mohammedans, continue to gainsay the truth.

The weekday schools are in pretty good working order. Improvement is not rapid, but is, I trust, sure. We want more of the co-operation of parents to make discipline effective. There are 242 children on the rolls. This is a decrease of 45 on the number last year. Mohammedans are 22, heathens 21, Roman Catholics 2. The Scripture is taught in Yoruba and English. As for Mohammedans, they want only the English language. I am, however, glad to say that all at school fall in with our plan, and that this gives us a favourable opportunity to teach them the Scriptures in Yoruba. Two of them have signified their desire to be baptized into the Christian faith.

Palm Church, Aroloya, has been under the pastoral care of the Rev. A. Mann, who also has the charge of the Female Institution. Fifteen adults were baptized during the year, and about twenty candidates for baptism are under instruction.

In the Ebute Ero congregation, of which the Rev. W. Morgan is the Native pastor, there are, including catechumens, 240 Native Christians, of whom 60 are communicants. Four adults have been admitted into the visible church during the year. One of these, a young man of twenty-one years of age, was by birth a Mohammedan, and was brought to the knowledge of the truth through reading the Yoruba New Testament. He is now a Sunday School Teacher. The members of the congregation show some zeal, and, through God's great mercy, have had some success, in speaking of Jesus and His salvation to their heathen and Mohammedan fellow-countrymen.

The Rev. V. Faulkner carries on the work at Ebute Meta. The Native Christians connected with this station are registered at 373. Of these 183 are communicants. The pecuniary contributions of the congregation for religious purposes, not including 10*l*. 1*s*. 8*d*. for school fees, amounted during the year to 124*l*. 15*s*. 6*d*. Other information will be found in the annexed interesting extracts from Mr. Faulkner's Annual Letter. Mr. Faulkner writes:—

The statistics for the past year are most encouraging, showing an increase in each particular. In the Communicants there is an increase of 31; and in the total number of Christians of 75, as many as 34 having joined the class of candidates for baptism. There have been 24 adults baptized during the year,—the largest number we have ever had on this Station,—and representing no less than fifteen different tribes. Ebute Meta is an important station. Each year the population increases; and it is destined ere long to become a large and important town, holding a similar relation to Lagos, though on a small scale, which Birkenhead does to Liverpool. The attendance at the Sunday Services in St. Jude's Church has varied from 250 to 380—more frequently over than under 300—whilst at the Ijaye town church (opened April 11th) between thirty and sixty attend the morning service in Yoruba, and sixteen to thirty-five attend the afternoon service in English; so that we may say there are generally about 400 attending Divine Service in Ebute Meta every Sunday. The morning service at Ijaye town is taken alternately by four lay preachers, chosen from among the elders. The afternoon service in English is for the benefit of the St. Helena people. Four of our number have died, we have much reason to believe, in the faith of Christ. Three have gone forth as evangelists to the surrounding country. At present they are with Mr. Hinderer, but where they will be eventually located is at present uncertain. Some, again, have removed to Lagos or elsewhere, and others, taken off the list for misconduct, have not yet been readmitted. The new church is almost complete. The people are also building a new school-room of mud, with grass roofs sixty by thirty feet, walls ten to twelve feet in height. This also we hope to have ready for use by the end of February or beginning of March.

Evangelistic Work in and around Lagos.

Mr. Maser remarks that there is much to be done at Lagos by means of street preaching. The people listen eagerly. And it will have been observed that the reports given above of the different congregations speak in almost every instance of efforts made by the Native Christians for the evangelization of their heathen Mohammedan fellow-townsmen. As regards the Mohammedans of Lagos and its neighbourhood, the Parent Committee have recently resolved that special efforts should be made for their evangelization. This resolution was suggested by the Conference recently held at Salisbury Square on Missions to Mohammedans; and its wisdom is confirmed by two at least of the Native Pastors in Lagos. Mr. Wright of Faji speaks strongly of the efforts and prayers necessary to meet the activity of the Mohammedans who whether by proselytizing from the heathen population, or by immigration, are considerably increasing in Lagos. Mr. Johnson informs the Committee that during the last few months there has been an active controversy among the Mohammedans of the town respecting the authority of the Commentary of Jallaloddin, which at one time almost led to bloodshed. The Governor of Lagos patiently heard both parties, but, of course, would not permit any open religious persecution. The mutual bitterness, however, and recriminations still continue. These disputes, as Mr. Johnson observes, show that there is considerable vigour in Mohammedanism at Lagos. "It will not die a natural death, it must be slain; and for this purpose the Christian Church must use the spiritual sword freely." The Mohammedans seek to win over the heathen by means of kindness and persuasion; and these efforts are by no means without success. Some of them are acquainted with Arabic, and will read the Holy Scriptures in that language. One or two of these, Mr. Johnson considers, are inquirers after Jesus. Mr. Johnson adds:—

Mohammedans of Lagos.

> When we speak of the Sonship and Divinity of Christ, the Mohammedans cease not to repeat the Sura of the Koran, that says, "God does not beget, nor is begotten." Our activity has provoked their own; they were never warmer in the defence of their religion; their priests have never been more diligent in their efforts to keep them away from us; they are told at their public services to avoid us as much as possible; to refuse to hold any conversation with us, and to consider us enemies of the truth. The power of the priesthood in Mohammedanism is immensely great, and no wonder when at public services a priest might be heard saying (as the Catechist and myself once heard), "Those who honour the priest will be publicly honoured by God." But our monthly District Visitors' meeting and the weekly one of district agents confirm me in the opinion that several Mohammedans are already uneasy. Some are convinced of their error, but are kept back by the dread of persecution or death by foul means. There are now four young men of them who are privately learning to read the Bible in Yoruba. One of them is already a Nicodemus. I have had several conversations with him. He believes in Christ's Divinity. He is sometimes at our services, and is gradually becoming bolder daily. One of the Society's agents, our first schoolmaster, was present at a Mohammedan public service, on the invitation of some Mohammedan friends, warm defenders of their faith, on the 1st inst. The officiating minister addressed his congregation of about 200 persons on the case of Korah and his companions. The schoolmaster asked to be allowed to say a few words at the close of the minister's address. This was allowed. He took occasion from the address to show that Mohammed opposed the teachings and authority of Christ when he denies Him to be the Son of God, and has made himself like these rebels. Many murmured; some walked away; the minister, a very gentlemanly sort of person, endeavoured to show that Christ is not the Son of God. A few days after the service he met with one of those who were present at the service. This man said he believed Christ to be the Son of God, and promised to take up the study of our Scriptures in Yoruba. He has, however, not begun it yet, but hopes soon to be able to do so. I have had some conversation with him. I have noticed here much diligence in male Mohammedans in the work of getting up the Koran in Arabic. Old and young are alike diligent.

Mr. Johnson thus refers to another branch of evangelistic labour:—

Kroo men are visited in their hovels and preached to every Sunday morning early both by myself, the Society's other agents, and some Church members. We want the sympathy of their Christian employers, European and Native. As a rule their spiritual and even temporal welfare is scarcely thought about. The only care is to get as much labour as possible from them. Their employers, as a rule, do not recommend Christianity to them, either by word or deed. Several of these people are drowned yearly in their efforts to cross the "Lagos Bar." Mohammedans are trying to do what they can with them, and have already had a convert, whilst Christians, who have generally employed them, cannot show one that they have led to Christ.

The Rev. V. Faulkner thus speaks of Missionary aggression as carried on by, and in connexion with, the Ebute Meta congregation:—

Visiting and preaching has been kept up in the surrounding villages by the Catechist: whilst some of our Church members make a point of going out from time to time to preach in the villages about and beyond their farms. The people at one of these villages, Ogba, are very anxious to have a Christian teacher resident among them. This I would advise, if only we had sufficient agents. Though not a large place in itself, it is a centre for other villages, and would form a link between Ebute Meta and Otta. A short time ago I was asked by Mr. P. J., one of the leading members of the "Breadfruit" Church, to visit Apapa, as a number of the people, chiefly of the Ijesa tribe, are anxious to have a teacher. I went there Nov. 24th, accompanied by Mr. P. J., when about forty people waited upon me, and asked me to supply them with a teacher, or some one to hold a service for them every Sabbath. Apapa is on the mainland west of Lagos, and is the landing-place leading to numerous villages in what is called the Oko Meta, or land district, leading west to Badagry, and N. W. to Igbesa. At this place (Apapa), in 1868, Captain Glover, then administrator, lotted out the land, one lot being given for C.M.S. purposes. I therefore told the people to indicate their anxiety by erecting a small place for worship on the plot of land belonging to the C.M.S., upon the completion of which I would try and get some one to hold service for them every Sunday. They are now gathering the necessary material, sticks, grass, &c., and early next week I go to see what progress they have made. The Rev. James Johnson, who takes special interest in the Ijesa tribe, has kindly promised to supply the place until the Society is prepared to place an agent there, by means of lay preachers from among his ("Breadfruit") congregation.

Work among the Ijesa people.

Mr. Faulkner has also been exploring the districts to the west and north-west of Lagos. In the course of two long journeys, one in January, 1875, and one in August of the same year, he found the chiefs of several towns willing to receive Christian teachers. The motive in many cases may be a desire to obtain British protection against the Dahomians. In two places, however, Mofo and Okeodan, Native Christians settled in the place had already endeavoured to give Christian instruction, and at Mofo from fifteen to thirty have been in constant attendance every Sunday, among whom has been the principal chief of the place. In his second journey Mr. Faulkner received a somewhat warm invitation, prompted probably by the cause mentioned above, from the King of Addo, a well-known centre and stronghold of idolatry and superstition. Mr. Faulkner, in this second journey, intended also to visit the town of Ketu, the capital of the district of the same name. Ketu is the most western of all the Yoruba-speaking tribes. The town was visited by Mr. Gollmer in the year 1860. When half a day's journey, however, from the capital, Mr. Faulkner was seized and detained by some Egba kidnappers. Plunder seems to have been their only object, though Mr. Faulkner's life was really in danger for some time. The King of Ketu was much displeased when he heard what had taken place, and sent messengers to remonstrate with the Abeokuta authorities. Mr. Faulkner was released on promise of paying a ransom, but the Abeokuta Government did not allow that arrangement to be carried out. No punishment, however, was inflicted on the authors of the outrage. At the public assembly in Abeokuta, where the matter was discussed, Okenla, the Christian war-chief, showed much spirit and determination.

Training Institution.

Of this important branch the Rev. J. B. Wood, who presides over it, reports as follows :—

We began the year with twenty-two students; fifteen older ones, and seven just received on probation. It soon became necessary, however, to dismiss one of the latter. As might be expected, there is much difference amongst them. Some afford much satisfaction, and give good reason to think they will prove workmen that need not be ashamed. There are several not less earnest and diligent, but possessing less of mental power. Some of our most valued agents are by no means brilliant. There is one now at work who, when he was with me, used to cause me perplexity as to whether I was doing right in keeping him in the Institution, considering the little promise he afforded that as an agent he would be worth much—he was in many things very slow and did his work very imperfectly. He received an appointment, and has gone on very satisfactorily and steadily, plodding unweariedly. A little time ago his superintendent told me that he valued him very highly, that he was very self-denying, and a hard and effective worker. The new building affords us many advantages. It would be well if the students could have more opportunity of going on missionary tours. They would thus learn what is to be done, and how to do it, and would form an acquaintance with new towns where afterwards they may have to labour. At present one cannot help feeling that there is a lack of readiness in some of our agents to go into new places and "rough it." Perhaps our system is not free from blame for this result. Be this as it may, it is desirable that itinerating should be a part of the training of agents, whatever sphere they may afterwards be called to occupy. Last year I was so bound to the place, by work unconnected with the Institution, that I was unable to go out on a missionary tour at all. I hope this will not occur again.

Education.

Respecting the GRAMMAR SCHOOL very little information has reached the Committee. It is under the care of the Rev. T. B. Macaulay, and underwent a public examination under the presidency of Bishop Crowther on the 21st December, 1875.

The FEMALE INSTITUTION continues to be under the care of the Rev. A. and Mrs. Mann. The number of boarders is very small; but the day scholars, including a few very young children, number fifty. One extract from a letter of Mr. Mann's, dated 16th June, 1875, will be read with interest:—

Peaceful death of the daughter of a Native clergyman.

One of the foundation boarders has been called away by death. She was the daughter of the Rev. T. P. Wright, the native curate of Faji. Three days before her death she said to her mother, "Mother, you have done much for me. You love me. I love you all, but I no more belong to your family, I belong to the family of Jesus." Though means were used, the fever never left her. Days and nights were sleepless; she spoke in delirium. She was found often praying; and when very restless, if her father prayed in Yoruba, she became quiet. Often she said, "I am ready! I am ready! and care very little for earthly things." On Friday, the 14th of June, she said about two p.m., "Let me sleep." These were her last words. She fell asleep in Jesus as the first ripe sheaf of the Female Institution, being sixteen years old and two months. Her behaviour had been exemplary, and she had exercised a good influence on her companions.

LEKE.

This station, which lies about 40 miles east of Lagos, is the head-quarters of the Rev. D. Hinderer. There are not only favourable opportunities for preaching the Gospel in the locality itself, but it is a good centre for missionary work among the surrounding Ondo, Ijo, Ijesa, and other tribes; all belonging to the great Yoruba-speaking family. The Ondos lie to the north and north-east, the Ijesas beyond these, bordering on the Ibadan country, to the chief of which latter country they are indeed politically subordinate. The whole country from Leke to Lagos is under British protection, and is thickly peopled. Around Leke the population is Jebu (also Yoruba-speaking). The Jebus, though somewhat indolent, are a powerful and numerous tribe, having suffered comparatively little from slave-hunting wars. The population of Leke itself is of a very mingled character, consisting largely of runaways, many of whom come into the town in a most miserable condition, having escaped from the Ijos, who, as well as the Ondos, are notorious for cruelty towards their slaves. The work at Leke has suffered from the want of suitable agents; but Mr. Hinderer has with him two Native Christians from Lagos, whom he believes to be men of faith and devotion, and whom he is instructing with a view to their becoming agents of the mission.

Mr. Hinderer set off from Leke on the 22nd of February, 1875, for a journey through parts of the Ijo, Ondo, and Ijesa country to Ibadan, endeavouring, on his route, to induce the chiefs to accept Christian teachers. Among the Ijos his reception was at that time unfavourable; but two catechists were stationed at the Ondo capital, Ode Ondo, and a third at Ilesa, an Ijesa town. The catechist placed at Ilesa had laboured there some years ago, in the days of Ijesa independence, when Mr. Hinderer was at Ibadan. During his former stay some progress had been made, when persecution arose, and subsequently war. The result was that the town was reduced to a ruin, and the Ijesas were brought under subjection to Ibadan. They told Mr. Hinderer that they regarded this change as God's judgment on them for having persecuted the Christians. However, the town is now beginning to be rebuilt and reinhabited; and the head chief of Ibadan, to whom they pay tribute, does all he can to lure them back to the place. The deep interest felt in this movement by the Ijesa refugees in Lagos is described in the Report for 1874-5, p. 21. May the Gospel allay and ultimately overcome all feelings of inter-tribal animosity! The catechists left at Ode Ondo have preached regularly in the open air, and have succeeded in collecting some children into their school. The king and another principal chief are friendly, or profess to be so; but the Balogun or war chief is an outspoken and active opponent. At the date of the catechist's last letter a determined contest was going on between himself and the Balogun, the latter wishing to put to death a slave-woman, that she might accompany her deceased mistress to the next world, and the former striving to rescue her. At the close of 1875 the King of Igbo-bini, the chief town of the Ijos, was persuaded by one of Mr. Hinderer's Native helpers to invite mission agents to settle in the place.

Cruelties of heathenism, and their abatement on the introduction of the Gospel.

BADAGRY.

The Rev. S. Pearse has met with very heavy personal and domestic trials which have seriously interrupted his work. Previous to this, in the early part of 1875, there had been some encouragement, especially at Iworo, the town described in the Report for 1873-4, p. 18, as a seat of superstition. Three adults were baptized at Iworo in February of last year. The catechist stationed at this town in 1873 appears to have laboured there ever since; but the three converts are partly the fruits of the efforts and influence of Mr. P. J., a zealous Ijesa Christian at Lagos. Two of the three are Ijesa people. The history of one of them is remarkable. It is thus given by Mr. Pearse:—

Rescue and conversion of one who had been set apart as a victim to an idol.

There is something singularly providential in the account of the third adult, Maria Fatugin, a woman of about sixty years. She is a native also of Ilesa, from whence she was enslaved, sold, and resold, until she came to Porto Novo, where she was bought by a former king of that place. By that king she was sent to be sacrificed to the "illustrious Elegbaru" of Iworo, a little before the time when the Governor of Lagos forbade the sacrifice of human beings to that satanic idol. There is at the town of Iworo a separate compound, in which all the inmates were people sent from abroad as victims to be offered to the idol. These unhappy people never attempted to escape, but meekly submitted to their fate. One of these unfortunates was Maria Fatugin. Mr. P. J., a native Christian layman of Lagos, while residing at Iworo, found an old woman standing off his gate, and peeping into the premises. He asked her to enter, but she walked away as quickly as she could. He met with her soon after, and, to his surprise, recognized by the marks on her face that she was a native of Ilesa, and, upon inquiry, was still more surprised to find that she belonged to the very next house to his father's at Ilesa. He brought her home, after very strong persuasions and encouragements; and she afterwards disclosed to him what circumstances brought her to Iworo. From that day Mr. P. J. would not let her go, but spoke of her to the king; and, on leaving the place, charged his sister to treat her with all kindness. Thus she was providentially brought in close contact with the message of the Gospel, and was the first in the place to renounce idolatry and cleave to Jesus.

The king of Iworo is not unfavourable to the mission; and one of his daughters, a girl of fourteen, is anxious to be baptized.

ABEOKUTA.

The Rev. H. Townsend, who returned to England in April, 1876, was enabled to guide the Mission and the Native Church during the year to which this Report refers. Under date January, 1876, he gives the following review of the year:—

Progress at Abeokuta.

I must first acknowledge the goodness of God in permitting us to reside here again, and in giving us favour in the sight of the heathen chiefs and people. I must acknowledge His mercy in preserving us and this place in the time of the Dahomian invasion. The conduct of the Christian body on that occasion has advanced them in the respect of the heathen people and chiefs, and increased their influence very materially. The establishment of out-stations among our converts in their farm-villages gives us further reason to offer our praises to God. I refer to Ohufada and Afojupa: that at Shunren was established some time before. Isein is also becoming a place of some promise. I am thankful also to have been permitted to establish a School Committee, a step towards placing educational expenses on the public. The Church Council has been working during the past year satisfactorily; we need more form and more substance, but with the Lord's blessing we shall grow up to a full stature in due time. We have, at the same time, to mourn over some who manifest great carelessness and little regard for the means of grace. We have to regret the manifestation of a worldly spirit among some, in the acquisition of wealth, in display, in a conformity with the maxims of the world. There are some whose walk and conversation are such as become Christians. Our Native helpers of all classes have endeavoured to do the Lord's work faithfully, as for the Lord.

The Native Pastors speak warmly of the benefits which the Abeokuta Church has derived from the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Townsend.

The Abeokuta Native Pastorate Fund is now fairly at work. Seven agents are paid from it, four receiving from it their entire salaries; the remaining three part from it, and part from the Society.

Of the work at AKE, the Rev. D. Williams writes:—

Liberal contributions after an interesting Report.

We have eighty-two candidates for baptism, eighty for the Lord's Supper, and 296 communicants. Thirty-four adults were added to the visible Church of Christ by baptism. We had our usual Annual Missionary Meeting for collection towards the Native Pastorate Fund on the 13th of September. The meeting was so cheered up by the warm and heart-stirring speeches of the speakers, among which was an interesting report of Mr. Doherty's successful tours in the interior, that most of the subscribers doubled, and others tripled the amount they had previously fixed upon to subscribe.

At IGBORE the Rev. W. Allen speaks of a shaking among the dry bones. Several persons who had fallen into the sin of polygamy have been brought back to penitence and amendment. The church is well attended; many heathen are regular attendants; and among the candidates for baptism are some persons of social and political influence.

The Rev. W. Moore, since the return of Mr. Townsend, has concentrated his attention on his own station of OSHIELLE. His flock is but a small one—160 Native Christians—of whom, however, no less than 79 are registered as communicants. Four adults have been baptized during the year. After mentioning some evidences of "zeal and love" in his congregation, Mr. Moore writes, under date December 30th, 1875:—

The church here needing to be enlarged, and the roof to be covered with corrugated iron sheets, the old one had to be broken down entirely to the very foundation. They said they were not rich enough to contribute much in money; they therefore agreed to work gratuitously, devoting one day in every week for the purpose, spending such money as they might get from Christian friends at a distance for corrugated iron sheets and other materials, and for such part of the work as they had not the skill to do themselves. The first thing was to build a school-house, where we might keep Divine Service, while the church was in course of erection. When this was finished (which they did at the cost of 20*l.*, without any help from other quarters), they set to work at the church, the foundation of which was laid on the 18th inst. The chief of the town was present on the occasion; he laid the first lump of clay on one of the corners, and the next man in rank to him laid the first lump of another corner, and the Balogun, war chief, laid that of the third corner, as tokens of their approbation of our proceeding. When the first chief laid his lump he said, among other things, "My predecessor had his own peculiar honour in allowing and witnessing the erection of the old church in this place, in his own time. I have now the peculiar honour to have it enlarged in my own time. May the Christian God (Olorun), the living God, bring us prosperity!" The work of the building is now going on steadily; the people are doing it cheerfully.

A heathen chief taking part in laying the foundation of a Christian Church.

The establishment of an out-station at Isein, with the countenance and favour of its king, is referred to above by Mr. Townsend, and was mentioned in the last Report. The king of Eruwa, a dependency of Isein, has followed the good example by receiving a Christian teacher, and allowing and helping forward the erection of a place of worship, which has now been completed. For the eighteen months preceding a space of ground had been set apart in front of the king's house for a mosque; but the mosque has not yet been built. The chiefs of another small neighbouring town, Iberukodu, have also welcomed a Christian teacher, and promised to erect a shed for public worship.

The Report for 1874-5 mentioned as very recent news the retreat of the Dahomian invaders after having been defeated by the Egbas at a place called Obu. It may here be mentioned that a party of Christian warriors, under their chief Okenla, were largely instrumental in that repulse, Okenla having the reputation of being one of the best captains Abeokuta possesses, and the Christians being, for the most part, better armed than their Dahomian enemies. Mr. Allen, one of the Native Pastors, thus refers to this incident:—

Prayer heard in the repulse of the Dahomians.

Prayer has been the standard of the times; the effect of prayer has been realized by all; prayers are acknowledged to be a mighty weapon by all the true people of God—the late Dahomian invasion corroborates the fact. The converts here, having their commander, Mr. John Olston Okenla at their head, went out in search of the enemy, and, being discovered, Mr. John Okenla uttered these words, "The sword of the Lord devours you to-day." So saying thrice, his about 150 men began the engagement, and routed the Dahomian army of about 600 men. At this crisis, increasing prayers were sent up to our great Jehovah, who is the God of armies, and whom Moses termed a Man of war, who, on that occasion, vouchsafed a signal victory to His people, when they implored His help.

The Bishop of Sierra Leone visited Abeokuta in January of the present year, where he was very gladly welcomed. Messrs. Williams, of Ake, and Olubi, of Ibadan, were admitted by the Bishop to priest's orders, and Confirmation was administered to 480 candidates.

IBADAN.

At this station the Native Christians number 398, of whom 169 are Communicants. Ten adults were baptized during the year. The Rev. D. Olubi, a Native brother, is the Pastor, who is assisted by two Catechists at Ibadan itself, and by three others stationed respectively at Ilesa, Oyo and Ogbomoso. The occupation of Ilesa has been already mentioned in connexion with the work of LEKE. The Catechist (or Reader) at Ogbomoso is supported by subscriptions from the Native Christians of Ibadan.) The chiefs of Ibadan are half of them heathen and half Mohammedans; the Kakanfo, or head, being of the latter creed. The Kakanfo has always been friendly, sometimes to a very remarkable degree. Social and family persecution, however, is often very severe, as, by the custom of the country, the head of the household has power almost of life and death over his children and dependents, the Kakanfo being able to apply scarcely any restraint beyond that of remonstrance and persuasion.

The Report for 1874-5 spoke of Mr. Hinderer's hope soon to visit this his old station. The visit took place accordingly in April of last year. He arrived fatigued by the journey and out of health, but after a lapse of eight days had strength enough to address a united gathering of the three congregations. The following Lord's Day was signalized by another very interesting event, the baptism of Mele, the convert spoken of in the Report for 1873-4 as advised to join the Christian Church by the Mohammedan chief of the town. He continued to be a steady and consistent catechumen for two years. The Catechist's account may be quoted :—

Baptism of Mele.

Fifteen candidates were baptized this day. It was very interesting to see old Mele, with a sweet smile over his bright face, while the sacred rite was in administering. When we think of his past career at the head of the army, acting under the first Basorun, the greatest chief Ibadan ever had, and whose favourite he was, and contrast it with his present life, we cannot but give God the glory. He was for about twenty years or more, the second man in the town; but from adverse circumstances he lost his position, and fell into extreme poverty. All were struck with the humble manner this once inveterate enemy of the Gospel now knelt before the baptismal font, with a heart full of joy. I was present at the Kakanfo's, when, with a heart full of malice and wickedness, he was breathing out his threats, and said, "If all my people are not forbidden to come to the house of God, I will enter the church with a drawn sword, and will kill one half of them before I fall amongst the slain, and then," bowing before him, "your highness can come and order the burial of my dead body." After the Service the Christians went home with him, and offered prayers with him, returning thanks to the great God who brought about his conversion. After the prayers, every one tendered to him his congratulations; and they returned congratulating each other, and giving thanks to God for his conversion. One of his sons received baptism next after him.

OTTA.

The Native Christians at this place are seventy-eight in number, the Communicants being forty-one. Their Pastor, the Rev. J. White, speaks favourably of their conduct, and of their zeal in building their new church. The accessions by conversion do not equal the losses through death and removal. The foundation-stone of the church was laid on the 29th September, 1875. Three adults were baptized during the year, one of whom, Osamo, is a man of considerable influence in the town. It will be remembered that the Report for 1874-5 gave an account of a solemn remonstrance addressed by Mr. White to the king and chiefs of the town. Five chiefs then began to be regular attendants at church on the Lord's day, and have kept up the practice ever since. But there is among the population generally a determined opposition to the Gospel; and the moment any one seems disposed to join the Christians he is singled out as an object of scorn, derision, and hatred.

At the out-station of Igbesa the aspect of affairs is equally sad. Whether from political or other motives, the king and chiefs of this place, as of Otta, seem desirous of being on good terms with the Native Missionary, and receive his remonstrances with deference; but with the exception of the king himself (of whom Mr. White thinks well) and the little band of nine Native Christians, there is no person in Igbesa who is at all disposed to listen to the Gospel.

NIGER MISSION.

Onitsha, 1857; Akassa, 1861; Lokoja, 1865; Bonny, 1866; Brass, 1868; Osamare, 1873; New Calabar, 1874.

Conducted by Native African Teachers, under the superintendence of the Right Rev. Bishop Crowther.

At Akassa, several of the old chiefs and priests, stern opponents of Christianity, have been removed by death. This has shaken the confidence of the people in the worship of the gods of their forefathers. Five boys are in the boarding-school, and the average congregation on the Lord's day is 27. On the whole there appears to be some change for the better.

The Rev. Thomas Johnson is still the Missionary at BRASS. The persecution and steadfastness of the converts at this place, and their liberal pecuniary contributions to the Lord's work, have been mentioned in previous Reports. The persecution has ceased; and the rapid increase of the congregation on the Lord's day necessitated the enlargement of the church, which will now accommodate 500 persons. King Okiya himself contributed 7*l.* 10*s.* towards the expenses of its construction. It was completed and opened on October 17, 1875. Bishop Crowther adds:—

Conversion of an African Chief.

On Thursday, the 21st, forty-five persons were confirmed, among whom was Chief Spiff, who had been baptized by the name of Thomas on Whit Sunday. The support which this chief received from above, which enabled him to weather such fiery persecutions from heathen priests and brother heathen chiefs, must have been of an extraordinary kind; God used him as an example of the triumph of the cross.—Whom did I see submissively sitting among the converted chiefs at church in front of Thomas Spiff, decently clothed like one of the merchants' Native clerks? The person was Chief Short Oruwari. Was not this man one of the great persecutors of Chief Thomas Spiff? Yes; but a great change has taken place in him; Short Oruwari has enrolled his name among the candidates for baptism: three persons of his household, one of whom was his young wife, have been baptized and confirmed. Oruwari was naturally a man of very cruel temperament, revengeful to the highest degree; he made himself obnoxious everywhere among his own and neighbouring tribes. Last year great troubles befell him of a pecuniary kind; and finding that he had no friends in the priests or his brother chiefs, nor sympathy from the surrounding tribes, whom he used arbitrarily to oppress, nor protection or help from his gods, he was at last obliged to flee to the God of the Christians, the people whom he had unmercifully persecuted. From the converts he met with sympathy and kind reception; Oruwari is now trying to make himself acquainted with the truths of the Christian religion.

The converts abstain from trade on the Lord's day, and find themselves none the worse for it in their sales and purchases. The Christians are more industrious and honest than their heathen companions, and the people in the oil markets prefer to deal with them.

The Rev. W. E. Carew is the Missionary at NEW CALABAR.

It was occupied only in March, 1875, and the Boarding School, towards the support of which the Chiefs have promised to contribute, and which now numbers thirty-two pupils, was opened in April. Divine Service is of course conducted throughout the year. Mr. Carew takes the opportunity of speaking to the Native Chiefs when they come to the shipping for purposes of trade; and they also sometimes visit the Missionary station and will sit with him for hours hearing the words of life.

At BONNY the work continues to advance notwithstanding persecution. Fifteen adults were baptized during the year; and the Native Christians now number 110. King George Pepple is himself a Christian by profession, and subscribes liberally to the support of the Mission. His power, however, is extremely limited; and the chiefs in whom the real authority is vested issued decrees against attendance at public worship, which, after lying dormant for some time, have recently been carried into effect. Several who refused obedience were imprisoned; and the martyrdom of one convert is thus described by the Rev. F. W. Smart:—

Martyrdom of Joshua Hart.

A young man who is a baptized convert has won a martyr's crown. Joshua, for that was his name, had been arrested and punished on the charge that he came to church on Sunday. He endured his trial with cheerful patience. Subsequently he was called upon to participate in the performance of heathen rites, or in eating things offered in sacrifice to the gods; and, on his refusal, was caught, tossed up in the air by four men, and left to fall with great force on the ground. This was done repeatedly; but Joshua still held fast to his resolution. Two other chiefs endeavoured to persuade him to recant. But he replied, "If my master even requires me to carry the world on my head I will try my best; but if he requires me to partake of things sacrificed to the gods, I will never do it." His master then took him, bound hand and foot, into his canoe out on the river, with a view to have him drowned. At this time Joshua was heard to pray, calling upon the Lord Jesus. This made his master more enraged, who then ordered the poor victim to be hurled headlong into the water. But the body did not sink. The sufferer was therefore taken up out of the water into the canoe, and asked whether or not he would recant. On refusing to do so he was again thrown into the river, his head smashed with a paddle, and his body thrust through with a sharp-pointed pole. Thus died the proto-martyr of the Bonny Mission, whose name shall be ever recorded in the annals of the same—Joshua Hart.

The educated and civilized portion of the community, mostly immigrants from Sierra Leone or Lagos, befriend the Mission, and have contributed generously to its funds. With great difficulty the Bishop procured a meeting of the king and chiefs on November 10, 1875, in order to bring before them the case of the persecuted converts. After a long and warm discussion among the chiefs themselves in the Bonny language, they informed the Bishop they would give the subject a calm consideration. The Bishop writes:—

Protest of an English ship-captain against the persecution of African converts.

On the day previous to my meeting with the chiefs, King George Pepple had made efforts to convince some of the old chiefs of the injustice of forcing the worship of the gods by persecution. Captain Boler, who was present, being appealed to by the king, took the opportunity to state his mind on the subject of protecting one religion by persecuting another: that it had been tried and proved centuries back: that persecution against Christianity had never checked its progress; that it had rather roused even the indifferent to inquire into its nature, and ultimately to adopt it. Such a testimony from a captain, a merchant, before heathen chiefs, speaks a volume of sermons on behalf of Christ and His cause.

Later accounts state that the persecution still rages. Several of the converts are confined in irons, separately one from another, and very insufficiently fed. Through the grace of God, they were all standing firm in patient endurance.

St. Clement's Church, built for the use of the English-speaking congregation, has answered its end very well. The regular attendants vary from 60 to 100, of whom from 10 to 14 are Europeans. The Rev. D. C. Crowther, who ministers at this church, states the following interesting incidents:—

Joy of Christian English sailors at hearingthe Gospel preached by Native African ministers.

Oct. 31.—We attended the morning service at St. Clement's (Bonny). An English captain, from a sailing vessel anchoring here in the river, could not conceal his joy at finding a place of worship in this far-away place in heathen lands; it was literally to him an oasis in the Desert. Speaking to the Bishop, he said that he was glad to find that the same gospel preached in England was here also, and that he derived as much comfort from the one as from the other, for they show him Jesus. So said a sailor from the same ship, three Sundays previous to this, after a faithful and well-directed sermon from the Rev. T. C. John. The sailor waited for us at the front of the church, and said to Mr. John, "I thank you for your sermon. Your text quite suited my case" ("Be still, and know that I am God"). "I have been brought to Christ," continued he, "and I know, as you said, that if we cast all our cares upon Him, He will help us to bear them. I therefore leave my wife, children, myself, body and soul, to Him, and may I never doubt Him!"

The Schools are not prospering, neither parents nor children seeming to show any interest in education. Perhaps the slaves are not allowed to attend.

The population of OSAMARE may be estimated at about 3000 persons. It is a market town on the left or east bank of the river. Its language is Ibo. The Rev. J. Düring, who is the Missionary of the station, ministers to a congregation of about forty persons. Among these are the two leading chiefs, and several other principal persons of the place. A horrible custom prevails here of accusing aged women of witchcraft. They must then prove themselves innocent by drinking the poisonous water of ordeal, which in nine cases out of ten proves fatal. Mr. Düring has been enabled, however, to rescue several persons. Even the mothers of the chiefs themselves are sometimes the victims of this atrocious and cruel superstition. Bishop Crowther writes:—

Cruelties of heathenism, and their abatement on the introduction of the Gospel.

A charge of witchcraft was laid against the aged mother of Prince Olodi, who with his mother was a regular attendant at the place of worship every Lord's day, also with his aged father the Akako (king). Contrary to the usage of the country, Prince Olodi defended his mother in spite of the charge of the priest supposed to be influenced by the spirit of the gods; so the poor innocent woman could not be molested. While I was at Osamare, a similar charge was brought against the sister of Odogu, the war-chief, who in like manner protected his sister, and defied any one to molest her. This subject occupied the minds of the people when I preached there in July. The correction of this idea was the aim of my text, Gen. v. 5, "And all the days that Adam lived were nine hundred and thirty years; and he died." My sermon was rather a statement of biblical historical facts of the longevity of the lives of the antediluvian people, for the information of this very ignorant and superstitious people, and the vindication of innocent old women. I informed them of a fact, which rather startled them, namely, that my own mother was still alive, having great-grandchildren about her; that she was upwards of eighty years of age, and yet nobody ever thought of accusing her of witchcraft on that account. I then besought the kings, the war-chief, and their counsellors, to meet and consider the case, and put a stop to such wanton, barbarous murders of those who ought to be the objects of their tenderest care.

The Missionaries at ONITSHA are the Rev. S. S. Perry and the Rev. J. Buck. One of the English traders at this station has forwarded to the Committee a letter from himself to Bishop Crowther, announcing his intention to open trade on the Lord's day. Deplorable as this occurrence is, a still greater hindrance to the Gospel has been the representation made by some nominal Christians to the Native converts at Onitsha that polygamy is not forbidden in the Christian Church. The grossest immoralities were consequently sanctioned and practised by some who were thus misled. The two young Missionaries met this evil by earnest remonstrance and firm exercise of discipline; and on the Bishop's visit in August he succeeded, it is hoped, in disabusing the minds of those who had been thus deceived. Seventeen adults were baptized during the year. The Native Christians at Onitsha and Ijawo amount to 106; the Communicants to 56. At Ijawo Mr. Perry's time has been much taken up with the repairing of the church. His morning congregation averages about forty, the chance visitors being fewer than in the previous year, but the regular attendants more numerous. Mr. Perry presented twenty-three candidates to Bishop Crowther for confirmation.

The day-school for children at Onitsha meets with very limited success; but the Sunday-school is attended by about thirty-six adults.

The inhabitants of the out-station of Asaba, where the Rev. E. Phillips is labouring, are in a most degraded condition. Human sacrifices are of frequent occurrence, and every kind of abomination is practised among them. Mr. Phillips, however, succeeds in assembling a small congregation on the Lord's day, amounting sometimes to fifty persons. Those thus under instruction are still very ignorant; but they reverence the Lord's day and are attentive listeners at the service.

Lokoja is under the dominion of Umoru, the Emir of Nupe, who is himself subject to the Foulah Sultans at Sokato and Gonda. The grosser superstitions of idolatry are much less prevalent here than at Onitsha. Human sacrifices are seldom heard of. A large number of the inhabitants are heathen, though they wear the loose flowing garments which are commonly regarded as Mohammedan costumes. The attitude of the local Government towards the Mission continues to be somewhat wavering. The Bunu Christians are still subject to molestation, while on the other hand King Umoru's officials have aided in the erection of the Mission church, towards the expenses of which many other Mohammedans have also given pecuniary contributions. Lokoja, as the head-quarters of marauding and kidnapping expeditions, is viewed with much dislike by the neighbouring heathen tribes, who are anxious to compass its destruction, and have on more than one occasion attempted to destroy the whole place by fire. In May, 1875, the Mission premises were set on fire by some incendiary connected with those hostile parties, but by God's mercy the flames were speedily extinguished.

It will be remembered that the late chief of the Bunu tribe at Lokoja, Salamalaku (see Annual Report for 1871-72, p. 32), was baptized by the name of Cornelius, and built a preaching-shed in his quarter of the town. The preaching-shed was twice accidentally burned down, and twice rebuilt by the Bunus themselves. A larger place of worship has now been built, with mud walls, capable of accommodating 100 persons. Salamalaku's successor, Manaha, has also been baptized by the name of Abraham. Other Bunu chiefs from the hill country have applied for Christian teachers to be settled amongst them. One of the Native agents at Lokoja (Mr. J. Thomas) is of Bunu descent, and seems to find much acceptance with the petty Bunu chieftains of the neighbourhood. Mr. Thomas has translated the Apostles' Creed and a few prayers into the Bunu language, and expresses his longing for the time when the Bunuese may have the Scriptures and the Liturgy and useful reading-books in their own language.

Nothing of marked importance is reported from EGAN. The Bishop has been successful in an experiment of brick-making, and has sent two specimens to the Emir, that he may see their superiority to the sun-dried bricks commonly made in Nupe.

In September, 1875, Bishop Crowther paid another visit to King Umoru at his capital, Bida. Umoru had delivered the Arabic Bible, entrusted to his care, to the King of Ilorin, by whom it had been received with many thanks. After about six days' sojourn at Bida during which he received many marks of friendship from the Emir, Bishop Crowther returned to Egan, and thence to Lokoja. Shortly afterwards, the Bishop heard from a Sierra Leone Mohammedan (Mr. Maheux), who had been at Bida, that Umoru had been compelled to part with his own Arabic Bible to his master, the Sultan of Gondu. Seeing the Emir much disappointed, Mr. Maheux had given him his own copy (a plain bound one) until another could be procured. He had also read a portion of Exodus with the Emir before he left Bida. When Bishop Crowther visited Umoru, he had recently returned from an expedition against the Igbesas, in which he had been unsuccessful, though aided by considerable allied forces from Ilorin and Ibadan.

Bishop Crowther has been desirous to occupy Benin River as a Mission station. This is one of the mouths of the Niger, and has been sometimes called the Wari branch of that river. It has been found to be better for navigation during the dry season than the Nun, where Akassa is situated. Could the Benin route be opened up, the countries of the Shekiri tribe (a half dialect of Yoruba), as well as the kingdom of Benin itself, would be open to missionary operations. The missionary occupation of this river would also complete a line of Mission stations from Lagos to Bonny, Benin being fifty miles from Leke, which is itself forty miles from Lagos. In 1872, and again in 1874, the Bishop had some conversation on the subject with Olumo, the head chief of Benin, who at that time seemed well-disposed. There was no favourable opportunity for taking any decisive steps in this matter until November, 1875, when Bishop Crowther visited Olumo, and proposed to establish a station in the country. To the Bishop's great disappointment, Olumo then refused his consent, bringing forward a variety of frivolous objections. After describing his fruitless efforts to persuade Olumo, the Bishop adds:—

Earnest desire of Africans for Mission-Schools, notwithstanding the opposition of their chief.

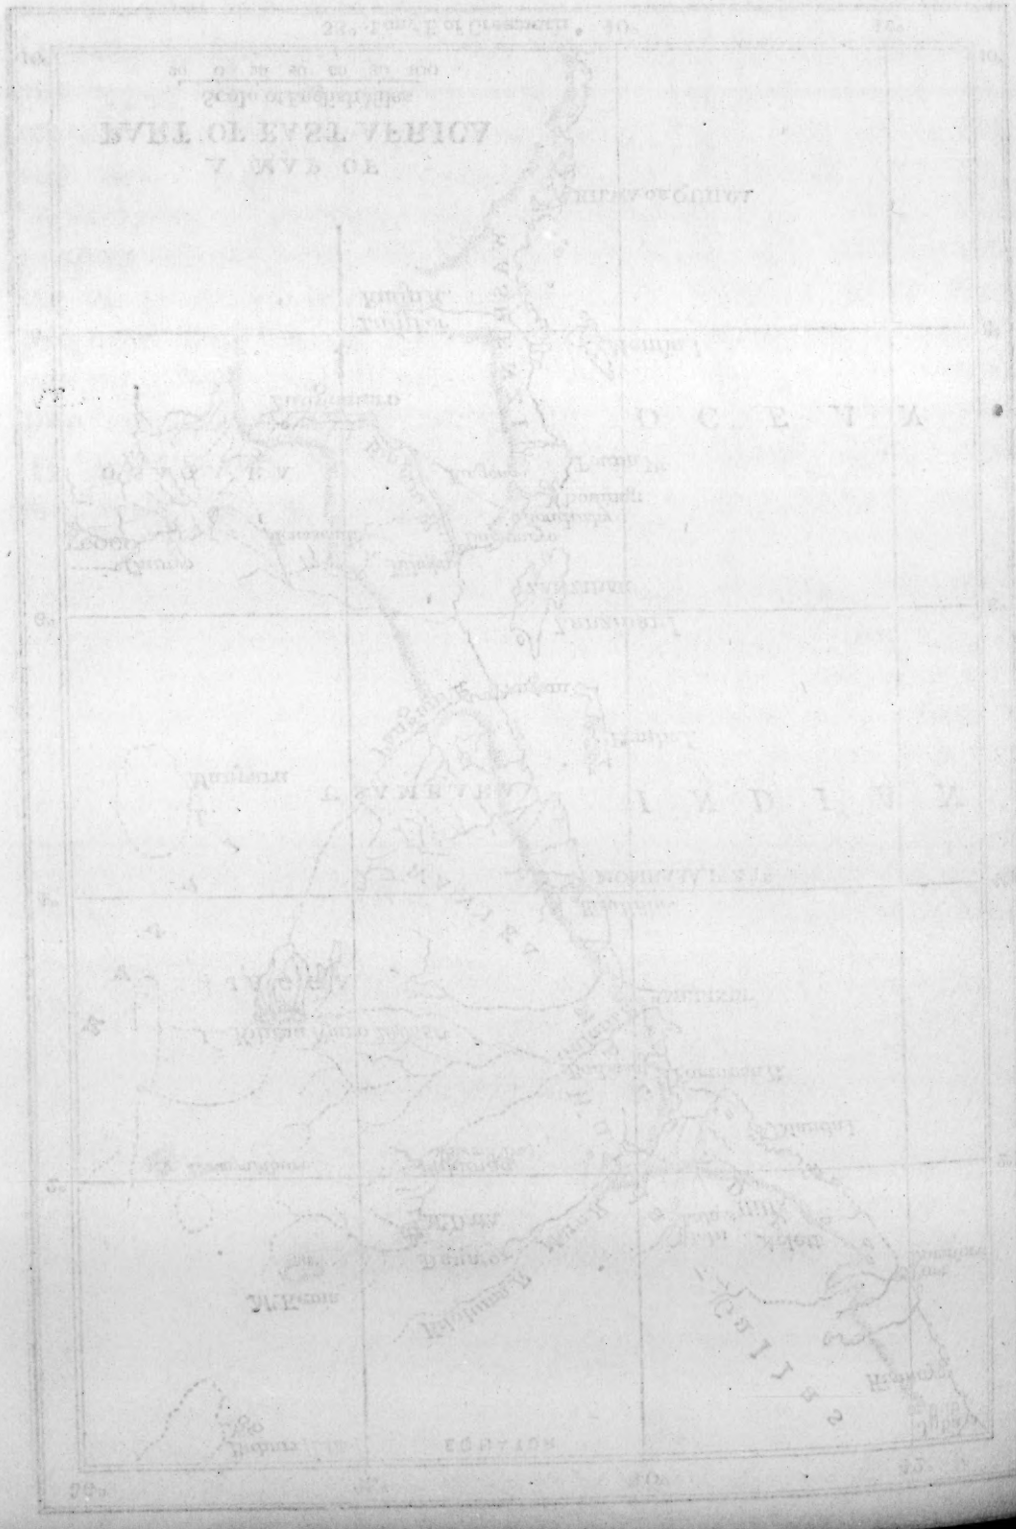

The next morning the younger members of the population, who were in high expectation of the Mission, came early to the shipping, but were greatly disappointed at my non-success with the leading chief. I told them that I would return to the river again ere long. Salutations in tones of sympathy from young persons, both male and female, greeted my ears from every group I passed through both on board and on shore. "Do! do! do!" which implies, Be not discouraged, be patient, we appreciate your efforts. Though the younger population keenly felt the disappointment, yet they had no voice. I could only encourage them to wait God's good time.

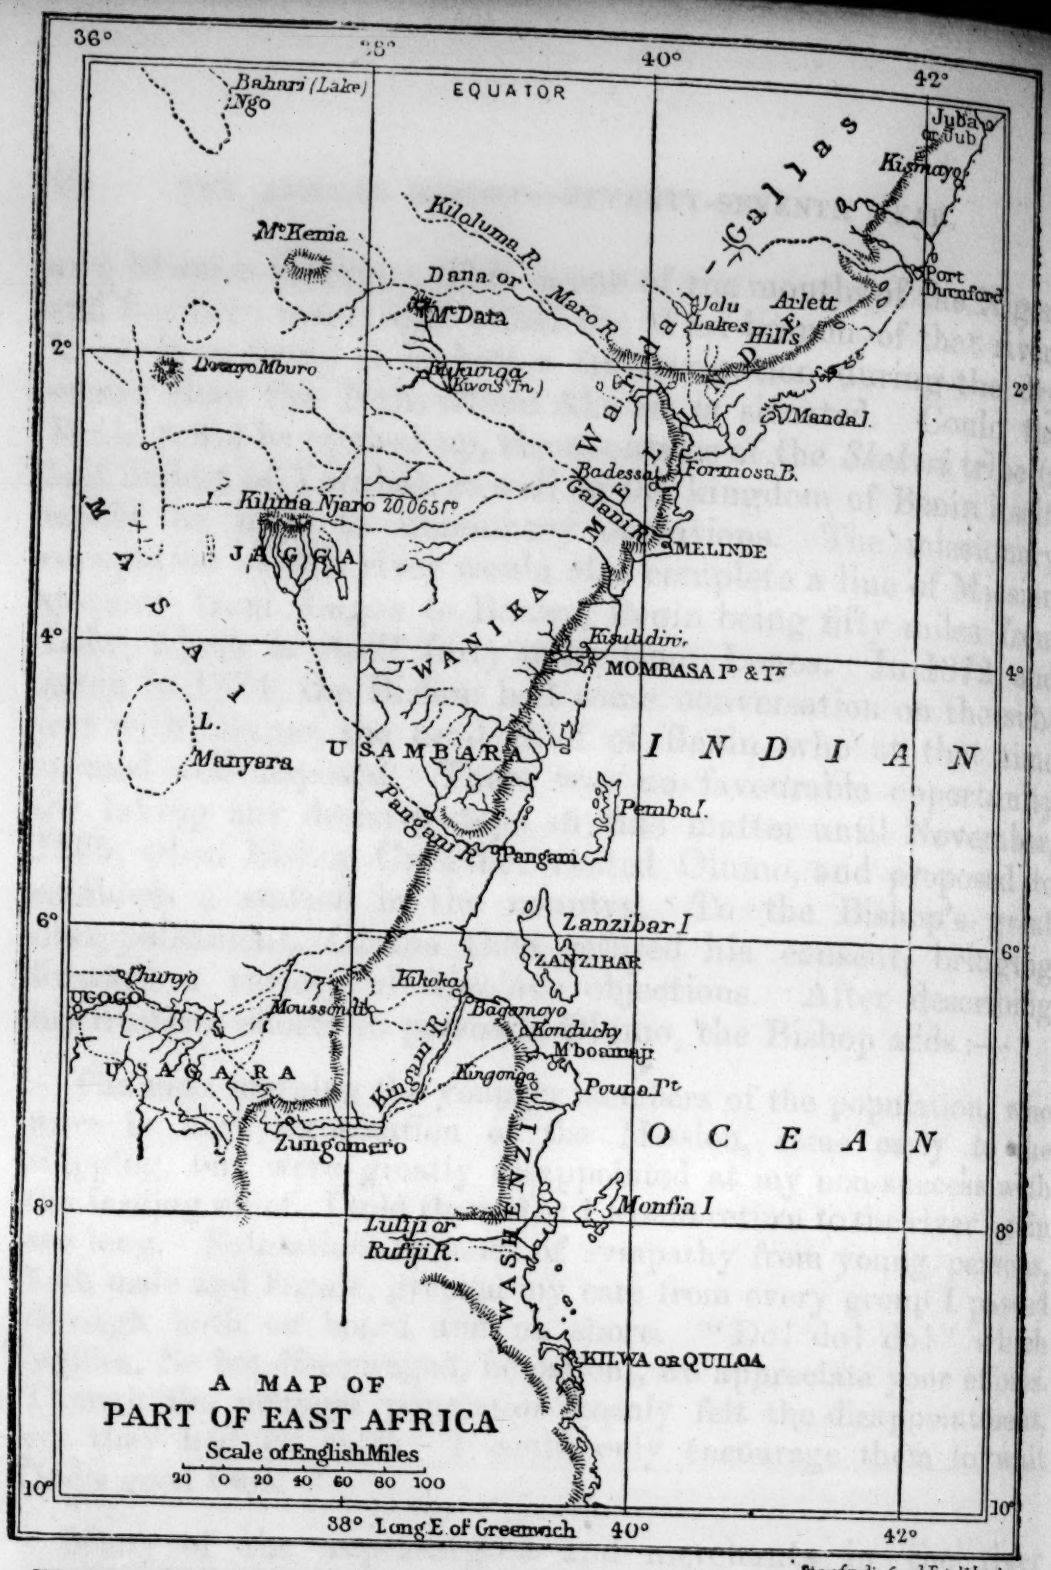

Many of the supercargoes and merchants in the river expressed much regret at Olumo's sudden change of feeling, and encouraged the young people to hope that he might eventually come to a better mind. Though Olumo is nominally only the first amongst several chiefs, he is really despotic, having about thirty canoes, well manned and armed, which make him a terror to all the river tribes.

EAST AFRICA MISSION.

European Mission Establishment:

Rev. John Rebmann (m), 1846, at home.
Rev. William Salter Price (m), to Western India, 1849; to East Africa, 1874.
Rev. James Abner Lamb, to Yoruba, 1861; to Sierra Leone, 1870; to East Africa, 1876.
Rev. Thomas Henry Sparshott (m), 1867, at home.
Rev. John Williams, 1874, at home.
Rev. Harry Kerr Binns, 1875.
Mr. Joseph T. Last, 1874, at home.
Mr. John G. Pearson (m), 1874, at home.
Mr. Edward W. Forster, M.D., 1875.
Mr. William Harris (m), 1875.
Mr. John W. Handford, 1875.
Commander Russell, R.N., 1876.
Mr. George J. Clark (m), 1876.

At the commencement of 1875 the Rev. W. S. Price, the leader of this Mission, had for his associates the Revs. T. H. Sparshott and J. Williams, and Messrs. Remington, Last, and Pearson. Mr. Williams had to leave Mombasa through failure of health in March of the same year. Mr. Remington, who had shown much promise as a missionary, was removed to his heavenly rest, after an illness of only two days, on the 24th of April, 1875. Mr. Sparshott left the Mission in September, 1875, and Messrs. Last and Pearson in 1876. On the other hand, the Mission was strengthened by the arrival of Dr. Forster and Mr. and Mrs. Harris, in July, 1875, and of the Rev. H. K. Binns and Mr. J. Handford, on January 20th of the present year. Dr. Forster, however, was on the point of leaving in broken health at the date of the last advices; and the Committee are anxiously looking out for a competent person to take his place. Mrs. Harris also has been compelled, by the same cause, to return to England. Mr. Price's own health forbids his further residence on the East African Coast. His place is to be filled by the Rev. J. A. Lamb, formerly of Lagos and Sierra Leone, who, at the invitation of the Society, has given up a living in Yorkshire to return to the Mission field, and who together with Mrs. Lamb left England for Mombasa on the 30th of March, 1876. The Committee have also been able at length to appoint a Lay Superintendent for the free settlement at Mombasa. The gentleman selected for this important office is Commander Russell, R.N., who left England in May of the present year. It is hoped that Commander Russell will be invested by the British Government with Vice-Consular powers.

When the Seyyid of Zanzibar visited England in the summer of 1875, the Committee presented a memorial to his Highness, thanking him for the protection he had granted to Mr. Price, and asking for his continued countenance and help. To this memorial his Highness gave a very friendly reply.

Early in 1875 Mr. Price had selected a suitable piece of land at Mombasa for the settlement of liberated slaves. A section of the local Arab population were much opposed to his acquiring it; and the local Government seemed at first unwilling to give the permission required. At length, through the decisive interference of the Seyyid of Zanzibar himself, all difficulties were overcome, and Mr. Price, as representative of the Church Missionary Society, was placed in lawful possession of the property. Mr. Price began at once to erect the necessary buildings, employing for this purpose his African artisans from Nasik. While these buildings were still in progress, in September last, 271 captive slaves, recaptured by H.M.S. "London" and "Thetis," were suddenly handed over to the Mission. Depending on the Strong for strength, Mr. Price and his helpers girded themselves at once to the formidable task of housing, feeding, and managing this importation of destitute and degraded creatures, speaking only a language unknown at Mombasa, and many of them suffering from various diseases. Their laborious exertions have met with gratifying success. The settlement is in good order; judicious arrangements have been made to insure health and decency; the adults are living on the whole in peace and comfort; the children are under regular and efficient instruction; and a beginning has been made in instilling into these 270 dark minds the elements of Christian truth. Twenty-five more adult rescued slaves have lately been sent to the Mission by H.M. Consul-General at Zanzibar. The settlement, which has been named FRERE TOWN in commemoration of Sir Bartle Frere's services in the suppression of the Slave-Trade, has been well spoken of by several independent and valuable witnesses. Major Ewan Smith, Acting-Consul-General during Dr. Kirk's absence, wrote to Lord Derby in an official despatch, "I was so satisfied with everything I saw and heard, and so impressed with the excellence of the guarantee thereby given, that all possible means that experience and kindness could suggest would be employed to make the best use of any liberated slaves that may for the future be entrusted to the care of the Church Missionary Society, that Testimony of British officials to the efficiency of the arrangements at Frere Town.

I informed Mr. Price that I would endeavour to have the supply of slaves kept up from time to time as circumstances afforded, while I should be happy at all times to assist him in every way in my power." Captain Ward, of the "Thetis," describes Mr. Price's purchase as "a most desirable tract of land with a good sea frontage facing the harbour, which had already [before the landing of the liberated slaves in September] been cleared of jungle, and intersected with broad macadamized roads." "Temporary sheds," adds Captain Ward, "have been erected for immediate necessities, and permanent buildings are begun. Potatoes and cabbages have been planted on a small scale, and found to answer well. The Mission party is on good terms with its Arab neighbours, who look up to them for advice, and are especially grateful for the medical aid which is afforded them free of all expense." Dr. Forster's presence has in other respects been a great help to the Mission. The freed slaves have been benefited by his skill, and his dispensary in the town has been thronged, and has supplied spiritual as well as bodily medicine. The school at Frere Town is under the charge of Mr. Handford, who is assisted by Jacob Wainwright.

Mr. Price gives the following interesting account of the first attempt to give Christian instruction to the adult liberated slaves:—

Sunday, November 14th.—In the afternoon we collected all the adult freed slaves—more than 200—and George David (the Native catechist) endeavoured to impress upon their minds two truths which are at the foundation of all true religion—the Being and omnipresence of God; for "he that cometh to God must believe that He is." I never in my life witnessed such an illustration of that kind of teaching which the Prophet seems to describe as "line upon line." After a simple statement of the truth that there is a God, and that He is everywhere present, he expressed the substance of his teaching in the following formula:—"God is in every place, above and below," and then, dividing his audience into several groups, he patiently persevered with each group, till they could not only repeat the words after him, but utter them without his assistance. I am within the mark when I say that he repeated the words at least 300 times. The exercise lasted an hour and a half; and the patient teacher was rewarded at last by finding that the words, if not in all the fulness of their import, were imprinted on the minds of his rather obtuse pupils. This may seem a small result; but it was worth the labour. Minds full of darkness do not easily open to the first rays of spiritual light.

Line upon line, precept upon precept.

The nucleus of a Christian industrial colony has been supplied by the return, from Western India, of Christian liberated African slaves, many of whom had been brought up by Mr. Price at the similar settlement at Sharanpur, near Nasik. Forty more of these have lately returned, together with an experienced catechist, himself a liberated African, who had been ministering to their spiritual needs in India. (Reference to these will be found in Mr. Deimler's Report from Bombay.) The new settlers are skilled cultivators, having spent some time at a Government model farm, near Bombay; they came equipped with agricultural implements, and appear to be steady and well-conducted men. They, and the one hundred and fifty others who had preceded them, are distributed between Mombasa and Kisulidini. At both places the Sunday services and occasional devotional gatherings have been regularly attended; there have been as many as forty communicants at one time; and Mr. Price speaks of the "earnest and eloquent sermons" preached in Kisuahili by the Native Catechists.

Little has yet been done for the evangelization of the Wanîka and other tribes in the interior. The work at Giriama, however, continues to be a token for good, inviting to further efforts. Nine adults from Giriama have been baptized at Kisulidini during the year. Seven of these were admitted to the visible Church in August, 1875, and two others, a chief and his wife, in the following October. The chief, Abe Sidi, baptized by the name of David, Mr. Price describes as a wild Wanîka "brought to the knowledge of Christ and transformed into a new creature, not so much by man's intervention as by the Holy Spirit alone." Of the baptism in August Mr. Price gives the following account:—

Baptisms from Giriâma.

Aug. 21.—Daily engaged, with the assistance of G. David, in instructing the inquirers. Examining them, I have been much pleased with their serious demeanour, and with their intelligent apprehension of Gospel truth. Of course, much knowledge cannot be expected; but the chief things they know, and know well. George and I have been hard at work translating the baptismal service into Wanika. We have completed the principal part of it, and to-night I went through it with the candidates. They were delighted to hear the service in their own language, and I as much so to find they could understand it, in spite of my poor utterance. Mrs. P. has held meetings with the women, who appear to be not behind their husbands in spiritual knowledge, and in their desire to follow Christ. Lord's Day, Aug. 22.—Had the pleasure this morning of admitting eight persons, five men and three women, into the visible Church of Christ. Seven of them are from Giriama, and one a candidate of long standing living here. As far as man can judge they are all sincere believers in the Lord Jesus; and we confidently hope they may have grace to continue His faithful soldiers and servants unto their lives' end. Their behaviour was most becoming and serious throughout the service, which was conducted through the medium of three languages—English, Suahîli, and Wanika. These seven Christians of Giriama are indirectly, at least, the fruit of Mr. Rebmann's quiet labours. Their principal instructor has been Abe Ngoa, an old man, who owes everything he knows of the Gospel to Mr. Rebmann. George David has paid occasional visits to the station and watered the seed sown. God has given the increase. Aug. 25.—Had a service of prayer with the Giriama Christians, and sent them on their way rejoicing.

Several more of the same tribe are under instruction, and the Gospel has been preached in one or two other villages.

The past year has witnessed the return home from East Africa, after thirty years' patient and uninterrupted service, of the veteran Rebmann, the founder of the Mission jointly with Dr. Krapf. The two fellow-labourers are now living near each other in Germany; and their untiring labours in investigating and reducing to writing the languages of that part of Africa are now, it may be hoped, about to bear valuable fruit. The Committee regret that the attempt to restore Mr. Rebmann's eyesight proved unsuccessful.

The steam launch presented to the Mission last year unfortunately failed to reach its destination; but it has been, by the kindness of the same donors, replaced by a larger sea-going yacht, the "Highland Lassie," which is now on her voyage out. Meantime, however, one of the English lay agents of the Mission, who had been a shipwright, himself constructed a sailing-boat on the spot, which has proved useful in several ways.

NYANZA MISSION.

European Mission Establishment:

Rev. Charles Thomas Wilson, 1876.
Mr. George Shergold Smith, late R.N., 1876.
Dr. John Smith, 1876.

Advance into the heart of Africa.

THE Church Missionary Society has long been desirous of penetrating into Africa from its station on the East Coast at Mombasa. Nearly forty years have passed since public attention was called to this part of the African continent by the travels of the Society's Missionaries, Krapf and Rebmann; and twenty-five years since Henry Venn predicted that the missionary road to the heart of Africa would be from the eastern rather than the western coast. Krapf's and Rebmann's discoveries were incentives to those East African geographical researches that have been carried on from that time until now. The latest of these efforts, by Mr. Stanley, led to a general invitation from Mtesa, king of Uganda, on the shores of Victoria Nyanza, for Christian Missionaries to settle in his country. The invitation appeared in the Daily Telegraph of the 15th November; and on the 18th the Society received an offer of 5000*l*., in order to take up the enterprise, from one whose eyes had often been "strained wistfully towards the interior of Africa west of Mombasa," and who had "longed and prayed for the time when the Lord would by His Providence open there a door of entrance to the heralds of the Gospel." Within five days the Committee met, and, while realizing the arduous character of the undertaking, resolved in dependence upon God to accept the responsibility, and to form a Special Fund to meet the necessary expenditure. Other munificent gifts have subsequently raised the amount thus promised to 12,000*l*. A marked token of the gracious favour of GOD towards this enterprise has been afforded by the manner in which He has so speedily raised up the agents required for commencing this great work. The party will consist of one ordained clergyman, the Rev. C. T. Wilson (the Committee would have preferred to have sent two if they had been forthcoming), one lieutenant in the Royal Navy, Mr.

Shergold Smith; one medical man, Dr. J. Smith; one civil engineer and architect, Mr. O'Neill; one mechanical engineer, Mr. Mackay; one agriculturist, Mr. J. Robertson; one blacksmith and industrial teacher, Mr. W. M. Robertson, and one shipwright. Four of these had already started for the coast before the Society's Annual Meeting in May, and the remaining four were to leave at the close of the same month.

After much careful deliberation, it has been resolved that the route to be taken by the Mission party should be viâ Zanzibar and Unyanyembe; and with a view to facilitate the journey Lieut. Smith, who was recently engaged in the Ashantî war, and who is the appointed leader of the expedition, has been directed by the Committee to explore the river Wâmi, for which a suitable steam launch has been provided. If his investigation should be satisfactory, it will be a great help to the advance of the expedition to the Interior, by enabling it to overleap the coast district, and to reach without delay or difficulty the higher and healthier district of Usagara, among whose mountains it has been arranged by the Committee to establish a Missionary station.

It is proposed, GOD permitting, that the party for the Nyanza shall start about August in the present year, and that they shall proceed by way of Karaguê, leaving a portion of their number at its capital, under the protection of the King of Karaguê, Rumanika, who has been described as an able, kind, and gentle ruler. The Committee feel that they have committed themselves to a difficult, and, even in some respects, dangerous enterprise; but the step has not been taken without prayer for guidance, and their trust is in Him to whom all power is given in heaven and earth, and whose glory they desire to promote in the fulfilment of the purposes of His love.

MEDITERRANEAN MISSION.

(Commenced at Malta in 1815.)

I. Turkish Mission.—II. Asia Minor.—III. Palestine.

THE difficulties of Missionary work among the Mohammedans have always been exceedingly great, and have been felt with peculiar force in the Mediterranean Mission. In June, 1875, the Committee passed a resolution that a Conference should be held of Missionaries and others on this important subject. This Conference was accordingly held in the following October, and attended by Dr. Koelle of Constantinople, Mr. Zeller of Nazareth, and Mr. T. F. Wolters of Smyrna, as well as by other Missionaries from India and Africa. Much interesting information was gathered and many important suggestions and recommendations were made. Some of the practical conclusions then adopted by the Committee affected the Mediterranean Mission. It will be remembered that two American Missionary Societies are also at work in the Turkish Empire. These have hitherto laboured chiefly among the members of the ancient Christian Churches, hoping through them to benefit the Mohammedan population. The Church Missionary Society, on the other hand, has always made the evangelization of the Mohammedans its main object, working among the Christians of the ancient Churches only when these voluntarily sought the aid of its Missionaries. But from various causes the two modes of effort have been gradually assimilating. The Committee therefore resolved to strengthen their force as much as possible in PALESTINE, where the American brethren are not labouring. They are making arrangements for the removal thither of the Rev. T. F. Wolters from SMYRNA, and have designated an English clergyman of tried ability and missionary spirit for Jerusalem, and a younger but equally zealous labourer for Jaffa. CONSTANTINOPLE, however, as the seat of the Ottoman Government, will still be occupied.

The Society has now withdrawn from SYRA, Mr. Hildner being placed on the list of the milites emeriti, and having been allowed to reside either at Syra or in Germany, as he may prefer. Mr. Hildner has recently met with the very severe trial of the loss of his beloved partner. She "departed in peace, trusting in her only Saviour Jesus," on the 31st of October, 1875.

I. Turkish Mission.

CONSTANTINOPLE.

(First occupied, 1819; relinquished, 1821; reoccupied, 1858.)

European Mission Establishment:

Rev. Sigismund Wilhelm Koelle, Ph.D. (m), to West Africa, 1847; to Palestine, 1856; to Constantinople, 1862.

"HOPE deferred" is still the experience of the Society's able and devoted Missionary at Constantinople. Dr. Koelle writes as follows:—

The hostility which the Turkish Government showed last year against Missionary efforts, by persecuting converts and forcibly stopping the printing of the Holy Scriptures in Turkish, naturally continued to operate adversely to our cause during the present year also. The reception with which the deputation from the Evangelical Alliance to the Sultan met at the hands of the Turkish Government, only made the determined hostility of the Government more generally known. The financial distress of the country, partly arising from the large sums required to defray the interest of foreign loans, and the open war carried on for some months past between the Turkish army and insurgent Christian subjects, contribute to render the Mussulmans at the moment still more indisposed to inquire into and receive the Christian truths.

Our Divine Service in the Turkish language has been continued on Sundays as in former years, the portion of Holy Scripture considered being the latter part of St. John's Gospel and the beginning of the Acts of the Apostles. Besides a number of Christians belonging to different churches, a few Mohammedans also attended; but none of them came forward to ask for special instruction in the truths of Christianity with a view to baptism. Several Mussulmans, however, who were formerly under instruction, without being baptized, continued in friendly relation with us. Our two Native readers have continued their humble efforts among their countrymen in Constantinople as perseveringly as heretofore, seeking to engage them in conversation on the subject of Christianity, and quietly circulating our various Turkish publications. They find many an opportunity of speaking a word in favour of Christ and His truth, but are also sometimes met with scorn and contempt.

II. Asia Minor.

SMYRNA.

(Commenced in 1830.)

European Mission Establishment:

Rev. John Theophilus Wolters (m), to Syra, 1837; to Smyrna, 1842.
Rev. Robert Henry Weakley (m), to Constantinople, 1860; to Smyrna, 1869.
Rev. Theodore Frederic Wolters (m), 1860.

The Rev. J. T. Wolters writes as follows:—

The same difficulties on the part of the people with whom we have to deal have shown themselves as before; yet the prevailing feeling of my mind is not discouragement. There are also bright features in the dark picture before us. Our bookshop and colportage have been more active and successful than in former years. Many of the people seem anxious to read the Word of God and our books and tracts. Our Sunday services in Greek have been regularly continued. My son also had a Turkish service during the summer. Opportunities for "conversational preaching" have never been wanting, and intercourse with several Turks has been maintained by one of our agents.

The out-stations, Cassaba and Aidin, have been visited from time to time by me and my son. At the latter place our agent Belisarius' intercourse with the Turks has been very much hindered by the opposition of the Turkish authorities.

The Sub-Committee who drew up the Report of the Conference on Missionary work among Mohammedans recommended that Mr. Wolters, Jun. (the Rev. T. F. Wolters) should be transferred to the Mission at Palestine. Missionary work among the Mohammedans of Smyrna, is far from impossible, as is clear from the subjoined passages in a letter from the Rev. T. F. Wolters. But it may be remembered that there is a powerful American Mission in Asia Minor, which, though labouring chiefly among the members of the ancient churches, has recently received converts from Mohammedanism. Mr. Wolters writes under date August, 1875:—

Mohammedan inquirers at Smyrna.

I do not remember to have ever had such a season of intercourse with Turks, poor and rich, learned and unlearned, who seem all at once to be awake, and to desire to learn something of Christianity. At least, whatever the motive was, their coming to our Mission-house gave me an opportunity of preaching to them salvation through Christ. One man who continues to visit me from time to time began by being very loquacious, plunging into the labyrinth of Mohammedan tradition and fate. When I spoke about sin and redemption he quieted down; and when I read the 26th and 27th chapters of St. Matthew, his eyes were filled with tears. Another man still shows an interest which I have rarely witnessed in a Turk; he tells me that he is not at rest, and has been long anxions about his appearing before God. One of them is pressing for baptism; but as he cannot read, some time will necessarily elapse before he can be sufficiently instructed.

JERUSALEM.

The Rev. F. A. Klein is assisted in the charge of this station by a Native brother, the Rev. Chalil Jamal, of whom Mr. Klein speaks very highly.

There have been some changes in the congregation, some having left for other places, and others (among whom are two Copts) having joined. The aggregate number is the same as last year, 136. The Communicants have increased from forty-six to fifty-four. A Native Evangelical Society has been formed, to which the members of the congregation subscribe according to their ability.

Mr. Klein writes:—

Friendly intercourse with Christians of the Eastern Churches, and, as opportunities offered, with Moslems, has been cultivated as usual. Our bookshop continues to offer the best opportunities for seeing people of all denominations, and from all parts of the Turkish empire, chiefly during the season of the pilgrims.

The schools have given me more satisfaction than in any previous year; and the natives find our schoolmasters not only better instructed, but also more zealous and conscientious than their own, and more carefully superintended in their work. The school at Bireh and Kefr Malek (near Tayyibeh), which I had opened with a number of Moslem and Christian boys, I found best to shut again, as the Mohammedans, yielding to intimidation and the representations of some Sheiks, would not send their children any longer. Our Ramallah school is progressing favourably, and is the most encouraging feature of our work there. The Beit Sahûr school has, under the care of a new and very zealous teacher, quite recovered from its very discouraging condition. There is now an attendance of thirty boys, and the parents are quite enchanted with the progress their children are making in reading and writing and Bible history, and do not care for the excommunications of the Greek priest, who is vexed to see his own school empty. These village-schools do very good service in reaching the adults also. I have recently opened another at Bir Jeit, under a very intelligent and earnest man of the place, who joined us after much study of the Bible and religious books. There is an attendance of thirty boys, about one half of them Moslems.—Our Girls' School here (at Jerusalem), is going on satisfactorily. The regular attendance is from 26 to 30; half of them are Mohammedan girls; they are of the age of from six to thirteen years. The Mohammedan girls repeat their Bible verses and hymns with evident interest. The teacher speaks in her last report of several pleasing instances of the influence of the Word of God on the hearts of Mohammedan girls, and of their repeating to their parents at home what they had learnt at school.

At the out-stations of Ramallah and Tayyibeh service has been held regularly, with some intermissions. Mr. Chalil Jamal writes:—

"He maketh men to be of one mind in an house."

There are inquirers in the out-stations, and some of them have been brought to conviction and have found salvation in Jesus. A man who for four years was a bitter enemy to his wife, on which account she was taken home by her father, joined our community at Ramallah as an inquirer at the end of last year, with the intention of knowing if our Church would allow him the marriage of a second wife. I read and explained to him Matt. xix. 4—8, and 1 Cor. vii. 10—13. In the course of about ten months he read almost the whole of his Bible, and learnt by heart about thirty or forty hymns in Arabic; and before the lapse of eight months of his joining our community he begged earnestly to be reconciled with his wife. This was done, and now he says he never felt happier than he does at this time. I never asked him to be reconciled with his wife, for I left it to his conscience and feelings. He is a merchant, and he always reads his Bible in his shop for himself and for those who come there to buy. The Greek priests of Ramallah often repair to his shop, and to them he reads the Bible.

The Præparandi Class is still suspended; but the Committee have made arrangements for its resumption.

NAZARETH.

The Rev. John Zeller has suffered from weakness of health and other trials. He has, however, continued at his post throughout the year, with the brief intermission of a visit to England to attend the Conference on Mohammedanism. The statistics for 1875 give 600 Native Christians and forty Communicants.

The latter number is a considerable diminution from the return of the previous year. The Native Protestants have again been much molested by the Greek Christians; and the Jesuits are also active in their opposition to the Mission.

The Rev. S. Bontaji is stationed at Shefamer, where there are seventy-three Native Protestants, of whom eighteen are Communicants. The excitement caused by the insurrection at Herzegovina has embittered the Moslem population even at this comparatively distant part of the Turkish empire, and has, for the time at least, increased the difficulty of preaching the Gospel to them. Those few among the more educated classes that have some knowledge of western science are, Mr. Bontaji observes, "humble in conversation, easy in controversy, meek in character, and attentive in hearing the Word of the Gospel," especially if they have read the Holy Scripture.

SALT.

The best information the Committee have received of the work at this station is from the pen of the Rev. Henry Johnson, the well-known African brother, who has been sojourning for awhile in Palestine for the purpose of perfecting himself in Arabic. Mr. Johnson, who visited Salt in October, 1875, writes as follows:—

Sunday, 10*th Oct.*—A strange feeling came over me when I awoke to consciousness and found myself in Salt, the ancient Ramoth Gilead, the famous City of Refuge. Divine Service commenced at nine o'clock precisely; a goodly number present to begin with. The contrast in this respect with the Jerusalem congregation was striking. The attendance was remarkably good for Salt—forty-four men, eight women, and twenty children. A good many persons happened to be away from home. Mr. Jamal performed the service alone, and caused it to be pervaded with his usual earnestness and gravity of manner. One could judge, from the riveted attention paid to his discourse, how thankful the people were for having the Gospel put before them so clearly and forcibly. The responses were audible and pretty regular, but the singing marred what would otherwise have been a fine specimen of evangelical worship. But one does not mind much if sometimes artistic skill is sacrificed to heartiness. The afternoon service was conducted by the catechist left in charge of the station. It was done nicely and quietly. The exhortation was brief, but to the point. The catechist had been a priest of the Greek Church, but his mental eye being opened by reading the Word of God, he renounced connexion with her, and declared himself a Protestant. The population of Salt is set down at about 9000 odd. Of these about 6000 are Moslems, 2400 are Greeks, Latins 400, and Protestants 213. In the opinion of the Mohammedans themselves, this mere handful of Protestants is a power in the general community. Their representative in the Majlis (village council) is a man of undoubted rectitude of conduct—one who, in a country where bribery is the order of the day, has never been known to soil his hands and conscience with that unhallowed thing.

PERSIA.

European Mission Establishment:

Rev. Robert Bruce, M.A. (m), to North India, 1858; to Persia, on leave of absence from India, 1869.

In the year 1869 the Rev. R. Bruce, who at that time was at home on leave from the Derajat Mission in N. India, obtained permission from the Committee to return to India viâ Persia, and to stay in that country on his route for the purpose of perfecting himself in the Persian language. Accordingly Mr. Bruce took up his (supposed temporary) residence at Julfa, the Armenian suburb of Ispahan. He was very soon visited by Persian Mohammedans, who, unlike their co-religionists in Turkey, are very much addicted to religious inquiry. Many of them seemed deeply interested in Mr. Bruce's conversations, and some even professed themselves Christians. Mr. Bruce therefore asked to remain longer in Persia, and ultimately proposed the establishment of a Mission in that country. The Committee at once sanctioned his continued residence, but could not see their way for the establishment of a Mission until this present year.

In the Persian inquirers Mr. Bruce has to some extent been disappointed. He still, however, has many opportunities of making the Gospel known in private conversations with Persian visitors; and some Armenian Christians have insisted upon leaving the superstitious worship of their own Church, and attaching themselves to Mr. Bruce's ministrations. Active opposition has arisen; but a nucleus has thus been formed for an Evangelical Episcopal Church in this deeply-interesting land; and the Committee humbly look for a blessing on the labours of the Society's faithful Missionary in this land, so endeared to all Christians by the memory of Henry Martyn, and by its ancient scriptural associations.

INDIA.

General Review.

I. The Efforts of the Society in the various Indian Mission fields during the year now reported of have been much impeded by the failure of the Church at home in supplying missionary labourers. Thankfully do the Committee acknowledge the two or three most welcome offers of men ready at once to go out, that this year has witnessed. But almost all the Society's stations are undermanned. It is impossible but that the work must to some extent languish in consequence. The non-arrival of fresh labourers is more than a source of mere numerical weakness. The hope and ardour of youth is an instrument which God is pleased to use as evidently as the wisdom and experience of age. The Mission in the North-West Provinces may be especially pointed out as suffering from paucity of labourers. To its cry of weakness and distress the Committee are no more able to respond than they are to the loud and just demand of the energetic toilers in the Panjâb. The Committee can only look to the Lord of the harvest, and ask for prayers and personal service from that branch of His Church by which they are supported.—As in former years, the Society's Missionaries still preach in the streets and in open chapels, visit the heathen in their own houses, itinerate in the villages, make known the Gospel to the young gathered in schools, and find access in some places to the remnants, still numerous, of the old pre-Aryan aboriginal population of India. The Missionaries' wives and daughters, and other Christian ladies under the Missionaries' guidance, tell the sweet story of redeeming love in the seclusion of the Zenanas.—New efforts are scarcely possible in the weakened state of the Society's staff; though the Committee are extremely desirous to set on foot systematic efforts among the rural population of North India; a field hitherto comparatively untouched. The special work recently taken up in heathen towns and districts of Tinnevelly has been hopefully carried forward; and competent Native agents are more and more coming forward to take part in the work. The importance of institutions for instructing and training Native Evangelists and Pastors becomes increasingly evident both to the Society and to its Missionaries. Good service is being done by the Lahore Divinity School; and similar plans are to be adopted in the North-West Provinces. South India is already well supplied in this respect. The zeal and efficiency of some well-trained Native agents has been the cheering, and almost the redeeming, feature of more than one Mission station; and the Committee must thank GOD for the patient and faithful toil of the European Missionaries generally, whether in bright or dark prospects.

II. The heathen and Mohammedan population of India presents a varied and changeful aspect. Western education is spreading more widely and rapidly than ever amongst the upper and middle classes. Even the Mohammedan can no longer resist its intrusion; and increasing numbers of Mohammedan children are found in the Society's schools. Independent schools, established by Natives and unconnected with Missions, but receiving grants-in-aid from Government, are springing up in many places; but from most of these Christian teaching is excluded. Frequent mention is made in the Missionaries' letters of changes for the better in the views and feelings of large classes of the population, of a kind which may be attributed to missionary effort. Many illustrations of this statement will be found in the following pages.

III. Effects of a more definite and decided character have, in the great mercy of GOD, been also granted to the labours of the year. Not to speak of several painfully interesting cases of inquirers drawn back again by persuasion or sometimes by force, there have been not a few remarkable individual conversions. (Accounts of these will be found in the Reports of the different Indian Stations). Meanwhile, in Tinnevelly, Travancore, and the Telugu country, large bodies of catechumens are year by year placing themselves under Christian instruction, and in course of time joining the visible Church by receiving the Sacrament of Baptism. Those who thus come over are in most cases drawn by the influence of their own countrymen who have taken this step before them.

IV. But the most hopeful feature of the year is the growing strength and activity and spiritual life of the Native Church. The Native agents, whether of the Society or of the Native Church itself, are almost everywhere spoken of more favourably than in preceding years. The spiritual advance among the Native Christians generally can hardly be said to extend to every district. There are indications of it in Calcutta and in the Pânjab, at Karachi in Scinde, and among the Santâl converts. The Native Christian communities in Travancore and the Telugu country are, on the whole, advancing in number and stability. (In the former, however, much distress has been occasioned by the lapse and spiritual aberration of the revivalist preachers, Mr. Justus Joseph and his brothers. Others have been carried away with them; but several of these have already returned; and the missionaries who know them best believe that the leaders also will yet be restored.) Church Committees and Church Councils have now been generally established in the Telugu Mission, as they had previously been in those of Tinnevelly and Travancore. The Missionaries in these districts give instances also of the power of the Gospel in individual Christians, as shown by consistency of life and by joyful hope in dying hours.

The subject of the increase of the Indian Episcopate in reference to the needs both of the European community and the Native Church has excited some interest in England during the year. The Committee have drawn up a Memorandum on the subject, which is printed as an appendix at the close of this Report. It may suffice to observe here that the proper mode of meeting the spiritual wants of the European community is a subject which, while it cannot but deeply interest the Committee, yet, strictly speaking, lies beyond their province. As regards the Native Church, the Committee have always held that a Native Episcopate is that which must be looked forward to. Neither can they regard this prospect as one of indefinite remoteness. They entertain the hope that it will please God speedily to raise up Native brethren (if indeed such do not already exist) who may be qualified for the episcopal office. Such men may not possess the distinctive characteristics of the European, but they may, notwithstanding, have the gifts needed for acting as leaders of the Native Church.

Native Christians.

The Rev. Appaji Bapuji thus speaks of the Native Christian congregation:—

The number of the congregation is a little larger than last year, viz., fifty-five adults and sixteen children, besides eighteen girls belonging to Mrs. Robertson's boarding-school. The congregation, with few exceptions, give me pleasure and satisfaction. They are growing in grace, and are becoming sensible Christian men and women, and begin also to recognize their obligation to God and man. They have still much to learn. A few of them show desire to be useful in the extension of their Saviour's kingdom, and hence I get some help in my school and preaching work.

Mr. Bapuji has had the domestic sorrow of losing one of his daughters. She died in faith and joy, leaving behind her a good example of a loving and consistent Christian.

Evangelistic Work.

Of the work among the Mohammedans the Rev. J. G. Deimler reports as follows:—

My work amongst the Mussulmans has been somewhat hindered by other duties, and also by the ill-health of the Society's Hindustani catechist. It consists of preaching in the streets, reading and conversation in our shop in the Bhendi bazaar, in calling upon Mussulmans in their homes, in paying visits to the sick in the hospital, &c. There is ample room for another Missionary and a couple of suitable catechists in this field of labour. In visiting Mohammedan houses, either with Mrs. Deimler or alone, I have on several occasions presented the Bible or some other useful book to the master of the house. Work among Mohammedans; baptism of a convert.

In last year's Report I mentioned a Mussulman widow, remarkable for her attainments as well as courage in confessing Christ as her Saviour. This widow was baptized in the church in our compound, in the presence of some of our friends. We praise God for His grace. Being rather aged, she wished to remain in seclusion amongst her own people; and we could not but hope that she might, under existing circumstances, by professing Christ, do much good to her Mohammedan relations and friends. Lately she has gone with her brother to her own country, Cutch, taking with her a number of Bibles and tracts for distribution as opportunity may offer. As far as we know, she is the first Mohammedan female convert in Bombay. Our prayer for her is, that she may grow in grace and spiritual life, and be a savour of life to many.

Work among the East Africans.

Mr. Deimler writes under date:—

I mentioned in a former letter that there were a number of Africans engaged as agriculturists in the Government model farm. The superintendent kindly permitted Mr. H. Jones, the Society's African catechist, to reside amongst them and to instruct them in Christianity. Mr. Jones stayed there for about ten months, teaching them in their leisure time how to read, and explaining to them the truths of the Christian religion. When these people arrived in this country they were heathen, but under the former superintendent they all had been made (at least nominal) Mussulmans, and as such the catechist found them. However, kindness, patience, and faithful teaching made them all desirous to embrace Christianity; and at the same time they all wished to return to their native country. They remained in our compound more than a month, till our arrangements for sending them off were completed. On the 13th December I baptized the party, eighteen men, twelve women, and thirteen children, in our church. They were then sent off to Mombasa. Mr. H. Jones accompanied them as their guide and spiritual instructor. Though I could not fail to see that there was a call of God for him to leave for Africa, I sincerely regretted parting with him, as he had endeared himself to me very much in the long intercourse I have had with him.

Education.

The Rev. T. Carss reports of the ROBERT MONEY SCHOOL, which is once again under his charge, and where as before he is assisted by Mr. J. Jackson. The course of studies is as follows:—

Religion:—Bible; Butler's Analogy; Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress. Languages:—English; Sanscrit; Latin; Mahrati; Gujerathi. Sciences:—Elementary Chemistry; Astronomy; Natural Philosophy. History:—Rome; Greece; India; England. Mathematics:—Arithmetic; Algebra; Geometry. English:—Reading; Writing; Dictation; Grammar; Analysis; Composition; Etymology and Paraphrase. Geography. Translation from the Vernaculars, and vice versâ.

On Saturday mornings Mr. Carss gives addresses on the truths of Natural Religion, and on the Bible as a Divine Revelation. Mr. Carss writes:—

Our average attendance during 1875 was 188, which is about 30 more than in the previous year. Whilst we have done our utmost to make the school thoroughly efficient as regards secular education, all the boys have been carefully instructed by Christian masters in the truths of Christianity, and no efforts have been spared to gain their confidence and love. Though much against our interests in an educational point of view, yet we never allow the boys to forget that this is a Missionary institution In numerous instances, prejudices are being removed and confidence is being gained; faith in Hinduism is losing its hold on the intellect and affections, though a hollow observance of its forms is retained; a thorough acquaintance with the facts and claims of Christianity is being gained, and a powerful influence for good is being exerted on the character. The Christian lads at present in the school, eight in number, are a fair average lot, and, on the whole, give me satisfaction. One or two of the lads are decidedly above the average, both in Christian character and in intellectual power. Canon Duckworth, the Prince's chaplain, visited the school twice, and won golden opinions of himself, both from teachers and taught.

NASIK AND SHARANPUR.

THE Native Christian community at Sharanpur, including the sixty-five inmates of the Orphanage and eleven catechumens, numbers altogether 382 persons. Seven adults have been baptized during the year. This is a diminution from the preceding year, owing to the departure to their own country of the last remaining inmates of the African Asylum and to the removal of some of the inhabitants of the Christian village to find employment in other places. The Rev. C. F. Schwarz reports as follows:—

Our Sunday services are now, as a rule, well and most orderly attended; the preaching of the Word is intelligibly received; and instances of sickness and death have given evidence that some of our people have received a saving knowledge ofChrist their Redeemer. There is a catechetical service at three o'clock in the afternoon, not only for the children, but for all; Holy Communion is, as a rule, well attended every first Sunday in the month. I have introduced also a preparatory service on the preceding Friday night, with an appropriate lecture. The attendance at our daily evening service has much improved since I gave them an exposition of the Book of Psalms, which portion of Scripture the people have themselves selected. An interest in spiritual things is awakened in some of our people. The Spirit of God is the Life-giver. The Church Council I have found established for some time back, though it is still in its infancy. I have tried to further its growth and strength. It cannot be too soon established wherever a Native Christian community rises into existence, and even in my short experience it has been an auxiliary to me for the good of the Church. The fact that Church discipline is applied by the representatives of the Church in concert with the pastor makes it of greater weight.

There has also been one remarkable adult baptism. The newly-admitted brother had long been employed as Mission Pandit, and had obtained a very extensive acquaintance with the Bible. A severe illness in February, 1875, led him to ask for baptism, which, but for the precarious state of his health, the Missionary might perhaps have delayed until he had been further tried. The Pandit has entirely renounced caste, but has some peculiar views respecting asceticism, and retains his admiration for "what may be called the better portions of Sanscrit literature." Mr. Schwarz, however, adds that G. S. "clings to Jesus as his Saviour, and is most regular in attendance on the means of grace."

Evangelistic efforts have been somewhat crippled by sickness among the Native agents. Several tours were made in the surrounding districts, and the Gospel has been preached as heretofore in the town of Nasik and its adjoining villages.

The Schools can scarcely be said to be in a flourishing condition. The High School at Sharanpur has suffered from the establishment of a rival Government institution.

From the out-station of Makhmalabad nothing is reported beyond the fact that the church is nearly completed, and that when it is opened Makhmalabad will stand in a filial relationship to Sharanpur.

The Committee deeply regret to add that what they regard as by far the most important of the different branches of the work carried on at Sharanpur, the Training Institution, has for a time been practically suspended. It is, however, to be resumed without delay.

JUNÎR.

Junîr was visited during a portion of the year by the Rev. Appaji Bapuji. He writes of his visit as follows :—

Towards the end of May it was thought necessary that I should go to some up-country place for a change. I fixed on Junîr, and, having made arrangements with the Rev. T. Carss and Mr. J. Jackson of the Money School for the performance of my duties in Bombay, I left for Junîr on the 2nd June. I stayed there nearly three months, and I preached almost daily in the town in company of the two Catechists.—My visit to Junîr was a great encouragement to me.—One day a cloth merchant was arguing against eating animal food, and in order to do it effectually he brought from his house a copy of the Bible in Marathi, and began to turn up passages in the Bible which bear on the point. He seemed to have read a good deal of the Bible, and was in the habit of reading it constantly. I asked him where he got the Bible. He replied he bought it. He showed me also other religious books and tracts. Some time back I was of opinion that that station should be abandoned, as there was no fruit of so many years' faithful labour ; but now I am quite of a different opinion. The seed sown there is taking root ; there is a small nucleus of a Christian Church already in existence, and there are also a few inquirers in the districts. On the occasion of the baptism of a child, several of our Hindu hearers wished to be present to witness the ceremony, and, after seeing it, were much surprised that it contained no such strange things as they had heard. The people seem to have undergone a great change ; especially when I bring to mind what a reception I had from the same town twenty-eight years ago. Then from the minute I entered it to the time I left it I was hooted and pelted continually; now we are salaamed and greeted with a smile and asked to go into their houses and shops.

MALIGÂM (MALLIGAUM).

The Native Christians connected with this station are 77 in number. Of these, 31 are communicants. No adults have been baptized during the year, but there are a few candidates. The Native Pastor is the Rev. Shankar Balawant. The Rev. W. A. Roberts, who is the European Missionary of the Station, writes as follows, under date Dec. 31, 1875:—

The numbers of our Native Church remain nearly stationary, and this is a trial of faith. As far as my limited experience goes, I am inclined increasingly to think that the difficulty of giving secular employment to our Native Christians in their isolated condition, owing to caste, is a powerful secondary cause, at least, that Christianity in Western India is not making visible progress with regard to numbers.—Both the school-teachers and the catechists have, during the year, been diligent and willing workers. We have to lament the loss of Anand, who has lately died of consumption. Punctual, diligent, and useful in every branch of his work, I miss him from our staff of helpers.—From November to May, by division of labour, your agents connected with this station visited some 500 villages and small towns within a radius of fifty miles of Maligâm. Our village gatherings generally consist of the majority of the men of a village, who listen attentively to our preaching, and whose objections are stereotyped and such as must gradually give way before the light which is breaking upon this country. . . . As the results of itineration, some few have been gathered into Christ's Church by former labourers at this station; and in some few cases others have given up idolatry, while yet hesitating to take the decisive step of asking for baptism. The villages in the immediate neighbourhood of Maligâm have also been visited.—The bazaar preaching has been maintained. In this branch we have lately concentrated our labours this year more upon the town of Maligâm itself than upon the cantonment inhabitants. We have encountered some little opposition through rival preaching carried on for a few evenings by Brahmins from other places.—Our schools in Maligâm continue to be an encouraging part of our work; and, as in former years, I have used the children as a means of intercourse with the parents. There is a very probable prospect of the Anglo-Vernacular School increasing materially in numbers. The Vernacular Boys' School remains in an efficient state. The Girls' School, which since my last letter has been put under the care of our Native pastor's eldest daughter, has three times the number of girls that was then reported.—The small school at Dhûlia, under a new teacher, does not flourish. The Mahars, for whom it has been kept up, do not appreciate it as they ought to do; and owing to this, and its distance of upwards of thirty miles, preventing frequent supervision, I think I shall recommend that it be closed, and our Maligâm schools strengthened with its funds.

AURANGABAD.

The Rêv. Ruttonjee Nowrojee, a convert from Parseeism, who is the Missionary at this station, is able to give a more cheering account than in some former years. He writes:—

Prospects of temporal advance among Native converts.

During the past year, six adults and twenty children have been baptized; fourteen have come from other stations, five have left the station, and twelve have died. The present number of Christians [not including the Catechumens] connected with the Aurangabad Mission, is 280. There are 100 communicants. The temporal condition of my congregation is gradually becoming better. Four of the youths, who were apprenticed under paid workmen, have so far learnt their trades as to be able to earn their livelihood. They are the fruits of much anxiety, trouble and expense; but when I see the great improvement their condition and standing have undergone, I confess I am not sorry for the burden and responsibility I have borne on their account. I look forward to the time when, under God's blessing, there will be found some among my people who will not disappoint the long-cherished expectation of the Parent Committee, of making efforts, independent of foreign aid, for the advancement of the Redeemer's kingdom amongst their countrymen.

Zeal and acceptance of Native Christian Evangelists.

We have visited several annual fairs held at places regarded by the people with sacred veneration. At Paittum, where upwards of 30,000 pilgrims came from distant parts of the country, our time, from seven in the morning till nine at night, was fully employed in preaching. Contrary to our expectation, our audience, consisting of all classes, from the proud Brahmins to the despised Mangs, would sit listening to us for hours together. As Brother Sheshâdri, of the Free Church Mission, had also sent his men to the fair, we mustered fifteen preachers in all, and were consequently able to carry on our work from morning till night without interruption. We spoke, we read, we sang Christian hymns, by turns, and never have we spent a more busy and happier week than we did at this town of Hindu sanctity. The preachers were almost all from among the greatly-despised class of the community; but Christianity had so far improved their looks, their manners, their language—nay, their everything—that the so-called high-caste people tried in vain to discover the orignal caste of the men who had so well succeeded in riveting their attention.

The Anglo-Vernacular School, containing about 100 pupils of all castes and creeds, has gone on satisfactorily. The senior boys have attended my Bible-class every morning, in spite of much opposition from their friends and co-religionists. The girls' school, conducted partly by the head-master, and partly by Miss Ranson, is rather thinly attended, there being in Aurangabad but few of that class for whose benefit it has been established. In each of our three out-stations I have a school taught by Christian Pantojis (Vernacular schoolmasters).

BÛLDANA.

This place, with its little flock of forty Native Christians, is henceforth to be an out-station, visited occasionally by an itinerating Missionary. Mr. Lucas Maloba will be transferred to Sharanpur. No account is given of the condition of the Native Christians. The Native evangelist who assists Mr. Lucas has preached regularly in the neighbouring villages, and the message of salvation has also been regularly proclaimed in the bazaar and in the gaol. No adult has been baptized during the year; but Mr. Lucas, at the time of writing his Annual Letter, 7th January, 1876, had with him an inquirer who had been "a gosavi and a follower of Rama," and whom, with his younger son, he hoped to baptize in a few days.

KARÂCHI.

The Rev. G. Shirt is now in charge of this station, having relieved Mr. Sheldon, who needed change to England, in February, 1875. The Native Christians number sixty-two, of whom eighteen are communicants. This little community, however, is more vigorous than its mere numerical strength would indicate. Three adults were baptized during the year. Mr. Shirt writes:—

Spiritual advance at Karâchi.

One of the first things that struck me on my return from Europe was the improvement in our Native brethren. (There is, however, still room for improvement.) They have amongst themselves meetings for prayer and the study of God's Word; and a Bible-class, which I hold on Sundays, is well attended by them. We have also held quarterly missionary meetings, at which the attendance is good, and the speaker is listened to with deep interest. In the cold season a Sunday-school for the younger members of the congregation is held; and in this the teaching is chiefly done by young men who are members of the congregation. One is often cheered by finding that members of the Native Church are testifying to others of their faith in Christ. All this is coupled with increased contributions to the Native Church Fund. There have been three adult baptisms: two men and one woman. Both the men were able to read their own language, and one of them knows English.

Lectures have been given at intervals in English to an educated audience; and the substance of the same lectures has always been repeated before Hindustani or Sindhi-speaking hearers. Public preaching has been carried on regularly in Sindhi, Guzeratti, and Hindustani. The catechist, who is earnest, thoughtful, and studious, has preached constantly in two of these languages. Our audiences are generally good, and we have seldom to complain of interruptions. Private conferences have also been held, both with Mohammedans and Hindus.

The Boys' Schools are fairly prospering. Of the Girls' Schools Mr. Shirt writes:—

The Mahratti Girls' School has had its difficulties to face. Some months ago exception was taken to some of the Native Christian pupils as being of too low a caste to sit near the daughters of Brahmins, and, in consequence, an effort was made to get the Christian girls removed. Of course it failed, and common sense gained its way. The high-caste girls were not withdrawn; and one of the Christian girls has shown her ability to cope with them by carrying off the monthly prize of her class for progress and good conduct for six successive months. Some Mahratti gentlemen have visited the school, and, after examining the pupils, distributed sweetmeats among them, and expressed themselves highly pleased with the attainments of the girls.—There is a small school of Christian girls held in the Mission-house for learning to read Hindustani in the Roman character. This has only been in existence for three months, but some of the girls are already able to read very well, while some boys, who have been labouring away at the First Hindustani Book in the Persian character for the same length of time, are perfectly bewildered if taken in a lesson which they have not read before.

HYDRABAD.

The Rev. A. Yarnold was the solitary Missionary at this station, for the year 1875. The Native Christians number only seven, of whom four are communicants. Three hundred pupils are in the Mission schools. Mr. Yarnold writes, under date December 29th :—

The first subject of interest is the Mission chapel, which was opened for Divine Service on August 19th last. Mr. Shirt and I officiated. . . . . At the evening service when Mr. Shirt preached, the chapel, which will seat 150 people, was crowded by Natives, many of them standing the whole time. Altogether, it was a joyful day for us, and, having obtained a place in which to worship God, we "thanked Him and took courage." The chapel, with all interior fittings, (except the chandeliers, which I begged from the Karâchi Mission,) cost us Rs. 2000. For such a sum we have got a good substantial building, strong and neat in outward appearance, and fitted with every requisite for the due performance of the services of the Church. After the opening I began an extra service on Sunday. We have now regular services on Sunday morning entirely in Sindhi, and in the evening [Sindhi prayers, and] an English sermon. This sermon was begun as an experiment, and it has proved a success. We have an average attendance of from fifteen to twenty in the morning, while in the evening the average attendance is from forty to fifty. The English sermon attracts the educated Natives, while the first part of the service being in Sindhi hinders the Europeans from coming.

A Mohammedan youth had for about three years been a pupil in our central school. Some time ago, returning to Sindh from a visit to Bombay, he went to Mr. Sheldon, in Karâchi, and asked for baptism. Shortly afterwards he suddenly returned to Hydrabad, and came back to school. Before long he began a regular attendance at the services. After a time he came to me. Meanwhile his uncle, a Vakîl, with whom he was living, found out that he was about to be baptized. This was nearly the end of the week; and on the Saturday morning he came to tell me that his uncle had determined to take him away from Hydrabad, and to place him "where he would be effectually prevented from becoming a Christian." I promised to baptize him the next morning. The next morning his relatives took him to a village three or four miles away, where they kept him all day; but in the evening he took an opportunity of slipping out of the house unobserved, and came to me. I baptized him after the evening service. His relatives were at first very angry, but after a little while began to treat him with great kindness. He was baptized on the last day of October, and hitherto has stood firmly, though, even now, if he ventures through the bazaar, he is saluted as an infidel, and chased by the Mohammedans, who also pelt him with mud and stones. A week or two ago a messenger came from his mother, begging him to go and see her, as she was very ill. After some hesitation he decided to go. When he reached his mother's house, sixty miles off, he found she had been ill, but was considerably better. He had to suffer a great deal from her, and from his elder sister. In the evening, the cazi of the village, the moolah, and other Mohammedans, assembled and endeavoured to prove to him that Islam was the true faith. He talked with them some time, then secretly calling for his camel, started off at nightfall, riding all night, and presented himself at the Mission-house about eight o'clock the next morning. He has brought his younger sister with him, who seems much attached to him, and whom he has already begun to instruct.

As regards the general state of feeling among the people; there is a much greater readiness than usual to talk about Christianity. People seem to be wondering whereunto these things will grow. Not a few show a more friendly spirit, and some one or two seem to be drawing near to us.

May I also be allowed to say that we are very anxiously looking for help? More than ever do we want it now, when there seem to be openings on all sides. There are the schools to be superintended, services to be kept up, Native Christians to be cared for and instructed, (besides the Scripture-reader, who is preparing for an examination as Catechist, I have three other young men under daily instruction, two of whom at least, I hope, will engage in Christian work,) and books to be translated. We are sadly in want of Sindhi tracts, &c., which in hundreds of cases are Missionaries where we cannot be.

CALCUTTA AND NORTH-INDIA MISSION.

(European Missionaries first arrived, 1816.)

I. Bengal.—II. North-west Provinces.—III. The Panjab.

General.

THE Committee deeply deplore the loss sustained by the Church of England in India by the death of Bishop Milman. The Rev. T. P. Hughes of Peshâwar, who was one of the officiating clergy at the Bishop's funeral, writes respecting the sad event as follows:—

Death of Bishop Milman.

You will have heard some particulars of the Bishop's death. The last English sermon he preached was in behalf of our Peshâwar Mission, and his last public act was a Hindustani address which he made at our school. He was then very ill and spoke with great difficulty. He returned from our school to his bed, and never rose except to be moved to Rawal Pindî, where he died. He had taken the greatest possible interest in our work at Peshâwar. Bishop Milman was essentially a Missionary Bishop; and there is not the least doubt that he died in the service of the C.M.S., for he went a distance of 100 miles, when very ill, to visit Pind Dadan Khan (to see Gordon's work there); and although he had travelled from Calcutta to Peshâwar he gave himself up to our work at Peshâwar with his usual vigour. Nothing in Mission work was too small or insignificant for the Bishop to see and to encourage. He had a word and a shake of the hand for every Native Christian.

CALCUTTA.

The Committee lament that during the course of the year 1873 it was finally decided by the medical advisers of the Rev. E. C. Stuart, who was at that time in Australia, that he must not return to India. Also, while this volume was passing through the press, the Rev. J. Welland was compelled to return to England in broken health. The Secretaryship is temporarily held by the Rev. D. T. Barry, who, towards the close of 1875, had gone to assist Mr. D. Fenn at Madras.

Native Christians.

The Trinity Church Congregation has now a Native Minister for its Pastor, the Rev. P. M. Rudra, who is supported from a Native Church Fund, under the management of a Native Church Committee, of which the Society's Calcutta Secretary is ex officio the President. Mr. Rudra writes:—

A Native Christian Congregation in Calcutta.

The Trinity Church numbers 350 souls, the same number as last year, notwithstanding removals by death and other causes. We have been cheered with the growing earnestness of some, and the kindly, Christian, humble, and devout spirit of others. Some dead souls have been revived; some unruly spirits have been brought in subjection to Christ. The Spirit is at work, and prayers are being offered up by many of the congregation for growth in grace, love, and holiness. The infant-school for Christian children, and the Sabbath-school, taught voluntarily by members of the congregation, are working well. There have been twelve adult baptisms during the year. Prayer-meetings have been held, and Bible-classes formed. The Cole Mission of the Church has been kept up. The preacher is a faithful and devout Christian, who does his work heartily.

At Agarpâra, the Rev. F. De Rosario has had the pleasure of baptizing two women who had been brought by providential circumstances under Miss Neele's instruction. Nothing else worthy of note is mentioned in reference to the congregation.

The Native Christians of Kistopur and Terulia are 170 in number, and are under the pastoral care of the Rev. Râjkristo Bose. "Regarding religion," writes Mr. Bose, "they are very weak, like the smoking flax." Two adults were added by baptism to their number during the year.

The united numerical strength of the Native Christians of KIDDERPUR (with Akra and Panchla), and Thakurpukur (with Kalagachia and Ramnagar), amounts to 456, of whom 109 are Communicants. The Rev. M. S. Seal is their Pastor. There have been four adult baptisms connected with these congregations during the year. One of the new converts is the wife of Taruk, whose baptism in 1873 caused so great excitement. (See Society's Annual Report for 1873-4, pp. 62, 63.) Taruk's wife has now joined her husband, after much opposition, and was baptized in July, 1875.

The Report of the Calcutta Church Missionary Association thus summarizes the Adult Baptisms of the year:—

In connexion with this mission, if we include the converts of Kidderpur and Agarpâra, the whole number of adult baptisms during the past year has been twenty-four. Some of these first heard the message of Salvation from our evangelists in these hospitals and in the Leper Asylum. One of the converts is a man of education, good birth, and independent position. He was first impressed with the truth in the North-West. For a time he resisted the impressions which he had received; but he could find no rest, and resolved at last to embrace Christ as his Saviour. One Sunday evening he was baptized by Dr. Baumann in the presence of our Christian Community and of a number of non-Christian Babûs, who are in the habit of attending our Sunday evening services. He has lately obtained a high post in a Government Office of Rangoon. A Jew of Calcutta, who gave evidence of sincere faith in Christ, was baptized at the same time. Of the baptisms mentioned above one took place at Bonhughly, near Barahanagor. At Bonhughly we have a small flock of believers amongst the musical-instrument makers, who are numerous there.

An adult baptism in Calcutta.

Evangelistic work.

The Local Report observes:—

The Evangelistic work of our native agents has been carried on as usual in the streets, at preaching chapels, in private houses, and in the large hospitals of this city.—Preaching in the streets is an important means of diffusing Christian knowledge, but requires a talent which few men possess. Our experienced preacher Rupchand is well qualified for this work, and usually secures a good audience.—To the evangelistic services at our preaching chapel we attach much importance; the preachers have here an opportunity of delivering addresses on subjects, which have been previously pointed out to them; they can also learn from each other, from our own way of preaching, and from the comments and criticisms which afterwards are made on their addresses. Our audiences vary much in number; but some men we find regularly present.—At the native wards of the large hospitals of the town the patients usually welcome the visits of our native agents; they are always at leisure, and whilst they enjoy the material blessings of a Christian benevolent institution, they are more ready to pay attention to the account given to them of the heavenly Physician.—One evangelist when itinerating in the Jessore district, made the acquaintance of two men, who, although far away from any Christian community, had become impressed with the truth by reading portions of Holy Scripture which had fallen into their hands. They were eager for further instruction, and readily joined our men in their devotions. A small company of evangelists visited Sherajgung, Bogra, and Nattore by boat, and returned after a month's excursion greatly encouraged by the opportunities which they had of making known the name of Christ. At some places the people urged them to remain. At populous places like Sherajgung, they would have from three to four hundred people surrounding them and eagerly listening to their message. The people would also willingly buy from their store of Christian books.—The Readers to the domestics have given regular instruction to the servants of about sixty houses. Two servants have been baptized during the past year; several have become desirous of seeking salvation in Christ; and four are at present under instruction for baptism.

The Rev. Râjkristo Bose, Native Pastor of Kistopur, has visited respectable Natives and University students in their houses and lodgings. He writes:—

Sad spiritual state of the educated classes in Calcutta.

Among those whom I visit, there are many highly-educated Bengalis who have obtained University honours, and who hold high offices, such as Deputy Magistrates, Munsiffs, Barristers, Pleaders, Professors and Doctors. They do not like to have the Gospel preached to them; but if I discuss with them on spiritualism, positivism, materialism, deism, or pantheism, they listen eagerly. I have had conversations also with students of the University, who live together in hostels, where sometimes twenty or thirty reside. Many of these show that their consciences are not quite deadened. Formerly most of them were Brahmos, but now Brahmos are scarcely found amongst them. The Brahmo religion is almost extinct; especially at places outside of Calcutta. Those Brahmos who were able to return to the Hindu Community have mostly again become Hindus; some subjected themselves to ignominious expiatory rites in order to be received again into Hindu society. Those only who, by having gone to England, or who by intermarriage or widow-marriage, have forfeited the possibility of becoming again Hindus, continue Brahmos; and they are very zealous in promoting the interests of their sect by lectures, by newspapers, and other means.

Mr. Bose has also made itinerating tours. Of one of such tours, made by boat along the banks of the Hooghly, he says:—

Having landed at villages or at market-places in the evening we sat down in a house, or shop, and had long and serious conversations till late at night. Many would sit down and listen with vivid attention. At bazaars hundreds would assemble around us, and listen with evident pleasure. Many said, "Sir, no doubt, Christianity is the true religion and our religion is false. But what shall we do, our wives and children won't understand it, and we cannot forsake them. Can we not be Christians in our hearts without being baptized?"

The Rev. M. S. Seal, of Kidderpur, has been similarly engaged with similar results.

Of the CATHEDRAL MISSION COLLEGE Mr. Dyson reports as follows:—

The various branches of education sanctioned by the Calcutta University have been steadily and laboriously pursued. Scriptural instruction has also been systematically given. The Gospels have been the one text-book; and the life and work of our Saviour as there exhibited have been carefully expounded and enforced upon the attention of our students in their connexion with the distinctive truths of Christianity, and their intimate bearing upon human life. We have no instance of a public profession of Christianity; but my colleagues and myself are convinced that very many of our students are much more favourably affected towards the Gospel than they were at the commencement of the year. The great difficulty to be surmounted is indifference to religion altogether. The perception, even the clear perception, of a religious truth, does not generate that feeling of responsibility which we should naturally expect. In fact, the idea that the perception of a religious truth carries with it an obligation, is an important means of diffusing Christian knowledge, but requires a talent which few men possess. Our experienced preacher Rupchand is well qualified for this work, and usually secures a good audience.—To the evangelistic services at our preaching chapel we attach much importance; the preachers have here an opportunity of delivering addresses on subjects, which have been previously pointed out to them; they can also learn from each other, from our own way of preaching, and from the comments and criticisms which afterwards are made on their addresses. Our audiences vary much in number; but some men we find regularly present.—At the native wards of the large hospitals of the town the patients usually welcome the visits of our native agents; they are always at leisure, and whilst they enjoy the material blessings of a Christian benevolent institution, they are more ready to pay attention to the account given to them of the heavenly Physician.—One evangelist when itinerating in the Jessore district, made the acquaintance of two men, who, although far away from any Christian community, had become impressed with the truth by reading portions of Holy Scripture which had fallen into their hands. They were eager for further instruction, and readily joined our men in their devotions. A small company of evangelists visited Sherajgung, Bogra, and Nattore by boat, and returned after a month's excursion greatly encouraged by the opportunities which they had of making known the name of Christ. At some places the people urged them to remain. At populous places like Sherajgung, they would have from three to four hundred people surrounding them and eagerly listening to their message. The people would also willingly buy from their store of Christian books.—The Readers to the domestics have given regular instruction to the servants of about sixty houses. Two servants have been baptized during the past year; several have become desirous of seeking salvation in Christ; and four are at present under instruction for baptism.

The Rev. Râjkristo Bose, Native Pastor of Kistopur, has visited respectable Natives and University students in their houses and lodgings. He writes:—

Sad spiritual state of the educated classes in Calcutta.

Among those whom I visit, there are many highly-educated Bengalis who have obtained University honours, and who hold high offices, such as Deputy Magistrates, Munsiffs, Barristers, Pleaders, Professors and Doctors. They do not like to have the Gospel preached to them; but if I discuss with them on spiritualism, positivism, materialism, deism, or pantheism, they listen eagerly. I have had conversations also with students of the University, who live together in hostels, where sometimes twenty or thirty reside. Many of these show that their consciences are not quite deadened. Formerly most of them were Brahmos, but now Brahmos are scarcely found amongst them. The Brahmo religion is almost extinct; especially at places outside of Calcutta. Those Brahmos who were able to return to the Hindu Community have mostly again become Hindus; some subjected themselves to ignominious expiatory rites in order to be received again into Hindu society. Those only who, by having gone to England, or who by intermarriage or widow-marriage, have forfeited the possibility of becoming again Hindus, continue Brahmos; and they are very zealous in promoting the interests of their sect by lectures, by newspapers, and other means.

Mr. Bose has also made itinerating tours. Of one of such tours, made by boat along the banks of the Hooghly, he says:—

Having landed at villages or at market-places in the evening we sat down in a house, or shop, and had long and serious conversations till late at night. Many would sit down and listen with vivid attention. At bazaars hundreds would assemble around us, and listen with evident pleasure. Many said, "Sir, no doubt, Christianity is the true religion and our religion is false. But what shall we do, our wives and children won't understand it, and we cannot forsake them. Can we not be Christians in our hearts without being baptized?"

The Rev. M. S. Seal, of Kidderpur, has been similarly engaged with similar results.

Of the CATHEDRAL MISSION COLLEGE Mr. Dyson reports as follows:—

The various branches of education sanctioned by the Calcutta University have been steadily and laboriously pursued. Scriptural instruction has also been systematically given. The Gospels have been the one text-book; and the life and work of our Saviour as there exhibited have been carefully expounded and enforced upon the attention of our students in their connexion with the distinctive truths of Christianity, and their intimate bearing upon human life. We have no instance of a public profession of Christianity; but my colleagues and myself are convinced that very many of our students are much more favourably affected towards the Gospel than they were at the commencement of the year. The great difficulty to be surmounted is indifference to religion altogether. The perception, even the clear perception, of a religious truth, does not generate that feeling of responsibility which we should naturally expect. In fact, the idea that the perception of a religious truth carries with it an obligation, is novel to the Bengali mind. The truth of a religion has never been with them a reason for accepting and obeying it. But that intimate acquaintance with the person and character of Jesus Christ which all our students in greater or less degree get, is an acquaintance with Divine truth which has a native power to influence the soul, and is ordinarily the instrumentality through which the Holy Spirit energizes.

At the commencement of the year under review, the Rev. S. T. Leupolt left us to engage in similar but less advanced work in connexion with Jay Narain's College at Benares. To fill up the vacancy, Mr. R. J. Bell, who had been long employed in St. John's College, Agra, was transferred to Calcutta. The mathematical teaching was provided for by the appointment of a competent native graduate of the Calcutta University. The Rev. E. K. Blumhardt has removed to a more congenial sphere at Burdwan.

The attendance in the college is at present seventy-five. Some fifteen in the upper department are taking up Physical Science, and, according to the arrangement described in my last letter, receive about half their lectures in the adjacent Government Presidency College.—During the year a hostel or boarding-house for native Christian students was opened in connexion with the college. The number altogether of Native Christian undergraduates is small. Still they are an increasing number, and to those that do exist, be they few or many, the hostel will be a great boon. The hostel being opened in the middle of the College Session, only one student entered it at that time. He is a Bengali Native Christian, brother of the head-master of the C.M.S. school at Jaunpur. He had been studying at Jay Narain's College, Benares, and had to leave when that institution was reduced. The accommodation of the hostel being in excess of the requirements, it has for the present been thrown open to all Native Christian students of all colleges. The number of inmates at present is six.—We have now five Native Christian students in the College: one in the fourth-year class, just going into the B.A. Exam.; one in the third-year, who will go up the following year; and three in the first-year class. The Theological Scholarship Fund, for promising Native Christian students, will be increasingly useful and helpful to the growing Native Church. Wealthy friends in England, who have the cause of the Native Church at heart, could scarcely do this Church a greater service than by adding to this fund. The scholarships in our college are not given promiscuously or indiscriminately. In every case an examination must be passed. At present competition can scarcely be said to exist, because the students are so few; but every year they are increasing rapidly, and I should be very thankful to be able to increase the endowment to provide for this inevitable increase.

Native Christian undergraduates.

The religious addresses every Saturday have been carried on steadily throughout the year. Our students have had the benefit of listening to some very excellent and suitable addresses from others than the college professors. We owe many thanks to the Revs. A. Stern and A. Clifford, to H. C. Dutt, Esq., Colonels Haig and Bacon, and Sir W. J. Herschell, Bart., for help of this description. These addresses are, on the whole, carefully listened to; and, as we by subsequent examination know, much of their substance remains in the memory.

Several hundreds of boys are receiving instruction in various Vernacular and Anglo-Vernacular Schools connected with the Society in Calcutta and its suburbs. Some of the scholars are children of Christian parents; and it is also encouraging to think that many heathen boys are having their memories stored with the knowledge of the facts and truths of the Gospel.

The girls under instruction are less numerous, though this branch of the work is at least equally important. Of the work in the Zenânas Miss Neele reports:—

To Zenana work I am not able personally to give much time; but it has so much increased that I was obliged to apply to the Indian Female Instruction Society to place another of their visitors here. The work is carried on by their two visitors and three Native teachers, with constant help from our Normal Class and the elder Orphanage girls, who are thus practically trained as teachers. I occasionally visit all the Zenanas, and with few exceptions find the women more anxious to listen to what I may tell them about our Saviour than to have a lesson in reading or work. There are now three or four of the Zenana pupils of whom we have good hope. They seem to have an intelligent and loving belief in the Saviour, and one has really suffered persecution at home on account of persisting in reading the Bible. They may not be able to come out and join the visible Church; but if they have the courage to confess their belief in the Saviour in their homes, we cannot doubt that He who knows "where they dwell," and that they have "done what they could," will welcome them among His redeemed children. As far as our experience here goes, it is the men who are more opposed to our teaching the Scriptures, except in the case of some quite elderly women. I have noticed with much pleasure a very friendly spirit between our Christian women and their heathen neighbours. One of our teachers here was telling me with much delight of four or five of her neighbours who call her their "friend," and like her to go and sit with them for friendly talk, and who all confessed to her how much better they thought her religion than their own. All this, however, is but the day of small things, and we must not rest content with that. We hear of "showers of blessings" in other lands.

KRISHNAGAR.

Sudder (Town) Station.

The Native Christians connected with this station number 403, of whom sixty-seven are communicants. Five adults have been baptized after long probation. The Rev. C. H. Blumhardt, who still has the pastoral supervision of the Christians—no competent Native brother having yet been found—reports favourably of their conduct and their attendance on the means of grace. The schools also are going on to his satisfaction. Mr. Blumhardt's daughters carry on Zenana work regularly, and are encouraged by the reception they meet with. Mr. Blumhardt has met with the very severe trial of being bereaved of his beloved partner, Mrs. Blumhardt, who was removed to her rest in February, 1876. This has somewhat interfered with his own participation in bazaar preaching; though that work has been carried on steadily by the Catechist and Readers.

The District.

The spiritual advance in the country districts continues to be slow. The numbers on the registers are 5244 Native Christians and 269 communicants. Four adults were baptized during the year; and there are some inquirers. As regards the independence of the Native Church, Mr. Neele observes that the great body of the people are poor, and that, for the most part, those who do rise in life, either are connected with the Society as agents, or leave the district and settle in other places. Mr. Neele further writes:—

Of the Native Christians generally I can speak only in terms of moderate hopefulness. Individual instances of sincere believers there are, and we thank God for them; but the mass are indifferent. The reparation of churches and other buildings has been retarded by the paucity of workmen obtainable in these retired places, and the difficulty of obtaining materials. The work is now approaching completion. It is cheering to see substantial buildings and decent churches once more; and it is probable that no great outlay of time or money will be needed for this purpose for many years to come. Our best thanks are due to the friends who have liberally aided us. Not much has been received for the object from the Native congregations; but they have contributed fairly well to their Native Pastorate Fund, though the price of provisions has been very high.

I have continued, as a very important portion of the work, the holding of a monthly class for the catechists and some of the readers, including the preachers located in the out-stations. The class is in abeyance during the cold season; all who can be spared for that purpose being then out on preaching tours. The intellectual standard among our Native agents is considerably improving. This we may attribute, under God, to the regular teaching obtained by many in the Training Institution, and to the encouragement afforded to the keeping up of a course of reading. I believe, also, that many of our agents have a real hold upon the Saviour; and if they exhibit not burning zeal, they yet show a desire for the salvation of souls.

We have opened one or two new schools in Christian villages where there were none, or where they had existed and had been subsequently closed. We always find difficulty in keeping up Sunday classes; but these have been revived in several places. In one place a leading man in the Christian village, independent of the Mission, has of his own accord commenced such a class. His house is conveniently situated to catch strayers into the fields of a Sunday. These he watches for, and invites them in. In heathen and Mohammedan villages some new schools supported by contributions from St. Peter's, Eaton Square, have been opened; and the Native Christian preachers testify to their usefulness in some instances. In one case particularly, the preacher, an earnest man, says he has been received in one of these villages in a most friendly manner, and lodged for several days by the people of the place. They come to him daily to converse with him, and have themselves requested me to put up a house for him among them. This I did not do; but I have told the preacher "there to abide," so long as the same willingness to receive him continues.

The Native lay-preachers referred to above are located at various out-stations, and itinerate in their respective neighbourhoods.

Training Institution and Higher Schools.

This department is under the care of the Rev. F. Gmelin. A Training Institution was first founded for Krishnagar in the year 1850, about fifteen years after that sudden influx of four or five thousand Bengali peasantry into the outward Christian Church, which has ever since given its peculiar character to the work in these districts. From 1862 to 1864 the Institution was suspended. Of the students received since 1850 fifty-three are still labouring in connexion with the Society: one Pastor, eleven Catechists and Readers, and forty-one School-teachers. The present state of the Institution is thus described by Mr. Gmelin :—

The number of students at present is 26. The full number is 28. The lowest age at which they are admitted is 14 years; the majority are older. Most of them have previously been pupil teachers in the schools of the district; twelve of the students are sons of catechists, readers, or teachers; the father of one was a doctor; the remaining thirteen are the sons of tradesmen, servants, or ryots. All are the grandchildren of Christians, and more or less related to each other. The majority are too poor to support themselves, or to pay anything for their education. They, therefore, receive scholarships, varying from Rs. $3\frac{1}{2}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}$ per month, with which they support themselves. Their moral character, on their first coming, is, in many cases, not what I could wish it to be. They improve by degrees, both morally and intellectually, and also physically, and before they leave there are always a few in whose hearts the seeds of Divine truth appear to have taken root. The duration of the course is four years. The secular subjects taught are very much the same as in Training Colleges in England. The students learn sufficient English to read and understand the English Bible and other useful books. Special stress is laid on the religious subjects. These include Old and New Testament history; the Tabernacle, its priests, sacrifices, &c., &c.; the principal Psalms, the Proverbs, and a few of the Epistles, especially the Romans and the First Epistle of St. Peter; Dogmatic Theology; and the Evidences of Christianity.

All instruction is given through the medium of Bengali; and Mr. Gmelin is composing an exposition of the Thirty-nine Articles, and other elementary theological books, in that language.

The High School at Navardirpa (Nuddea) has maintained its ground amidst much active opposition. It contains 132 pupils, five of whom were intending to go up to the University Entrance Examination.

At Santipur the aggregate number of pupils, including a night-school for adults of the working classes, is 362. All of these are Hindu or Mohammedan; and 112 of them are girls. Two Bible-women have access here to some of the Zenanas.

Evangelistic work has been carried on under Mr. Gmelin's superintendence by four Readers and Catechists at Krishnagar, Navardirpa, and Santipur.

BURDWAN.

It is matter for devout thanksgiving to GOD that the fever which for several years has so lamentably prevailed in Burd-wan and the neighbourhood, has at length begun to abate. But the effects of the calamity still continue. The congregation has been much diminished by deaths and removals, and those still left are, many of them, in a very feeble state of health. There have been no additions by conversion. The Bible-women are still examples of "faith and earnest perseverance and willing labour." Open-air preaching is carried on in the front of the preaching chapel; and Mr. Blumhardt gives a very interesting account (for which, however, there is not room in these pages) of a discussion held in that place between himself and a pandit, when several of the bystanders (not Christians) took part on the side of the Missionary. Mr. Blumhardt purposes work among the higher classes of Burdwan, and has already obtained the services of a well-qualified Catechist. He asks to be upheld by prayer. —The Burdwan church originally erected by Mr. Weitbrecht, the tower and steeple of which were blown down by the cyclone of October, 1874, has been repaired with the kind help of local friends. Deficiency of funds has compelled the substitution of a small bell-turret for the tower and steeple.—The statistics give eighty-seven Native Christians and thirty-five communicants. No adults have been baptized during the year, though there have been two or three inquirers.

BHAGALPUR.

The Rev. E. Drœse, the Society's Missionary at this station, is assisted by Mr. Pohlenz and by fourteen Native Christian teachers. The number of Native Christians on the station lists is at present 307 as compared with 325 of the previous year. About 100 of these are inmates in the orphanage. The congregations at Bhagalpur, and the out-station of Jamalpur, attend church ordinances with regularity and apparent devotion. Here and there, in individuals, signs are seen of the work of the Holy Spirit. Subscriptions to the pastorate fund increase, and also the witnessing for Christ, though still feeble. Only two adults have been baptized during the year, both of these being in connexion with the Jamalpur congregation. It will be remembered by some that the nucleus of the Christian church connected with Bhagalpur was formed between the years 1851 and 1856, through the blessing of God on Mr. Drœse's own labours. The first converts were almost entirely from the Pahâris or hill-men of the neighbourhood, most of the Pahâri Christians being connected with a regiment of soldiers raised from the hill tribes. The disbanding of the regiment in the year 1863, led to the dispersion of the Christian soldiers in other districts in search of employment. It has not been found possible to make arrangements for supplying these scattered sheep with regular pastoral care; and many of them therefore are not registered in the Mission rolls. Mr. Cole, however, of the Santal Mission, states that their numbers increase every year by fresh baptisms.—Mr. Pohlenz (who gives the greater portion of his time to school work) undertakes also preaching tours. He has recently visited the great Nagipur fair held in that neighbourhood, and while diligently engaged in preaching "the salvation which is in Christ Jesus, was much cheered by seeing a goodly number of brethren, European and Native," employed in the same delightful work. In Bhagalpur itself preaching to Heathen and Mohammedans has been carried on by the Missionary and his Native helpers in the usual manner.

Mr. Pohlenz has laboured with industry in the boys' schools, containing nearly 200 pupils, while Miss Drœse has superintended the girls' orphanage, which has sixty-four inmates. Some of these orphans Mr. Drœse rejoices over as true children of God.

SANTALIA.

Sir Wm. Muir, who has recently visited the Santal districts, wrote as follows to the Corresponding Committee at Calcutta:—

Testimony of Sir Wm. Muir to the work among the Santals.

It has been strongly impressed on my mind that there is an immediate and pressing obligation on the C.M.S. largely to extend its operations among the Santals. My visit was very short both to TALJHARI and Ebenezer (the head-quarters of the Baptist Mission)—only a day at each; but I saw and heard quite enough to convince me that a wide door was opened; that the favourable disposition towards Christianity is quite general; that the work is real and extending; that we do not know what course future feeling may take in the Province if the advance of Christianity be arrested or slackened; and that it is our duty to take present advantage of the turn of the tide just now in our favour. God is blessing the work: is it not a call to enter in and possess the whole land? In these ten or twelve years, the population that has been brought over to Christianity through the agency of the C.M.S., at Taljhari and its two out-stations, is some 1500. In the great church at Taljhari there were present to meet us, it was said, nearly 1000, of whom about 800 were Christians. Their demeanour during the Service was devout and earnest; and their singing most spirited. The mass of voice, and the spirit and energy with which they all joined to sing, as a sort of farewell, "There is a happy land," were quite affecting. The Schools, both Boys' and Girls', are most promising,—the singing, especially among the girls, Infant School, &c., delightful. What was to me most satisfactory was the testimony of some Bengalî land-holders who called on me; they were the Zemindars of the Talûks around Taljhari. The Santals, they said, were degenerating as a race by contact with the people of the plains, and they were given to drink; but the Christians were an exception; they never drink. I feel so strongly the obligation resting on the Mission to extend its operations that I should be glad to contribute Rs. 1000 for every new station opened like Hiranpur and Godda.

It need scarcely be added that Sir Wm. Muir's kind offer, which has led to similar munificence on the part of the Rev. H. W. Shackell, was most thankfully accepted by the Committee. They are earnestly longing for the time when the Church at home may supply them with men in larger numbers suitable to take up this work.

At Taljhâri the Rev. J. Brown and the Rev. F. T. Cole continue to work side by side, dividing the evangelistic work between them, while the former has had exclusive charge of the pastorate, as the latter of the schools. Mr. Cole labours also among the Pahâris or hill tribes, who, unlike the Santâls, belong to the Dravidian family, thus being akin to the great mass of the Tamil-speaking population of South India. The Native Christians connected with Taljhâri now number 987, of whom no fewer than 398 are communicants. (In Krishnagar there are barely more than 300 communicants among upwards of 5000 Native Christians.) Forty-one adults were baptized during the year. Most of these have been brought into the visible Church by the influence of Christian relatives. Many more apparently would follow their example but for the opposition of the headmen. On the 4th February, 1876, Mr. Ramchâran was ordained deacon by Bishop Milman, as Pastor for the Santâl Christians. Mr. Ramchâran, though he has long lived among the Santâls and become assimilated to them, is by birth a Hindu, and belonged (when a heathen) to the banian or shopkeeper caste. He is much liked and respected by the Native Christians.

Mr. Cole writes, under date 16th Dec., 1875:—

The excitement that I wrote of last year has for the most part subsided. Government has punished most of the ringleaders, and thus the other turbulent spirits are quiet. I believe that we shall soon have large accessions into the Church; there are thousands all but Christians, convinced of the truth, but kept back from fear. The answer to our inquiry, "Why don't you become Christians?" has hitherto been, "We cannot forsake our ancestral religion." But since last year's disturbances the answer has been, "The news is good, but we are waiting for our brethren."

Favourable symptoms among the Santals.

A Pahâri convert.

I had the pleasure, very recently, of baptizing a very interesting family of Pahâris—father, mother, son, and infant. The Pahâris live on the summits of the numerous hills in the Santâl country; whereas the Santâls cultivate the lowlands between. Maisa [the newly baptized Pahâri convert] is about forty-five years of age. About a year ago he threw away all the village stones in which the village deities are supposed to reside, saying that he was about to become a Christian, and had no faith in such childish things. Being Manjhi (headman), his people could not oppose him; but they told him they were afraid of living in a place where the deities had been so insulted. They therefore all removed to neighbouring villages, and left Maisa the sole occupant. I went to the place, and found that there was not another house besides his own, and what had been before a most prosperous village has now become a desolation. But if he stands firm, I have no doubt but that before long others will flock to him and build in the old waste places.

Connected with HIRAMPUR there are 167 Native Christians, of whom no fewer than eighty-two are communicants. Twenty adults were baptized during the year, and there are several candidates. There are twenty-four boarders in the girls' school, some of whom are heathens. The boys' school has not, during the year, yielded any candidates for baptism, though many of the scholars have lost all belief in their tribal superstitions.

The Native Christians connected with GODDA number 186, of whom fifty-four are communicants. Five adults were baptized during the year. The Rev. A. Stark is the Missionary of the station. The Santâls in the neighbourhood are certainly shaken in their attachment to their former superstitions, but some, to the great grief of the Missionary, have embraced Hinduism.

BENARES.

The Missionary work at this ancient and celebrated seat of Hinduism still calls for the earnest and believing prayers of God's people. The Society's labourers are the Rev. J. Fuchs, the Rev. S. T. Leupolt (who has charge of Jay Narain's School), Mr. John Treusch (who with Mrs. Treusch superintends the Female Normal Institution), Miss Hoernle and Miss S. Hoernle, the Native Pastor (Rev. D. Solomon), Babu Timothy Luther, Head-master of Jay Narain's School, and other Native Christian agents. The Rev. S. Nand, Native Pastor of the City congregation, died in April, 1876.

Respecting the Christian congregations in the city itself and at Sigra, which during the year 1875 were under the pastoral care respectively of the Rev. S. Nand and the Rev. D. Solomon, there is nothing special to report. The aggregate number of Christians is 488, of whom 131 are communicants. Four adults were baptized during the year.

In reference to Evangelistic work, Mr. Fuchs writes:—

In the city of Benares the Rev. S. Nand, the city pastor, with two catechists, and the Rev. D. Solomon, the Sigra Pastor, with some volunteers of the Christian village, have made Christ known throughout the year to a people that will not have Him rule over them. Two young men from this, A—— M—— and N—— R——, sent to the Lahore Divinity School, finished their course at the end of June last and returned to Benares. I selected R—— from the beginning for Araurah; but from the state of the roads he could not proceed thither at once. I wished also to see and know more of him. So I had for the time two fresh hands in the preaching department; and a third one was a pupil teacher of the Lahore College, who was allowed to come down with the Benares brethren for the three months' holidays, and heartily joined them in the work. I gave them also, twice a week, a lesson in the Greek New Testament and in Isaiah in Hebrew. By these three men a fresh impetus was given to the work in the city. The form, as well as the subject-matter, of their addresses showed the benefit of systematic training; and the earnestness with which they spoke to the people was quite refreshing. R—— removed to Araurah in October.

Religious apathy of the villages around Benares generally. One exception.

The preaching in the villages exhibited no new feature. As usual, in one place we were well received, and in the next hardly half-a-dozen persons would gather around us. Generally speaking, the apathy, indifference, and ignorance of the people is awful—darkness such as can be felt. But there is one village, Baburi, which I visited for several successive years previous to my removal to Lucknow, where each time the people were particularly friendly disposed—not only men coming in large numbers to the tent to hear and speak to us, but, as nowhere else, women flocking round Mrs. Fuchs at the opposite side of the tent, gladly hearing and questioning her, telling her also of their family affairs, and asking advice in various matters. The boys also attending the Government school there were most eager to buy tracts. Coming this time again among them, after eight years, all was precisely the same as described above; the boys seemed to be the identical scholars; and in every way, our visit was most encouraging. Going into the village, I could never proceed far but I was asked to sit in the verandah, and presently many collected to hear the Word of God. It being a large and prosperous village, there are also several pandits in the place, and they also, day after day, came to converse with us on religion. I purpose to look after the Baburi people again this cold season, and hold on hoping that Christ will find an entrance among them.

A colporteur and a book-shop are also instrumental in diffusing a knowledge of Christ, but the sale of books is small.

In the educational branch, JAY NARAIN'S COLLEGE now ceases to afford instruction beyond the Matriculation standard, and is therefore in Government phraseology no longer a College, but a School. The Committee have been led to adopt this change from the desire to concentrate the educational strength of the Society for the North Western Provinces in St. John's College, Agra. The numbers have, however, kept up, the average attendance for 1875 having been 412 as compared with 380 for the year previous. The present Principal is the Rev. S. T. Leupolt (son of the well-known veteran Leupolt); the Rev. H. D. Hubbard having come home after many years of faithful labour, with very doubtful prospect of returning to India. "Though some of the students," remarks Mr. Leupolt, "are favourably disposed, we have not been able to rejoice over any who have made an open confession of their faith in Christ." It is no slight matter, however, to have permanently lodged Gospel truth in (at least the memories and intellects of) so many who are likely to exercise influence in future years.

In the Female Normal School 46 girls were under instruction during the year 1875. Seven of these have married, and five others are now engaged as teachers.

Out-Stations.

At Chunar, Mr. Daniel Francis, the Head-master of the school, continues to act also as Catechist of the congregation, and to give satisfaction in both capacities.—Of the work at another out-station Mr. Fuchs writes:—

A Native Medical Evangelist.

At Araurah, R—— and family, and G——, a reader, are the only Christians. The former, as indicated above, came thither from Lahore in October. He was, previous to his conversion, a physician, and has ever since, besides his other work and studies at Lahore, increased his stock of medical knowledge by studying English books or translations into Urdu. As there is no medical dispensary at or near Araurah, I proposed to him to become a medical missionary, which was in full accordance with his own wishes. I was lately at Araurah, and could see myself how the plan had thus far been successful above all my expectations. The people have unbounded confidence in him. In the morning, at this time of the year, when there is not much sickness abroad, between twenty and thirty persons come for medicine. They are first invited to be present at the morning prayers in the church, in which he reads also a portion of Scripture, and gives them a short suitable address thereon, after which, each one is examined and receives his medicine. After breakfast he goes to visit the sick in their houses, and directs everywhere the sick and the healthy to the Physician of their souls. In the afternoon, he is often called to give medical advice in some neighbouring village, and makes the visit a preaching excursion.

The Industrial establishment at Araurah has proved unsuccessful, and has been abandoned.

GORAKPUR.

The Rev. H. Stern is the Missionary of this Station. No Report or Annual Letter has been received from him. Writing under date 20th August, 1875, Mr. Stern gave a very interesting account of two adult baptisms :—

On the 8th of August, 1875, the very interesting baptism took place at Basharatpur of a Pandit and a Bengali Babu (gentleman). The ceremony was performed in the presence of all the Native Christians and some ten or twelve European friends. The baptism was performed by immersion, in the tank near the church. We first had service in the church. I addressed the candidates on Acts xvi. 13—15, after which the Pandit read in Hindi his biography. After the service we all went down to the tank, and the baptismal office commenced. After the usual questions, and after both the Pandit and the Bengali had recited the Ten Commandments and the Creed, and also had in their own way each expressed their desire to be baptized, the Pandit gave up his rosary and Brahminical sacred thread, while a Native Christian brother cut off the sacred tuft of hair which every Hindu carries on his head as an emblem of his religion. They then went both into the water. Taking each by his right hand, I baptized first the Pandit and then the Bengali ; and as I pronounced the name of the Triune Jehovah, each was immersed. Whilst they were changing their clothes in a tent, which was erected for the purpose, the congregation sang two hymns ; after which the two young Christians, dressed in new white suits, came out, and the service was concluded. The sun was just then setting ; and with the beautiful water, in which the church was reflected before us, the fine mango-grove, in the shade of which the service took place on one side, and the congregation all round—the whole presented a most picturesque and interesting scene, which will not soon be forgotten by those who were present. Our European friends especially, among whom were the principal officials, felt deeply interested, as they had never witnessed such a sight before.

Two remarkable baptisms.

Pandit Vidya Patt, one of the two newly-baptized brethren, was born at a large town, about twenty-four miles from this, where his family own a sacred shrine, from the sacrifices and gifts of which they chiefly derive their income. The Pandit is the eldest son, and was brought up in all the learning of Hinduism, and made great proficiency, especially in astronomy and astrology, so that his counsel and aid were sought by the people to such an extent as to seriously hinder him in his studies. He afterwards studied Sanskrit in the Government College at Benares. He then entered the educational department under Government, where he was very successful as a teacher. At his own request he was then removed again to Benares, and admitted into the Normal College. There he became acquainted with Christianity through the instrumentality of the late Mr. Parsons, Baptist Missionary, whom he often heard preaching in the Bazaar. He was then induced to study more carefully his own religious books, and to compare them with the doctrines of Christianity. After completing his course in the Normal College, he was appointed teacher of the Government school in his own native town. Shortly after, he became acquainted with a Native Christian, who, in connexion with this Mission, is the colporteur employed by the N.I. Bible Society. The colporteur made some impression on him by his amiable and winning manner, and he obtained from him a number of tracts and books which helped him on in his search after truth. His next appointment was again at Benares. He then became acquainted with the Rev. W. Smith, of the Sigra Mission, and resolved to become a Christian, but his wife refused to follow him, and he would not leave her. A Mussulman also, in the police service, influenced him for evil, so that he lost his faith in any and every religion. His mind, however, was not at rest, and in his difficulties he often prayed to God to direct him and lead him to the truth. During the night of the 1st of January, 1875, he had a remarkable dream. A man appeared to him in white clothing and with a book in his hand, and said to him, "What are the doubts that trouble you? Get up and read in this book." So he read; and there it was written, "The Christian religion is the true one." Upon this he awoke, and resolved to embrace Christianity. After some delay, arising from domestic causes, he came to Gorakpur. He at once went in search of the colporteur; but, to his great grief, was told that he had died some two months ago. He then came to me and related his circumstances, and desired baptism. This was some three months ago. He began at once to receive instruction from me, and still reads with me the New Testament almost every day. Shortly before his baptism his old father and a younger brother came to see and to persuade him to return with them, but he remained steadfast, though it cost him a severe struggle. He is now about thirty-two years of age. His baptism, which was witnessed by many people other than Christian, caused no stir or opposition in the school, where I had already appointed him head Pandit. On the day following he went to his class as usual, no one absenting himself or saying an unkind word to him. The fact was accepted as a matter of course. Some twenty or thirty years ago a case of this kind would not have been so easily passed over.

ALLAHABAD.

The statistics of this station give 484 Native Christians and 135 communicants. The corresponding numbers for the previous year were 443 and 130. Two adults (unmarried women), have been baptized, previously Mohammedans. Mr. Davis trusts they may prove faithful, but adds that their cases do not call for any special remark. The new church was opened for service in March, 1875, as mentioned in the previous Report, though neither the interior nor the exterior were completed even at the beginning of the following December. A Church Committee has been recently set on foot in Allahabad, with a view of helping forward a Federal Church Council for the Native Christians of the North-Western Provinces in general. Respecting Evangelistic work, Mr. Davis writes :—

The bazaar-preaching has been carried on as usual, except that for two months in the early part of the hot weather we were without the help of our Native brother, D. Mohun, in consequence of a call which had been made to him to supply the services of the Simla congregation. The Mela, in January and February, afforded the wonted occasions of addressing daily some of those assembled from all parts of the country to bathe at the junction of the two rivers. During the remainder of the year we have preached once a week in the city, and once in the Colonel Gunge Bazaar. Several Mussulmans have during the last three months regularly taken their stand almost immediately on the opposite side of the street, to preach in opposition to us at both of these stations; but though this has greatly diminished our congregations, we have always had some to hear us, and latterly have again enjoyed very good audiences. One Hindu in particular has come almost daily to the former preaching-station to propose difficulties. I cannot but look upon him more in the light of an inquirer than a mere caviller. At the Colonel Gunge the brother of Nehemiah Goreh has no less constantly attended to propose difficulties, to which he professes to desire an answer. Even of one of our open opponents I heard from an independent source, that, though he appears in the character of such a regular opponent, he is half convinced that Christianity is true.

The college "has prospered fairly." The whole number of boys and young men under instruction in the schools connected with the station is 48; and 56 girls are also by the same means brought under the sound of the Gospel.

At the out-station of Jusy, the schoolmaster-evangelist has already been enabled to bring one or two inquirers under Mr. Davis's notice.

JAUNPUR.

The pastoral and educational duties of this station are, as before, discharged, so far as possible for a layman, by the Head Master of the Main School, with the occasional visits of the Rev. S. T. Leupolt from Benares. The congregation, which is very small, the average attendance not exceeding twenty, is not in a satisfactory state. The schools, on the other hand, are prospering and contain 300 boys. One pupil, a Native Christian, matriculated recently from the Main School, and is now studying at the Cathedral Mission College, Calcutta.

JABALPUR.

The Native Christians connected with this station number 127. Of these, 30 are communicants.

The Rev. E. Champion thus reports of the work at and near the town:—

Two adults have been baptized in connexion with this Mission this year—one the wife of a former convert, who had been carefully taught by her husband, the other a young woman at Sâgar. Although these are additions, and we trust will prove sources of strength to the Christian Church, they are not cases of particular interest. In respect of adult baptisms our progress is indeed slow; but though, in taking a review of what has been done in the space of a single year, the results are not encouraging, yet, in taking a longer period into account, we perceive that our efforts have not been so barren after all. For example, on looking back to old returns, I find that our Native Church consisted of only 59 members in 1865; in 1875 it consists of 125, and forms four distinct centres of action.

Our Schools pursue their course of usefulnesss with undiminished efficiency as far as the imparting of intellectual knowledge is concerned, but no baptism has taken place from them since 1869. I do not on this account undervalue the opportunities they afford of sowing the good seed in ground in a peculiar sense fitted for its reception. I have just visited a village in which are two of our old scholars. One of these, a telegraph clerk, I had several times seen as I was travelling by railway, but had had no opportunity of conversation with him. I have now had some interesting talk with him, and find that he has a deep sense of the errors of idolatry; and he declares he will cease to worship gods many and lords many, after the decease of his parents.

There are two important out-stations; of which Mr. Champion writes:—

Mandla has been held, but not "in force," as only one catechist can be spared, but I have visited and inspected his work four or five times during the year, besides accompanying him, and sending him a helper for his work in Melas and on tours. He has carried on his work, I believe, in the right spirit.

Ságar (Saugor)—This old and important town has been taken up and held in a similar way this year. I have paid it two visits—one in April, to establish a local Mission there, and another in September, when I was much pleased to find that the catechist had begun his work well. The whole of the expenses of this branch, including the catechist's pay, are met by friends at Sâgar, who invited us there, and who would gladly welcome the advent of a European Missionary. The town, as I have said, is an ancient one; it is next to Jabalpur in these provinces as to population; and as it is not far from Bhopal, Gwalior, and other Native States, it affords peculiar facilities for missionary extension.

The work among the Gonds is still quite incipient.

LUCKNOW.

The Missionaries engaged at this station are the Rev. C. G. Daüble, the Rev. J. P. Ellwood, Mr. G. H. Weber, and (newly arrived) the Rev. G. B. Durrant, B.A.—The numbers of Native Christians and Communicants are not given, but there is no reason for supposing any appreciable alteration from those given in the previous year—307 and 118. The visit of the lamented Bishop Milman in November, 1874, when thirty-eight candidates were confirmed, is spoken of by Mr. Däuble as "a season of signal blessing" to the Native Church.—Mr. Däuble still deplores his inability to obtain a Native Pastor.—The foundation stone of a (material) Church for the use of the Native Congregation was laid by Mrs. Inglis, the lady of the officiating Chief Commissioner for Oude, on the 8th November, 1875.—On passing through the streets on his visit to Lucknow, in January, 1876, H.R.H. the Prince of Wales stopped his carriage to hear the Native Christians sing a translation of "God save the Queen."—The Bazaar preaching, though not discontinued, has been somewhat irregular, owing partly to new police regulations, which the opposition of the Mohammedans appeared to the magistrates to render necessary, and partly to the transference of some of the Native agents to more promising openings in the villages.—In itinerations Mr. Däuble meets with persons and with incidents that give rise to encouragement; but whether in Lucknow itself or in the neighbouring district, the visible fruits of Missionary labour are still scanty.

The educational work at this station is under the charge of the Rev. J. P. Ellwood, who is enabled to report a year of vigorous and interesting work, though interrupted by two months' absence on medical advice. These two months Mr. Ellwood spent in visiting the Missions at Burmah, Singapore, and Ceylon, and returned much stronger in body and refreshed in spirit. On the 9th of November, the Prince of Wales's birthday, the Hon. J. F. D. Inglis, Chief Commissioner of Oude, distributed prizes and certificates to deserving boys in the Mission Schools. After the distribution, a Native gentleman, Deputy Abbas Bey, was called upon to address the meeting. He expressed himself highly gratified that the Church Mission of Lucknow could now number 673 boys on its rolls, as he remembered that when the school first began it was with difficulty that boys could be persuaded to attend the Mission School, being under the impression that the pupils would be made Christians by force. He was glad to see, he added, "that the old days of bigotry were passing away, and a new era dawning in India." The schools generally are prospering extremely well. Two Christian lads are studying for the Calcutta entrance examination. At one of Mr. Ellwood's schools a rule has been adopted by the boys, at the suggestion of the head master, that every pupil, on leaving the school and receiving a situation, should give his first month's salary to form a scholarship fund for poor boys who are unable to continue their studies without some help. The Christian teachers meet every Saturday afternoon at Mr. Ellwood's house for a Bible lesson, and also study with him the Hindu and Mohammedan controversy. One of them has recently been transferred to evangelistic work, and is now in charge of an out-station.

The book department is extending and prospering. Books and tracts for the young are much needed. "The Native presses in Lucknow," Mr. Ellwood observes, "are teeming with all kinds of rubbish and vile trash which are sapping the foundations of morality; and much of this trash is intended for the young." The Railway Book-stall continues to supply the Natives with books calculated to make them view Christianity in its true light. Natives may often be seen seated in the railway carriage reading Christian books bought from the Depôt. The Sunday Schools prosper as in former years. Lucknow is characterized by having a large number of respectable English-speaking persons belonging to the middle and lower ranks. Mr. Ellwood has interested himself much in this class, and finds many of them very helpful to his missionary work.

FAIZABAD.

The statistics of this station for 1875 are—fifty-nine Native Christians, twenty-four communicants, two adult baptisms. The fluctuating numerical strength of the congregation during the last four years (sixty-seven, twenty-six, twenty-five, fifty-nine) has arisen mainly from removals and arrivals.

In the beginning of March, 1875, the Rev. C. Reuther was transferred from this station to Kangra. His place was supplied by Mr. W. Baumann, who had been previously stationed at Jaunpur. This energetic labourer reports, under date 25th November, 1875, as follows:—

Faizabad is one of the greatest strongholds of Hinduism in Northern India; and close to it is Ajodhya (the ancient Awadh), which is closely connected with the history of Rama, the favourite deity of the Hindus. Here at stated times thousands of pilgrims from all parts of India flock together to see the birthplace of Rama—to bathe in the same sacred stream where he used to bathe—to leave their sins behind, and to take along with them some relics to their distant homes. Hundreds of Pandits, Fakirs, and Bairages (religious mendicants) swarm about the place like so many vultures round a carcase, and fleece the poor villagers who come here to bathe, or taunt and scoff at those who preach the Gospel of salvation.

Our community of Christians numbers fifty-nine souls, and the average of church attendance is thirty. It is a small number; but it will increase. On the 16th of September a Mohammedan family was baptized by the Rev. G. Däuble after a six months' probation. They had to undergo all kinds of maltreatment from the Mohammedans living in the same village. Bribes, threats, curses, and even an attempt at poisoning—all these were employed to prevent their joining the religion of the hated Nazarene. But Christ won the victory.—I have now, as inquirers, a Mohammedan family and three single men. They are under careful and patient teaching, and I trust by Christmas to find them ready to take upon themselves the vows of those who are Christ's. —Bazaar-preaching has been regularly carried on both in Faizabad and in the out-stations, Sultanpur and Partabgurh.

Fairs and villages have been visited, and discussions have been held in the houses of those who are in the habit of reading our Scriptures. The more I go among the different classes of Natives, the more I feel that the leaven of Christianity is permeating more or less all ranks and classes.—The state of our Zenana schools here, I am sorry to say, is not very satisfactory. When the Government Zenana school was closed this year, I fully expected that ours would have the benefit of it, but the numbers of pupils did not increase. We sadly need the zeal and the pious energy of Mrs. Reuther. Were such a labourer here, much good might be effected. There is no boys' school in connexion with this Mission, but, had I help, I might set up a free school with advantage to all concerned.

Mr. Baumann acknowledges, with gratitude, kind help received from the Chaplain of the place and from one of the commanding officers resident at the station.

AGRA.

The Native Christians connected with the Society are registered at 289. Of these ninety are communicants. Four adult baptisms took place during the year. The Missionaries of the station are the Rev. J. Erhardt, the Rev. C. E. Vines, Mr. A. H. Wright, and the Rev. T. R. Hodgson (recently joined). Mr. Vines writes :—

In many respects the year under review has been one of severe trials, but there have been blessings associated with the trials, and, in some cases, growing out of them. These trials have beset every branch of our work in turn. Now that to some extent our troubles have been removed, we can look back and thank God for them and for the help He afforded us in the midst of them.

The trials of which I speak have been very severe in the Native Church. There were two cases of grievous sin, causing scandal to the Christian Church. We have been further pained by the most prominent member of our Mattra congregation joining the Roman Catholics.

Our encouragements, I am thankful to say, have increased during the latter part of the year.

In the Native congregation the Rev. Madho Ram has worked hard since his appointment was confirmed ; and he is securing the affections of his congregation. Trusting that God will give him increasing clearness in his views of Christian truth, I look forward to his becoming a great blessing to his flock. While I look forward hopefully, I feel that we much need the prayers of God's people, especially that we may be delivered from the plague of Romanism, which is coming in upon us from England. The congregation have, through the influence of one of the teachers in the college, revived a Monthly Missionary Meeting which we instituted some years ago. In connexion with this, some of the Christian teachers have undertaken voluntarily to preach in the Agra bazaars twice a week. They came to this resolution after a short account I gave them at one of the Monthly Meetings of the numerous good works in which Cambridge undergraduates engage. In the College, the withdrawal of the grant to the College department called forth from the Native community a testimony in its favour which I had hardly expected. A petition was presented to the Lieut.-Governor N.W.P., signed by 350 persons, in which the petitioners spoke of the benefits conferred by the college, and stated that some of them were formerly students of the college, and had now placed their sons in it. They urged upon the Lieut.-Governor the claims of the college department to have its grant restored. You will have heard from the Secretary of the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, that the Governor-General has granted the petition; and we shall, I trust, commence the new year under more flourishing circumstances. God be praised for this mercy! I have been lately much encouraged by finding how widely the influence of the college has been distributed through its students. The villages round Agra have all contributed one or more students to our classes. The testimony of the catechists, when out alone in the district, and my own experience, shows that, as a rule, they are preparing the way for the preacher. One student of the college, a stranger from a distance, has been baptized during the year. He was brought to us by a Christian teacher in the college, who assisted him in attending the college after the death of his father,—a Native doctor. Another old student, whose son is now in the college, seems to be ready to confess Christ openly. I may add that I have been out in the district since November 26th; and among other signs that I have met of the progress of God's work, I may mention that many old Mission students, and those who have formerly been affected by the preaching of the Gospel, are called by their neighbours Christians or half-Christians. In many cases they, perhaps, only lack the courage to break home-ties, being in heart desirous of confessing Christ, but afraid of the consequences.

Missionary influence of the Agra College, and the high value set upon it by the Native population

Mrs. Vines was led during the past year to commence a small boarding-school for girls. Some orphan Christian children were thrown upon our care, for whom the parents had desired a better education than could be obtained in the orphanage at Sekandra When the Conference met at Benares, we were asked to develope this small beginning (if God will) into a girls' boarding-school for the North-West Provinces.

The Rev. J. Erhardt is able to speak favourably of the Christian congregation and the orphanage at Sekandra.

Our preaching at Bhartpur has been very encouraging. The Chumars, a low caste, have been most attentive, and lately proposed we should open a school for their children; they would bear all expenses. I hope to send one of my readers there as soon as I shall be sure that the Rajah will not be against it. These poor low-caste do not count in a Native State, though many of them are very rich men. The higher-castes have schools. The colporteurs supported by Col. Roxburgh have done a good year's work, selling a considerable number of tracts and portions of Scripture, though one of them, Gyan Sing, is getting old. May the Lord grant His blessing on those silent messengers of truth to His own glory in the salvation of sinners!

Usefulness of Colporteurs.

Mr. Erhardt itinerated for a month and a half in the cold season. The Catechist and Readers have made their regular rounds in the adjoining districts of the Native States.

ALIGARH.

The Rev. J. Stuart is the Missionary of this station. He writes:—

The town of ALIGARH contains a population of 50,000, for which my only helper hitherto has been one young man, barely able to read the New Testament in his own tongue. The number of Native Christians at Aligarh is small, chiefly converts (or the offspring of converts) from the Sweeper Caste. Untruthfulness is their besetting sin; but I have great hope that they will improve. They seem far behind in general knowledge. I am doing what I can daily to bring them forward. —We have had a few baptisms. One day I baptized seven in one house, three of whom may be said to be adults. One of these a relative of Akbar Shah, late king of Delhi, a lady of forty, has been for about twenty-five years a widow. On leaving, she compelled my acceptance of fifty rupees for the poor or any Church purpose I might please.—Hitherto the chief feature of interest in Aligarh has been the close intercourse with some respectable inquirers who have frequented my bungalow; indeed, more since I came here than in all my former missionary experience.—We preach and teach daily in the Bazaar and surrounding villages.—We have been looking out for some time for a teacher to open a girls' school in the city, Miss Webb having kindly furnished the means for starting the work.

The Mohammedans have got a magnificent site in Aligarh for their University. After many months of effort, they have sixty or seventy boys of all classes and castes, Hindu and Mussulman. None of these, I am told, is far enough advanced to pass in the Calcutta University examination. Their monthly expenditure is about 1400 rupees; and they get a monthly grant-in-aid from Government of 300 rupees. No scholarships will be given to a Hindu, however clever; it is the sanctum of the Mussulman. The object of the University is to restore Mohammedanism to its pristine purity, an emblem of which is to be the habilitating of themselves by all true sons of the faithful in Turkish and Egyptian costume!

The town of Bulandshahar, forty miles distant from Aligarh, has a population of about 30,000. We have here one catechist, a good, respectable man, I think. His nephew has charge of the Mission Bazaar School. It is one of the best schools in the district. The work of this out-station hitherto has been carried on under great disadvantages. I hope next year to give a still more satisfactory account.

Soron, in the Etah district, is a very Sodom of iniquity. It stands on the Ganges, is the birthplace of the Pig-God, is packed full of Brahmins, and is the only place where I have ever been hooted when preaching. It is the scene of the cold-weather pilgrimages from almost every part of the country. Here we have a small colony of Native Christians, from the Sweeper Caste, numbering from fifteen to twenty. They have Service twice on the Sunday, which is conducted by a young man, who, during the week, takes charge of a nominal school.

In another letter, dated 29th November, 1875, Mr. Stuart narrates the following recent incident:—

Opinion of a Brahmin on the effect of Christian preaching in Hindu villages.

A Brahmin of one of the leading families in this place had often expressed a wish to accompany me to a village, that he might see what effect our preaching had upon the simple rustics. By appointment he joined us one morning. It turned out that that day, from a variety of circumstances, we had no choice but to go to the very worst village on our list. Strangely enough, instead of being mobbed, as I had all but expected, the very characters whom we had dreaded were there in full force, and greater civility and greater attention we never, perhaps, experienced anywhere. They even begged me to send a schoolmaster to instruct them, old and young. (I have done so, and it seems to answer capitally). I asked my Pandit friend, on our way back, what he thought of the whole matter,—whether the people believed us or not. He said he believed they did. I then asked him, Did he think that any of them would become Christians? He said he thought not. "Why?" "Because," he replied, "of the power of caste and the force of habit." He went on to say, that supposing that village from the force of conviction became Christian, renouncing Hinduism and the worship of idols, they would become so isolated among their fellows and persecuted on all sides, that life would soon become intolerable.

MÎRAT.

The Rev. H. Hoernle, who has charge of the work connected with this station, has passed through severe domestic affliction, and has also much to try him in the general aspect of his missionary work.

The congregations under Mr. H. Hoernle's charge consist of two main divisions—the congregation in the city and cantonments, and the Christian villages of IKLA, Kanker Khera, and Malyana. Pastor Abel ministers to the city congregation, and Pastor Jeremy to the villagers. These two sections of Native Christians differ from each other very much in many respects. The former consists chiefly of Government pensioners, Natives or Europeans, who have served in the army. These "consider themselves very independent," and are apt sometimes to disregard the admonitions both of the Missionary and the Pastor. Yet in his long and valuable Annual Letter Mr. Hoernle gives an interesting account of the Mîrat Native Christian Evangelical Association, and of other Christian efforts put forth by the Mîrat Christians. The village congregations, on the other hand, are (materially) in a most lamentable and depressed condition, though, perhaps, in no worse plight than the ryots in many other parts of the North-West Provinces, who, of late years, have suffered severely from a succession of bad harvests and other causes. Spiritual aspirations seem to be crushed under a weight of temporal difficulties. They are, however, regular in their attendance on the means of grace. Their numbers are fast declining, as, in consequence of the extreme difficulty of finding subsistence in their present situation, they are seeking employment in other parts of India. The funds of the Society cannot be expended in improving the temporal condition of Native Christians; and therefore, unless private philanthropy steps in, there seems, humanly speaking, no other prospect than that these little communities, some of whom stood so steadfast in the mutiny, and were subsequently instrumental in drawing others to join the Christian Church, should be entirely broken up and dispersed. The great Head of the Church will doubtless graciously watch over His own; but the Committee earnestly commend this matter to the prayers and the consideration of the friends of Missions generally.

Sad temporal condition of Christian villagers near Mîrat.

The schools are "doing well on the whole."

Evangelistic work is carried on as in former years; and the Catechists and Readers are described by Mr. Hoernle as "doing their work on the whole in a steady and satisfactory way, each according to his own light." A vigorous Præparandi Institution and Training College for the North-West Provinces would no doubt increase the number of highly-qualified Native agents. Meanwhile the Missionaries in these parts are thankful for such aid as they can receive from the DIVINITY SCHOOL of the Panjâb.

DEHRA DHÛN.

This district, of which the Missionary centre is the Christian settlement of Annfield, was formerly part of the Mîrat Mission, but is now under the separate charge of Mr. Hoernle, sen. (the Rev. C. T. Hoernle). He writes:—

Hopeful condition spiritually and temporally of Christian villagers in the Dehra Dhûn.

Steadily increasing in number and outward stability, Annfield comprises now 369 souls, including four families of inquirers. The men are engaged in agricultural pursuits, and as a body they have come on very well, compared with the northern villages round about. Would I could say the same of their spiritual growth! Yet, weak as they often appear in knowledge and walk, when it comes to the point, their faith goes deeper, and they cling to Christ with a greater tenacity than one would ordinarily give them credit for. Notwithstanding, more inward life, more of an aggressive Christian spirit is needed. May God grant it to all of us! Our Native Pastor, J. Richard, who was last year ordained Deacon by the Bishop of Calcutta, has approved himself worthy of his office. He has the assistance of a Panchayat for the secular affairs of the community, and a Church Committee for the ecclesiastical. Both these bodies, generally speaking, manage matters brought before them to the satisfaction of the parties concerned.

At the date of Mr. Hoernle's letter (Nov. 30th) he was hoping, on the following Christmas, to receive by baptism four families, comprising eighteen souls. Most of these belonged to Annfield and its neighbourhood. "It will be a happy day," observes Mr. Hoernle, "to our Native Christians in their isolation in the jungle."

The "only name whereby we must be saved" is proclaimed by the Native Pastor and the Catechist in the numerous villages and hamlets in the vicinity of Annfield, as also among the Pahâris (hill-men) of Massûri and Landau. The following extract from the same letter is also interesting:—

In February a preaching tour was made by the Native Pastor and Catechist into the principality of Nahan, about thirty-six miles west of Annfield, from which they returned much encouraged. I gave them a letter of introduction and a nicely-bound Testament for the Raja, with which he was pleased, and treated the bearers kindly. More interested, however, than the Raja himself was his minister in this visit of evangelists. He had much earnest conversation with them, and asked many and important questions about the Christian faith. Nahan is a thriving town at the foot of the southern slope of the Himalayas. Its inhabitants are largely engaged in iron manufactures. They listened gladly to the Word of God, with the exception of a few Cabuli Mohammedans who disputed and abused in true Moslem fashion. Another tour in that direction is contemplated next January or February, God granting grace and health.

KANGRA.

The Rev. C. F. Reuther was transferred to this station from Faizabad in March, 1875. The Native Christians of Kangra itself are numbered, as before, at forty. There is also under Mr. Reuther's charge a congregation of twenty-seven Native Christians at Dharmsala. No adults had been baptized at the date of Mr. Reuther's Annual Letter, 17th November; but there were then two candidates, one at Kangra, the other at Dharmsala, whom he hoped shortly to admit into the visible Church. Mr. Reuther is assisted by three Catechists, two of whom are stationed at Kangra, and one at Dharmsala. These, together with Mr. Reuther himself, carry on bazaar preaching and domiciliary visitation. In November they visited the annual mêla at Palampur; and they were to itinerate in the villages during the ensuing cold season. There are 170 children in the schools; and Mrs. and Miss Reuther are steadily at work in the zenanas, where several Native ladies read the Gospels and willingly listen to the narratives of Holy Scripture.—"But," Mr. Reuther adds, speaking of his work as a whole, "there is at present no sign of a stirring of the Holy Spirit among these dead and dry bones. We ask for your prayers."

AMRITSAR.

The Native Christians of Amritsar number 271, of whom 80 are Communicants. Seven adults have been baptized during the year. (The corresponding numbers for the previous year were 250, 82, and 14). Also, "six wanderers, who had lapsed into Mohammedanism, have with tears and penitence, returned back again to Christ and His Church."

The Missionaries of the station during the year 1875, were Rev. Robert Clark, the Rev. Rowland Bateman, the Rev. F. H. Baring, (and from November) Mr. W. Beutel. Mr. Bateman, however, was in England during the summer months, returning to Amritsar on the 7th December. The Rev. J. S. and Mrs. Doxey arrived early in 1876. Valuable assistance was also given by two ladies of the Indian Female Instruction Society. In connexion with the same Society, the Mission has heartily welcomed an honorary labourer, Miss Tucker, so well known in England as A. L. O. E.

The Native clergymen are four in number, the Rev. Imad-ud-din, who has once again exchanged Pastoral for Evangelistic work, the Rev. Dâud Singh, the Rev. Sadiq Masih (who has succeeded Mr. Imad-ud-din as Pastor of the Amritsar congregation) and the Rev. Bhola Nath Ghose, Deacon of the Nârowâl congregation; the two last being ordained on the 28th of November at Amritsar by the late Bishop of Calcutta. Mr. Clark gives the following account of Mr. Sadiq Masih, and of the change which his ordination will make in the position and work of the Rev. Imad-ud-din :—

History of a newly ordained Native Minister.

The Rev. Sadiq Masih is one of the early converts of the Amritsar Mission. He is the son of a convert from Mohammedanism, Mian Paulus, the Lambardar (fiscal headman) of Nârowâl, who was baptized by Mr. Fitzpatrick in April, 1854. Sadiq himself was received into the Church in February, 1859. After "using the office" of a Catechist "well" for some thirteen years, he has been unanimously chosen by the Members of the Amritsar Native Church to be their Pastor. He has been trained in many schools. He was first an itinerant Catechist; subsequently he went to the Lahore Divinity College, where for two years he was trained by Mr. French. He was then trained by responsibility, when he was left alone as the Church's representative in Batâla, a city of 24,000 people. During the whole of this time he has been trained, too, in God's own school, to know himself and to know God; and he has been brought straight from his daughter's death-bed, and from hearing her cheerful words of faith and love, to become the shepherd of the souls of the Native Christians of Amritsar. Thus the Native Church, for the first time in the Panjâb, is shepherded by one of themselves, who was baptized and brought up amongst themselves. The Rev. Imad-ud-din will now obtain, what he has so long desired, leisure for the prosecution of his Christian literary labours and of the other duties of a Christian Evangelist. He was appointed by the [late] Bishop to be his Examining Chaplain in Urdu for North India. The Commentary of St. Matthew, in which he has been long engaged together with myself, is now well-nigh printed; and a similar Commentary on the Acts of the Apostles is in preparation.

Mr. Clark, besides being leader of the Amritsar Mission generally, has had under his special care the pastoral and evangelistic work, in the town, as distinguished from the district. He reports as follows :—

The Christian Church has now, through God's grace and help, effected a settlement in the city of Amritsar as well as in many branch stations around it. Two or more English Clergymen, two Native Clergymen, many Catechists and Teachers, and many Christians, now live within the city walls. We have many Native Christians in Amritsar who are true; and their influence is sensibly felt; and the Christianity of Natives is becoming a power in Amritsar, even as it is in all India. The four Native Clergymen who now belong to this Mission, the fourteen Catechists and Bible-women, the ten or more Christian Teachers, together with many educated and influential Christians of independent position, are all doing their work. We thank God for it. The amount received this year in the Church Fund from Native Christians has been 373 rupees; last year it was 832 rupees. This year the collections have been purposely left very much to themselves, and they have, to a certain extent, failed. Yet there are among them many true Christians living in comparative affluence, who have given themselves and all they have to God, and who have suffered great losses for the Kingdom of Heaven's sake. Is it that the Native Church has yet to learn the full force of Christ's own words, "It is more blessed to give than to receive"? It has been decided to give the Church Fund more than ever over to their own management. They will collect it and expend it, through their own chosen representatives, elected by themselves from the communicants of their own Church. The Mission will give them grants from time to time to aid them in any special work.

Amritsar Native Christians.

Our Mission work was again strengthened this year by the visit of the [late] Bishop of Calcutta on his visitation tour. Fifty-eight candidates were confirmed on the 27th November. Amongst these candidates, one had been the Munshi of a Missionary; and it was through the personal influence of his pupil that he learned that Christ is God and the Saviour of mankind. Belonging to a family that for many generations have been respected and greatly honoured, he has met with an especial opposition from many neighbours and relations and friends. Naturally of a thoughtful and retiring disposition, fearful of giving offence and of losing worldly position and the good opinion of friends, he delayed his baptism from month to month, though he knew that he ought to apply for it. The cholera was around him, and he felt in his own heart what death would be, were he found apart from Christ. Yet it was not from fear of death that he became a Christian. The cholera had quite subsided, when prayer at last was heard, and grace and courage were given, and with a firm step he approached the font on the 21st of November, in the presence of our large Sunday congregation and great crowds of heathen, with his little boy and girl at his side, and with a firm voice enrolled himself as Christ's faithful soldier and servant to his life's end. For days afterwards did a succession of visitors come to his house; and grey-bearded men and white-haired women sat, and pleaded, and wept, as they bewailed his loss; and they sat on for days, and would not leave, as they talked to him of the dishonour done to his father's house, and of the torments that awaited apostates in another world. At times cast down, he gradually rose to the occasion, as grace was given to tell them all of Christ's salvation, and his whole face and heart glowed with joy and peaceful happiness at being thought worthy to suffer shame for His dear name's sake.

The Boys' Schools, under the charge of the Rev. F. H. Baring, have prospered, as regards numbers and success in obtaining the approval of examiners and visitors. Among the latter may be mentioned the late Bishop of Calcutta, whose report was decidedly favourable. There has been no baptism during the year; but it is no slight matter for thankfulness to have given to 1400 children an acquaintance with the facts of the Gospel, which they will never lose. —It is satisfactory to find that the Orphanages have now become boarding schools, to which some of the Native Christians send their children, paying, of course, a small monthly fee. They are still under the care of Mrs. Elmslie.—The Lady Lawrence Schools are now ten in number, including two normal schools. They contain 500 girls. The following two extracts from the Local Report respecting them will be read with interest:—

> During the present year two of the teachers connected with these schools (both Mazhabi Sikhs) have come forward to receive baptism. While recording this with thankfulness, we entreat for prayer on their behalf, that their confession may be proved to be sincere by a holy and consistent life. The younger of the two women, with her husband and two little children (now a Christian household) are living in a distant quarter of the city, where she has opened a school for Mussulman children.

The work connected with the out-stations is referred to in the following extracts from Mr. Bateman's Report of the Itinerant Mission:—

> A great many Christian books are bought and read in the larger towns, and they are producing an effect; but into the villages they hardly ever find their way, for hardly anybody can read. Most sad it is therefore that no living voice is raised for Christ once a year, in even a twentieth part of the villages of the Amritsar Division. Ignorance and prejudice can best be removed by Christian teachers and Christian books. Secular instruction will not do it. We know pretty well what becomes of the flower of the [non-Missionary] village schools, how discontented, disloyal and disingenuous they become. As a rule, those who have learned to read do not leave their homes; and there their literary pursuits consist in perusing the seditious, scurrilous, and obscene publications which issue almost unchecked from the press, and which are often hawked about, not only in the villages, but in the Government schools themselves.

A convert from a Mission English School.

One boy from Nârowâl School has been baptized this year. He was mentioned as an inquirer and called "K" in my two last reports.* He is the eldest son of a Brahman of the highest caste and character in Nârowâl. In May, 1873, his manifest sympathy with his school-fellows who were baptized then, led his parents to remove him to Lahore. There he entered the American Mission School, and under Mr. Forman's teaching rapidly grew in knowledge and faith. At Easter, 1874, he came to me in Nârowâl, and spent a fortnight in studying the Gospel and encouraging his class-fellow "J.," who at that time was a prisoner for the truth's sake, undergoing his probation. During this visit he asked for baptism, but I refused on account of his youth. Returning to Lahore, he became so bold a confessor that he was removed from the Mission to the Government School. Thence he wrote to me several times, on one occasion urging me to take him before a magistrate, who could declare him free to follow his convictions. I consulted a magistrate privately, and, by his advice, told the boy's father that, if at the end of three months his son persisted in his desire for baptism, I should not any longer refuse. It was a hard trial. I felt something like Darius making over Daniel to the lions. The father took him and taught him day by day the religion of the Hindus in its purest form. He took him to various shrines and holy men; and often had he to answer the charge of thinking himself wiser than his elders and disgracing an honourable name by his conceited aspirations. When one month had passed fruitlessly by, he was taken off into Kashmîr territory. There he was washed in sacred springs, and led before famous Brahmans, and sat day after day by his father's direction, repeating before an idol the invocations by which Brahmans seek to hold converse with God. He did this with an earnest desire that, if there were truth and comfort in Hinduism, he might see and share it. But not to the idol were addressed all the prayers of the young worshipper. Crouched alone within that shrine he poured into Emmanuel's ear no speculative plaint; and though all day long he was honestly trying after something new whereon to rest his soul, yet night and morning he fell back to Christian prayer, and found that the old was better. During this time he had no opportunity of writing to me, but on one occasion, when his father gave him a letter addressed to me to post, he drew on the envelope a picture which must have puzzled the postman. It was a face in profile with a line drawn across the ear. When reading together in April the Mosaic law for the slave unwilling to be freed, he agreed to keep a sprig of wood in one of his ears, already bored for rings, in token of the full allegiance which he then professed to Christ, and that he was to take it out whenever he could not or would not serve Him any longer. So the rude sketch was a volume of comfort to me. Yet when "K.'s" father returned with him to Nârowâl one day before the three months were complete, the boy, though he assured me that his faith was firm, said that he would wait till he was older before being baptized. For two months more he did wait in Lahore, and gained no strength by the wilful delay. I sent "J." to school at Lahore in order that he might help "K." as he had been helped by him in the spring; and on January 19th, to my astonishment, "K." wrote me word that he was coming out for baptism the next day. I received and baptized him. Since then, his sensitive and affectionate nature has been tried most keenly. Father, mother, sister, brother, came with offers to receive him back into caste; a word of recantation would have stopped their truly agonizing cries. But neither tears, arguments, nor taunts moved him. The first time he came to see his son after his baptism, he took him up to the top of the house alone, and as the interview was a very protracted one, I became anxious, thinking that the young convert was being too hardly tried; but my fears were rebuked when he came down-stairs again singing, "Safe in the arms of Jesus, safe on His gentle breast." On going out into the street, an attempt was made to carry him off by force, but it was overcome after the semblance of a struggle.—It will be asked, "What has become of all the boys whose baptisms in Nârowâl have been recorded, and how are they provided for?" The human provision which is most necessary for a young convert is not food or schooling, but something to answer to a father's care and a mother's love. It has been my object, therefore, to place these youths with [Native] Christian people as members of their families. So far they have been most kindly received. It is very delightful to see the Church taking up her Master's words and saying to these little ones, "I will not leave you orphans." Loving sympathy is the best of all gifts: this they receive from the Church of their native land.

Provision for shelter of young converts.

Visit of the Prince of Wales.

This was an occasion of great interest. A preliminary gathering of Native Christians which took place on the previous Sunday evening is thus described by one of the Missionaries:—

There in one corner of the room is seated the brother of the reigning Rajah of Kapurthala, who was only baptized a few years ago, the first-fruits of a celebrated Sikh dynasty. There is

Imad-ud-dîn, the learned Maulavi, who is now engaged in writing a commentary on the Bible. There is Rajab Ali, the editor of a Native newspaper, conversing with an intelligent Bengali, one of the many converts of Dr. Duff's institution. There is Imam Shah, the Native pastor of Peshâwar, seated by one of his flock, an Affghan Zemindar, clad in a skin coat with a scarf thrown loosely over his shoulder. And then, as the eye passes along the side benches, it is arrested by the intelligent countenances of men converted from Sikhism, Mohammedanism, and Hinduism. At the opposite end of the room conspicuously appear five Rajputs. One of them is a Zaildar, or chief, of twenty-two villages. After tea has been served round to all, Professor Ram Chander is called upon to give an address. He is the learned author of 'Problems of Maxima and Minima solved by Algebra,' and therefore speaks, with mathematical exactness, words of sober wisdom. But the address of the evening is that of Mr. Abdullah Athim, an Extra Assistant Commissioner, who exhorts his hearers to distinguish between an outward profession of faith and an inward realization of spiritual life. He then kneels down, and, in an earnest, simple prayer, supplicates the God of Mercy in behalf of ourselves and our Prince. It was a grand evening, that Sunday evening of January 23. 'I wish the Prince would come every year,' said one, 'he did us all good.' 'That can't be; but why should we not meet once a year like this?' said a dear loving Native brother. 'It makes us feel that we are a nation—a people.'

Gathering of Native Christians at Amritsar.

LAHORE.

Nothing of special interest has been recorded respecting the Native Christian congregation at Lahore. The Rev. J. Kadshu is its minister, as in former years. The Committee regret to hear that the Native Evangelistic Society, of which Mr. Kadshu was the President, has been broken up through differences of opinion. The Missionaries are not without hopes, however, that it may be satisfactorily revived.

The DIVINITY SCHOOL continues a useful career; but nothing of striking interest has occurred in connexion with it during the year. It is doubtful whether it attracts to itself students of that high intellectual standard that was at one time expected. Towards the close of the year, however, Mr. Hooper received several "satisfactory applications." Mr. Wade speaks of the students as being much delighted with the proof of "God's wisdom and goodness in the world around us," set before them in "Paley's Natural Theology." The Missionaries employed during 1875 were the Rev. W. Hooper, the Rev. T. R. Wade, and the Rev. F. A. P. Shirreff.

Mr. Hooper and Mr. Wade also take part in direct evangelistic work. Mr. Hooper has had the privilege of admitting two or three converts into the visible Church. One of these has been in some personal danger from the enmity of his heathen relatives. Mr. Wade frequently preached in the Bazaar during the year in company with two or more students, and expresses his surprise at the wonderful knowledge of Scripture shown by some of their opponents. He adds that "there is undoubtedly in many hearts a dissatisfaction with Sikhism and Hinduism, and a longing for something better;" and again, that "there are more readers of the Bible in the Panjâb than there ever were before," and that "their number is increasing."

The JHELUM ITINERANCY, conducted by the Rev. G. M. Gordon, with Pind Dádan Khan for his head-quarters, was originally intended to be a branch and offshoot of the Lahore DIVINITY SCHOOL. Nor has this idea been abandoned; though it has been as yet but very partially carried out, there being a difficulty in finding among the students the physical strength and the moral and spiritual energy, requisite for the work. Those that have been tried and have failed are not, strictly speaking, Natives of the Panjâb. "When the Gospel," writes Mr. Gordon, "takes hold of the hardy and simple Zemindars of the Panjâb (as it is beginning to do), they will doubtless be the true leaders of a [humanly speaking] spontaneous movement towards Christianity." No Native congregation has as yet been gathered together.

Mr. Gordon writes:—

The connexion of the Mission with the Lahore College has been cemented by the latter sending two disciples, who will, I hope, eventually bring to bear upon this district the benefit of the instruction they have received. One of them has been my companion for a year, and is now in training for the Ministry. The other has been less fully proved. The year is closing sorrowfully for me as to my Native Christian brother, Andreas. He is now holding on to life by a very frail tenure. Although feeble in body, he is strong in spirit and most patient in suffering "Tell Mr. French," he says, "that I have no fear of death, but joy and confidence." Feb. 12th, 1876.—Since I began this letter, Andreas has been taken to his rest, and our little cemetery has received the first mission seed "sown in corruption," to be "raised in incorruption."

Death of a Native Evangelist.

DERA ISMAIL KHAN.

The Rev. W. Thwaites is the Missionary at this station.

His Native Christian associates are the Head Master of the Mission School, an Assistant Teacher and Catechist, and a Colporteur; and at Tâk (Tank) a medical Missionary (a Native, though with an English name), the Rev. J. Williams. The Native Christians number eighteen. Nine of these are Communicants. No adults were baptized during the year. Of the three boys baptized in 1874, one is at the Amritsar Training College (of the Christian Vernacular Education Society); the second is still at the Dera Ismail Khan Mission School; and the third is learning a trade, in hope of being soon admitted into the Government workshop at Lahore.

One Evangelistic tour was made during the year, a fair and attentive audience being generally met with, though there was much apathy and ignorance. Several tracts were sold by the colporteur who accompanied the party, chiefly in those places where there is a Government school.

The Mission School at Dera Ismail Khan, which fell off in numbers in consequence of the three conversions of 1874, is now nearly as full as ever it was. Two old students of the school are inquiring into Christianity in their private reading, one studying for this purpose "Butler's Analogy," the other the Holy Scriptures themselves. A night school is now in operation, with 35 pupils, all of whom read the Bible.

At Tâk the opening of a first-class Government dispensary has rendered the Mission Hospital unnecessary; and it was therefore in contemplation to make the Medical Mission itinerant instead of stationary, thus giving an opportunity to Mr. Williams to visit the Povindah encampments in the cold weather, and also the villages in the more immediate neighbourhood of Tâk. (The Povindahs are traders who traffic between Central Asia and India. The wives and families with the aged men camp in the plains of the Derajat for about six months in the year. Some of the able-bodied remain with them, while the greater part are travelling here and there for trade in different parts of India.) Subsequently, however, a proposal was made to transfer Mr. Williams, at least temporarily, to the Kashmir Mission.

BANU (BUNNOO).

The Rev. J. L. Mayer has been cheered by the arrival of two Native helpers from the Lahore DIVINITY SCHOOL. Though converts from Islam, they were received with much courtesy by some of the leading Mohammedans, and were invited—together with the Missionary himself—to the house of a qazi of great learning. Since then the same party have all dined together in the Mission-house. Mr. Mayer writes:—

Work among the Mohammedans in Banu.

Several of the chiefs from the hills have also been in to see me here, for whose benefit, after the example of the Peshâwar Mission, I have built a Hujera, or guest-house. One chief offered to take me into the hills this year, and to pledge himself to the Government for my life. Every year they are more friendly; and more than one Mullah has been in to talk with me, and has taken away with him some memento of his visit in the shape of a copy of the Gospels as a whole or in parts. We shall find it after many days. An old copy of St. John's Gospel is by me; it was given by Bruce to a Mohammedan Faqir, who was murdered early this year in the Nazirî hills. The Deputy-Commissioner sent this part of his property to me; it is well thumbed, and has been evidently read with care. In May last we were threatened with the knife if we continued our preaching in the bazaar, but it merely had the effect of sending us more and more to our knees, and oftener into the bazaar. The door is wide open, but there are many adversaries; the tumultuous gatherings are now much fewer. I have opened a book-shop in the city, where the catechist is always able to get a patient hearing. At present the Scriptures sell slowly, but sell they do; and people come to converse with the catechist without fear.

The School is increasing, numbering over a hundred, of whom forty-seven at the date of the last accounts were Pathans from the neighbouring district.

The European residents afford the Missionary steady help.

In conclusion, Mr. Mayer writes, referring to the labours of Mr. Bruce, now in Persia:—

Bruce's work lives here; his seed is springing up; it is not an ear, nor a full corn, hardly even a blade, but it is up. It can't keep in its old husk, and it longs for air and sunshine. May God Himself water it abundantly; and may He guide you all in the paths of wisdom and good counsel, and keep you in the patient waiting for Christ Jesus!

MÛLTÂN.

The Society has no ordained agent at this place. The work is superintended by an able and devoted Lay Missionary, Mr. W. Briggs.

"The Christians of the Mission," observes the Local Report, "with some others, meet for worship in the School every Sunday. The number of persons present seldom exceeds twelve or fifteen." Two adult baptisms took place during the year, and at its close there were two inquirers.

Diminished opposition at Mûltân.

An Honorary Catechist and a Native Reader, assist Mr. Briggs in preaching the Gospel in the bazaars of Mûltân and the neighbouring districts of Muzaffirgarh and Dêra Ghâzi Khan. There is much less opposition than formerly. In the year 1870 the Catechist, while wending his way to the preaching-stand through little knots of people standing in the bazaar, was suddenly thrown to the ground and shamefully maltreated. Now he is surrounded "by as orderly a congregation as can be gathered in a London park on Sunday afternoons."

In the Schools the number of boys increased during the year from 429 to 457, of girls from 79 to 99. Obscene and abusive language was at one time very common in all the boys' schools. In the central school at Mûltân this is now seldom heard, and among the elder scholars it has ceased altogether. Mrs. Briggs and her two Christian assistants have obtained admittance into several zenanas. Mr. Briggs speaks with much gratitude of the sympathy he meets with from the residents at the station. "One does not feel altogether alone in the field," he writes, "when Christian people bid one God-speed in such an unmistakable manner."

PESHAWAR.

The Native Christians at this station number 108, and the Communicants 31. The following account of the work of the year is extracted from the Local Report:—

In Peshawar, we must still regard our work as preparatory, although from time to time individual Afghans have been added to the Church. Not a day passes but the Missionaries are forcibly reminded that they have to disarm suspicion and mistrust, and to draw out the sympathy of the people whom they seek to convert; and it is a source of considerable encouragement to them that there has been a very decided change in the attitude of the people towards them within the last few years.

During the year the Mission was deprived of the services of its senior Missionary, the Rev. T. P. Hughes, who, after an absence of nearly eleven years from home, proceeded on six months' furlough to England, accompanied by Mrs. Hughes and family. Mr. Hughes returned to this country on the 9th of December. The Rev. Worthington Jukes, in addition to the sole charge of the Mission during Mr. Hughes' absence, has continued the superintendence of the Educational Institutions of the Mission, with the assistance of Babu U. C. Ghose, the efficient Head Master of the Boys' School. On the 28th November, the Rev. Imâm Shah received Priests' Orders from the Bishop of Calcutta, and has since assumed sole charge of the Native Church. Evangelistic work is carried on by a catechist (added to the force in the course of the year) with the assistance of a Scripture Reader. Both of these are converts from Mohammedanism; and both have received theological instruction in the Lahore DIVINITY SCHOOL. The Reader is by race an Affghân.

The Native Church consists of 88 adults and 40 children. Some of these are Eurasian Drummers. The contributions of the Church amounted to Rs. 144-6-3., an increase upon former years. This fund has been managed entirely by the Native Church Council, and is applied to the relief of Christian poor and Church expenses. A Native Church Pastorate Fund has also been established, the interest of which in a few years' time, combined with contributions from Native Christians, will relieve, in part, the Mission of the pay of the Native Clergyman.

The Mission Schools, including the Central School (which is an Anglo-Vernacular Institution, and teaches up to the Calcutta University Matriculation), and two Vernacular Girls' Schools, are five in number. The number of pupils on the rolls is 630, being an increase of nearly 100 upon last year.

The Evangelistic efforts of our Mission consist chiefly of Bazaar Preaching and Itinerations from village to village. The Bazaar Preaching takes place every Tuesday and Friday in the centre of the city, and is conducted by the Rev. Imâm Shah [and the two agents lately received from the Lahore DIVINITY SCHOOL], assisted from time to time by the Missionaries. The Rev. Imâm Shah reports:—"At the preaching in the Bazaar the attitude of the people towards us has been much the same as in former years. Generally, the audience is exceedingly troublesome, especially when the European Missionary is not present. When the city is filled with strangers from Cabul our troubles increase. When I tell them that they must not disturb us, as the British Government affords equal protection to every one, they get even more excited, for they think that our religion is but the religion of the foreign conqueror. Indeed, this is our difficulty, that the people will not separate the Christian religion from the foreigner; although I always maintain that Christianity is a religion from the East; and that our Blessed Lord and His Apostles, and the Sacred Books all belong to the East and not to the West."

Prejudice in North India against the Gospel, from its being regarded only as the religion of the conquering race.

The itinerations of the Rev. T. P. Hughes, last cold weather, were exceedingly encouraging. The people still show kindness and hospitality, notwithstanding their knowledge of the one object of the Missionary's visit. The village Hujras (or guest-houses) are the most favourable places for a quiet and attentive audience, and the Missionary is often invited to the Mosque to continue a discussion with the Moulvi of the place. But by far the most interesting part of our evangelistic operations are the religious conversations, which have taken place in the Mission-house, with our numerous Afghan visitors and guests, not only from our own territory, but also from across the border. The latter are at first shy, and require much persuasion to stay the night; but when once they become our guests, bigotry and prejudice are removed from their minds. It is thus that the Apostolic and Christian injunction to "use hospitality," which is one of the characteristics of the Afghan nation, is reciprocated by us. Its good effects are manifest. The Moulvi, who in the village mosque or in the bazaar is bigoted, becomes amenable to reason; and the ignorant villager, who in the streets looks with scorn upon the foreign conqueror, sips his tea in silent respect.

We acknowledge with thanks the gratuitous and zealous labours of our Honorary Catechist, Mr. Sohun Lall, at Abbottabad. Two inquirers sent by him have been baptized, both of them converts from Mohammedanism.

In the Central English School, Mr. Jukes finds the boys much more interested than formerly in the Scripture lessons.

KASHMIR.

The Kashmir Medical Mission was carried on from the 21st of April, 1875, until about the end of August, when Dr. Maxwell's health gave way so completely that he was compelled to come home, with no prospect of returning to India. During that time, three days a week were given to out-patients, one hundred cases being attended to on each occasion. Meanwhile the hospital, a suitable and commodious building, which, through the kindness of the Maharajah, Dr. Maxwell found to be in a well-prepared state on his arrival in April, was constantly filled, accommodating 16 male and 4 female patients. At first there was no Kashmiri-speaking agent attached to the Mission. Dr. Maxwell, or a Catechist who had been sent up from Amritsar, gave a short address in Hindustani, which language was, however, understood only by a portion of the audience. Later on in the season, the aged Kashmiri Catechist who had been with Dr. Elmslie arrived and took part in the work. The Rev. W. Jukes from Peshâwar also assisted for a few weeks, and baptized three converts who had been very carefully instructed by the Catechist. There were also several inquirers.

The Committee are thankful they have been enabled to designate Mr. E. Downes for the post thus vacated by Dr. Maxwell. Mr. Downes hopes to leave England in the ensuing autumn.

MADRAS AND SOUTH-INDIA MISSION.

(European Missionaries first arrived in 1814.)

I. Madras, commenced 1814; II. Travancore and Cochin, 1816; III. Tinnevelly, 1817; IV. Telugu Mission, 1841.

General.

The statistical returns for South India for 30th September, 1875, as compared with those for 30th September, 1874, give the following figures:—Native Christian adherents, 63,258, as compared with 61,432; Communicants, 12,728, as compared with 12,540; Adult baptisms during the year, 1275, as compared with 739.

I. Madras.

European Mission Establishment:

Rev. John Barton, M.A. (m), to North India, 1860; to South India, 1871, Secretary: at home.
Rev. David Fenn, M.A., 1852, Secretary.
Rev. John Bilderbeck (m), joined in India, 1846: in England.
Rev. Reginald Chambers Macdonald, M.A. (m), 1859.
Rev. William Pascal Schaffter (m), 1861.
Rev. Edward Sell (m), 1865.
Rev. Malcolm George Goldsmith, B.A., 1872.
Rev. H. R. Kendall, 1872.

In the course of 1875 the Rev. D. Fenn, one of the Society's Secretaries at Madras, paid a brief visit to England. Shortly after his return, at the commencement of the present year, the Rev. J. Barton, holding the same office, left Madras for this country, as had been previously arranged. The Rev.

D. T. Barry, one of the Society's Association Secretaries at home, was appointed to assist Mr. Fenn; but he had been scarcely more than a few days in Madras, when he was called away to fill Mr. Welland's place at Calcutta.

Native Christians.

The Native Christians connected with the Society in the city of Madras are divided among two Pastorates, called respectively the Northern and the Southern, and are connected with a Church Council, of which the Committee have recently appointed the Southern Pastor, the Rev. W. T. Sattianâdan, to be the Chairman. During the year the Communicants have increased from 370 to 384, and the Native Christian adherents (including catechumens) from 788 to 808. The adult baptisms of the year have been eight. Some efforts of the Madras Native Christians for the spiritual enlightenment of their heathen countrymen are mentioned below under the head of General Evangelistic Work. Beyond this very cheering fact nothing of special interest is reported respecting them.

Hindustani Mission, Triplicaine.

This is the Mohammedan department of the Madras Mission. It was commenced in 1854, and for some years consisted almost exclusively of the Harris School. In 1872 the Rev. M. G. Goldsmith was designated by the Committee to co-operate with the Rev. E. Sell, Principal of the Harris School, by labouring among the adult Mohammedan population. Various causes, however, prevented Mr. Goldsmith from entering upon his work until October, 1875. Under date Nov. 12, 1875, Mr. Goldsmith writes as follows:—

Work among Madras Mohammedans.

My own inclinations have always led me to desire to go amongst the Mohammedans, and meet them in their own streets. With a small leather bag full of Gospel portions, tracts, and books, they readily receive me, and buy or borrow what I bring. The quantity sold is never large. The Mohammedans are very poor. Nor are the borrowed books always returned. Some of the Madras Mussulmans are acquainted with parts of the New Testament; and the promise of the Paraclete (John xiv.) is a favourite subject with them: others, and indeed all at one time or another, ridicule the Divine Sonship. Their profound ignorance is a great obstacle. Absurd stories of the prophets constitute all their "Scriptural knowledge." I have been assured by an intelligent Hafiz that only about twenty-five men in Madras (out of the 50,000 Mohammedans) can read the Koran intelligently. Yet men of the poorest classes are warm defenders of their faith; and all are remarkably well-grounded from early childhood in the fundamentals of Islam. Lord Hobart, our late Governor, did something for them; though not [directly] towards their Christian enlightenment. At his death, on April 27th, they felt they had lost a friend; and perhaps his efforts for them helped to break down their hatred for Europeans. I have a sort of Hindustani book-depot in my room here, well supplied from North India, and when visitors call, as frequently happens, my book-shelves supply an ample stock of conversation.

General Evangelistic Work in the City of Madras.

A well-educated Native Agent, Mr. Samuel John, has been recently set apart for work among the educated Natives. He addresses them both in Tamil and English; and his pointed and earnest appeals have been well received by respectable Hindu audiences. In a private letter of 5th Feb., 1876, Mr. Fenn thus describes one of the results of Mr. John's labours:—

Meetings with heathens of the educated classes in Madras.

During the last fortnight there have been four interesting gatherings of Hindu gentry, three of them being at their own houses, in as many different localities, all of them being places where Mr. Samuel John is accustomed to meet them for religious discussion. The peculiarity of these three was that they were a sort of leave-taking of Mr. Barton. In each case he was asked to preside. He commenced and closed each meeting with reading a portion of Scripture. Mr. Samuel John then delivered a written essay or address. Mr. Barton then gave his address, speaking with great power and warmth, and was listened to with very marked attention. This was followed by a short complimentary farewell address on the part of the Hindu friends; and then Mr. Barton concluded the meeting, as I said, by reading a portion of Scripture. The assembly at the place was almost exclusively, I believe, of Brahmins. The numbers were from fifty to eighty in each; all the proceedings in English. The fourth gathering was in the drawing-room of the Mission-house itself.

Opening of an Evangelistic Lecture Hall by the Madras Native Church.

The Native Christian Church is also coming forward to take its part in the evangelization of their educated heathen countrymen. It is mainly with this view that they have raised money for the erection of a Lecture Hall connected with the Madras Southern Pastorate. The hall was opened on July 1, 1875, by a well-attended public meeting, Mr. Barton presiding. Prayer was offered up; suitable addresses were delivered; and sacred Tamil lyrics were sung, with musical accompaniment. Besides being a Lecture Hall, the building will be used as a book-shop, and as a reading-room where Christian readers may meet together. The front open verandah will serve as a zayat for preaching the Gospel to the passing crowds.

Mrs. Sattianâdan is diligently employed among the Native ladies. Of the six girls' schools under her superintendence, four are for children of the upper classes. She has also sixty-eight pupils in thirty-two families under zenana instruction. With these she often has serious religious conversation. Many of them are still wedded to their idols, but some are very thoughtful, and even acknowledge the superiority of Christianity over their own religion.

Madras Itinerancy.

This branch of the work is conducted by the Rev. W. P. Schaffter, aided by a Native brother, the Rev. J. Cornelius.

Mr. Cornelius thus speaks of the persecutions undergone by a young man whom he had the joy of baptizing:—

Persecution endured by a new convert near Madras.

His father refused to let him come into his house. The village authorities would not allow his cattle to graze in the fields. The Roman Catholic Naicks refused to give him work. His father-in-law came to his house and took away his newly-married wife, and the poor man was left without friends and relatives. Though he was told beforehand that his friends would hate him, yet he did not expect that their hatred would be so intense. All that he could do was to go to the Catechist, who was kind to him, and took that opportunity to read and speak to him out of the Gospels about the sufferings and death of the Lord Jesus. When I saw him about two weeks after his baptism, I gave him an account of some of the martyrs, how they resisted even to blood, not counting even their lives dear to them in comparison of the salvation of their souls. I am glad to say he still continues steadfast. Seldom do we meet with such persecutions in Tinnevelly.

In some other respects the advantage is not on the side of Tinnevelly. Mr. Cornelius writes:—

One other thing which struck me as very remarkable in this district is that Christians do not trouble their spiritual teachers with their temporal concerns to any extent at all. In Tinnevelly, Ministers and Catechists, the latter certainly, are full of them. Here you have nothing of the kind. When you visit the people, you have only to read and pray and hold spiritual converse with them. This is most edifying, and full of comfort to one's own mind.

A visitation of cholera at one of the villages, and its effects, are thus described by Mr. Cornelius:—

On September 16th, we walked to Mévalur. This is the largest congregation in the district. It had caused some anxiety and trouble from divisions and its dislike to wholesome discipline. God prepared for them the rod of affliction; cholera made its appearance in their midst, and for fifteen days did its strange work. Forty-seven persons were attacked, of whom ten died. Mr. Schaffter's kind and prompt measures, under God's blessing, checked the progress of the disease, which, to our great joy, left the place sooner than was expected. But did the rod accomplish no good? Many were stirred up to think of their evil ways, and turn to the Lord with sincere repentance and hearty sorrow. There was a longing desire for the Word of God and for prayer. About midnight the people went round the village in procession, and at the four corners knelt and poured forth their supplications and prayers with tears and cries. Great indeed was their distress; for the heathen in the villages round would neither allow them to come near them, nor would they give them work as before. The bazaar men, too, refused to sell them the necessaries of life. Thus they were led to cast themselves upon the Lord their God, and upon Him only, and to love and help each other as brethren; the mutual love between the Catechist and the people also was greatly strengthened, for the Catechist proved himself to them a friend indeed in this their time of greatest need. The portions of Scripture they chiefly read and meditated upon were—Ps. xci.; Isa. lv.; Dan. ix.; Ez. ix.; and Neh. ix.

Effects of a visitation of Cholera in a Native congregation.

The total number of Native Christian Adherents connected with the Madras Itinerancy is 619. Of these 585 are baptized Christians, and no less than 261 are Communicants. Eight adults were baptized during the year.

Ootacamund.

There being no federal Native Church Council with which this out-station is connected, its Native Minister, the Rev. Samuel Paul, cannot be regarded as an agent of the Native Church, but rather as holding the inferior office of an Assistant Missionary. Mr. Paul is under the superintendence of the Rev. R. C. Macdonald at Madras, though he is assisted by a local Native Church Committee. The Native Christians number 244, the Communicants being 118. There were three adult baptisms during the year. One of these converts was a young man in the jail, who had once been a pupil in the Mission School. Among the domestic servants of the European residents and visitors Mr. Paul has almost daily opportunities of making known the way of salvation. On market-days he preaches in the bazaar, and occasionally visits other places. In this good work he sometimes has the voluntary assistance of members of his Church Committee. Upwards of 1500 tracts have been sold by him. In the Schools 132 children are receiving instruction.

II. Tinnevelly.

General.

The Report of this Mission may fitly be prefaced by a brief account of the gathering of Native Christians connected with the two Church of England Societies at Maniâchi on the 10th of December, 1875, to meet H.R.H. the Prince of Wales. It shall be given in the words of Dr. Sargent:—

Meeting of Tinnevelly Native Christians with the Prince of Wales.

Maniâchi is the junction of the Madras, Tuticorin, and Palamcotta lines of railway—so called from its neighbourhood to a small village once the capital of a wealthy Zemindar. The country for miles is perfectly flat, with cultivation in the rich black soil of various Indian cerealia, which at this time of the year make the fields everywhere look beautifully green. The railway running through these fields has taken up at this station a space of some 300 feet square. The small building for use of travellers lies on the south of the line, where the platform, neatly gravelled, extends fully 300 feet. On this platform, near the small building above-mentioned, was erected, in Native style, a pandal and dais for the Prince; and on the opposite side of the line another pandal, or colonnade, 270 feet long, in the same style, with forty arches, adorned with banners and welcomes, wreaths of flowers, fresh-cut plaintain trees with their pendant bunches of fruit, and also clusters of young cocoa-nuts. On the platform side, around the dais, were assembled nine English clergymen, fifty-three Native pastors, and nearly 1000 of our school children, with their respective flags and banners; and on the other side of the line, under and beyond the ornamented colonnade, stood the representatives of our Christian congregations, some 6000 or 7000 in number, most of them in pure white clothes, and the front rows all in jackets.

Upon the Prince's arrival the clergy were presented in a body. His Royal Highness, instead of ascending the dais and occupying the chair, as we had hoped he would do, stood in front of the steps. Dr. Caldwell, a respected Missionary of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, then read the address; and at its close a beautifully-bound Tamil Bible and Prayer-book were brought over from the body of Christians on the other side the line by Edward Muttiyathillay, the munshi who had rendered such efficient help in the translation of both these books. He was accompanied by two other laymen; and the poet who had composed the lyric to be sung on the occasion brought up the rear, with the beautiful banner kindly got up and sent us by our good Bishop's sister, Miss Gell. This elegantly-wrought banner bore, in a semicircle on the upper part, the words, Christians of South India, under that the Star of India, then the Cross, beneath which was a wreath with the Prince's monogram in the centre, the lotus blossom on the left hand, and the rose on the right, and underneath the words, "The desert shall blossom as the rose."

The Prince then read his reply, which, as regards the kind sympathy it expresses, and the dignity and propriety of its composition, speaks for itself. It was as follows:—

"I thank you for your address, and for your good wishes, and accept with pleasure your memento of my visit. It is a great satisfaction to me to find my countrymen engaged in offering to our Indian fellow-subjects those truths which form the foundation of our own social and political system, and which we ourselves esteem as our most valued possession. The freedom in all matters of opinion which our Government secures to all is an assurance to me that large numbers of our Indian fellow-subjects accept your teaching from conviction. Whilst this perfect liberty to teach and to learn is an essential characteristic of our rule, I feel every confidence that the moral benefits of union with England may be not less evident to the people of India than are the material results of the great railway which we are this day opening. My hope is that in all, whether moral or material aspects, the nations of this country may ever have reason to regard their closer connexion with England as one of their greatest blessings."

I was then to have marshalled all the girls in one line, four deep; but his Royal Highness proceeded at once to view them as they stood, and I explained how, if the mass on the other side of the rail fairly represented the results of the efforts of the Missionaries, what he now beheld was the result of the persevering and loving efforts of the Missionaries' wives and their daughters; that, as our labours succeeded in the villages surrounding our several stations, the most promising girls in these schools were selected by our wives, who took them to their homes, and I might say also took them to their hearts, and endeavoured to train them in habits of cleanliness, neatness, and order—in habits of industry, morality, and piety; and that while the Bible was made the great book of all, other studies were not neglected; so that I might even venture to assert that the majority of these young persons knew more of true history, geography, and arithmetic—more also of useful and ornamental needlework, than the greatest Hindu ladies that have heretofore dwelt in the land. The Prince inquired if this information was imparted to the children in English. I replied that there were only a few that learnt English to any extent, and that our force was thrown into the vernacular of the country.

On the Prince's return to the dais, the scholars who had prepared specimens of lace and embroidery for presentation to the Princess of Wales came forward—the Edeyengudy S.P.G. School, with their highly-finished lace, and the Sarah Tucker Institution, the Palamcottah and Mengnanapuram Schools, with embroidery. I took occasion to observe, when the "Sarah Tucker" School was mentioned, that that was a name ever memorable in Tinnevelly, she being the first promoter and supporter of female education in almost every station of the province. After this the girls sang a Tamil lyric, composed for the occasion by one of our oldest converts, a literal translation of which in prose by Dr. Caldwell was placed in the hands of the Prince. Considering the variety of castes that were then assembled, the appropriateness of the second verse was evident, which might be rendered thus:—

"To us belongs the blessing here, Of ancient muse the theme; When tiger and the timid deer Drink at the same cool stream."

After this a table was brought to the front, with a stand on it containing twelve vessels, each holding a young plant, either of mango, the Ficus Indica, or tamarind. I then told his Royal Highness that it would be an event very pleasing to these several schools if, as they returned to their respective localities, they carried with them a memento which they should care for, and which might serve to perpetuate in every direction the remembrance of his Royal Highness's visit. The first girl of each school was then called to the front; and the Prince at once, most obligingly, took up the plants one by one, and placed them in the hands of the girls. I cannot describe how highly delighted they looked at this kind act of the Prince, and I think his Royal Highness was equally gratified with the pleasure that he saw it gave them.

Thus terminated, within an hour, the long-wished-for interview, and as the Prince returned to his carriage the children struck up, in English, our National hymn of loyalty; then three cheers were given for the Royal family, and as the train moved away, the assembly on the other side took up the cheering, and sent his Royal Highness on his way with best wishes for his prosperity, and with feelings of admiration at his kindness and condescension. This was also the first day, in the lives of many, that they saw a train in motion, so that it may easily be understood how it will ever be associated in their minds with pleasure and admiring wonder.

I conclude with the sentiment expressed in the fifth stanza of the lyric which was sung:—"May Britain's lion-flag unfurl'd In every region wave, And may the cross of Christ our Lord Prove there its power to save!"

Another event of still more solemn interest, Dr. Sargent, writing under date 7th Feb., 1876, thus describes:—

Ordination of Native clergy at Tinnevelly.

At Palamcottah, on Sunday, Jan. 30th, eighteen Native brethren (fifteen C.M.S.) were admitted to Deacons' Orders, and eleven (nine C.M.S) to Priests' Orders. Among the C.M.S. candidates one belonged to the Madras Mission and one to Ootacamund (both of these being priests), the rest to Tinnevelly. The church was filled to overflowing. Including the parties that day ordained, there were assembled in the church eighty clergymen, of whom twelve only were Europeans, the rest were natives. The Rev. W. T. Sattianâdan preached the ordination sermon; and the whole service was most solemn and impressive. Let us consider the importance of this additional force to our Missionary agency. That so many men should be found worthy of the office of the ministry in our Church, that there should be full employment for them in their several localities, and Christian congregations ready to receive them as ordained teachers, to whom they may minister God's holy word and sacraments, is a fact that speaks for itself. The Church Councils in the several districts have given them their title to Holy Orders instead of, as heretofore, the Committee of the C.M.S. I am persuaded that, in every place where such Pastors are located, there is felt to be (at least at first), a louder call on Christian people to regard the duties of our holy religion, and a louder call to the heathen to consider the claims of Christianity. Here are so many heralds authoritatively sent forth to tell of the love of God in Christ Jesus and proclaim a free salvation to all who feel their need. As I look back and call to mind the first ordination I witnessed in this church nearly forty years ago, when the Rev. John Dêvasagayam, the only Native minister we then had in all South India, was ordained priest, I am filled with wonder and thankfulness at the progress of events, and then from it take encouragement as regards the future of the Tinnevelly church. To myself personally this has been an occasion of deep interest, for of the twenty-four candidates in connexion with the C.M.S., fourteen have been old pupils of mine, and they have for several years commended themselves as faithful and efficient lay helpers in various parts of the Mission field. The preparation which the Deacons underwent for sixteen months, under the efficient teaching of Brother Dibb, was a matter of great importance.

The Bishop of Madras, by whom of course the candidates were ordained, subsequently confirmed large numbers of candidates at different Missionary stations, and met several of the Church Councils.

Dr. Sargent makes the following general remarks respecting the general character of the Tinnevelly Native Christians:—

Many appear to be Christians only by habit or by association. They have bonâ fide renounced heathenism; they know a good deal of the Bible, its histories, doctrines, and precepts, but as yet evince nothing of the power of the Holy Spirit in their hearts. They are still of the world. Some of these had given promise of better things, but the cares of the world, litigation, caste pride, lack of truthfulness and firmness, have choked the Word and rendered it unfruitful. Others, again, are open backsliders. I have gone to some villages where, many years ago, we had for a time a large number of men place themselves under Christian instruction, but after a while the majority went back to their old ways. I have earnestly and lovingly expostulated with them, and laid Christ's loving invitation again before them; but beyond the expression of thanks for my kindly coming to their village and speaking to them, there has been as yet no good result. In one village, not far from Palamcottah, where, about a year ago, some twenty families of Shânars became Catechumens, all have gone back within the last month. Besides these families, there were in the village eighty families of shepherds and thirty families of Maravas. Cholera broke out and attacked the Christian quarter only. Twelve persons died within a few days, some of them leading men in the congregation. This gave the heathen room to taunt the Christians, and to affirm that the village gods were taking vengeance on them. So great was their fear that they joined in a heathen ceremony to propitiate the Goddess of Cholera, and in so doing renounced the Gospel. In a panic of this kind the people seem beyond the reach of any argument or persuasion.

But let us now turn to the encouragements that present themselves. A few days ago I was standing by when two of our Missionary brethren were discussing the condition of their people, and one who holds, I think, less hopeful views than myself, exclaimed, "Well, of the 4000 people in my district, I don't think I have grounds to hope that more than 500 of them are true Christians." I could not refrain taking part in the conversation, and said, "Five hundred true Christians! Surely such a statement carries with it very great encouragement! Where could it be affirmed of a village of 4000 souls that the clergyman had good evidence that 500 were true Christians? How would it rejoice any pastor's heart at home to be able to entertain such a hope!" And surely I was right in the opinion so expressed; for, leaving out the large number of infants and children, regarding whom we are in ignorance, to say that nearly a quarter of the number of our adult members give evident marks of being true Christians seems to me to state as much as the most sanguine Missionary could wish to affirm.

Character of Tinnevelly Native Christians

Dr. Sargent looks with hopefulness on the effects of the spread of English education. He does not think that Hindus will be long content with a merely negative belief. Nor can they find anything that will satisfy them even in the more beautiful portion of their own sacred books. On this subject Dr. Sargent writes:—

Doubtless there are numerous passages in Hindu writings that sound beautiful to our ears, and seem correct to our judgment. A Missionary will make due use of such passages; but to suppose that Hindus are influenced in their moral conduct by the injunctions of their religious books, in the same sense that a Christian man is said to be influenced by the Gospel, is a mere gratuitous supposition. With us, how many points of difference are there between "public opinion" and the precepts of the Gospel! But when these differences arise, the Christian takes his stand on God's Word. The Hindu's Court of Appeal is custom, caste rules and requirements. I cannot conceive a Hindu father or mother trying to restrain and direct the wayward disposition of a bad boy by reference to the Vêda or the example of the deities. Hence, one of the most popular books that Hindus are ready to purchase from our colporteurs, and encourage their children to read, is the Book of Proverbs from the Christian Bible.

The sacred books of the Hindus.

The theological Præparandi Class (twelve in number last November) was under the charge of the Rev. A. Dibb, of Megnânapuram. The class seems to have consisted exclusively of candidates for the ministry, who hoped to be solemnly set apart at the ordination described above. They had studied carefully during the year several books of the Old and New Testament, Hodge on the Epistle to the Romans, Paley's Evidences, History of the Christian Church during the First Three Centuries, History of the English Reformation, Pearson on the Creed, and the Thirty-Nine Articles. They also prepared a sermon every week.

Mr. T. Kember's health having failed, and the Rev. T. Spratt being at that time unable to return to India, the ENGLISH INSTITUTION has been placed temporarily under the charge of a youthful Missionary, the Rev. E. Blackmore. Mr. Blackmore writes, under date 30th Nov., 1875:—

> At present we have seventy-four Christian boarders and about sixty-eight day scholars, many of the latter being Hindus. In the practising school the average attendance is about eighty. We have recommended a dozen students for the matriculation examination in December next; but about twenty others have entered against our advice. I have been much astonished to see the great eagerness with which Hindus seek learning, especially English; and I have been gladened at having the opportunity of setting forth the Lord Jesus for one hour daily to upwards of thirty heathen students, many of whom have the sacred ashes and red marks upon their forehead. It is also a matter of great thankfulness that our masters (twelve in number) are all Christian men, and work together in harmony and love.

Districts under Dr. Sargent's charge.

The statistics of PALAMCOTTAH are as follows:—Communicants, 848; Native Christian adherents, 4394; adult baptisms, 52; pecuniary contributions of Native Christians, Rs. 3191. Dr. Sargent reports:—

> In the large congregation of this place, while there are some who disappoint us in their Christian profession, and some who have evidently grown cold, yet I believe there is also evidence of increasing prayerfulness and true piety. Matters are not left merely to meetings which the Missionary may appoint, but individual members act for themselves and endeavour to do good.—I would especially mention one of our converts, who, though he has daily hard work as a Tamil munshi, is ever ready to embrace opportunities for doing good both among Christians and Hindus. His consistent character and devotedness are observed by all.—I removed a Catechist from a village four miles off, as there are only some eight families in the place, and I thought I might utilize voluntary aid. On mentioning it to a workman in the printing office, he at once very cheerfully said, "Leave that affair, sir, with us. There are four men among us who will make ourselves responsible for the services there every Sunday." This was no idle promise, for the work is done regularly, and done well, and the people themselves seem pleased with the arrangement.—A Native Christian Assistant Master in our Anglo-Vernacular School, Tinnevelly, having lost one of his daughters there by cholera, came to spend a few days with a relation in Palamcottah. Here he himself was attacked and while he was almost insensible another of his daughters was attacked and died. When I went to see him he referred to God's goodness in sparing him while two of his little ones were taken from him, but, he added, "Of them, too, I can say, it is the Lord's will—they are with Him. My friends thought to keep from me the knowledge of my loss till I should be strong enough to bear the news; but I had some idea of what had passed in the house, and next morning my little child, five years old, came to my side, and, like a messenger from the Lord to strengthen my faith and comfort my heart, said to me in such a simple way, 'Father, do you know that dear Sebanânam (Piety) has gone to heaven?' Those few soft words from the lips of so little a child seemed to me sent by the Lord. How can I murmur?"

Voluntary efforts of Palamcottah Christians.

Resignation of a Tamil Christian under bereavement.

The statistics of DOHNAVUR give:—Communicants, 438; Native Christian Adherents, 3565; adult baptisms, 82. This district had been recently strengthened at the date of Dr. Sargent's Report by the addition of two pastors, and it was hoped that another would soon be available.

The statistics of PANNEIVILEI are:—Communicants, 489; Native Christian Adherents, 2628; adult baptisms, 41. Dr. Sargent writes:—

The main work of this district lies in the villages contiguous to Panneivilei, in the space of about six square miles. The remaining congregations and schools are greatly dispersed. There are four Pastors in the district, the senior of whom has the oversight of all the villages that do not fall within the limits of the other Pastors; and where there are only deacons, he has to go there also monthly to administer the Lord's Supper. The total increase in the people this year is very small; but the baptized have been added to by about 100, and the communicants by fifteen. Several of the men in the chief congregations are in comfortable circumstances. They contribute fairly to the Church Fund, and show much interest in the working of the Church Council.

Those who remember Dr. Sargent's last report of PANNIKULLAM will learn with deep sorrow that the Zemindar there spoken of as likely to return to the profession of the Gospel, from which he had lapsed, has once again openly renounced Christianity. There are in this district 626 Communicants and 2551 Native Christians. Twenty-three adults have been baptized in the year.

The statistics of NALLUR for 1875 are as follows:—Communicants, 514; Native Christian Adherents, 2898; adult baptisms, 30. Dr. Sargent writes:—

The district remains much as it was last year in regard of numbers; but we have reduced the agents by five, and have secured the services of one man as honorary catechist. The village of Nallur was the first Christian village that I saw on my coming to the Tinnevelly district, some forty years ago. And certainly, as compared with the state of things then, we may say there has been marked improvement in everything,—in their numbers, their education, and in their social and religious condition. In the absence of a resident Missionary, this ought to be the station of a Native pastor. The people of this district have not yet taken the lead they ought in contributing to the support of their teachers according to their ability. This is generally acknowledged, but the hardness of the times just now is advanced as a valid excuse. If promises are fulfilled, I hope to be able next year to report considerable improvement in this matter.

The SURANDEI statistics are:—Communicants, 517; Native Christian Adherents, 2437; adult baptisms, 22. Dr. Sargent writes:—

The Church Council of this district contains several men of independent character, who take a very active part in the business of the Council. One of them has undertaken the office of honorary catechist in his village, and is doing the work well. All the Native pastors now in this district are in priests' orders, which certainly renders them more efficient; but the circle of villages which each has to care for is far too extensive. There is ample room for two more men, if we could obtain them.

From NALLAMALPURAM the statistical returns give 392 Communicants, 1602 Native Christian Adherents, and 14 adult baptisms during the year. Dr. Sargent reports:—

I feel particular pleasure in reporting on this part of the country; for many years ago it was the field of my first Missionary labours. Here the congregations now forming the pastorate all lie within easy distance of each other. A rich belt of land in the south of one of our large sand-hills, is occupied by about twenty-three villages, in each of which we have more or less a number of Christians. I think all these villages may be described as being within an area of four square miles. It was pleasing indeed to see so many old faces at the Nallamalpuram Church. But the old headman of my younger days is now no more. As God blessed his store he became more and more a liberal man. The large brass lamp in the Suvisêshapuram Church, with its seven branches, in imitation of the one in the Temple of Jerusalem, was his gift. The chief congregations in this pastorate are every way improved from what they were when I left this district twenty-eight years ago. Some of the congregations are specially exemplary in the orderly and ready manner in which they respond to the duty of providing for the expenses of their own teachers. The monthly allowance required from the C.M.S. to supplement the Church Fund for pay of pastor and fourteen lay agents, is now reduced to 35 rupees. I entertain the hope of being able, at the close of next year, to relieve the Society altogether from this charge. The schools are doing well, the majority of the attendants being Christian children. The headmen have also got up an English school, which they wish to place under my management; but as yet I have not done so, not being sure that they mean the C.M.S. to be free from all expense on this behalf. I feel that the right course to follow is to make the people pay fully for English education whenever they want it.

MEGNÂNAPURAM.

The statistics of this district are 13,913 Native adherents, 2511 Communicants, and 119 adult baptisms; the corresponding numbers last year being 13,659, 2492, and 127. The pecuniary contributions of the Native Christians are in advance of those of last year. Mr. Dibb, who, as Chairman of the Church Council, watches over the district, is assisted by twelve Native Clergymen. Mr. Dibb writes:—

Efforts of the European Missionary to promote self-support in the Native Church.

As to the Native Church; its development and training for self-government, self-support, and self-extension have been the mark ever before my eye; and in aiming at this mark I have endeavoured to let the Native Clergy do without restriction or interference all they can do; to avoid doing myself what they or the people themselves ought to do; and to use all the influence I possess to check those evils which most easily beset the Native Church, and are adverse to her progress and establishment.

The Native Clergy have been allowed full scope for their energies, and have had independent charge of their flocks, nothing having been interfered with by me except on appeal made to me by the people. But in all other matters, such, for instance, as the holding of prayer-meetings in private houses, the baptism of adults, the preparation of candidates for confirmation, &c., each has enjoyed a freedom and a liberty which make him responsible, and which should therefore promote personal activity and effort.

To avoid doing what is not my work may seem an easy thing, but it is sometimes very far otherwise. I am asked, for instance, to do something which belongs purely to the secular affairs of the people, but which is represented to me as most necessary to be done, and impossible for any but myself to do. I refuse to do it. This, however, is only the beginning of the affair. What follows is the more difficult part. I have to persevere in refusing, to point out how and why I think it better to refuse, and to answer a host of arguments alleged to prove it my duty to comply.

The Committee deeply regret that at one time of the year Mr. Dibb's health so seriously suffered that the medical man almost thought of sending him home. It is earnestly to be hoped that the Tinnevelly Mission and Native Church may be preserved from what would be, humanly speaking, so serious a loss.

Asirvadapuram is one of the divisions of the Megnânapuram district. It is under the immediate charge of the Rev. P. Arumanâyagam. Mr. Arumanâyagam's report, the accuracy of which is cordially endorsed by Mr. Dibb, is very interesting. There is room only for the following extracts in these pages:—

Superstition fleeing before the Gospel.

A Christian woman of one of my villages was dangerously ill of convulsions, some months ago. Her husband brought a heathen physician to attend her (as there were no Christian medical men near them); he felt the pulse, and alarmingly said, "Ah! ah! what shall I say?" repeating it again. The poor husband was anxious to know the real matter with his wife; when the physician said, in a low voice, "You will not take my word." The husband, confused, entreated him to let him know how his wife was. Now he said, in a low, muttering tone, "A demon has possessed her!" Immediately the husband said to the physician, "It is your business to administer medicine to the sick; you have nothing to do with demons; you are unfit to attend my wife." So saying, the husband went and brought another, relating to him all the stories connected with the former. This new man in his turn felt the pulse, and assured them that it is neither demon nor devil, but a malady of the body, and administered medicine. By the help of God she was cured.—The patience and confidence in the Saviour evinced in another Christian woman, who was a victim to cholera, is worthy of mentioning. The schoolmaster was near her preparing medicine for her. She, perceiving this, said, "Sir, do not trouble me with medicines, I shall soon be with the Lord, and shall rest for ever. Conduct me to Him by offering up a prayer," which he did; and, behold, her soul departed to the unseen world very soon after she had gently whispered "Amen." She was a newly married woman.

SIVAGÂSI.

The Rev. R. R. Meadows is Chairman of the Sivagâsi

Church Council. Two Native Clergy, the Rev. V. Vêdanayagam and the Rev. D. Dêvaprasâdham, are associated with him, each having a sub-district of his own. The Native adherents and the Communicants number respectively 4147 and 581, a scarcely appreciable increase over the figures of the preceding year. Forty-two adults were baptized during the year. The absence of increase is sufficiently accounted for by Mr. Meadows' recent revision of his register, as described below. From Mr. Meadows' plain and faithful account it will be seen that, while there is much to thank God for, he has also many claims to the sympathy and prayers of the Lord's people. This devoted and long-experienced Missionary writes as follows :—

Dark side of the character of some classes of Tamil Christians.

Taking the great mass of my people as representatives, before the heathen, of the Christian religion, I am compelled to state that they do not make it attractive to them. Their conduct is, at the best, but slightly elevated above that of the heathen in truthfulness and honesty, in purity, in fidelity to the marriage vow (this more especially applies to those that have come from the lower castes), in knowledge, and in the appreciation of education. There has to be some pressure used in getting promises of subscriptions to the Native Church Fund, and an immense deal of time expended and annoyance endured in asking repeatedly for its payment; and after all, the sums are not commensurate with the ability of the people. Those who stand lowest in every respect are the Christians [of] Pariah [descent] in some six villages. Their principal fault, and that which specially keeps them low, is their habit of contracting heathen marriages. And, alas! four out of these villages have been under Christian instruction for thirty or forty years! I have exercised very severe discipline—re-writing the list of professing Christians, excluding those who would not promise to abide by the Christian law of marriage or keep the Sabbath, and expelling without mercy every person who wilfully transgresses. I think there are manifest signs of improvement, chiefly owing to the efforts of the earnest, single-minded, devoted, sympathizing Catechist whom I have lately placed among them. He is himself [of] Pariah [origin], and was in my boarding-school. He is gaining a most healthy influence over the people. The women especially are drawn to the reading-class of the Catechist's wife, who reads to them Christian stories, and allures them to higher things. Such men as this Catechist are among the sure signs that our work is the work of God. But for God's grace, he and his wife would be as debased, as unholy, as animal, as the Pariah heathen generally. Wherever such men are, there light is spreading abroad. In most of the congregations individual Christians can be found who are living consistent lives. The earnest piety of the Tasildar and his family is most conspicuous. So that, although the shadows are undoubtedly deep and widespread, there are here and there gleams of sunshine. We are, however, very far indeed removed from self-support and self-government yet, whether we look at the teachers or the people.

Vagcikulam.

This sub-district, which is under the care of the Sivagâsi Native Church Council, has for its Pastor the Rev. V. Vêdanayagam. The statistical returns give 166 Communicants and 1563 Native adherents. The latter number is a diminution from last year, owing partly, perhaps, to the sad fallings away mentioned in the subjoined extracts from Mr. Vêdanayagam's Annual Letter, but chiefly, no doubt, to Mr. Meadows' revision of the register referred to above; so that the net decrease is apparent only, not real. There have been thirty-three adult baptisms. Mr. Vêdanayagam writes:—

We have no accessions this year from heathenism coming in groups to place themselves under instruction; nor have we sufficient reason to be satisfied with those inquirers who came in the previous year; most of whom are halting between two opinions, and almost keeping themselves away from the means of grace. So I fear I shall have to strike off their names from the roll before long. I am equally unable to speak favourably of all the baptized Christians. Intermarriage with the heathen is a great temptation, and one which some of our people do not overcome. Two families of baptized Christians have already fallen from this cause, and cut themselves off from the means of grace. Their loss is, however, not felt, as they had already been as withered trees encumbering the ground. I have had the privilege of admitting this year into the visible Church of Christ, through baptism, thirty-three adults from five different [heathen] castes, varying from twenty to eighty years old. One of them is an old man [of] Naik [descent] living not far from Kalugumali. He heard of the Gospel from the lips of the late Rev. P. Schaffter some thirty years since; but never had the courage to come forward for baptism until last April, when he was encouraged to take this step by the examples of the Christians of Kalugumali. He met with much opposition from his own wife and son, whose frownings and threatening he manfully faced. He has his defects, occasionally giving way to a hasty temper. But there is a peculiarity in him which is worthy of notice. He gets up every day at 4 a.m., and knocks at the doors of his heathen neighbours; and, when entrance is given to him, he continues to preach Christ to them till six, when he goes to his daily work. At twelve, after having his dinner, he goes to the rest-house in his village and proclaims the Gospel to those assembled there. This he does almost every day.

Work among the heathen in the large towns.

The Rev. V. W. Harcourt, who is engaged in this work, writes as follows:—

Not long ago the Home Committee wished to know whether some more direct effort could not be made to reach [certain particular] classes of Hindu society; and the Madras Committee consequently asked us to draw up in conference a plan of action. This new work seemed more especially to fall to the lot of Messrs. Honiss, Horsley, and myself—both Mr. Honiss and I having little district work, and Mr. Horsley having come out with a view to this especial work. My own plan, approved by the conference, was to choose as centres for work the most populous and influential towns; to employ in each centre a staff of labourers, consisting of an experienced catechist of good social standing, a colporteur, and an Anglo-Vernacular schoolmaster in connexion with a good school. Also in each centre I proposed to have a book depot or reading-room. The Missionary was to visit one of these centres every month; and, either in a tent or available house, remain a week or ten days, and visit the town itself thoroughly, and the surrounding towns within a radius of three or four miles. The plan has been a success in so far as in the effort to carry it out: the heathen of the higher classes have been addressed more frequently and more efficiently than had been heretofore done in these parts. The heathen have seen a distinct and fresh organization busying itself with their spiritual welfare, and commanding their attention by the social standing of the Evangelists. Indeed, our advent has sometimes occasioned quite a sensation in a town. I have also combined the holding of meetings in public buildings with street-preaching, and have found such occasions rare opportunities for presenting the Gospel without obstruction to a body of intelligent Natives. But the means available have been vastly disproportionate to the ends. (1.) The men peculiarly fitted for the work have not been forthcoming. (2.) My own efforts have been sadly interfered with by calls from other work. I have indeed been able to take the field every month as proposed, but I have had no leisure to prepare myself by study of the Vernacular, Sanscrit, and of the European works bearing on Hindu philosophy. A knowledge of the Hindu system, or systems, is not needed for the simple proclamation of the Gospel; but it is much needed to command attention and silence objections. For this great work I have only two or three agents; but by patient and prayerful waiting, and by persevering efforts to induce educated Native gentlemen to join the work, I continue to hope that one by one the requisite men will offer themselves. I have four permanent evangelists, four schoolmasters, and two colporteurs. The monthly pay of these agents is 10*l.* 10*s.* The Native Church in Tinnevelly has aided me by two subscriptions, paid through the Rev. Dr. Sargent and Rev. R. R. Meadows.

III. Travancore and Cochin.

(Commenced in 1816.)

The Mission is divided into five districts: 1. Cottayam, Pallam, and Mundakayam; 2, Mâvelikara and Tiruwella; 3. Allepie; 4. Trichur; 5. Kunankulam.

Rev. John Hunter Bishop, B.A. (m), 1867.
Rev. John Caley (m), 1871.
Rev. William J. Richards (m), 1871.

During the year 1875 there were 702 adult baptisms in the Travancore Mission; the number of Native Christian adherents advanced from 16,232 to 17,672, and of Communicants from 4068 to 4107.

The Rev. J. M. Speechly thus reports of the Cambridge Nicholson Institution:—

In the past year, in addition to the ordinary students, I have had the four deacons, recently ordained priests, reading in the institution. I have spent my efforts chiefly on them, and have had some kind assistance from the Rev. A. Thoma. The first master in the institution [Mr. Jacob Chandy, son of a much-respected Native Missionary of the same name who died in 1870] has been ordained deacon. The second master gained the first Greek Testament Bishop's prize, open to the whole Presidency; and one of the students gained the first Vernacular Bishop's prize. The work of the Institution has gone on satisfactorily. A stiffer entrance examination, and the fee of one rupee per month, will, I hope, secure a better class of students. Our entrance this year will number seven or eight students. The Madras Corresponding Committee has granted a sum for scholarships. This grant followed on a letter upon the question by the Principal of the COTTAYAM COLLEGE to enable pious youths from the college who have matriculated, or have entered his highest form, to take up a course of theological reading and fit themselves for mission work. I am glad to say we entered one last year on this foundation. Our good Bishop has also founded a scholarship in the institution to be called the "Bishop Gell Scholarship," and I have appointed a promising student as the first scholar. Schools of theology and philosophy should be in every Asiatic Mission. These schools should be well supplied with two Europeans at the least, whose work should be not only educational, but evangelistic and literary. The ancient religious systems of the people should be studied; dogmatic theology should be taught; and, remembering that "prevention is better than cure," the early heresies of the Christian Church should be well studied, and instruction should be given pointing out what they added to, or subtracted from, the true system of Christian doctrine.

Need of well-instructed men for the Native Church.

The COTTAYAM COLLEGE is under the charge of the Rev. J. H. Bishop, who was assisted during the year 1875 by the Rev. W. J. Richards. The failure of Mr. Speechly's health subsequently compelled the transfer of Mr. Richards to the CAMBRIDGE NICHOLSON INSTITUTION. The college contains 167 pupils, of whom 144 are Native Christian (Protestant or Syrian), twenty are Hindus, and three are Europeans or Eurasians. Mr. Bishop writes:—

As an illustration of the direct influence of the college for good on the Syrian community, I would mention that last Sunday week (December 19) I attended a large Syrian prayer-meeting, held in a school-room at Anchéri, about six miles from Cottayam. The service comprised singing Christian lyrics, reading and exposition of Scripture, and prayer. The interesting feature of the Syrian Church at Anchéri is that twenty Chogan converts have been lately received into that Church by baptism, and a large number of Pulayen converts have also been made. On account of the opposition of the anti-reform party to admit these low-caste converts into the Syrian Church, the latter have been transferred to our Protestant Church at Ericarte. I saw some of the Chogan converts, who were present at the meeting. When I congratulated these Syrian Christians, one of their leaders said, "It is all owing to his zeal," pointing to the Syrian Catanar (presbyter) by my side. This young man was formerly a pupil in the college as a Syrian deacon.

Influence of the Cottayam College on the Syrian Church.

The college is also a direct Mission agency for the heathen.

Missionary work of the Cottayam College.

Our number of heathen pupils are slowly but steadily increasing. I expect a considerable increase this next year. I was much pleased with the intelligent answers in Scripture of some of the heathen boys at our late annual examination. One, in a class of thirty, obtained the Scripture prize. He had formerly been a pupil in Mr. Speechly's model school. Direct mission work is carried on every Wednesday afternoon by Mr. Richards and myself, assisted by the senior students. This work consists solely of preaching to the heathen. On Sundays some students are sent out two and two to private heathen schools to impart Scriptural instruction to the schoolmasters and pupils. To encourage the schoolmasters to collect their pupils for this purpose we pay them each one rupee a month. Neither the schoolmasters nor the parents object to the Bible teaching. To defray this and other incidental expenses, we have a Cottayam College C.M. Association.

The college may also be considered as an agency for the moral and intellectual improvement of our Native Protestant Christians. Our Native clergymen, and the wealthier and more respectable of our Christian laymen, can here obtain for their sons a sound liberal education, based on Christian principles.

COTTAYAM DISTRICT.

In the district connected with the Cottayam Native Church Council, of which the Rev. H. Baker is chairman, Christian ministrations are supplied by eight Native Clergymen, who are assisted by seventy-three unordained Christian Teachers. The Native Communicants, at the date of Mr. Baker's Annual Letter, numbered 1868, the Native Adherents 9997. The adults baptized during the year were 233, besides a proportion of 229, who are marked in Mr. Baker's table as "adults or children not specified." The numbers of Communicants and Native Adherents in the previous year were respectively 1849 and 8931. God has thus graciously granted a large increase to the number of those who are brought within the Gospel net. The cheering impression which these statistics give is, on the whole, borne out by the general tenor of Mr. Baker's letter. He writes to one of the Secretaries, under date Cottayam, 6th December, 1875, as follows:—

I had the Bishop here for a fortnight, and had 970 of my people confirmed. One deacon and four priests were ordained in my Church (Sunday, the 21st of November), on which occasion there were 287 communicants. We had our General Church Council and our Missionary Conference, on both which occasions the Bishop and your Madras Secretary were present, and many important matters were discussed.—The Bishop could not go to one of the places (MUNDAKAYAM), where I had 211 candidates for confirmation waiting him; but he did get up to the Arian villages at Malkavu; and in Miss Solteau's Church he had a sight which rejoiced his heart, for his words trembled when he thanked God for being able to see them. The ready answers of the people at his questioning them, their heartiness in the prayers, and earnest demeanour, confirmed the belief that they were Christians in faith and hope.—At Curimbanadum, another centre for confirmation—where some of the candidates were rich in this world's goods, others lately slaves, some had been Hindus, some devil-worshippers—251 were confirmed; and then four wrought stones were brought forward, and, in a pit dug down to the living rock, each was laid by two men. The first couple had been Syrians, the next Shanars, the third Pariahs, and the fourth Pularies; and the Bishop asked God's blessing on this act as laying the corner buttress of a new Church for Christ's worship, where all are one—one baptism, one Lord, one faith, one hope, and one life to come.—In Cottayam Church, under the nave, shut in by the lofty Gothic arches, I had 551 assembled for confirmation. Some of these were young men from the College, Peter Cator prize lads, and some matriculated, I believe. Students from the Nicholson Institution, too, were there. Then there were fifty-three young women and girls, educated in the two girls' boarding-schools; and then came the mixed multitude of those who had escaped heathenism, had professed Christianity four and five years past, and had now come to testify their satisfaction and renew their vows before the Bishop.—On the Sunday following [when the ordination took place] the Church had over 1000 people in it; three of the candidates then ordained I had baptized as infants. Mar Athanasius (the Syrian Bishop) had, as usual, sent priests and deacons to represent him. The so-called Patriarch of Antioch—who has not only put out the Malayalim Bible from the churches he has visited, but forbids his people to read it or to attend our schools or to have their females educated, and who, in a letter to the Churches, has declared Mary our only mediator and intercessor, our only hope in life and joy in death—was at the Cottayam little church, not far away, during our services. Syrian prayers, firing of guns, and ringing of bells formed their occupation; the prayers being understood by none. During this time we were listening to a very good sermon, preached by one of the late Mr. Peet's pupils, Mr. Kuruwella, now an able minister of the Church. Would our old Missionaries [now at rest] could have seen the church on this occasion—Bailey, Baker, Peet, Hawksworth! They may have done so; it may be permitted. But pray let your honoured father [Rev. Joseph Fenn], another of the founders in this work, hear how we progress.

Confirmations in Travancore.

Ordination at Cottayam.

That I have large accessions yearly to my professing Christians is as certain as that a greater moral feeling, a closer regard for Scripture, and greater earnestness for education, is becoming more and more apparent among all our people. Books we must have, and higher teaching in the more important truths of Christianity must be given, in order that those deceiving and being deceived should be better instructed, and the faithful guarded against error. That the new men supplied as teachers are certainly more able than those we have had to select from hitherto is certain; but we must have a few more Europeans to stand in the front, who can express themselves fluently and have the confidence of the people, and will look at passing events from a Native standpoint, while they have English mind and energy. Here we have each year Satan drilling his agents with all the acuteness of European thought and Native cunning. If simple argument and historic evidence had sufficed, it were easy. But the holiness of the God-Man, the reasonableness of Christianity, the unity of the scheme of the Bible, the perfections of the Deity, must be shown on the one hand; on the other, the utter insufficiency of any other religion must be pointed out with candour, judgment, and fairness; and all this so as to be clearly understood by the Native in his vernacular.

Need of able teachers for the Native Christians of Travancore.

MÂVELIKARA.

In the various districts connected with the Mâvelikara Church Council there are 6262 Native Adherents, of whom 1635 are Communicants. One hundred and fifty adults were baptized during the year. The Chairman of the Council is the Rev. J. Caley, with whom seven Native ordained brethren are associated. Mr. Caley writes, under date Jan. 15, 1876:—

During the last two years I have laboured more for the further instruction of those who were already baptized than at the increase of numbers. This was necessary, and it has yielded fruit. During the present year there will be more baptisms, for there are several who have been some time under instruction. On Tuesday I hope to baptize some of the Eastern Pulayans at Irûr, whose teacher is supported by the "Blind sons of gentlemen." A Syrian priest has promised to give me some land on which to build a school, and also to help the work as much as possible. We are reaching farther east in Tiruwella district, and the Rev. P. M. Werghese is also extending his Katanam pastorate eastwards in the Mâvelikara district. There is no stagnation in the Mission, but the very opposite. There is great danger, however, that the present excitement should cause stagnation. The agitation caused by the interference of the Patriarch, and the feverish excitement caused by the false prophet and the Joseph party, are both of them unnatural and transitory; but it is not at all unlikely that a state of things may be produced which will resemble that of a man when recovering from fever. The best antidote is faithful and earnest work, performed in full reliance upon God the Holy Ghost for wisdom and guidance.

The "excitement caused by the false prophet" is a very sad incident, which need not be more than briefly touched upon. A Syrian Christian, in May, 1875, gave out that he had had a revelation announcing that after six years our Blessed Lord would be manifested in the clouds. The Rev. Justus Joseph, one of the Native Pastors connected with the Society, was unhappily led to believe in this prediction and in the divine inspiration of the man who uttered it. He therefore issued a proclamation stating that there were only six years to the end of the world. About the same time the Pastor himself thought he had a vision in which the Saviour commanded him to tell his people "to confess all their sins one by one." Confessions of this kind were accordingly made in public, entering into details of a most improper and revolting kind. Subsequently, however, in an interview with Mr. Caley, Mr. Joseph promised to substitute for these confessions "after-meetings," such as have been allowed by authority in "Mission weeks" in England. But the promise was broken; and afterwards, on Mr. Joseph's being called to account by the Bishop of Madras during a visit to Travancore, he separated himself from the Bishop and the Society altogether, carrying away with him his two brothers, who had been successful revivalist preachers, and two small congregations. Some of the seceders, however, have already returned. This strange movement has been joined by no less than 3000 Syrian Christians. Looking at the matter in its connexion with the recent revival, the Committee cannot but agree with Mr. Caley in regarding it as "a master-stroke of Satan to destroy a good work." But there is One who is stronger than the strong man, and whose wisdom can annul Satan's cunning. The Committee ask for prayer on behalf of the Joseph family and the Christians of Mâvelikara.

Of the Schools Mr. Caley writes as follows:—

> The Mission village schools are in a transition state. The Sircar (Native Government) has promised Rs. 15,000 to be distributed among C.M.S. schools, L.M.S. schools, Syrian schools, and Roman Catholic schools; but the manner in which it is to be given is not very clear yet. I have entered twelve schools out of fifty, so we shall see after awhile how it works.

ALLEPPIE.

The Rev. W. Johnson still labours at this station. The Native Adherents connected with it number 832, of whom 183 are Communicants. Sixty-three adults were baptized during the year. These numbers for the previous year were respectively, 707, 169, and ten. An old resident of Alleppie recently, on his return from Europe, undertook and completed at his own expense the thorough repairing of the church. The cost of this work was Rs. 2500. Mr. Johnson speaks of his congregation as being for the most part "poor in this world's goods," while "many of them are rich in faith." In the schools upwards of 300 children are receiving instruction; but the Missionary sorrows over the "little evidences of the Spirit's work" amongst them. Of the out-stations Mr. Johnson speaks as follows:—

This feature of our work has been the most interesting during the past year. The work among the Cunner Pulayans has been advanced, and those who have enlisted under the banner of Christ crucified have as yet remained firm to their baptismal vows. New work has been opened up in four fresh out-stations, and those who have lately joined have come forward in households and families, and (we hope) do so with sincere motives, and not to serve their private ends and purposes, as some of their predecessors.

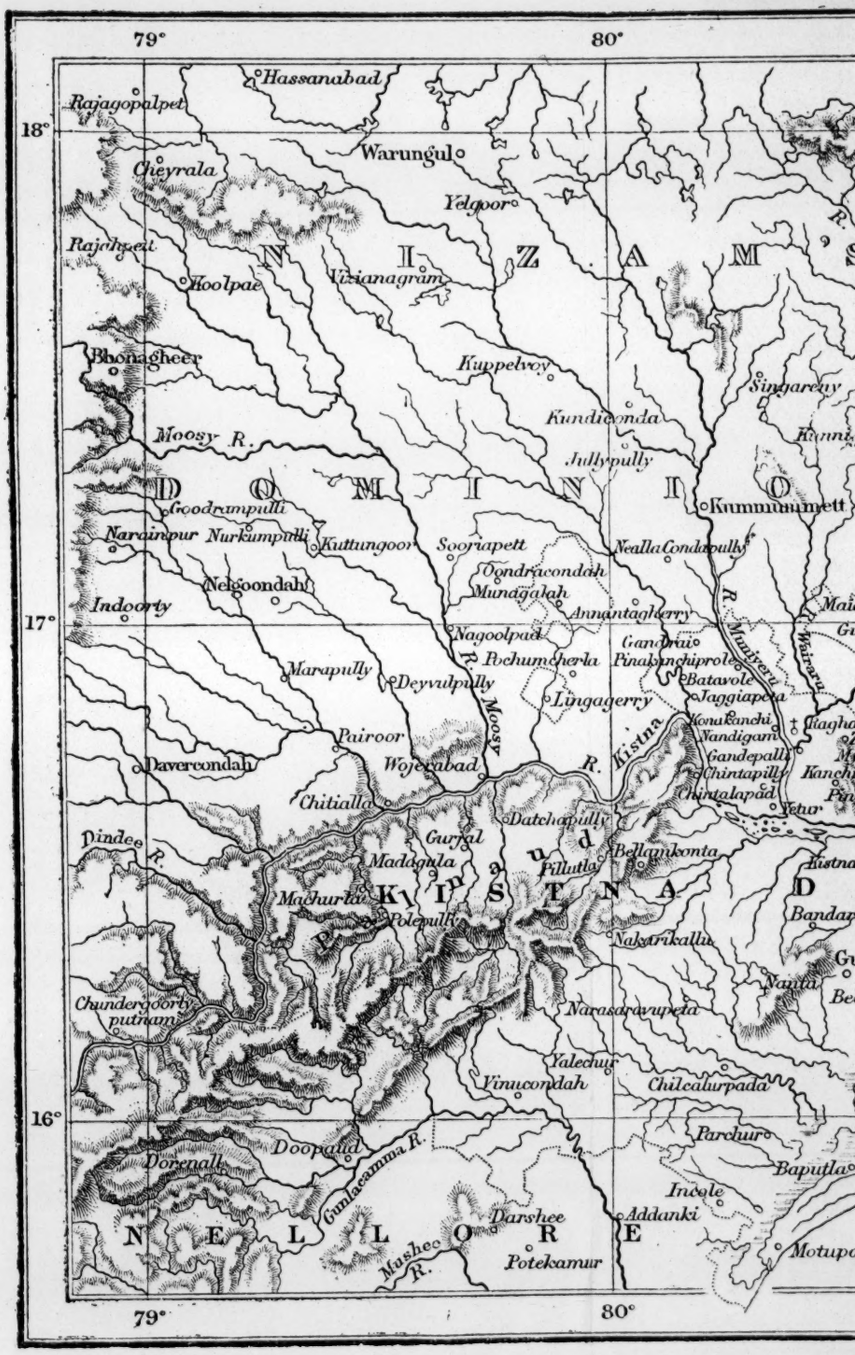

TRICHUR AND KUNANKULAM.

Each of these stations ought to have two European Missionaries attached to it. Instead of this, so scanty has the supply been of Missionary labourers from the Church in England, that the Committee have been compelled to place both stations under the care of one Missionary,—the Rev. F. Bower.

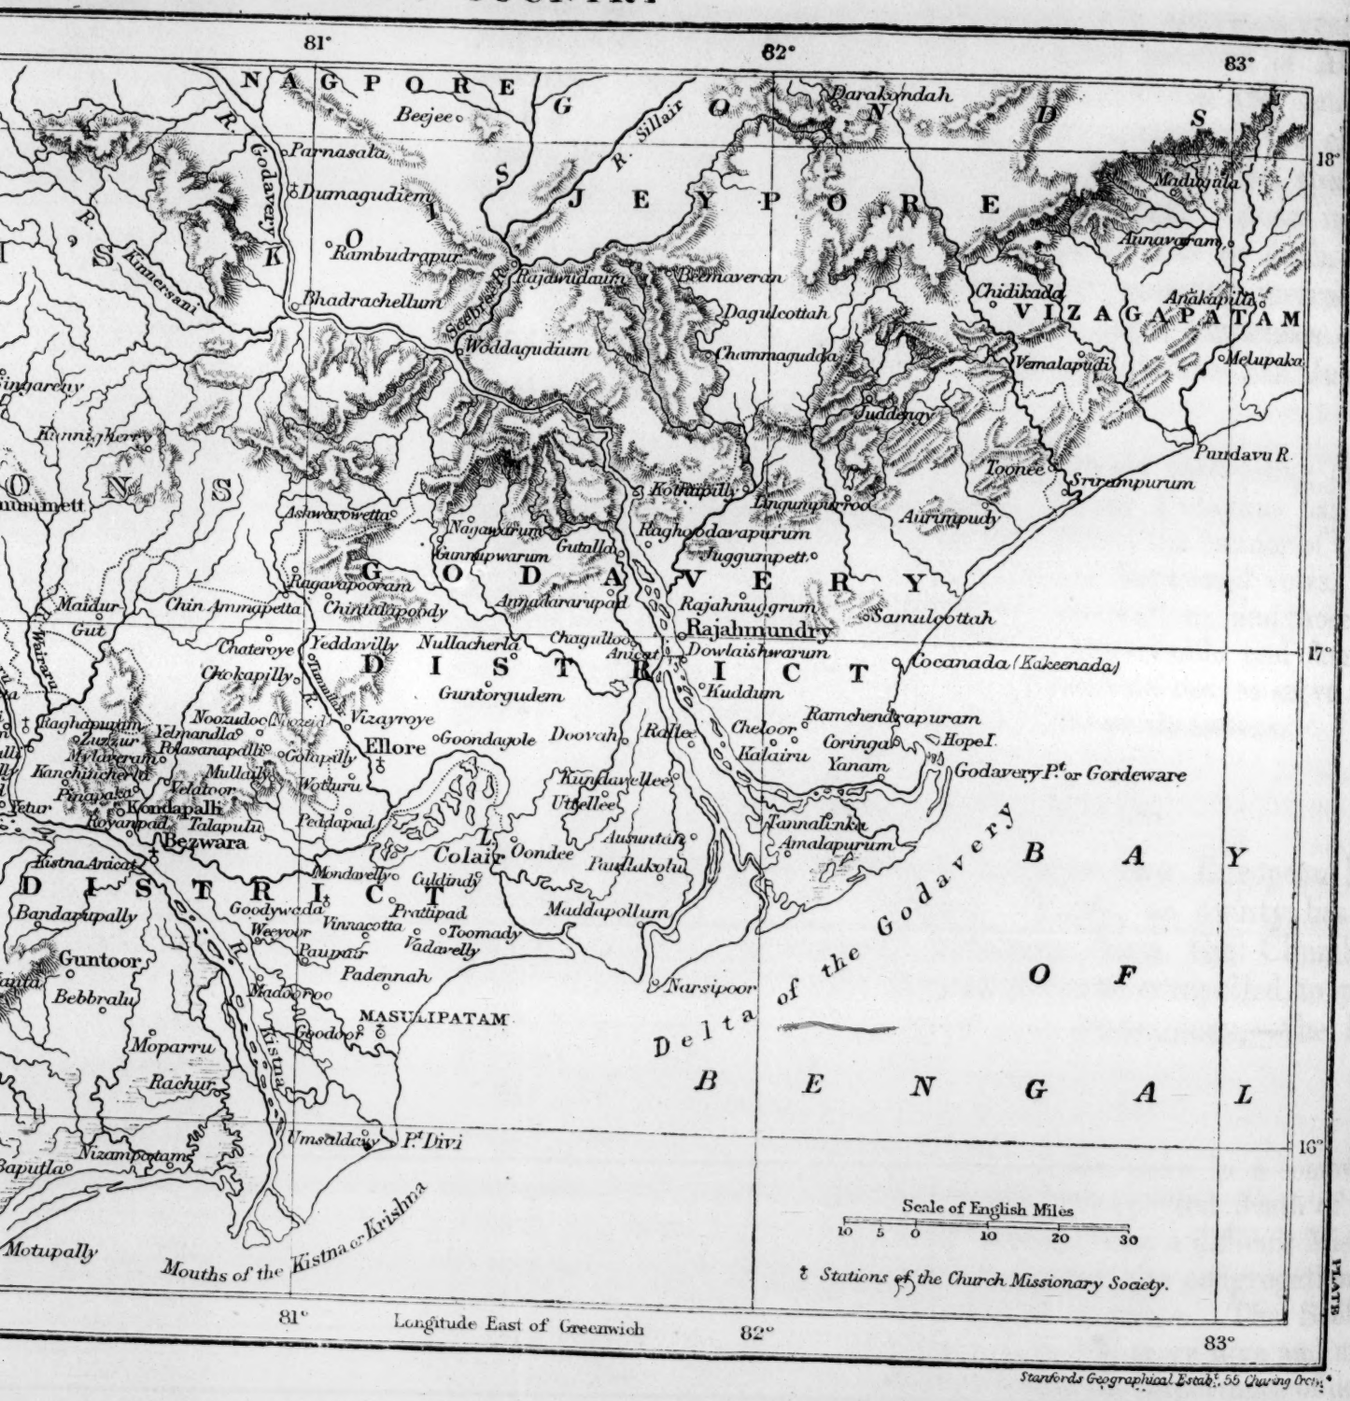

Mr. Bower writes:—

When I took charge of TRICHUR, things were in a somewhat confused state, owing to the illness and unexpected death of Mr. Smith, my predecessor. This has always been a difficult Mission to manage. During the past year, however, the congregation, by God's blessing, has improved in several respects. The Sabbath is much better observed; and there is much more love and unity amongst them. They also begin to realize the importance of doing their best towards self-support, and take more interest in the welfare of their church. There have been thirty-eight baptisms, viz. twenty-eight infants and ten adults, three of the latter [having been while heathen] of the slave caste. The Bishop paid us a visit in December last, and held a confirmation. There were sixty-seven candidates present, and we should have had more but for sickness. The people thoroughly appreciated his lordship's address.

Things have gone on much as usual in the congregation at KUNANKULAM. They are very poor, but are trying to do what they can towards self-support. Although this station at present is but small and isolated, the district is a large and important one, and an European Missionary should be sent there as soon as possible.

The schools in both districts are getting on fairly as to numbers, though they are not so efficient as I could wish. My dear wife has at last, after a great struggle, succeeded in getting about sixty Nair girls to attend school in the town, some of whom have parents in good positions. We have not yet, however, been able to get suitable places for schools, nor efficient masters. Mrs. Bower has also visited some Brahmin and Nair ladies of the more respectable families in the place, and has induced a few of them to read some of our Christian books.

Preaching to the heathen has been carried on as usual, though I have not been able to do so much as I could have wished. Nearly all classes continue to listen with respectful attention to the story of redeeming love, and a much larger number of book and tracts have been sold this year than last. The other day a man, who was bringing some Prayer-books from Cottayam for me, was accosted by four Nambûries, Malabar Brahmins, one of whom, after reading parts of the Prayer-book, exclaimed, "This is very good indeed; I should like to possess this book." He afterwards purchased it, though his companions protested against his doing so. He also said, "I had a part of one of your volumes in my house some time ago" (evidently the New Testament, from the description which he gave of it), "and a most excellent book it was, but I unfortunately lost it. I would willingly give five rupees for another copy."

IV. Telugu Mission.

The Mission comprises Masulipatam, 1841; Ellore, 1854; Bêzwâra 1858; the Koi Mission, 1860; Raghapuram, 1872.

European Mission Establishment:

Rev. Thomas Young Darling (m), joined in India, 1847: at home.
Rev. Charles Tanner (m), 1857: at home.
Rev. Frederick William Nassau Alexander, M.A. (m), 1857.

Rev. William Ellington (m), 1860.
Rev. John Sharp, M.A. (m), 1861.
Rev. John Harrison (m), 1867.
Rev. Joseph Edwin Padfield (m), 1868.
Rev. John Cain, 1869.
Rev. Walter Clayton (m), 1869: at home.
Rev. William George Baker, 1872.
Rev. Alfred Morgan, 1872.
Rev. William Mitchell (m), to Travancore 1872, to the Telugu Mission 1874.
Rev. James S. Stone, 1875.
Mr. John Thornton (m), 1864, Training Master: absent on leave.
Mr. Thompson, joined in India, 1875.
Mrs. Sharkey.

During the last ten years or more, the Committee have been especially desirous to strengthen the Telugu Mission. Ten new Missionaries have been sent to it during that period, eight of whom are still attached to it, though one of these latter is at present in England recruiting his health, which had given way. But the number is still far below what is required for the increased openings and the expanding work.

Since the year 1865, the number of Native Adherents has increased from 642 to 3540, and that of Communicants from 137 to 567. This advance has been nearly uniform throughout all the five districts.

MASULIPATAM.

An interesting account of the Noble High School has been given by the Rev. J. Sharp in a private letter, printed, by permission, in the Church Missionary Intelligencer for March, 1870, Extracts are subjoined:—

Account of a Missionary Collegiate School.

Our annual course of study is divided into two unequal terms. One is a little over four months; the other not quite six. The University Examinations begin on December 15th, and last five days. After a month's vacation, the school reopens about January 20th, and we go on to as near the beginning of June as the weather will let us. In May the fierce unclouded sun is passing us on his northward course, and the wind comes with scorching heat from the south-west. The thermometer is usually over 100 deg. in the shade for a large part of the day. The grass has disappeared, and the burning sand blisters feet unprotected by sandals. Parents are afraid to let little boys come to school in such weather. Many of our pupils have to come two miles or more, and two such journeys have to be made in the full heat of the day. Hence education has to succumb to weather. After a month's vacation, when the first burst of the south-west monsoon in June has improved the temperature a little, we begin again, and go steadily on till nearly Christmas.—The heat is only endurable with plenty of doors and windows through which the wind can pass. This deprives us of the advantage of being able to shut each class up with its teacher in a separate room. All have to be open on every side, and, as they are contiguous, the noise is often a great trouble. Natives are accustomed to pronounce their own languages in a very loud tone, and seem unable as teachers to drop the habit.—Our school hours are hampered by the climate, and by native customs. We usually begin at 6.45 a.m. and close at 10, reopening at 2.30 and closing at 5.30. During the hottest season the hours are half an hour earlier in the morning and half an hour later in the evening. The Brahmans, who form the most numerous class both among masters and boys, only take food twice a day, about noon and 8 p.m. Before doing so they have to bathe and go through a variety of religious ceremonies. We begin every morning with prayers for a quarter of an hour; for the upper school in English; for the lower in Telugu. A small portion of Scripture is read, explained, or made the subject of questions in public, and then a short prayer is read, all standing up. Then each form has its own Bible lesson for an hour some time in the course of the day. But when there are only three or four Christian teachers on the whole staff, some intricacy is involved in arranging that each form may go to one or other of them in the limited periods of the day during which school is held.—Only a small portion of the cost is yet borne by the school fees, though it has been increased sixfold within the last few years. The greatest contributor is the Church Missionary Society (including the Fox Fund), and the next is the Government in the shape of grants in aid of the salaries of the masters. Both the Society and the Government keep a keen eye upon the expenditure and its results.—Rugby helps us nobly with money. Oh! how intensely I long to see it help us with a master to represent the fund. Year after year goes by, and no University man offers himself for this most interesting and important work. It takes fully two years of steady work for a man to become efficient in Telugu and gain some experience in Indian matters. I am therefore now most anxiously looking to see whether any graduate will come forward for the work. It is very nearly ten years since Mr. Noble died. During all this time the C.M.S. Committee have only been able to send out one man definitely as Fox Master—the Rev. J. Cain, from the C.M.S. Islington College. He was well suited to the work, and began to do all he could in the school from the first, even while studying Telugu hard for half the day; but the moist climate of this place did not agree with him, and, after working here for 1870 and part of 1871, he had to move to an inland station. The Home Committee say that when graduates do offer themselves for Mission work, they almost invariably stipulate that it is to be "evangelistic," not "educational;" but my conviction is strong that, in the present state of India, decidedly Christian educationists are as much wanted for the higher castes as simple evangelists are for the lower. The endless punctilios of caste keep us at arm's length from the most influential classes among the natives. They may not eat with us, nor we with them. Very few will shake hands with us or receive us into their houses farther than the verandah. No doubt a great upheaval of all this is being effected by the spread of the "higher education" through Government as well as Mission schools; but the influence of the former is necessarily almost entirely destructive of old beliefs, without recommending any better substitute in their place. For "neutrality" in teaching comes practically to this, that any heathen or Mohammedan religious books may be taught, with implicit confidence by the Pandits or Munshis, or with ridicule by an Englishman; but Christian prayer must never be seen, or Bible teaching be heard, in school. The graduates who come out to hold Government head-masterships and professorships are, I believe, usually very talented men, whose influence is intellectually and morally beneficial to their pupils; but it is almost indispensable to accepting such a post that a man should not feel very strongly the importance of the most distinctively Christian doctrines and practices—at any rate, as far as his pupils are concerned—and he feels, at best, bound in honour to keep a long way from liability to the stigma of any "proselytizing" tendencies.—The average number on the rolls for 1874-5 was 325; the average daily attendance for 1874-5 was 300.—Our appearance in the University Examinations in December, 1874, was only poor. Including an assistant master, eight went up for the first examination in arts, but only three passed. One of them, however, carried off the Macdonald Gold Medal, which is given to the youth who passes highest in the year's examinations from any school in the whole of the northern circars. For the Matriculation Examination twenty boys presented themselves, but only three passed. There are one or two things which palliate our failures. I was myself all but killed on Sunday evening, March 29th, my horse having thrown me. I was absent from school for April, May, and June, and during a good deal even of that time I was obliged to do much superintendence work at home.

On another point Mr. Sharp writes:—

One point of interest must not be wholly omitted. It has long been felt a most pressing part of our work to get some education and Christian teaching given to female relatives of our boys. This was begun in 1870, and is slowly gaining ground. For the first time this year 141 caste girls were drawn out of their seclusion to receive their prizes in public in the School Hall.

The VERNACULAR TRAINING INSTITUTION has been under the charge of the Rev. J. E. Padfield. The following passages are extracted from his Annual Letter:—

Last year, when I wrote, the number of students was twenty-eight, of whom twenty-one were boarders. At present the students number thirty-nine; of whom thirty-three are in the boarding-house. During the year several have gone out to take up posts in the Mission-field—one as a village schoolmaster in the Masulipatam district, one as a master far away up at Dumagudem, and one to help in the schools at Ellore. Another, our head student, I am about to employ as an assistant master in the Institution. Several more would have gone out, were it not that we have been very unfortunate this year with the candidates for the Government schoolmaster's certificate examination. With one or two exceptions all our students here are of Pariah origin, and most of them of the first generation from the deep deep depths of the dark heathenism and dense ignorance of that down-trodden people. We have, then, to struggle with the effects of generations and generations of a state little higher than that of the buffalo they drive to plough. In spite, however, of the nature of the materials we have to work upon, there are many now engaged in our part of the Mission-field who have gone through this Institution, and who are workmen of whom we need not be ashamed. It is not by might nor by power—His is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory.

Struggle with difficulties arising from hereditary mental degradation.

Besides the Practising School, we have also a Mohammedan School on the same premises, with seventy-four scholars. This is the only direct effort in the whole town to teach the Gospel to the Mussulmans, of whom there are a good many.

The Rev. W. Ellington is the Missionary of the DISTRICT. The Native Adherents amount to 1350, of whom 156 are Communicants. Twenty adults have been baptized during the year. The number of Catechumens is comparatively large. Their depressed social condition throws a difficulty in the way of their acquiring such knowledge as is deemed necessary before baptism. On coming forward as inquirers they are not unfrequently cast off by their former employers, and are thus compelled to go to a distance from their homes to find work. A Masulipatam Church Council has now been formed. Its members are delegates from six centres, where the Holy Communion is administered, and which before long (Mr. Ellington hopes) will become pastorates. In 1868, the Masulipatam congregation was the only one where there were Communicants.

During the past year, four agents who had previously been school teachers, have been appointed itinerating evangelists. Their duty is to pay frequent visits to the villages that ask for instruction. If due appreciation is shown of these visits, resident teachers are appointed as soon as they can be obtained.

BEZWÂRA.

The Native Christian adherents of Bezwâra number 754, as compared with 603 in the year previous. The baptized have increased from 143 to 185. The Communicants number 46. No further particulars have been communicated to the Committee of the work of the year.

RAGHAPURAM.

The Rev. W. Ellington has charge of this district as well as of Masulipatam. The statistics are:—Native Adherents, 665; Communicants, 228; Adult baptisms, 46. Mr. Ellington writes under date December 6, 1875:—

Ten years ago, whilst residing at Bezwâra, I generally came out here about once a month to look after the few sheep which were then to be found in about seven villages; now there are Christians or Catechumens in more than fifty villages. The Missionary then worked almost single-handed; now our staff of agents consists of eighteen male and nine female teachers. I think it was in my Annual Letter of 1865 that I ventured to express myself hopefully regarding the future, on the ground of there being at that time some promising boys under training in the institution at Masulipatam. The recollection of this was pleasing to me on the 1st instant, as the present band of teachers sat around me giving accounts of their time and work, and passing on the whole a good examination in the lessons which had been set them two months before.—In the month of July one of the oldest of our Christians, and one of those who came out at the first, was taken to his rest. He was not able to articulate distinctly at the time of my arrival. I said to him, "Are you happy?" but I did not catch his reply. They, however, who were standing by, instantly gave it me, and it was this, "He is the Way, the Truth, and the Life."

Hope in death.

There is much difficulty in keeping up the elementary schools. This arises partly from the extreme poverty of the people, and partly from the Christians (baptized and catechumens) being dispersed over so wide an area. The 665 Native Adherents are in upwards of fifty different villages; and in thirty-six of these villages the total aggregate number of baptized adults does not exceed 120. But Mr. Ellington expresses his firm belief that this state of things, notwithstanding the difficulty it involves, will ultimately result in greater glory to the Master, and more widely diffused spiritual benefit among the population generally.

DUMAGUDEM.

The Rev. J. Cain and the Rev. J. V. Razu,—a European and a Native brother,—work together here in fraternal union. The Native Adherents number 299; of whom 59 are Communicants. Twelve adults have been baptized during the year. Of these ten are Kois. Dumagudem is the centre of the Mission among that interesting aboriginal tribe. The district has suffered very much in years gone by and up to the present time, from the misconduct of those whose duty it was to advance the Kingdom of Christ. Mr. Cain writes under date 21st December, 1875:—

Ten years ago there were nearly 100 Koi children at school receiving Christian instruction; but at the end of 1873 there was only one. In every case the schools came to an end in consequence of the hindrances caused by the teachers; and thus the desire to hear the Gospel gradually died away; and now, when the subject is brought up, it is too often listened to with but languid interest.—The Kois are a people that dwell alone, not caring to mix with the Hindus, nor allowing the Hindus to mix with them; so that there is in reality no sympathy between them. Consequently the words of a Christian Hindu fall with less effect upon the ears of a Koi than they would if they were spoken by one of his own tribe. A few Christian Kois are not ashamed to speak of Christ in their own quiet way to their own friends and relatives; but we need some who will go out to the villages far off, and "compel" their friends and kinsfolk to come into the fold of Christ. At present we have no Koi evangelists and teachers (all our present staff consists of Hindu Christians), and until we have them I do not think that the work will make much progress. But in consequence of the suspicions of the Kois and of their want of sympathy with the Hindus, it is impossible at present to come to establish either a boarding or training school for Koi teachers.—In one village, where there was formerly a very promising school, we have hopes of being able to begin the work again, more especially as several of the principal young men have not left off reading the Gospel at spare moments; and a few days ago one of them asked for a little book which would help him to read the history of our blessed Lord consecutively. The opposition chiefly arises from the elder men; but, probably, if we had a good Christian Koi teacher, whose wife was an earnest Christian woman, this opposition would die away. At present very few Koi women have been baptized, and those who have do not exhibit many signs of devotion to their Lord and Master. The Koi women are very hardy and masculine, are often very inapproachable, and are in many cases stern opposers of Christianity: more than one Christian Koi has to meet with great hindrance in his own household.

We have lost several of our Christians this year by death: one, the most promising boy in our boarding-school, and another, the first Madigar (chuckler) baptized in this part. The latter was a man whose steady, upright, consistent walk won the respect of all who knew him. His corpse was carried to the grave by converts from a caste which ever despises the poor chuckler.

The following extracts from Mr. Razu's Letter (translated by Mr. Cain) will also be read with much interest:—

A Native clergyman's account of the rise, difficulties and progress of the Ko Mission.

The Kois in this wild country are still very uncivilized, deficient in knowledge, and ignorant, not only of many things respecting their bodies, but also of their souls' wants. In years gone by, their rulers were indeed cruel and wicked, and the state of the people resembled that of wild beasts. Only about twenty years ago, chiefs from the surrounding districts used to come to this part, plunder the Kois, burn their houses, and devastate the country. In those times, if the white clothes of a Hindu were even seen by a Koi, the latter would immediately fly away to the jungles. At that time the Kois also would slaughter one another more readily than they did wild animals. In Pedda Nallapalli there was, not very long ago, a Koi who had killed five men for gain. It was when they were in such a condition that, by God's mercy, Colonel Haig came here and pitied the poor people. From that time the people's worldly state improved, but their souls were still in darkness. By that gentleman's efforts, Mr. Edmonds came here, and for two years laboured with great devotion and zeal to spread the Gospel. Then the Sun of Righteousness dawned on this land. After two years he became ill and returned to England; but the foundations had been laid. Some time afterwards, Mr. Tanner came and laboured for two years, and God heard his prayers. The sun rose, and some of the Kois turned to the Lord. Schools had been established, and teachers appointed from the lower districts, but by the faithlessness of the teachers and the snares of the devil, a great hindrance to the Kois occurred. Nevertheless, some came out of darkness, entered into the marvellous light, and were baptized in the name of the Lord. Then Mr. Tanner fell ill and went to England; but the Lord is faithful, and He then sent Mr. Cain; and although many predicted he would not be able to stay, in consequence of former weakness, he has now been with us two years. Man's thoughts are not God's thoughts. Formerly I prayed that God would make some of the Kois Christians. He heard my prayer. Now I am praying that He will raise up Koi teachers and evangelists, and I am sure He will not be deaf to my cry.

In a more recent Letter, (11th March, 1876,) Mr. Cain speaks of the Kois as listening with "more intelligent interest," and of Mr. Razu as being "immensely encouraged."

ELLORE.

The Rev. F. N. Alexander writes as follows:—

The statistics I have to bring before you compare favourably with those of the former year. The total number of Native Christian adherents is 733 persons, as compared with 627 in 1874. The number of baptized has increased from 353 to 392. Twenty-three adults were baptized during the year. These totals would have been considerably larger but for my removal from the district the last quarter of the year by a journey to Australia for the benefit of my health. A very large number of persons are waiting to be received into the Christian Church, and I think I shall probably baptize fifty adults and many children during the cold season tour now just begun. The Communicants have increased from sixty-three to seventy-six, and the agents from thirty-two to thirty-seven. The Church Committee works well and grows in strength. Nearly every question of finance and discipline comes under its cognizance; and I have found great benefit to the work, as well as an increase of interest amongst the people themselves, by sharing with them the most important concerns of their religious welfare. We still want Native Pastors to complete our Church system. I have two men ready, who are every way worthy to fill this office—in fact, they now fulfil the most important part of the pastor's duty. One of them has pastoral charge of 265 converts; the other works among 211 persons under instruction. During the six months I was away at Melbourne, the charge of the whole district devolved on them, and they did their work well and faithfully. Services were kept up, the people were instructed and guided, and in some instances of persecution very proper steps were taken for the protection of the converts. Had they been able to administer the sacraments to their people, what a great advantage it would have been! At no distant period I hope to see a well-organized Church established in the Telugu districts; but we must be allowed to have our Native ministers, as the exigency of the work requires it.

As regards Extension, I have great pleasure in recording the formation of a new circle, consisting (at present) of three villages. It is situated about sixteen miles north of Ellore, in a part of the country hitherto entirely untouched. The Mâlas in several villages about there are asking for teachers, and I anticipate a large increase in that direction within a short time. This is the fifth circle within the Ellore Mission district. Each one of these is under charge of an experienced and trustworthy spiritual agent, and, it is to the labours of these faithful and earnest men that we owe the present increase.

There has also been an increase of eighty-five pupils in the village vernacular schools.

It will be seen from these facts that in this district the movement of the Mâlas towards Christianity is well-sustained; and it is my conviction that it will increase year by year till very large numbers from that caste are brought within the pale of the Christian Church. When the work is to begin among the caste people is known to God alone; but the Church should earnestly pray for mercy on the Brahmins, Sudras, and other castes, that the time of their salvation should soon come round.—Along with this widespread ingathering from the Mâlas there has been a revival of idolatry, and an increase of the persecuting spirit, among the caste people. It is no longer possible to abuse, defraud, and ill-treat the Mâlas after they join us: and so the caste people hate us and the movement which robs them of their prey. In one place, three times over the village authorities drove away the cattle of our people and put them in the pound. Large sums of money had to be paid for their release. On the last occasion our people appealed to the Government for protection, and substantial justice was done. In another village, where we had only just begun a school, the village head man took hold of our people, bent them down, and put heavy stones on their backs, when in a stooping posture, to make them renounce their connexion with us. All but one went back, and then the straw-rick of the one who would not yield was burnt down. All along the whole line, the people who join us are more or less troubled; and it seems to me that the caste people are now thoroughly alive to the vitality of the movement; for it is spread over an immense tract of country, and large numbers have come over and joined us. But the day has gone by when it could be stopped. In some directions it will be checked; but in others it will go on, where the conditions are more favourable; and from them it must extend to the caste people themselves, whenever God's due time comes for their salvation.

Persecutions endured by Mâla Christians.

Four of the Native labourers associated with Mr. Alexander, have been added to the staff at the expense of the Walter Jones Fund.

In reference to the Ordination of Native Ministers, it is and always has been the desire of the Parent Committee, that this step should take place as soon as Native Christians can be found competent to discharge pastoral duties, and arrangements can be made for their salaries to be drawn from a Native Church Fund. As a general rule, it may be said that if such men as those to whom Mr. Alexander refers are not qualified for their present posts, they should be deposed, but that if they are qualified, they should be solemnly set apart by ordination.

Extension.

The want of men to take up new openings was mentioned above. Amalapuram may be mentioned as a case in point. Several years ago Colonel Taylor gave 300*l.* to enable the Madras Committee to start a new Mission in that place. Until 1875, it was found impossible to take any steps in this direction. Recently, however, a Catechist, a Native of that district, has been sent thither, and has found that a Mission School would be cordially welcomed by many of the leading inhabitants of the place.—On his journey he visited several relatives whom he had not seen since his conversion. Some interesting incidents took place on these occasions, which he thus narrates:—

Meeting of a convert with heathen relatives after long separation.

Many of my relatives and friends congregated together in the house to meet me. They all felt very much surprised when I recognized every one of them and made many inquiries of them. They, poor things, thought that the Missionaries had given me some medicine which induced me to change my religion. So I had to tell them briefly of what were my real reasons to reject Hinduism and embrace Christianity. I had the privilege of telling the same wonderful story of the Cross, and God's marvellous love exhibited in it towards sinners, several times over, as new comers joined the audience. Three or four pandits tried to argue with me. I told them that, notwithstanding all our human learning and worldly wisdom, our hearts are naturally full of ignorance, both with regard to God and ourselves; and that when the light of God's Holy Spirit shines into our hearts, as a bright lamp in a dark room, then we can see the wickedness and sinfulness that abound in them—that this knowledge of ourselves leads us to distrust and renounce our self-righteousness as a means of our salvation in the sight of our Holy God, and thus show us that the spotless righteousness and atonement of our Lord Jesus Christ alone can save us. Then one of the pandits remarked, misrepresenting my meaning of course, that as light dispels darkness, so the ignorance and sinfulness of man disappear when the light of God's Holy Spirit shines on his heart, and that that is the salvation. I explained that the knowledge of a thing cannot destroy the thing itself. I spent about three hours among them. By this time my bearers had had their meals, and were very anxious to carry me to my mother's village, which is about two miles off; so I started in the moonlight, and reached Vemavaram at about twelve in the night. This was the first time that I had the pleasure of seeing my poor old mother since my conversion—about eleven years ago—so the long-expected meeting was very affecting; my adopted father also was there. I had a quiet talk with them for an hour, and then retired into my palanquin for my nightly rest. Next morning my eldest brother, knowing that the whole village would come to see me, arranged two spacious verandahs of a neighbouring house with mats. By about seven a.m. the space was more than full with all the young and old, rich and poor, learned and ignorant; in fact, the whole street was crowded. I was greatly delighted to recognize almost every one of them by their names, inquiring after their welfare. One of the Sastries present remarked that I had embraced Christianity rather too hastily, without properly examining the claims of Hinduism. I told him that the Hinduism in all Purânas, Sâstrams, and Vêdas points out self-righteousness in some form or other as the means of salvation, which is quite contrary to the experience of one who has impartially studied the sinful state of his own wicked heart, as in the sight of God; but that Christianity points out to such helpless sinners Jesus Christ and Him crucified as the only means of salvation, in whom the sinner's deliverance is complete. Next morning I left Vemavaram, and went to Siddantam to visit my sister-in-law and other relatives there. Here, too, I had several opportunities of speaking about our precious Redeemer.

CEYLON MISSION.

I. Colombo and Cotta. II. Baddegama. III. Kandy. IV. Jaffna.

General Review.

THE Ceylon Mission retains what have been now for several years its characteristics—of increasing strength in the Native Church—of steady, though not rapid, ingathering from surrounding heathendom—and of extended evangelistic effort. The appointment of a Native brother as Chairman of the Kandy Church Council appears to have worked well hitherto. Vigorous and healthy independence is increasingly evidenced by the different Church Councils, Church Committees, and Missionary Associations connected with the Native Church in different places among both Tamil and Singhalese Christians. At Kandy, at Colombo, and at Chundikuly, the pecuniary contributions from Native Christians have considerably increased. Though the number of adult baptisms does not exceed the average of the last five or six years, inquirers and candidates for baptism are found at every station; and there have been several cases of special interest. The Schools, which in former years disappointed expectation, now yield fruit, in conviction or conversion, among Tamil and Singhalese alike. The most rapid progress is in the Singhalese Itinerating Mission of the Central Province, where the catechumens and inquirers may be numbered by hundreds. On the whole, whilst the Ceylon Mission has its difficulties and its trials, and the strength of Buddhism is still great, and the energies of Buddhism even in some places reviving, the Committee can thank GOD that the good work is unquestionably advancing. The Rev. D. T. Barry, on his way to South India, spent two or three days in Ceylon, from whence he wrote, under date 18th Jan., 1876:—

It has been very providential that our brethren here are just now holding their Conference, and have kindly admitted me to all their deliberations, &c. The loving brotherhood of the party, the cheerfulness in the work, and the practical and business-like way in which the Conference is carried on, are very happy and instructive to me, and the reports of the work most encouraging.

I. Colombo and Cotta.

(Cotta commenced, 1822; Colombo, 1852.)

Rev. William Edward Rowlands, M.A. (m), 1861.
Rev. Richard Thomas Dowbiggin (m), 1867.

COLOMBO.

THE English-speaking Congregation, which in Colombo (as in other capital cities) the Society has been providentially led to connect itself with, was ministered to, in the former half of 1875, by the Rev. W. Clark, and in the latter half, when Mr. Clark was called away by the exigencies of the Tamil Cooly Mission, by the Rev. J. I. Jones, who was removed for that purpose from the itinerating work in the interior. In the course of the present year, 1876, Mr. Jones also has been compelled to request relief from these duties, the Colombo climate having very seriously affected Mrs. Jones's health. The Committee hope soon to fill up the vacant post by a clergyman from this country. The congregation is liberal in its subscriptions to the Society; and several of its members take an active part as Sunday School Teachers and in conducting services.

Singhalese Congregation.

The Rev. C. Jayasingha is still in charge of this congregation. The statistical returns give 155 Native Christians and twenty-three communicants, as compared with 116 Native Christians and twenty-seven communicants in the year previous. The cause of this variation is not stated. Mr. Jayasingha mentions, however, that some of those who had seceded through a spiritual delusion, have returned, and are now attending church regularly. No adults were baptized during the year, but seven candidates are in the course of preparation. Nineteen persons are in the confirmation class. Mr. Jayasingha adds :—

In reviewing our work for the last year, I am thankful to say that there seems a change for the better in all respects. If we take a retrospective view of things in Ceylon for the last twenty or twenty-five years, a cheering scene is presented to us. People have become more independent both in thought and in action, more social and cleanly, sober and industrious, eager to read native newspapers, to obtain Christian books, and to imitate and assimilate themselves with Christians, and altogether less hostile to Christianity. Wherever we go these changes are presented to our view; and I trust these are signs of a way being opened for the Lord to come in and take full possession of the hearts of these people.

Tamil Work.

The Native Christians in connexion with this branch of the work number 808 as compared with 847 of the year preceding. The communicants, on the other hand, have increased from 145 to 161. As many of the Tamils of the district are immigrants from Jaffna or Tinnevelly, who have no intention of permanently settling in Colombo, these numerical fluctuations may be partly owing to arrivals and removals. The Rev. W. E. Rowlands (who has charge of this department) states, however, that some whose conduct had been a source of much pain to him and had led to proceedings in the law courts, have voluntarily separated themselves from the congregation. Mr. Rowlands has under his care altogether five or six congregations in and near Colombo—Slave Island (the central one), Marandâna, Haltsdorp, Mutwal, Mattakkûly—besides one at Negambo, sixteen miles to the north; and one at Galle, seventy miles to the south. Having no Native Pastor associated with him at present, Mr. Rowlands cannot have a properly constituted Native Church Council. He has, however, an active Native Church Committee, which performs nearly the same duties, and a prosperous Native Church Fund. From this fund, with the help of a moderate grant-in-aid from the Society, Mr. Rowlands hopes shortly to support two ordained Native pastors, having also good grounds for anticipating, in humble dependence on God's blessing, that two Native brethren suitable for that post will soon be supplied to him. Mr. Rowlands adds:—

On the whole, matters have been better with us during the past year than they were during the previous one. There has been more unity amongst the people, and, as a natural result, everything connected with the congregation has gone on more satisfactorily. Still I feel as much as ever that the standard of spiritual life is low; and most earnestly do I pray that, if spared another year, I may have more to tell of real growth in grace and in preparedness for Christ's coming. The hope I ventured to express in my last Annual Letter with regard to the Native Pastors' Fund has not been disappointed. The sum received has exceeded that of last year, being 65*l.* 12*s.* 8½*d.* as compared with 41*l.* 2*s.* 9*d.* Other contributions for religious purposes make up a total, from Natives only, of 77*l.* 9*s.* 10*d.* There have been, too, some pleasing features in the way in which some of these contributions have been given. An ayah, for example, who went to England with a family, on her return brought a timepiece, which she had purchased in London, and which she said she had long wished to give as her contribution towards the church.—The adult baptisms during this year, as during last, have, I regret to say, been but seven; but some of these give cause for thankfulness and encouragement. One of the newly-baptized was, through God's blessing, a fruit of our catechist's work in Haltsdorp Gaol. While there, he listened attentively to the Gospel message proclaimed every Sunday, and after a while expressed an earnest wish to become a Christian. Being a man of fair education, he made rapid progress in knowledge; but, by his own request, his baptism was deferred until the expiration of his sentence, when he said it would be his first act openly to declare himself a Christian. He therefore hoped very much that the day of his release from the gaol might be a Sunday; and so in God's providence it was ordered. He was set free early on a Sunday morning, came straight from the gaol to Galle Face Church, and there, in the presence of a large congregation, professed his faith in Christ, receiving the name of Daniel. His conduct since has been quite satisfactory, and I think there is reason to believe he will for ever bless God that he met with the chastisement his sins had deserved. There are now, in connexion with our different congregations, forty-five candidates for baptism, and I am thankful to say some of them appear really earnest.

An interesting baptism at Colombo.

The two Boarding Schools are prospering. In the girls' school there are twenty-four boarders, and in the boys' school twenty-nine. The master, sent by Mr. Dibb from Megnânanapuram, is an able, painstaking, spiritually-minded man, and one who constantly endeavours to lead his pupils to the knowledge of Christ as a personal Saviour. Both amongst boys and girls there have been indications that God's Spirit is at work; and the missionary has reason to believe that some of them are, in the highest sense of the words, "children of God."

COTTA.

The Rev. R. T. Dowbiggin thus describes the extent of the Cotta district, and its occupation by the Society:—

From the Colombo side, the Cotta district begins at the fourth mile-post, and runs eastward in nearly a straight line to within twelve miles of Ratnapura, a total length of some forty-five miles, with an average breadth of twelve; so that the area of this district is some 540 square miles, with probably a population of 60,000 people. If our schools were equally distributed, which they are not, but which defect we are trying to remedy by opening new schools, there would be a school to every 1500 of the population. Perhaps about one-sixth of the eligible children attend our schools. To work this large district there is one European, three Native Pastors, and three Catechists. "The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few."

As Chairman of the Cotta Native Church Council Mr. Dowbiggin thus speaks of the Pastorates :—

The year under review has been one of heavy trial and severe loss to two of our Pastors (the Rev. H. De Silva and the Rev. D. Jayasingha), for in the month of June their wives were laid in the quiet graveyard of the Cotta compound. Both of these had done good service, and their loss is keenly felt in the district. The past year has been marked by more deaths among our people than in any previous one since I have been in the Mission.

Comparing the returns of this year with those of the last, I see that we have only been able to hold our own in point of numbers; but, owing to the numerous deaths in the district and other causes, we have ground for thankfulness that in the number of Church members there has been no decrease, the baptisms of the year keeping up the number. I observe an increase in the attendance at public worship of both adults and children. The number of adult baptisms was twenty-two, as compared with twelve last year. Nearly all of these were young people from our day-schools.

On occasion of the removal of their Catechist to another part of the Mission, the Talangama people presented him with a useful hackery (native bullock-carriage) for travelling in his new district.

Aggressive Evangelistic work is also carried on. Mr. Dowbiggin writes :—

Aggressive Missionary effort in the outskirts of the Cotta district.

The Catechist of the itinerating district reports (rendered from Singhalese):—"In six places divine service is held on the Lord's Day. About 350 children attend our schools, nearly all of them the children of Buddhist parents. In addition to Sunday services, full-moon meetings have been held, at which large numbers of Buddhists have been present. In public places of resort, in families, individually, by meetings, in the roads, we have sought to preach the Gospel of Christ in the Hêwâgam and Royagam Korles to some thousands of people.

We have met with opposition, because there is now some fear in the minds of the priests that Christianity is spreading. About two miles from where I live, some persons brought a priest from Colombo to preach against Christianity. This man took the Bible in his hand, sat on his throne, and declaimed against the Scriptures as being full of impurities and immoral stories. A few days after this I went to the village, and having assembled some twenty people who live near to where the priest had preached, I read to them the Sermon on the Mount, John iii., and 1 Cor. xiii.; and the people praised the good Word of God. I then showed them the way of salvation, and explained the forgiveness of sins, sanctification, and eternal life, as offered to all in Christ Jesus, without money and without price.

Of the Educational branch of the work Mr. Dowbiggin writes:—

This branch has been vigorously prosecuted, and four new schools have been opened during the year. A rumour has been circulated to the effect that the Government contemplate reducing the grants allowed to schools. The children in our schools, Vernacular, Anglo-Vernacular, and English, averaged for the year 2001, and the cost of each child to Government was Rs. 2·36. The same number could not be educated by the Government for less than three or four times that amount. The year under review has yielded twenty young people from the day schools, who have been admitted into the Church by baptism.—The Boarding establishment for boys in connexion with the English day-school at Cotta has answered very well indeed. Some of the boys are Buddhists, two of these being Kandians. The conduct of the boys has been uniformly good, and their parents have expressed their satisfaction with the progress made by their children. This establishment is fully self-supporting.—Last year dysentery was very prevalent all over the country, and we had several cases in the Girls' Boarding School, one of which proved fatal. Many of the girls were consequently removed, and since then we have never had our full numbers. Five of the girls are candidates for confirmation, and one for baptism. Several—about twelve—of the girls who have left the school are now teaching schools in their villages.—In the Præparandi Institution the number of students for three-quarters of the year was fourteen. Two of these were appointed to the Cotta and Kandy districts in July last. The conduct of the students has been on the whole satisfactory, and they have been fairly diligent in their studies; though I regret to say they did not acquit themselves well at the examination in July.

II. Baddegama.

Baddêgama, commenced, 1819; Bentotte, 1861.

European Mission Establishment.

Rev. John Allcock (m), 1864.

THE Rev. G. F. Unwin resided at this station until July, 1875, when he removed to the Itinerating Mission in the Central Province. Mr. Unwin, however, having not sufficiently acquired the language, the Mission district was under the charge of the Rev. R. T. Dowbiggin, of Cotta. In this absence (for over two years) of a European Superintendent, and without the aid of any ordained Native Pastor, the work somewhat languished. Only one adult was baptized during the year. The numbers of Native Christians and Communicants actually declined from 325 to 318, and from 104 to 101. The Committee are thankful to say that, early in the present year, the Rev. J. Allcock returned to the scene of his former labours, though Mrs. Allcock was unable to accompany him. Under date 10th December, 1874, Mr. Dowbiggin writes:—

The great event of the year has been the opening of Trinity Church, Dodanduwa [built at the expense of the Native Christian Arachchi (magistrate)], on October 2nd, 1875. The building is much appreciated by our people; and the Dodanduwa Christians especially are proud of it. It is quite a landmark in that neighbourhood. The day fixed for the opening services was fine, and hundreds of people congregated in and around the building. The church was filled to overflowing, and the services were very hearty, and the singing good, thanks to the Baddêgama choir. At the appointed hour the Rev. J. I. Jones began the service and read to the end of the third collect, the Rev. S. Coles completing the prayers, and also baptizing two children after the reading of the second lesson. The two catechists read the lessons. I had wished that Mr. Jones, as Bishop's Commissary, should preach the opening sermon; but the people insisted on my doing so, which I did, preaching from the words, "Christ is all and in all; ye are complete in Him" (Col. ii. iii.).

Opening of a church built by a Native Christian Magistrate.

Perhaps what gave me most joy on this joyous day was the presence of A. at the services [See Report 1874-5, p. 162]. She had not been allowed to attend any Christian service for the last three years—since the day of her baptism. She said that being able to come to church again was "like coming out of a prison-house." She was very bright and happy, and rejoiced my heart by her steadfastness and unwavering faith in the Lord Jesus Varied experience of a young Singhalese Christian.

Christ. I look upon her as my daughter in the faith, and it afforded us much pleasure to administer to her, along with others, for the first time the memorials of our Saviour's dying love. A., it will be remembered, first professed her faith in 1868, when I had charge of the Baddêgama district, and ever since then she has had to endure more or less persecution for the cross of Christ. Thanks be to God for the grace given to her to be faithful! Since the opening of the church she has been living in the house of her Christian uncle, the Ârachchi (magistrate); and I hear that, unless she renounces Christianity, her family will not again receive her into their house. In this case her uncle will gladly keep her. Such active persecution of a Christian is somewhat rare among the Buddhists of Ceylon, but I fancy in this case it is chiefly owing to the position of her family in Dodanduwa. Her grandmother and father are Buddhist devotees, and her uncle is the head priest of the temple of Dodanduwa. It was therefore almost impossible to expect any other treatment from them; and they, again, have been urged on by those who looked to them to maintain Buddhism.

More recently, April 28, 1876, Mr. Allcock writes:—

About three months ago A.'s mother died. Her parents refused to receive her home again after she had received the Lord's Supper. Her uncle gave her a refuge in his house, and she resided there from October, 1875, to March, 1876. Her mother was suddenly seized with dysentery. A. sent repeated humble requests that she might be near her mother during her sickness, but the reply was, "You are welcome to come home, if you will leave Christ and His religion." Thank God! He supported her, and she remained firm in her faith. I called upon the father when I visited the village. He was not uncivil, but more extreme misery and despair I never witnessed. I told him that I was grieved to see him so unhappy, and also sorry to hear of his great bereavement; but he would not allow me to speak any words of comfort. I said, "Sir, 'Man is born unto trouble, and has but a short time to live;' you cannot derive comfort from earthly persons and things. The remedy for your trouble is in Heaven." From the darkness of his mind he replied, "The cause of all our trouble and misery is in affection. I will show you. If I had not loved my wife, if I did not love my children at all, then I should not be miserable when they died. When my neighbour's wife or child dies, I do not feel at all." Therefore, he says, natural affection, that is, love of wife, children, parents and brothers, is the root of all misery and sin. This is the very essence of Buddha's teaching, the extinction of every affection. The only thing which they can hope for is either a long life of torment in hell, or the weariness of the soul in a perpetual motion of transmigration, or the total annihilation of soul and body in Nirwāna. What a glorious contrast is the glorious hope of the believing soul in Christ!

As regards the Evangelistic work of the district, Mr. Dowbiggin reported under date December 10, 1875:—

I have stationed a Catechist in the neighbourhood of Kitulampitiya (near Galle) who will work that village, and also the country lying between it and Baddêgama, meeting the catechist of the latter place about four miles from Baddêgama. Some itinerating journeys have been made into the interior, and preached to some hundreds of people, who have generally listened well to the Gospel. I hope to appoint two young men to this especial work after Christmas, who will make Hinidum and Habarakoda their centres of operation.

Native Congregations

The appointment of the Rev. H. Gunasêkara to the chairmanship of the Singalese Native Church Council was mentioned in the last Annual Report. In his own congregation, numbering about 160 persons, of whom 35 are communicants, Mr. Gunasêkara continues to labour with fidelity and earnestness; but there have been no very marked manifestations of success. There was a class of five candidates under instruction for baptism; but only one of these appeared sufficiently prepared to be admitted to that sacrament. The pecuniary subscriptions of the congregation have increased, amounting now to Rs. 1556. The Lord has stirred up nine members of the congregation to preach in the jail and in the streets, and there have been other signs of spiritual life. The preaching in the verandah of the police-court and in the streets meets with more attention and less opposition than formerly; and in the jail ten prisoners have expressed their desire to believe in the Lord Jesus, and are receiving instruction accordingly.

The Rev. B. D. Wîrasingha ministered during the year under review to Singhalese congregations at Katukælé and Gætæmbé, suburbs of Kandy. Three adults have been baptized, and there are several inquirers, among whom Mr. Wîrasingha mentions two "learned Buddhists," who he hopes will soon embrace the truth. Mr. Wîrasingha takes his part in the open-air preaching, and visits the heathen (as well as the Christian) families in his own immediate neighbourhood. These house-to-house visitations have been blessed to the conversion of some Romanists, as well as to the bringing in of inquirers from among the heathen. Mr. Wîrasingha gives the following instances of support in dying hours vouchsafed to members of his flock:—

Peaceful deaths of two Singhalese Christians.

I have to relate two deaths which occurred in this year—one a young girl and a communicant of about eighteen years of age, and the other a young man of about twenty-two years of age. Both of these were suffering for several months from consumption. I found them always pleased to see me, and hear the Word of God read to them; sometimes they themselves read their New Testament. They were informed long before their deaths that their disease was incurable. They never appeared sorry or frightened at approaching death, but were always cheerful and prepared. The young man, immediately before dying, said to his father, "Father, I am going to my Heavenly Father." The young girl, whom I had just left on my last visit, a few minutes before her death, said, "Now all is well; I am very comfortable and happy; call the minister back," and instantly expired without a struggle.

There is also a Tamil congregation at Kandy, under the charge of the Rev. John Peter. The Native Christians connected with it number 186, and the Communicants 34. Three adults were baptized during the year. Recently the school-room has been enlarged, and a substantial and handsome wall built round the church at an expense of 173*l.*, which sum was raised by subscriptions from Tamil Christians on the coffee estates generally.

SINGHALESE ITINERANCY.

The Rev. S. Coles's deeply interesting and most encouraging account of the work which God has enabled him to accomplish, is inserted almost in extenso. Mr. Coles writes:—

The chief points of interest in connexion with our work in this Itinerancy are as follows:—Forty-one persons have been baptized; there are nearly 100 candidates for baptism, and a much larger number of inquirers into the truths of Christianity; six new school-rooms have been built, which are also used as places of worship; ten new schools opened; missionary operations have been commenced and carried on in nine new villages; collections have been made towards the erection of two new churches and a pastor's house; two new districts have been occupied at the suggestion of two gentlemen, one an Englishman, and the other a Native, each one undertaking to bear the whole expense of the work carried on; a bazaar in the centre of the town of Kandy has been engaged for preaching purposes, for conversations with individuals about religious matters, and for the sale of books; a book-stall has been opened at the railway-station, Kandy, where large numbers of religious books are sold to the travelling public; and last, though not least, the Kandy Church Council has been made entirely Native, by my withdrawing from, and the installation of the Rev. H. Gunasêkara to, the chairmanship of the Council. In addition to this, I have to state that the contributions received have exceeded Rs. 3000, and books and tracts have been sold to the amount of Rs. 350.

I have changed the Catechists during the past year with great advantage to themselves and the several districts under their charge, as the truth has been thus presented to the people under new aspects, and an interest excited, which has been beneficial to all parties.—At Gampola, the Christians were most unwilling to lose the services of the Catechist, A. U. L., who had been with them several years, and was much loved and esteemed; but they received his successor, S. D. from Kurunægala, (with whom A. U. L changed places), most kindly, and have readily adopted new methods of working, which he suggested to them. Several interesting cases of conversion have occurred here.—At Kægala, the congregation and Sunday-school have much increased in numbers, and in the surrounding villages new fields of labour have been entered on with most encouraging results. I am just returned from a most difficult journey to one of them. We had crowds of people from morning till evening, all listening to the precious truths of the Gospel. Nine persons have given in their names as candidates for baptism; many more are inquiring into the truths of Christianity, and a school has been started with about thirty children.—At Kurunægala, A. U. L. was well received, and has worked most satisfactorily. Services have been conducted as usual in the church, the prison and hospital visited, and other evangelistic operations carried on. The Christians of this station have distinguished themselves by their liberality, not only towards the general maintenance of the work carried on in their midst, but also towards several particular objects. A school has been opened in the town of Kurunægala, the expense of which is borne by a few Native Christian gentlemen; and another Singhalese gentleman has undertaken the entire expense of Mission work in his native village, by paying the salary of the Mission agent there and putting up the necessary buildings. In another village [of the Kurunægala district], most encouraging work has commenced in the conversion of a head-man. This seems to have happened independent of human agency, except that he had seen what the Lord had done for some of the Christians at Talampitiya; and this induced him, though living at a distance of twenty miles, to search the Scriptures. He has evidently been taught of God; and although at present he stands alone, yet he boldly bears witness to the truth, and seeks to bring his people to Jesus. When I saw him last he was just going [at his own expense], to erect a school, where he intends to teach both young and old. In the Talampitiya district itself we have much reason for thankfulness and prayer, for while in its older fields we have, to a certain extent, been discouraged, yet new and promising ones have been opened, and fruits have already been gathered. At one village, Kudâgama, which had long rejected the truth, we have been most favourably received, and a large number of persons have placed themselves under instruction, twelve of whom have been baptized, and others are preparing for that rite. The Christians here have erected a school, where they assemble for Divine worship; and about forty persons have already separated from heathenism. One of their own number acts as teacher, and they are regularly visited by Paul and Abraham, from Talampitiya. We have met, however, with great difficulties here. At Hêwâdiwela large additions to the attendants at Divine worship have apparently resulted from a conspiracy of the higher castes against the Christians. About four months since a head-man was severely beaten in a neighbouring village by a notorious set of villains, at the time when our Christians were assembled in their own village for Divine worship. At first, the above-mentioned guilty parties were alone accused of the crime; but afterwards a hue-and-cry was raised against the Hêwâdiwela Christians; and the village was invaded by crowds of infuriated heathens intent on wreaking their vengeance on the Christians, who fled precipitately from their houses to the jungles, and remained there three days and nights. Soon after this summonses were issued against several of the Christians—men well known to be of blameless character, and examples to their neighbours in life and conduct. But, instead of being a hindrance to our work, it has proved a great blessing; as large numbers have already joined the Christian community, and others are inquirers about the God who hears and answers His people when they call upon Him. Let me ask your prayers on the behalf of these poor people, that the innocent be not punished, and that this persecution may still prove a great blessing.—I have not space to write about Anurâdapura, where a new Mission is supported by an English gentleman resident there, and several other districts where work has been done; but I trust that enough has been said to encourage you at home to pray for us and to resolve to send me more assistance in this vast itinerancy, which I have to supervise single-handed.

On the return of the Rev. J. I. Jones to Ceylon in November, 1874, it was agreed upon that he should initiate an effort to occupy the large district of Uva, lying about fifty miles S.E. of Kandy. Circumstances prevented Mr. Jones's entering on this work until the beginning of 1875. Mr. Jones then went down to Fort Macdonald, about sixteen miles from Nuwara Eliya (the well-known sanatorium of Ceylon, where his family was residing), and making the rest-house there his centre, visited almost all the villages within reach. The attitude of his hearers, however, was that either of strong opposition or complete indifference. Buddhism, they told him, was their religion, and they did not care to hear of any other.—Mr. Jones's subsequent removal to Colombo has been already referred to.

TAMIL COOLY MISSION.

The Rev. E. M. Griffith (now in England) writes as follows:—

It was with deep regret I left Ceylon, on medical certificate, on August 30th last, the more so as God had vouchsafed to this almost self-supporting Mission (i. e. supported by local contributions) a continuation of the prosperity it had enjoyed during the preceding year.—I will first refer to our Funds. At our last Tamil Cooly Mission Committee Meeting, held July 31st last, I was able to announce that, besides the [working] capital fund (which amounted to 134*l*.), there was a balance in hand in the current account of nearly 236*l*. This would enable my successor to begin with three months' pay in hand. When it is remembered that at least 150*l*. is required every two months to meet our expenditure, it will be seen that this would relieve much anxiety. The subscriptions to the Tamil Cooly Mission for the eight months amounted to 544*l*. There is another fund subscribed to also by Europeans, viz. the T.C.M. Bungalow Fund. This is for the purchase of a house for the Mission. It was commenced by us in September last year, and we raised in eleven months towards the 700*l.* required, 518*l.* I was pleased to be able, before I left, to get the title-deeds and deeds of transfer of the property handed over to the Society, although 182*l.* remain to be collected. The Native Christian funds were in a prosperous state, there being a balance in hand of 141*l.* 18*s.* 3*d.*—As regards the Itinerating Work, the eighteen catechists (including the one supported by Mr. De Soyza) have been steadily working, each in his own district, except where there has been sickness.—The Native Missionary Association has so strengthened itself that its readers now number six, who all assist very materially the catechists of the districts where they are located. Another reader, making the seventh in connexion with the Mission, is supported by J. F. Wingate, Esq., of Matele East, and is doing the work of a schoolmaster as well. Thus I may say there are twenty-six men engaged in catechists' and readers' work.—In the month of May the Native agents, with myself, started on a Mission week to the districts of Dumbara, Rangala, and Nitre Cave. The seven days' active work proved quite a success, and the catechists seemed pleased with the results. Seventy coffee estates were visited; 4282 people were preached to at muster, whilst 2171 were spoken to at their own homes. The catechists gave a very cheering account of their reception by both Europeans and Tamils. The agents, however, counted no less than 101 heathen temples on the visited estates.

The work among the 900 Christians of the Mission, scattered over an area of 3000 square miles, and grouped together into thirty-nine congregations, has proceeded as usual. The largest congregation is at Kandy, over which the Rev. J. Peter is placed. [This has been already referred to.]

Within about ten weeks of my leaving, no less than ten new schools were opened, and there were applications for the establishment of four more. These, with the self-supporting Tamil Boarding School (containing fifteen boys), raised the number of schools on the list to forty-three, all of which were systematically examined by the Mission School Inspector. The Mission has made great strides in education during the last two years, and there is little doubt that education is doing much for furthering the spread of the Gospel. The schools already established cost from 24*l.* to 36*l.* per annum. In some cases the Tamils are assisting to support their own schools.

The Statistics for the Tamil Cooly Mission give the following numbers:—Native Christians, 938; Communicants, 250; Adult Baptisms, 17.

COLLEGIATE SCHOOL.

As before, this is under the management of the Rev.

R. Collins, assisted by Mr. Dunn, whose services Mr. Collins warmly acknowledges. Eighty-three students formed the number reported in the examination of last September. One of the Teachers, combining instruction of others with study under Mr. Collins's guidance, passed the First Arts Examination for the Calcutta University in 1874, and is now reading for his B.A. degree at the Society's (Calcutta) Cathedral Mission College. He desires ultimately to join the Society as a Missionary. Another of the pupils has also expressed a wish to enter the ministry. One student, who, when he entered the school, was a Buddhist, has asked for baptism. Two others are inquirers.

IV. Jaffna District.

Nellore commenced, 1818; Chundikuly, 1842; Copay, 1847.

European Mission Establishment.

Rev. Jonathan D. Simmons (m), to South India, 1860; to Ceylon, 1875.
Rev. David Wood (m), 1867.

THE work at the Jaffna station consists of the two distinct, but yet in many ways correlated, branches of the Pastorates and the Mission. The pastorates are connected with a Church Council, described in Mr. Simmons' letter as given below. The four pastors are the Rev. J. Hensman, the Rev. E. Hoole, the Rev. T. P. Handy, and the Rev. G. Champion, all Native Tamulians, notwithstanding their English names. The statistical returns give 731 Native Christians, 305 Communicants, and fifteen adult baptisms. Each of these numbers is an increase on that of the previous year. Mr. Simmons, as chairman of the Council, thus reports of the Pastorates:—

Vigour of the Jaffna Native Church.

The Church Council is a well-organized and an influential body. Including Mr. Wood and myself, there are six clergymen and an equal number of laymen on it. The latter are gentlemen of the legal profession, or are employed in the Government service. Thus it will appear that intellectually and socially they are well qualified to take an active part in, at least, the secular business of the Church. And I am glad to say that they have shown a will to do so.

Chundikuly Pastorate.—The congregation has its strong and its weak points. Its strength is its intelligence, wealth, and independence of the Mission. Many of its members are well-educated gentlemen, engaged in law, Government service, or education. They are comparatively wealthy, and not dependent upon the Mission for employment. Its weakness is its connexion with Romanism and its alliance with the world. The Roman Catholics are very strong in Jaffna town and Chundikuly, and the power of this religion to paralyze spiritual life is seen upon those who come within its influence. Some few of the members of Chundikuly congregation are converts from Romanism. Others are connected with it by marriage and other family ties. The pastor reports some encouraging cases from such members of his flock; still the connexion has a deadening effect upon the life of the body. Then Jaffna is the metropolis, and so most affected by what are called advanced ideas and advanced social habits. These are not always conducive to a high standard of spiritual life, nor to the strict economy and generous liberality of the Gospel. But the congregation contains some who have influence and who are adorning their holy calling. As a congregation there is need of more decision for Christ, more activity and liberality. When we get the first the rest will follow.

Nellore Pastorate.—This congregation contains 100 adult members; of these, twenty-four are girls in the boarding-school; they would be divided amongst the other pastorates if they were not being educated at this school. This congregation is also a very intelligent one; but its weakness lies in its members being so dependent upon Mission employ. Nellore is the oldest station in this C.M.S. Mission, yet it is apparently the least productive as far as numerical results. Two reasons seem to me partly to account for it; in its very heart is the largest and most important heathen temple: this has naturally attracted the most bigoted advocates of heathenism to the neighbourhood, and has fostered all that is prejudicial to the reception of the Gospel. The other reason may be that the district contains many weavers, brass-workers, and jewellers, castes that care but little for education. However, it is very pleasing to find that, of the 100 adults, fifty-eight are converts from heathenism, five of whom were admitted to the Church this past year. The piety of the congregation is real and progressive. Its chief feature seems to be its liberality. During the year it contributed Rs. 342 : 50 to the Pastorate Fund, and Rs. 96 : 98 for other Church purposes and the Bible Society. It possesses a real blessing in its worthy and diligent Pastor. Of the fifty-eight converts, thirty-seven attribute their conversion to school teaching; the others were brought to acknowledge Christ as their Saviour by general teaching and Christian influence. A larger proportion from those converted in schools is reported as satisfactory in progress and conduct than from amongst the converts by other means. This is also the case with converts in the other pastorates. Perhaps it may be accounted for by their greater intelligence, and also by the fact that more of them are in the Mission service. Vigour of the Jaffna Native Church.

Rokkuville Pastorate contains only thirty-six adult members and eighteen children. Of the adults, thirty are communicants. The only things to remark about this congregation are its smallness and its willingness to do all it can towards the support of its Pastor. No adult baptism has taken place in it during the year. Mr. Champion reports some hopeful cases amongst the young in the schools. His time has been too much taken up in building his church. I hope he may soon finish it, and so be able to spend all his time and energies in building the spiritual temple of Christ.

Copay Pastorate contains two congregations, one at Copay and one at Iruvali, about a mile distant. The adult members of the two congregations are 116 in number, of whom ninety are converts from heathenism. A little more than half of them attribute their conversion to schools; the others to preaching, general teaching, and Christian influence. Only twenty-three of the adults are unable to read. Mr. Hensman mentions several individuals as prominent for piety and zeal.

Educational.—The department, which was under my superintendence for seven months, has perhaps suffered more than any other from the Missionary's absence.—Chundikuly Seminary has always done well, as an educational institution, but it needed more missionary spirit and spiritual life. This want is being well supplied by Brother Wood's arrival and superintendence. I hopefully look for much greater spiritual results. I was only able to take a Bible-class twice a week, and to exercise indirect influence. Some of the converts of this year were students here, and owe at least part of their convictions to the teaching there received.—The last year's results clearly show what an important part of our work the education of the young in our Day Schools is. About half of the converts were scholars in different schools, and a good many more than half of the converts from the commencement of the Mission entirely owe their conversion to school teaching and influence. There are not a few young boys, girls, and youths in our schools at the present time unbaptized who are convinced of the truth. Some have given up all heathen practices, say they wish to be Christians, and in some cases are enduring persecution from parents and others for the truth's sake.—The Copay Training Institution has been partly remodelled. More English is taught. A boarding-school is connected with it, in which fees are charged and for which Government aid will be obtained. From this I hope to get some suitable youths for the training-class. There are ten old students in the institution. Their conduct has been generally good, and their progress fair. Some of them, I hope, will prove useful school-masters.—The Nellore Importance of Missionary Day Schools.

Girls' Boarding School was very satisfactorily conducted during the Missionary's absence by Mr. and Mrs. Gometz. Mr. Handy, the pastor, rendered them valuable advice and help. I think no department deserved more praise than this. At present there are forty-five girls in the school. We hope that some few of them are decided for Christ. Very diligent and prayerful attention is daily given to Bible teaching. The girls are of a very respectable social position; they are generally intelligent and well-behaved.

Liberality and fraternal spirit of the Chundikuly congregation.

To the above interesting Report it may be added, that the Chundikuly congregation has, by its representatives, pledged itself to raise the whole salary of its pastor. The General Jaffna Church Fund, however, still receives their contributions; and their pastor is paid from it. The generous and fraternal spirit thus shown calls for thanksgiving to God, and deserves imitation.

Turning to what is more properly the Mission (the branches of work carried on entirely at the Society's expense), Mr. Simmons writes:—

United prayer-meetings in the Jaffna Mission.

One day a week has been given to the instruction of the Catechists.—It was proposed, and unanimously agreed to by the Missionaries of the three Societies (our own, American, and Wesleyan) to hold some Special [Prayer-meetings], with a view to quicken life in the Native Church, and for seeking an outpouring of the Holy Spirit. After some preliminary meetings for consultation and prayer between ourselves, the pastors, and a few lay helpers, it was agreed that three large meetings, one in a central position in each Mission, should be held. Subjects were chosen and preachers appointed. These meetings were well attended by Christians from all the Missions. Some of the addresses were very good, and much fervent prayer was offered. Messrs. Moody and Sankey's hymns were translated and sung with great heartiness. I think we were all stirred up. Every one of our catechists speaks of the time with gratitude to God as a time of quickening.—Evangelistic Efforts have been carried on [in the Jaffna peninsula itself] by house-to-house visitation, tract and Scripture distribution, and frequent preachings in the school-rooms. The latter are specially conducted at moonlight seasons. The attendance has varied from 30 to 200. Ten of these meetings were attended by delegates from the other Societies. In return, C.M.S. men went to an equal number of meetings in the other Missions; thus unity and zeal have been promoted. There is a widespread general knowledge of Scripture in Jaffna. Many are almost or quite ashamed of their own religion; and an effort has been made to reform it, but they themselves see and confess the failure. Of the many who have been educated in the Mission schools, few are heathen in faith, though many of them remain so partially in practice, and really without faith in any religion. The world is the bond that holds them; they have not such a sense of sin and of their need of a Saviour as will make them willing to give it up in exchange for Christ. The great need for Jaffna is prayer, such prayer as is spoken of Isa. lxii. 6, 7.

Evangelistic work in the Vannie.

I have been twice into the Vannie [a thinly populated district on the mainland south of Jaffna, and stretching towards the Singhalese districts]. The first was a hurried visit to Mullativu in February. In August I was accompanied by four catechists and a lay volunteer. We spent twenty-four days in the Vannie, going down the central road to Vavonia, ninety miles from Jaffna. At Vavonia we have a zealous catechist, and a school which is in a fair condition—in fact, very good for the district. Buds of hope are here and there appearing in this wilderness. May it soon be glad for them and blossom as the rose! The Vannie needs schools conducted by men of a true missionary spirit; they should be also itinerating preachers. Who but the Lord can give us such men? We want something more than a mere ordinary Christian for this district. It is a truly unhealthy and unpromising Mission-field to a Native mind. A good large salary may bribe some, but such may as well stay away. We want two things—men, and then the money. I feel sure, if I could say, "Here are the men," you would give me the other. Then I must look up for the men. We visited eighty-eight villages in our tour, and distributed nearly 200 Gospels and 500 tracts.

The Rev. D. Wood, who had been absent through failure of health for nearly two years, returned to Chundikuly on the 29th of July, 1875, and took charge of the Educational branch. Nothing specially interesting had occurred, since that date, at the time when Mr. Wood wrote his Annual Letter.

MAURITIUS MISSION.

(Commenced in 1856.)

Division of the Mission: 1. Tamil-speaking Coolies. 2. Bengali and Hindustani-speaking Coolies.

European Mission Establishment.

Ven. Archdeacon Stephen Hobbs (m), to South India, 1839; to Mauritius, 1856: Secretary of the Mission.
Rev. Frederick Schurr (m), to Bengal, 1845; to Mauritius, 1874.
Rev. Paul Ansorgé (m), to Bengal, 1845; to Mauritius, 1857.
Rev. Henry Dison Buswell (m), to Ceylon, 1862; to Mauritius, 1866, at home.
Rev. Thomas Campbell (m), to Madagascar, 1863; to Mauritius, 1874, at home.
Rev. William Bartlett Chancellor (m), to East Africa, 1873; to Seychelles, 1874.

Work among the Tamil Indians.

Mr. Buswell having come to England by medical advice, Archdeacon Hobbs became responsible for the superintendence of all the Tamil work of the Mission. In this, however, he has been most kindly and efficiently aided by the Rev. J. R. French, a missionary of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel. Connected with the Tamil work of the two stations of Creve Cœur and Plaines Wilhelms, there were, at the date of Archdeacon Hobbs's Annual Letter, 376 Native Christians and seventy-five communicants. About forty adults had been baptized during the year. The liberality of the Calcutta Christians has stirred up the Tamils to follow their example; but the Archdeacon fears that the time is still distant when any approximation can be made to self-support. More direct evidence of the spiritual condition of the congregation is not mentioned.—Besides the absence of Mr. Buswell, the Mission has suffered from the non-arrival of the five Catechists announced in the previous Report as expected from South India. "They actually left their home," writes Archdeacon Hobbs in November, 1875, "so long ago as last April, and have been since that time waiting at Madras, seeking, without success, a passage to Mauritius, the sailing of ships from that and the neighbouring ports to our island having, from some cause or other, come to a stand."—There are several candidates for baptism, and it is also a matter of thankfulness that the Local Government continues its pecuniary grants in support of the Mission.

Work among the Calcutta Indians.

The Rev. P. Ansorgé returned to Mauritius in June, 1875, and was received by the Native Christians with much delight. A tea meeting was held to welcome him on the 19th of July in St. Paul's Parsonage. The expenses were met by the Indian members of that church. Six hundred persons were present on the occasion, chiefly Indians, though some English and French attended, as well as other guests of mixed descent. "It was a meeting," Mr. Ansorgé writes, "for united prayer and praise to our Lord, who had once more brought me back to continue His work." Mr. Ansorgé, who is assisted by one Native clergyman and five catechists, writes as follows, under date 8th Nov., 1875 :—

The most prominent event in the history of the Mission here is the admission to priests' orders of our much-beloved and well-deserving fellow-labourer, the Native Deacon, Rev. Mr. Charles Kushali. This took place on Sunday, the 19th of September last, in presence of a large Indian congregation, at St. Paul's Church. Since then the congregation has become responsible for the part payment of Mr. Kushali's salary, which formerly was provided by the Society. The pastoral charge of the Calcutta Christians in town and in the suburbs will rest from henceforth mostly upon brother Kushalli. I am glad to state that a Pastoral Fund has been started. A few months ago I deposited in the Government Savings' Bank the first 15*l.* for it; hitherto nearly all subscriptions and church collections from among Indian Christians went towards St. Paul's Church Building Fund.

The Calcutta Christians (i. e. the converts from the North Indian coolies) now in the island number 814, of whom 120 are communicants; twenty-one Native Christians returned to India in the course of the year; three came from thence to Mauritius; and the baptisms were twenty-two adults, with thirty-five children.

Preaching among the heathen has been carried on as in former years, among Hindus and Mohammedans, on plantations, in independent Indian settlements, in hospitals, and in prisons.

Miss Ansorgé has charge of the Mission School and Orphanage, where fifty-eight children are receiving religious instruction. Four other day schools are also under Mr. Ansorgé's charge.

Mr. Ansorgé moved to PLAINES WILHELMS a few days after writing the above, occupying a house newly purchased by the Society. The station of Plaines Wilhelms, which was formerly connected mainly with the Tamil department of the Mission, now belongs rather to the Calcutta department.

The Rev. F. Schurr now takes charge of the Savanne and Mahebourg districts in the South-West. With this view he has removed his residence to that part of the island, opening a new station at ROSE BELLE.

Mr. Schurr thus describes his entrance on the work, writing under date December 9, 1875:—

We left Coromandel on the 1st inst. for this new place, Rose Belle. You proposed that I should break up new ground. This has also been the desire of our dear Bishop and the Archdeacon. The Mission work looks promising. Last Sunday I visited a camp, and had at least eighty hearers. There are many such camps in this district. On Friday I visited another small settlement with the catechist, speaking about Jesus to some travellers. A man of the place followed the catechist, saying that they often heard of Jesus, but that no one ever visited them; though they were willing to be instructed. He promised attention. At my age I shall probably not be able to travel as much as I used to do in my younger days, but with God's help I shall prompt and send others, being the centre of operations and activity.

Præparandi Class.

This has been under the care of the Rev. F. Schurr. Bishop Royston speaks of it as being in a promising condition. In December, 1875, the class consisted of eight students, four Tamils, and four of North Indian descent. Mr. Schurr wisely proposed not to tie himself down at first too closely to a definite course, to receive pious earnest men of any rank, to pay to them, if necessary, an allowance approximating to that which they could gain elsewhere, and, as regards instruction, to aim chiefly at giving them Scriptural knowledge, uniting therewith practical missionary work in conjunction with the Catechists. Such a plan would fully accord with the Committee's views and with the lessons of the general experience of other Missions.

SEYCHELLES.

It was mentioned in last year's Report that the Rev. W. B. Chancellor, formerly one of the Society's Missionaries in East Africa, had been recommended by the Committee to accept the chaplaincy of the Seychelles, in order that he might supervise (as it was thought he could do without interfering with the duties of the chaplainship) Missionary work among the liberated African slaves landed there by the British cruisers. Another clergyman, however, having been now happily found for the chaplaincy, Mr. Chancellor will be able to give the whole of his time to the liberated Africans. Mr. Chancellor proposes to establish an Industrial Institution in the interior of Mahé, the principal island; and Government has granted him a piece of land for this purpose in a part of the island called the Black Forest, in a healthy situation 2000 feet high. By the close of the year 1875 he had a little over forty African children under his care. There were said to be no less than 5000 whose parents would be willing to send them.

THE Committee have once again deeply to deplore their inability to strengthen the China Mission as they would wish to do. They have, however, done what they could. Comparing the Abstract Report for 1876 with that of 1875, it will be seen that China is the only one of the older Missions where the number of European Missionaries was increased during that interval. This postponement, however, of India to China does not arise from partiality to one Mission over another, an imputation to which the Committee do not plead guilty, but from the fact that the void in India is partly, though only partly, supplied by the large increase in the number of Native clergymen. Of the four recruits supplied by the college at Islington for the Trinity ordination of 1876, two have been designated for China. The Society's expenditure on the China Mission (not including Japan) has advanced in the same period from 12,250*l.*, to 13,730*l.*

HONG-KONG.

The number of Native Christian adherents ministered to by the Rev. A. B. Hutchinson and his Native associate, the Rev. Lo Sam Yuen, amounts (including children and candidates for baptism), to eighty-two, of whom thirty-eight are communicants. Mr. Hutchinson writes under date January 1st, 1876:—

> During the year it has been my happy privilege to baptize six adults—the largest number yet added within twelve months to our ranks, yet still only a small number as compared with the increase of the older Churches of Basle and London Mission here. A large community, amongst which are several wealthy members, has a great attraction for the young convert, cut off from old friends and associations, and needing to realize whatever support there may be for him in human brotherhood: thus many are led to cast in their lot with the older and larger bodies in preference to joining our Church; but inasmuch as they are added to the Lord we therein do rejoice, yea, and will rejoice. I am happy to say that the Christian walk of those added to our ranks during the past few years has given both my Native brother and myself great satisfaction. I have felt warranted in admitting five men and five women, after due probation, to the Lord's Table, making the number of our communicants thirty-eight, of whom fifteen are awaiting confirmation. Holy Communion was administered on twelve different occasions, to an average of twenty-four communicants, the largest number present at one time being thirty on Christmas Day.

In a more recent letter dated April 25th, Mr. Hutchinson mentions that three more adults have been baptized, one being the wife of the young man whom he is training to be a catechist. There are also three or four inquirers; but Mr. Hutchinson is surprised that this number is not greater, considering the crowds that are daily and attentive listeners to the public preaching of the Gospel. There has been also disappointment connected with Wong Pi, on the main land, the candidate brought thence for baptism proving on examination to be insufficiently instructed.

The Committee hope shortly to take up additional work on the mainland near Hong-Kong, which will be more immediately under Bishop Burdon's direction.

FU-CHOW.

The Rev. J. Wolfe has been practically without any European helper during the year; the young Missionary who was sent to his assistance not having yet had time to acquire the language. The two newly ordained brethren appointed to China are to be added to the Fu-chow Mission. Mr. Wolfe writes as follows:—

The past year has been one of considerable trial and much anxiety to this Mission, but it has nevertheless been a year of considerable progress in the external extension of the Mission, as well as in the internal development of the Church.

The city of Fu-chow itself still shows not the slightest interest in the message of salvation. Our Native Church Conference has this year recommended, at my suggestion, to open five chapels in Fu-chow city, and begin a fresh crusade upon the stolid indifference of the people.

In the little chapel of Sing Taing, not far from the city of Fu-chow, where seven precious souls have been brought to Christ during the year through the instrumentality of one of the Christians at that place, a circumstance in connexion with one of them may interest you, as illustrating the power of the truth over the money-loving desires so natural and characteristic of the Chinese. The man in question was brought to the chapel where he heard the truth, in which he became deeply interested, and very soon declared himself a Christian. About this time his eldest brother, who is a small Mandarin in the province of Ching Kiang, returned to the home of his fathers with the intention of distributing a large sum of money among the members of his family. The family are poor. The sum to be distributed to each of his two brothers—one of whom is the Christian above referred to—was $2000, a large and tempting sum to a poor Chinaman. The Mandarin soon discovered that his younger brother had joined the hated Christians. This made him furious, and he at once demanded that his younger brother should return to the faith of his ancestors. The Christian refused to give up Christ. The Mandarin now threatened to cut him off from any share in the dollars unless he renounced Christianity. The Christian brother calmly told him that, though he was very sorry at the displeasure of his highly-exalted brother, Christ was dearer to him than all—that the $2000 would be a curse to him if he took them with the alternative of rejecting Christ. He further told his brother that as, in all probability, the sum of money about to be distributed by him to his relations was the fruit of oppression and wrong to many a poor man in the district which he governed, it could bring no blessing with it to those who received it. This made the elder brother still more angry; but may we not hope that, upon reflection, this Mandarin may see that his younger brother had gained a prize more precious than money, and that this circumstance may be the means of leading him to inquire into the truth? He has been earnestly prayed for both by ourselves and the Native Christians, and we have learned the mighty power of prayer.

Out-stations.

In the Lo Nguong district, a steady progress has been made throughout the district. The Lo Nguong City Church has made progress, though not so much as we could wish. We mourn over the sad fact that the city of Lo Nguong itself has scarcely shown any interest as yet in Christianity. The city congregation is mainly made up from the surrounding villages.—At Siu Hung the little church is literally crowded, and twenty-four have been baptized there during the year. The members here have shown great zeal, which has resulted in bringing a good many inquirers to the chapel.—Achia has also made considerable advance—not so much, however, in the village of Achia itself as in the surrounding villages. In one of these places, Iong-Tung, about five miles from Achia, thirty-five adults assemble every Sunday for worship, and have formed themselves into a Church. The house in which they meet belongs to one of their number, who formerly was one of our greatest enemies. Himself and his entire family are now apparently devoted Christians. The Gospel was first brought here by one of the Achia Christians who belonged to this village. He died this year at a good old age, but not before he saw, as the result of his exertions and his prayers, a goodly number of his neighbours deeply interested in Christ. Iong-Tung now bids fair to outstrip the mother Church at Achia.—O Iong also, through much persecution and trial, has grown and has carried the Gospel to many of its surrounding villages. Fifteen members have been added by baptism during the year to this interesting Church.—On the whole, the work in the Lo Nguong district during the year, however, is encouraging, and the Christians have manifested a deeper interest in spiritual things.

The Ning Taik district has also presented considerable interest during the year. The gentry and literary classes, as usual, have raised a violent persecution against us, and have tried hard to expel us from the city; they have not been able to do this, but they have caused a great deal of trouble to the Church, and much anxiety to myself. They have beaten some of the Christians, and have broken down the houses of others; and though they have succeeded in driving many of the inquirers away from the chapels, not one of the Christians has denied the faith.—At Cheik Tu, one of the newly-opened stations, where considerable interest has been awakened, the persecution raged, and still rages, most furiously. On the occasion of my visit to this place in November last I baptized seven deeply-interesting men, who made an open confession of their faith in Christ surrounded by a mob which literally howled for their death. This mob threatened to pull down the chapel on the occasion, and one of them struck myself with a severe blow. A friendly heathen warned the Catechist of a design on the part of the gentry to come and pull me out of the chapel at night and set fire to the house. This caused us some little anxiety, but we knelt down and committed ourselves to the care of our Heavenly Father, and then laid down calmly and enjoyed a peaceful sleep. One of those whom I baptized on that evening made a very deep impression on my mind. He was eighty years old, and perfectly blind. He showed a marvellously clear perception of the atonement by Jesus. He stood up in the congregation, and, leaning upon his staff, related the history of his conversion to Christ. It was deeply affecting. He was, he said, at the age of thirty a devout worshipper of the idols, but he soon found out their worthlessness, and abandoned them for ever. For many years he worshipped nothing, but was in agony to know what to worship. He then betook himself to worship the rising sun, but this brought no peace to his heart. He then worshipped the moon and stars, but peace did not come; at length, in the deepest distress, he gave up the worship of the sun and moon and cried for the true God. Just at this crisis we opened our chapel in the village, and the old man heard the Catechist preach about Jesus, and believed at once with his whole heart. "Now," he said to me on the occasion of his baptism, "I can die in peace; I have found a Saviour." I am expecting great things in this village. The Catechist here is one of the students appointed during the year.—Sioh Chuo, another station in the Ning Taik district, has made encouraging progress; the Christians have shown considerable zeal, but they have not yet succeeded in building their church.

The work in the city of Lieng Kong has this year, I rejoice to say, taken a fresh start; several of the old converts have returned, and three new ones have been baptized, while several others have entered themselves as inquirers. May the Lord continue His blessing to this place!—I have opened during the year two important out-stations in this district.—A few interesting converts have been baptized at Tang Iong this year. One of these, a poor woman in a village six miles from Tang Iong, heard of Jesus from Lazarus, one of the members of this latter Church. For twelve months she kept it all to herself, while Lazarus made repeated visits, and taught her more about Jesus; she then told her husband, who at first treated the matter with indifference. She now told her neighbours, and, with the help of Lazarus, distributed Christian fly-sheets amongst them, and pasted them on her own doors and rooms. This aroused the fury of her neighbours, and her husband took their side against his wife. The poor woman was now violently persecuted, both by her husband and neighbours; but the truth had found a lodgment in her heart, and persecution had no power over her faith. She persevered through three years of opposition, and conquered it, and on the evening of the 1st of November last walked six miles to Tang Iong Chapel, supported by her only son; and, after an interesting confession of her faith, was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ.

Conversion of a Chinese woman and persecution endured by her.

At Ku Cheng, I am thankful to say, the Lord has been working mightily this year. It is now ten years ago since I first opened this station and baptized the first convert. For years it seemed a barren field, notwithstanding the faithful labours bestowed upon it; but now it has arisen from the dust, and is putting on its beautiful garments. There were forty-two added to the city congregation this year by baptism.—At Lo-A, a new station opened this year, I baptized several, and about forty or fifty have presented themselves as candidates for baptism. They have determined to build a church, and one of their number has given $100 towards it, and altogether they have subscribed $300 among themselves. From money which I have received from friends in England I have added $300 more, and soon I am expecting to rejoice over the completion of a substantial edifice at Lo-A, which shall be consecrated to the glory of God, and filled, I trust, with devout worshippers of His name.—Tong Liang is another new station opened during the year, and several interesting converts have been gathered in, The head man is amongst this number, and he has given $200 towards the erection of a church in his village, besides a liberal contribution towards the Lo-A church. —In the important walled town of Sang Iong, where, for years past, nothing but discouragement and disappointment and spiritual barrenness prevailed, a deep and a real interest has manifested itself, and this year I have been privileged to admit fourteen souls by baptism into the Church. We have been compelled to rent the largest house in the town, in order to accommodate all who come to be taught.

We have been expelled from the important city of Iong Ping Fu. Our chapel there has been destroyed, and the authorities have encouraged and urged on the populace to acts of violence. The mandarins refuse to give us back our chapel, and they allow placards on the city walls and gates, threatening the lives of the first foreigners who dare to enter.

Catechists.

It gives me the greatest satisfaction and cause for thankfulness to God to say to the Committee that never have I witnessed more real zeal, or a more hearty interest in the great body of our catechists, than has been manifested by them this year in the great work in which we are all engaged. I propose, in a few months, to present five of their number to the Bishop for ordination. He has already had a personal interview with them.

Præparandi Class.

There have been twenty students in our theological school this year. Nine have been sent out from it during the year, either as catechists or assistant catechists. Their appointments have been made by the Native Conference, and sanctioned by myself. I hope to fill up their places in the school by the beginning of the Chinese year. Two have been dismissed for infractions of the school discipline. One who had been sent at the beginning of the year to take charge of a station disgraced himself, was excommunicated, and, in a fit of remorse, it is supposed, committed suicide. This has been a very sad dispensation to us all, and has called forth a good deal of feeling of the right kind and searchings of heart among all the catechists and students.

Annual Conference.

This took place on December 12th. The Bishop opened the Conference. The Rev. Wong Kiu Taik, on his own behalf, and on the behalf of the assembled catechists and students—sixty in number—presented an address of welcome to the Bishop, which he read in the Court dialect. The Bishop then delivered an address to them in Mandarin, which was interpreted to the Conference by the Rev. Wong Kiu Taik. The general business of the meeting then commenced, and continued for eight successive days. It was a deeply interesting season throughout. The papers on the various subjects for consideration and discussion by the Conference, which were read by the Rev. Wong Kiu Taik and the leading catechists, were really very able and interesting. I hope to be able to send you a full account of this interesting meeting as soon as I can spare the time. This Annual Conference has now become an institution in this Mission, and is calculated, if properly guided, to become a powerful instrument in the development of the Native Church.

Extension.

Last year I had to mourn over the inability of the Mission to take a single step in advance to meet the urgent call for teachers and catechists; this year I have to rejoice over the occupation of sixteen new and important stations, in some of which already precious fruit has been gathered in. Two of these new stations are important Fu cities, one a Hien city; the remaining thirteen are either important market towns or large villages. "The harvest truly is great;" there are thousands of places waiting to be occupied, and the call to us to come and occupy them is louder and more urgent than ever. One of these Fu cities, Kiong Ning Fu, occupied during the year, is the largest city next to Fu-chow in the northern part of this province, and is 260 English miles distant from Fu-chow. It is the centre of an enormous population, and I hope will become a powerful Church Missionary focus, from which shall radiate light and salvation to millions. This year, with the consent and approbation of the Native C.M.S. Conference, I have sent four additional catechists to work at Kiong Ning under the care and superintendence of the faithful and able catechist Ling, whom I hope to present to the Bishop for ordination on the occasion of his next visit to Fu-chow.

I hope the Committee will not bind our hands for lack of funds. God is raising up the men as they are wanted; and the Native Church, too, is beginning to see its responsibility, but only just beginning.

Those who read this letter would expect that the statistics would show a large increase. And this would have been the case, had not Mr. Wolfe thought it desirable, for reasons which he has fully explained to Bishop Burdon, to transfer (or re-transfer) a district, where there are 600 Catechumens, besides baptized Christians, to an American Mission. (It is not certain, however, that this arrangement will be permanent.) Otherwise the Native Christians would have numbered 2000. As it is they are registered at 1200, and the Communicants at 400; the corresponding numbers for 1874 being respectively 1360 and 443. The number of adult baptisms, however, (fishes drawn into the gospel net, John xxi. 11), is the largest the Fu-chow Mission has yet known, being no fewer than "one hundred and fifty and three."

Fu-chow is in the episcopate of Bishop Burdon, who visited it in December, 1875, and again in the spring of the present year. Of the former of these two visits the Bishop wrote as follows, under date Hong Kong, 29th Dec., 1875 :—

I have just returned from a visit to Fu-chow, where I was received most kindly by Mr. Wolfe. I had the pleasure of seeing the catechists and others assembled together in Mr. Wolfe's house, [as described above.] It did not seem convenient to hold any confirmations during this visit, but it was arranged that I should visit the Missions again in the spring, and go on a confirmation tour through the different stations, where I should meet catechists and converts at their own places. The catechists—five in number—whom Mr. Wolfe is anxious to have ordained as soon as possible, were introduced to me, and I was much pleased with their appearance, and interested in the account given of each by Mr. Wolfe. I told him that if he was ready to recommend them for ordination on the ground of moral and spiritual fitness, I would ordain them in April next, provided that I was satisfied with the amount of their knowledge of Scripture, &c.; and provided also that the Church Missionary Committee were willing to undertake their support. The Native Christians in the Fu-chow Mission seem to be doing their best to help themselves; and therefore I think they are just in the position in which help from without will do no harm but only good. Mr. Wolfe wrote to me after leaving Fu-chow, that one of the converts at the Conference had given $200 (two hundred dollars) towards the building of a small church in his own village, and had further given a donation of $15 (fifteen dollars) towards the building of another church in a neighbouring village.

Testimony of Bishop Burdon to the work at Fu-chow.

Later accounts state that four Catechists were to be admitted to Holy Orders on Easter day. The Committee heartily thank God for this accession of strength to the ministry of the Chinese Church. On the other hand a violent persecution has broken out at Kiong Ning Fu, mentioned above under the heading of Extension. The chapel has been destroyed, and the Catechists, after being hung by their hair to a tree, were severely beaten and then expelled from the city. This is no new thing in the Fu-chow Mission, but the suffering brethren will be remembered by many in prayer.

NINGPO.

The Statistics of Ningpo and its seventeen out-stations for 1875 give the following numbers :—

Communicants, 245; Native Christian Adherents, 478; Adult baptisms, 21.

The first ordination of a Chinese Christian in the Society's Mission in the province of Che-kiang has at length taken place. On the 6th of June, 1875, in the church erected for the Native Christians of the walled town of Kwun-hœ-we, in the district of Soen-poh, Mr. Sing Eng-teh was admitted to the sacred ministry by Bishop Russell. One of the Society's Missionaries gives the following account of the newly ordained brother, and of the ordination itself:—

First ordination in connexion with the Society in the Che-kiang province.

He is a thin, wiry man, about fifty years of age, of very active habits, and possessing much natural eloquence. For nearly twenty years past he had been a paid evangelist or catechist of the C.M.S. Mission, and of late years has been located in the district of Sœn-poh, residing at Kwun-hœ-we. Kwun-hœ-we is at a short distance from the sea-coast, and about thirty-five miles due north from Ningpo. In this place and neighbourhood a mission was opened by the Bishop (then Mr. Russell) upwards of twenty years ago, in the face of much opposition, and even at the risk of life, the Natives of the district having the character of being a fierce and independent people. Mr. Gough also devoted much evangelistic labour to this field during the earlier years of his Missionary course. A year or two after the commencement of the Mission the first convert was baptized; and since that time, chiefly under the fostering care of the Brothers Moule, the Mission has been extended further and further, and converts have been added from year to year, so that now, in connexion with the Kwun-hœ-we Church, there are (including the outlying branch stations) 150 Christians. There is a pretty church, with Native parsonage and Missionary's lodge at the back, and also a flourishing day school for boys. It is over this church and congregation the Rev. Sing Eng-teh has been called to preside. On the day of ordination, the Bishop, the Rev. G. E. Moule, of Hang-chow, the Rev. A. E. Moule, of Ningpo, and the Rev. J. D. Valentine, of Shaou-hing, were present, together with Mrs. Russell, Mrs. Valentine, and Miss Laurence, Superintendent of the Ningpo Girls' Boarding School. The Native congregation at morning service numbered about 170; probably there would have been a much larger assembly if the weather had not been excessively wet. In the forenoon there were two services—the first consisting of morning prayer and hymns only, and the second of Sermon, Ordination Service, and Holy Communion. The ordination sermon was preached by the Rev. G. E. Moule, who took for his text 2 Cor. xii. 9, and pointed out at length the weakness of human agents in sustaining the immense responsibilities of the ministerial office. The newly-ordained Native Deacon read the Gospel, and also took part in the administration of the Lord's Supper, when fifty Chinese and seven English Christians communicated. Miss Laurence, to the immense astonishment of the Natives, who had never heard a musical instrument in church before, led the singing with her harmonium, which she brought from Ningpo for the purpose, and several of the women present walked up to the instrument to see what the strange sounds meant. At the afternoon service there was a large attendance of heathen, as well as a good number of Christians. After Mr. Valentine had read prayers and Mr. A. E. Moule the Lessons, the Rev. Sing Eng-teh delivered an earnest discourse from the words, "We preach Christ crucified" (1 Cor. i. 23), in the course of which he showed how the preaching of Christ's Cross was a stumbling-block to the Jew and to the Chinaman alike; but how, after St. Paul's conversion, it was what he delighted in; and he concluded by telling his hearers that, though his fear was greater than his pleasure at being called to the office of the ministry, yet that, as in the past, so in the future, he should always endeavour to set before them Christ only and Him crucified. Late in the day the Native Christians, some of whom had travelled for miles to be present at the interesting service, had to return home in the drenching rain.

The Bishop speaks very highly of the ministerial qualifications of Mr. Sing Eng-teh. "Above all," the Bishop adds, "he has, as we believe, a heart changed and influenced by the Holy Spirit"

Of the work in the City of Ningpo, Bishop Russell writes as follows:—

Grace Church.—Our principal city church is still, I regret to say, unprovided with a Native Pastor; but there is good hope that the difficulties in the way of such an arrangement will soon be removed, and our dear brother Gough be at length set at liberty for work more befitting the foreign Missionary, and more in accordance with his own desires. The son of Stephen Dzing, the well-known Chinese physician, whose interesting memoir was published by the Rev. H. Moule, of Fordington, is the person designated for this post. The congregation now numbers nearly two hundred, which fills it as full as it can hold. A large proportion, however, are children from our day and boarding schools. The communicants number about eighty.

Mr. Gough has been encouraged by his weekly Bible reading with the male communicants. "The attendance is not large; but evidently the Spirit of God has been with the few, and they have felt it a blessing to meet over the Word."

The Boys' Boarding School at Ningpo has declined in numbers, several youths having been sent away as below the literary standard, and a resolution having also been passed that in future none should be admitted under the age of fourteen. The Boarding School for Girls is under the charge of Miss Laurence. It contains twenty-two children, all (with two exceptions, supported privately) children or grandchildren of converts. The children leave at an age below that at which character is usually formed; but their minds are at least well stored with Christian knowledge. Miss Laurence has also been engaged in translation. "Lines left out" has been printed at the expense of the Religious Tract Society; and Lord Hatherley's "Continuity of Scripture" is now under revision by Bishop Russell. The Bishop speaks of this school as "progressing in a very satisfactory way under Miss Laurence's able superintendence."

Of the Day Schools Bishop Russell writes as follows:—

We have several boys' and girls' day schools in the city and surrounding country, under the care of our Missionary brethren and sisters. These, in addition to the Scriptural instruction given in them, tend much to conciliate the parents and relatives of the children, and to draw them within the sound of the Gospel. Not a few of our Christians have been brought to us in this way. Besides, from the boys' day schools we hope to draft to our boarding school any promising lads who show an interest in Christianity and have an aptitude for learning. One of these boys' day schools we have on our own premises. Mrs. Russell superintends it. The number of pupils at present is twenty-six, varying in age from ten to fourteen. They receive instruction in their own classical books, and also in our Scriptures, but especially in the latter, to which the parents have no objection. They are taught both in the Roman and Chinese characters, in the former of which most of them can now read very readily and intelligibly the New Testament and other Christian books. I am sometimes startled with the amount of Scriptural knowledge they have already imbibed, though most of them have not been in the school more than two years. The whole expense is a little over 20*l.* a year. Schools of this kind might be established throughout this province by the thousand, with an abundant supply of boys to attend them; and it has often appeared to me that, as an auxiliary agency to the preaching of the Gospel, none would be likely to be more effective, were the means and persons forthcoming to carry them on.

Another branch of the work is thus described by the Bishop:—

A very promising machinery, which is gradually getting into use, is the formation of classes for Native women, who for a few cash per day, are willing to come to be taught to read and to learn Christian truth, and also to do a certain amount of needle-work, &c.; a Bible-woman meanwhile reading and expounding to them the Word of God. Mrs. Russell has recently started a class of this description. At present she has about a dozen, who come pretty regularly to our house for three hours daily. Four of these have already become much interested in the Gospel, and one has gone so far as to ask for baptism. The amount of money given as an equivalent for their time is thirty cash, or three-halfpence daily. Most of these women, too, have commenced to attend the afternoon Sunday services in our compound, without any money consideration for doing so.

Out-Stations.

The Rev. A. E. Moule, who has charge of seventeen Out-stations connected with Ningpo, writes as follows:—

The advance in the out-stations during the past year has been still slow. The number of baptisms is, if I remember rightly, almost exactly the number reported for 1874, namely, twenty-one adults and eight children; but as, through God's mercy, the deaths have been very few, and as we have more than twelve applicants for baptism, the total number [of Native Christian adherents] has risen from 248 to 279. The stations, with points reached in itineration, strike the sea-coast southwards at Da-song, twenty-five miles distant, and northwards, at Kwun-hæ-we, thirty miles off as the crow flies; whilst westward, in the hill country, we have reached a point forty miles away.

I propose, as on former occasions, to enumerate—first, the discouragements in my work for the past year; and then to state the encouragements which God, in His great mercy, has granted.

Discouragements.—(1.) Here, first and foremost, I ought to name the deep sleep of the heathen, and the drowsiness of many of the Native Christians. (2.) The departure from Christian practice, if not wholly from the Christian faith, of two once hopeful members of our Native Churches, and their lapse into idolatry and immorality. (3.) The day schools also, which have been started in some of the country stations, have so far disappointed me—partly from the unsatisfactory conduct of one of the masters, and partly from the unpromising character of some of the pupils.

Under the head of Encouragements (1), I must first mention, with thankfulness to Jehovah-Rophi [the Lord that healeth me], the comparative healthiness of the past summer and autumn as contrasted with the seasons of 1874. (2.) In connexion with this subject I may mention, as a cause for even greater thankfulness, the happy deaths of two members of our Missions. One, a woman between sixty and seventy years of age, was baptized in December, 1874, and died in February of the present year. The catechist who visited her on her death-bed told me with great thankfulness of her simple faith. "There is scarcely a moment," she said, "in which I am not thinking of the Lord." The other case was that of a schoolmaster, named Wông, who had been an inquirer for several months, but had not received baptism. He was taken suddenly ill, and died after a few days' weakness. A friend (also an inquirer) visited him on his death-bed and found him reading his New Testament. They then read and talked and prayed together. This was about noon, and that same evening he departed without a struggle. On his death-bed he had a dream which moved him much. He saw, as it were, a scroll let down before him. "What was on it?" asked his friend. "Was there a picture of any person?" "No," he replied; "nothing but the two characters (Yiœ-su) JESUS." And so, with the sound and the sight of this sweet name in his heart, I trust, and before his eyes, he departed in peace. His son, also a schoolmaster, has been baptized since his father's death. (3.) The averting of war between China and England. (4.) We have been cheered also by the baptism of one of the girls in my wife's boarding-school. This girl has gone now to live in the family of her future mother-in-law, residing in a district 200 miles distant—a dark and desolate region, seldom visited by evangelists, and a part of the country much devastated by the T'ai-p'ing rebels. We cannot but hope that our little Ruth, with her New Testament, Prayer Book, Hymn Book, and other Christian books, and with a very intelligent knowledge of Christian truth, will be a light in the darkness, and, like Namaan's "little maid," guide many to the Saviour of the world. (5.) During the past year something—all too novel, alas! in our Missions—has occurred to cheer us. In the hill village of Gao-san, about fifteen miles west of Ningpo, our Christian brother, Ling Ah-kao, who for seven years stood quite alone in those hills as a Christian, has been joined during the past two or three years by nine men and women of the same village. They have often wished to have a chapel of their own in this village; but as there is a C.M.S. outstation and chapel at Da-le, only two miles and a half distant, I told them that if they wanted a chapel they must see what they could do themselves. About a year ago Ah-kao called on me, and offered a piece of ground as a free gift, and guaranteed himself half the estimated cost of a small Mission-house. The other Christians contributed also, though not so liberally as Ah-kao; I was able to assist by a sum of money kindly sent to me by Bishop Alford for Mission-buildings; and the Bishop and our Ningpo Committee gladly voted from the Society's funds the small sum required to complete the work. The whole has cost about 25*l*. Upstairs there are two rooms—a schoolroom, in which twelve boys assemble daily; and a bedroom, in which the Missionary on his itinerations can lodge. Below, there is a nicely-furnished chapel, which will seat thirty persons. May God bless this work of Native liberality to the lasting good of both the Christian Church and the surrounding heathen! (6.) The past year has been rendered bright again by the ordination of our faithful and zealous brother, Sing Eng-teh. It is scarcely necessary to add that the Missionaries on the spot have rejoiced heartily in the removal of the hitherto unavoidable hindrances which had prevented the acceleration of ordinations. (7.) The Sœn-poh stations, over which Sing Eng-teh is ordained as pastor, have enjoyed quietness during the past year, for which we have reason to be devoutly thankful to God; and we have been cheered greatly by hearing that the sister and brother-in-law of the ruffian at Kwun-hœ-we, who attacked and nearly murdered the leading Christian there two years ago, are now regular attendants at church. (8.) I have been encouraged by the general earnestness and zeal of the catechists during the past year, and by the grief of some, often expressed, when they contemplate the heathen round them still wrapt in sleep. (9.) Voluntary unpaid evangelistic labour, in one case particularly, has also greatly cheered me. (10.) I have been able to break new ground on a lofty plateau, 2400 feet above the sea, situated forty miles west of Ningpo. A German Baptist Missionary accompanied me, and we preached together in many places where the Gospel had never been heard.

Mr. Moule has also been employed in instructing Native Teachers. To this he refers as follows:—

My work in training the catechists and præparandi has been interesting and encouraging, because of the interest and diligence of my classes. We have finished the study of the Thirty-nine Articles, having worked through half of them a second time. I am now revising a Chinese Commentary on the Articles, which I have prepared for these lectures. I have also printed lately, with money grant by the Religious Tract Society, a little book on which I have lately been at work, on and off, for ten years past—selections from "Adam's Private Thoughts." It is in easy classical style, and will be useful, I trust, as a devotional book.

A Bible-woman, who is superintended by Miss Laurence, is at work in the Lake district; and Miss Laurence also occasionally visits the parents of the scholars in her boarding-school. Of this branch of her labours Miss Laurence writes:—

This, I confess, is the work I enjoy most. The women will crowd round a foreign lady, where they will run at the sight of a clergyman. Attention and politeness, of course, vary with time and place, but I have very seldom met with rudeness, and frequently with such a degree of willing and even eager listening as makes one reluctant to leave off. God is owning the "weak things, and things that are despised," in the work of my Bible-woman. She has not much of this world's wisdom; but she has very distinct views of the value of the soul, and the inefficacy of all human schemes for salvation. She has been the means of bringing in one woman this year, whose case is of sufficient interest to be written somewhat in detail. She is at present the only Christian among several thousands. In the spring of this year, when holding service at the Lakes, Mr. A. E. Moule happened to speak of Ing-ko-wœn, a populous town on the shores of the lake opposite my Bible-woman's home, and to mention with sorrow that as yet not a single inhabitant had believed the Gospel message. This remark led to my Bible-woman's paying a visit to the place, and she fell in there with a woman who had been a widow for four years, having two sons and three or four daughters. The "new words" took hold of her mind, and she forthwith gave up the worship of idols and began to attend church. The eldest son, who is really her nephew, but has been brought up by her since the age of seven or eight months, and is regarded as her own, is a fisherman and away the greater part of the year at sea. On his return in the summer he was furious, using the coarsest language, and reviling her with accusations of the worst possible kind. He assured her that if she would worship idols he would support her, and not even require her to cook her own food; but if she entered the foreign religion he would not recognize her as his mother. Greatly tried, but in no way shaken, the woman came up to Ningpo to beg that her baptism might be hastened, hoping, by this public act of confession, both to gain strength herself, and to show her son that persecution was useless. She stayed with me a few days for final instruction, and was baptized by Mr. Moule at the end of September. Her youngest girl and boy, the only children dependent on her, are now at the boarding schools; but she has to maintain herself, her son refusing to do anything for her. The poor woman would now like to find employment in some missionary family, but I am exceedingly anxious that she should let her light shine in her own home. She gave some touching proofs of the genuineness of her faith. Questioning her one night on the subject of sin, she repeated several times, "Oh, my sins are great!" With the Chinese this so often means, "My trials are so great," that I pressed her to name some special sin which weighed on her conscience, and she mentioned one accordingly. Such a definite confession is rare. Her temper and demeanour are also markedly improved. I hear that many of the neighbours have noticed the change. She herself told us that she used to "thunder" at the least provocation; but that now when they abused her for her religion, though her heart was angry, she only smiled. She is teaching her neighbours, and, I think, has already interested two or three others in the religion which she holds so dear.

SHAOU-HING.

The Native Christian Adherents at this place (including Catechumens), number to the date of the last statistics twenty-three, five of whom are communicants. The adults baptized during the year were fifteen. The Missionaries now at the station are the Revs. J. D. Valentine and R. Palmer.

Respecting the Native Church Mr. Valentine writes as follows:—

Dec. 28, 1874.—The work of the year has been one of mixed experience. Some of the darkest and most sorrowful days of my five years' life in Shaou-hing have been spent this year, and some of the brightest and happiest too. One young man of whom I wrote thankfully and hopefully a year ago is no longer with us; his feet fell into Satan's snare, his crime was a serious one, and, with the greatest grief to myself, I sent him away. But I will not dwell on the dark side, for dismal corners may always be found on the most sunny day if you seek for them. The Native contributions for Religious purposes, I have estimated amount for the year at twenty-five dollars. This gives a rate of about five shillings per head for our twenty-one adult church members. The advance in organization is encouraging. We have our Sunday services, both forenoon and afternoon, for Christian worship. We have our preaching-room in the High Street, serving as a feeder to the church, and a link between us and the heathen. We have our boys' day school, in which some knowledge of Christian truth is imparted. We have our out-station, where there is constant preaching to the heathen, and Sunday services also, and where I propose next year to administer the Holy Communion from time to time. And on the afternoon of Christmas-day we held our first Church-meeting, as a preliminary to a District Council, when a chairman and secretary were elected, the names of Church members read, statements of accounts rendered, and a resolution passed that twenty-two dollars in the hands of the treasurer be deposited as the nucleus of a Native Church Fund. The meeting, moreover, unanimously approved of two young men being taken next year as student probationers, with a view to their being presented eventually to the Conference for the post of Catechist.

Mr. Valentine thus speaks of the intelligence of some of his candidates for confirmation:—

Our beloved Bishop arrived a few days before, and on Friday visited our out-station at Li-ts, where with power and faithfulness he addressed a heathen congregation in the preaching-room.

On Saturday evening, till past eleven o'clock, he was engaged in examining one by one some of the candidates for confirmation, and on Sunday morning before the service he examined the remainder. I was present at the examination of most of them, and was much gratified with the clear and satisfactory answers given to the Bishop's questions. I noted down at the time some of the questions and answers, and will give you just a few of them, to show you that I did not rejoice without cause. The Bishop asked the first candidate, "Do you believe in Jesus?" "I do believe," was the reply. "Why do you believe in Jesus? "Because He came from heaven and died for our sins." "Who can forgive sin?" "Only Jesus; baptism cannot wash away sin." "What is confirmation for?" "It is to strengthen faith." "Who can strengthen your faith?—can the Bishop?" "No, only Jesus can do it?" "How will Jesus do it?" "By the gift of His Holy Spirit, for whom you, the Bishop, will pray when you lay your hands upon us." . . . . "What word was it you heard that led you to become a disciple of Jesus?" "It was what I heard at the preaching-room, that the time to repent is now, and that there is no repentance in the grave."—Never did it more clearly appear to my mind what a blessing and advantage it is to have a Bishop so fully acquainted with the language, temperament, habits of thought—in short, with all the idiosyncrasies of the people in his diocese, as Bishop Russell is.

Intelligence of Shaou-Hing Christians.

The account of the confirmation itself (which took place on the third Sunday in Advent, 1875) may be best given in the Bishop's own words. He writes:—

On the morning of Sunday, the 12th of December, immediately after breakfast, Mr. Valentine's breakfast-room was filled with a company of his Chinese converts, who came for family prayer. After the singing of a hymn in the most hearty manner, the Epistle and Gospel of the day were read in a devout manner by one of his Catechists. Then I offered up an extempore prayer for a blessing upon the day which was before us, upon all that we did, and especially upon the candidates for confirmation. The company then went, and, in the most orderly and devout manner, entered the little church close by, with the exception of the Catechists and candidates for confirmation, who followed Mr. Valentine and myself to the vestry. Mr. Valentine there called on the senior Catechist again to offer up a short prayer for God's blessing upon us, and upon what we were about to do. He did so, offering up one of the most suitable prayers for the occasion I ever heard. After the usual service I delivered my address to the candidates for confirmation and to the people generally, speaking for more than half an hour to a most attentive and, as far as I could judge, appreciative audience. The confirmation service then followed, when I confirmed ten men and one woman, all over twenty years old, and most from thirty to forty.

Mr. Valentine gives an interesting account of two of those baptized during the year. He writes :—

One of those baptized on Whit-Sunday is in every respect a very promising Christian. His occupation previously was that of a maker of "mock money," formed of paper and tin-foil, used in sacrifices to the gods and to the departed. It was this young man who told the Bishop that what led him to give attention to the truth was the word he heard at the preaching-room, i. e. that "the time to repent is now, and that there is no repentance in the grave." A year ago his mind had been exercised about the Christian religion. He believed the Gospel, and felt that his employment was not employment for a Christian. So he dismissed his assistants, sold off his apparatus, and with the proceeds supported himself for two or three months, giving himself up to the study of the New Testament. His progress in knowledge was astonishing, considering that he had only just been brought out of heathenism, and that he had only the Mandarin New Testament for his text-book. When this young man had exhausted his resources, he began to cast about for other means of gaining a livelihood, and decided to become a costermonger, as that occupation would leave him most time to attend to Christian duties. As I saw him in the streets with his baskets slung to a bamboo across his shoulder, and knew what it was that had led him to give up a more profitable occupation, I could not but be grateful for the grace given unto him. He felt a little timid and ashamed at first, but he persevered and soon overcame the feeling. Ever since his baptism he has shown the same earnestness of spirit and decision of character.

A new convert at Shaou-Hing.

The work at the Li-ts out-station has not been without encouragement. One of the eight baptized on Whit Sunday, 1875, was from that town.

Evangelistic work in the surrounding country has been carried on during those seasons of the year in which travelling is possible. Mrs. Valentine has accompanied her husband on these occasions. Catechists, and other Chinese Christians, have also joined in the good work; and the evangelists, whether European or Native, have been kindly received and have had attentive audiences.

Bishop Russell was very favourably impressed with the work at Shaou-hing. He describes the people as being remarkably bold, warmhearted, and independent. Many of the Natives of the district are widely scattered over the empire, so that a work begun at Shaou-Hing might have a most important bearing on Chinese evangelization generally.

HANG-CHOW.

The Rev. G. E. Moule and Dr. Galt are the Society's European agents at this place. They are assisted by two Native Christian teachers. One of these, the Catechist, though an able preacher, still suffers from ill-health. The Native Christian Adherents now number forty-nine, of whom twenty-three are communicants. Six adults were baptized during the year. Mr. Moule writes:—

> Of the newly-baptized adults three are the members of an interesting Ningpo family, of which the father and the son only were residing here when I first met them. Some twenty-five years ago the father heard the Gospel at Ningpo from Mr. Cobbold and Mr. Russell, but without effect. Since then, in following his desultory calling, which combined music and recitation with painting, he learnt to smoke opium and to drink. Conscience from time to time rebuked him; and about two years since he set to work to leave off the opium, which he had succeeded in doing when he fell in with me here. He is now, I trust, a practical teetotaller. After the baptism of himself and his nice young son, his wife, who had come up from Ningpo, was instructed and baptized too; Matthew, Mary, and John, are their names. My wife's weekly reading is held in their cottage, which in fact she rents for them. John has been reading with me since February; and his father, since June, has been with my brother at Ningpo on probation as a catechist. He is a zealous and capable man, if God gives him stability.

Mr. Moule has been much tried by the misconduct of some of the Native Christians, by the drawing back of a very hopeful candidate, and by some difficulties connected with the evangelistic work of the Native Christian cooper mentioned in the last Annual Report. Mr. Moule also refers to the mention in that Report of the "depressing climate" of Hang-Chow, and states that "Hang-Chow is regarded by all the Mission party as the healthiest station occupied by the C.M.S. in the province."

In the hospital Dr. Galt has received 155 opium patients and forty general cases, besides prescribing for about 4000 general out-patients. Of the opium patients that have gone out cured, many are reported to have relapsed, but many also appear to stand firm. Daily worship is conducted with the indoor patients by Dr. Galt and his Native assistant. "We try to give them the gospel history as simply as we can," writes Dr. Galt, "during their sojourn of fifteen days or so." They usually listen very attentively. Mr. Moule and his Catechist address the out-patients.

Bishop Russell visited Hang-Chow in November, 1875, reaching the Mission station at mid-day on Saturday, November 4. He thus describes some incidents of his visit:—

At 4 p.m. on Saturday the members of the Mission met at his house for their usual Saturday evening prayer-meeting, when a blessing was specially invoked upon the Native Christians who were to be confirmed the next day. At 10 a.m. the following morning the prayers were read by Mr. Moule in his pretty little church, and the lessons by his Native catechist. After delivering an address I administered the rite to seven candidates, who seemed in every respect fitted for it. The congregation present numbered about eighty persons, who conducted themselves in a most quiet, orderly manner. In the afternoon at 3 p.m. we again assembled for evening prayer. On our return to Mr. Moule's house we had another service in English, which most of the Protestant missionaries in Hang-chow attended, to whom I had the privilege of preaching; and thus we closed a very quiet and happy Sabbath day in that great capital.

On Wednesday, at an early hour, Mr. Moule and I started for a village about ten miles from Hang-chow. Here Mr. Moule has commenced a little out-station, the only one we have as yet in connexion with our Hang-chow work; but which, I have no doubt, will soon be followed by many others. He has located there for evangelistic work a married couple, members of his church, Aquila and Priscilla by name, both apparently promising workers, and especially the wife, who seems, for a Chinawoman, unusually bright and intelligent.

SHANGHAE.

The Rev. T. McClatchie continues his labours at this station, assisted by two Native Readers. The present number of Native Christians is not given. There are fourteen communicants, and two adults were baptized during the year. Mr. McClatchie states that there has been an increase of inquiry as to the doctrines of Christianity, and that a large number of Christian tracts have been distributed.

Towards the end of May, 1875, Bishop Russell inaugurated Trinity Church at Shanghae as the cathedral church of his diocese. The Bishop writes on this subject as follows:—

This step was not taken without much anxious thought and prayer. Trinity Church, Shanghai, was originally erected with funds voluntarily subscribed by resident merchants and other members of the community. It was subsequently, and still is, vested in trustees, of which H.B.M. Consul for the time being must be one. Its erection into a cathedral for ecclesiastical purposes is a mere voluntary arrangement between the trustees on the one side and me on the other, having validity just so long as it may be mutually agreeable to both parties. At any time it is quite competent for either, by simply notifying a wish to that effect, to dissolve the compact, should any event arise to make it desirable to do so. The trustees, I am persuaded, and their minister, would be quite as much opposed as I am myself to everything of an ultra kind, whether in the shape of high ritual or sacerdotal teaching; and, should any changes in these respects unfortunately be made at any future time, with the consent of the trustees, but without my sanction, my course even in that case will be very plain, viz. to annul the partnership. But let us not forbode evil, but rather anticipate good from what has been done, and that to all the parties concerned. With the Divine blessing it will, I am satisfied, have the desirable effect of bringing us Missionaries and our people in these parts nearer together than we have been before, to the mutual benefit of both.

Bishop Russell also announces the safe arrival of Mr. Lanning, the English Schoolmaster appointed to Shanghae, who has already commenced his labours in the Anglo-Chinese school, with "prospects of future usefulness," the Bishop observes, "as bright as can reasonably be expected." Bishop Russell is of opinion that Shanghae is rapidly becoming the head-quarters from which will radiate in all directions such influences, beneficient or otherwise, as accompany the location in any place of British residents. He therefore urges that at least three missionaries should be stationed here.

PEKING.

Bishop Russell stayed at Peking twelve days during the latter part of September and the first week of the following month. The Bishop speaks as follows of Peking as a Mission-field:—

The importance of Peking arises from its being the capital of China. But the marvellous inertness of the present ruling power, its stolid indifference to the best interests of those it governs, its antiquated and effete conservatism, its obstructiveness to all progress, its impenetrable obtuseness as to the requirements of the present age and the need of a large and liberal policy in order to meet its demands—all combine to modify very considerably the importance of Peking as a great centre for the diffusion of civilization and Christianity. It has, however, a vast population of its own, amounting to at least a million souls, who live within its walls; and outside, too, within a few miles' distance, there is another probably as great. While, therefore, I could not recommend the Society to plant there a very extensive missionary machinery, I am yet of opinion that our existing agencies ought to be maintained and somewhat increased. Had we the means I should be inclined to suggest a good boarding school for the education and training of the sons of the Native converts, to be conducted and superintended by a man specially sent out from home for the purpose. Peking as a Mission-field.

The number of converts to Protestant Christianity connected with the different Missions at Peking is not very considerable; nor is their character altogether satisfactory. Still there are to be found there some two or three hundred who bear the name of Christ; and doubtless amongst them a few who are Christians in deed and in truth, as they are in word and profession.—On Friday, the 8th of October, it was my privilege to address a little company of about thirty, members of Mr. Collins's church, who on this occasion assembled to meet me. I spoke in Ningpo colloquial, and my words were transferred into Pekingese by an old friend of mine, a Ningpo man, Catechist of the American Presbyterian Church, who had resided in Peking thirteen years. The whole number of baptized Natives in connexion with our Mission at Pekin and the out-stations is, I believe, about fifty. The Peking Christians, under the superintendence of Mr. Collins, are principally taught by the Catechist, who seems an earnest and devoted man; and those at the out-stations by the principal Christian in the district, without, if I mistake not, any pay from the Mission. Then, on Mr. Collins's premises, there are two day schools, one for boys and the other for girls; the former having twenty pupils, and the latter thirteen, and both with Christian teachers. These schools, and especially the girls', receive much careful superintendence and teaching from Mrs. Collins.

The Society's Missionaries at Peking are the Rev. W. H. Collins and the Rev. W. Brereton. Mr. Collins, under date

Present Missionary aspect of Japan.

THE public interest felt by the Japanese generally in Christianity is unabated, and probably even increasing. The subject is frequently discussed in the Native newspapers. The comments of editors and the letters of correspondents are sometimes on the side of the Gospel, sometimes unfavourable; but the widespread circulation of these journals keeps Christianity before the minds of multitudes, and leads them to examine into its claims as the religion of the greatest nations of the world. Meanwhile the Government remains silent, neither encouraging nor opposing. Its attitude is variously interpreted; and probably its members are themselves divided in opinion. "The country," observes Mr. Maundrell, of Nagasaki, "appears to me to be religiously not unlike what Madagascar was when I went there eleven years ago. Two or three moves on the part of the Government in favour of Christianity, and I believe we should have the people in a body embracing it." Infidelity has also its followers among the younger portion of the educated classes. In short, a movement, almost unparalleled in the history of nations is now going forward in Japan; and earnest prayers should be offered up to GOD, that it may be overruled for the extension of the Redeemer's kingdom.

AND JAPAN

As a rule, Missionaries, though not restricted in travelling, are still, like other foreigners, prohibited from residing outside certain small specified districts.

In March of the present year, 1876, the Japanese Government issued an order that from and after the 1st of April, Sunday should be a Government holiday, and Saturday a half-holiday. The edict may have been prompted simply by the desire for increased assimilation with European and American customs; but it will be in many respects a help to Missionary work.

NAGASAKI.

The Rev. H. Burnside having, as mentioned in last year's Report, left Nagasaki in April, 1875, the work during that and the two following months was under the charge of the Rev. H. Evington, of Osaka. On the arrival of the Rev. H. Maundrell, formerly of Madagascar, Mr. Evington returned to his own station, having, on the day before his departure, July 11th, taken part in the opening of the little church at Deshima, which, though in the foreign settlement of Nagasaki, is yet conveniently situated to attract Japanese audiences. Mr. Maundrell, under date December 13th, 1875, writes as follows:—

Almost the first thing that took place after my arrival was the opening of the Mission church at Deshima, which Mr. Burnside had built. It was a happy introduction to my work We now hold in this church regular morning and evening services every Sunday. That in the evening is quite public, when the Catechist preaches, and there is generally a congregation of from twenty to fifty Japanese present. That in the morning is more for the few Christians and inquirers. At this I venture to give simple expositions of Scripture myself; and intend to make it, like the evening one, public, when I am more advanced in the language. Though the evening service is attended by chiefly a fluctuating congregation, few persons coming regularly, it has not been without some apparent fruit. Two candidates for baptism, who are coming to me for instruction, were led to do so mainly through what they heard at this service.

We observed St. Andrew's Day by having a service for the English residents, and a united prayer-meeting for the Natives. May the universal prayers offered that day bring down abundant blessing on the Society's labours throughout the world!

Seven Japanese adults were baptized by Mr. Maundrell on Easter Sunday in the present year.

OSAKA.

The Rev. C. F. Warren and the Rev. H. Evington are the Missionaries at this station. A little missionary chapel was opened on the 30th of May, 1875. Mr. Warren thus speaks of the services conducted there:—

Beginning of the work at Osaka.

The Sunday morning service held at 9 or 9.30, according to the season, is intended for those who are inquiring and desirous of attending Christian worship on the Lord's day. It consists of portions of the Morning Prayer, reading the Scriptures, singing, and an exposition. The whole exercise is conducted with open doors, and any who are so disposed are at liberty to come in. Sometimes during the exposition we have had a congregation of nearly thirty, but the average attendance has been about fifteen. The Sunday afternoon service, held at 3 or 4 o'clock, according to the season, is conducted much in the same way, except that there is a sermon instead of an exposition. The congregation has gone on steadily increasing. For some time we did not average more than thirty, but recently the number has risen to forty, and last Sunday there were fifty present. Already we are contemplating the enlargement of our little chapel.—The Thursday evening service, which is like that on Sunday mornings, has been fairly attended. We have seldom had less than a dozen present, and frequently twenty and even thirty have come in during the exposition. On Wednesdays and Fridays I attend in the chapel for preaching. On these occasions the congregations have been most frequently from twenty to thirty, though sometimes less than a dozen. After the different services, conversation or discussion is frequently prolonged under very interesting circumstances till quite a late hour. I have also attended in the chapel every afternoon (Mondays excepted) to meet any who might come for conversation. In fine weather we have seldom been without one or more visitors, and sometimes during a single afternoon as many as twenty, thirty, and even fifty have heard something of the Way of Life, and carried away a small tract. On these, as well as on other occasions, we not unfrequently have had visitors from a distance. Osaka, being a great commercial city, is frequently visited by merchants from all parts of the country. Some of these have been in our chapel and visited me in the house. I had visitors from the extreme west as well as from the north and east.

There are some inquirers; of two of whom Mr. Warren has a good hope that they "are really learning of Jesus, and desire to be wholly His." The day of intercession, November 30th, 1875, was well observed at Osaka, three services being held, at one of which there was an administration of the Lord's Supper, and at another a united prayer meeting. Representatives of each Mission (C.M.S., American Episcopal, and American Board) were present at all three services.

Nothing of special interest has been recorded from YEDO or from NIIGATA. The latter of these is a new station taken up in 1875 and occupied by the Rev. P. K. Fyson.

HAKODATI.

As the Rev. W. Dening the first Missionary at this station, reached it only on the 14th of December, 1873, and was then ignorant of the language, the work here must be regarded as still in its infancy. As early, however, as December 7th, 1874, Mr. Dening spoke of hoping to baptize an inquirer on Christmas day. The convert referred to, has had to bear some persecution, but by the grace of God has gone on well. Several other inquirers attend the services and Bible classes regularly, but have not yet decided for Christ; though one had gone so far (previously to the recent Government order on the subject) as steadfastly to refuse working on the Lord's day. At an annual festival in the summer of 1875, no less than six hundred persons "listened," Mr. Dening writes, "for two hours to the words of life." Many of these were from the surrounding villages.

In the summer of 1875 Mr. Dening visited a village of the Ainos, an Aboriginal tribe found in various parts of the island (Yeso) of which Hakodati is the capital. He spoke to them through the medium of Japanese, which they understand, though they have a language of their own said to be akin to the Eskimo. When informed of the Missionary's intention to visit them and their countrymen, and teach them the worship of the true God, they seemed much pleased, and assured him that he would be well received everywhere. They are supposed to number about 30,000. Mr. Dening earnestly begged for another Missionary in order that he might devote himself more fully to the Ainos. One has been recently appointed accordingly.

Present condition of the New Zealand Mission.

THOUGH there are still dark spots and spiritually desolate districts in the New Zealand Mission, it may truly be said, with humble thanksgiving to God, that a general movement upwards is discernible among the Maori population in almost every part of the island. The Bishop of Waiapu, Dr. Williams, in the Annual Letter which he has kindly written to the Committee, has reviewed the past history and present condition of the Native Church. On the Gospel being first brought to the Maories, he observes, many received the Word gladly. A large portion of these had no root in themselves, and therefore, in the time of temptation, which came upon them suddenly and severely, they fell away. When war broke out, Natives were found on both sides, and it is difficult to say whether the hostile or friendly Maories were exposed to the greater temptation. The former invented for themselves the Hau-hau superstition; the latter imitated some of their English allies in the immoderate use of intoxicating liquors, and the comparative neglect of the means of grace. The Rotorua districts especially suffered from this cause, it being a place of resort for the English (from the beauty of its natural scenery), and its Missionary having been removed from it by failing health, while there was no Maori teacher qualified to take his place. Now, however, even in places where there had been the greatest and most deplorable falling away, the chiefs and the people are beginning to be ashamed of their neglect of religion, and to wish for the establishment of public worship and the preaching of God's Word.

Sir W. Martin, for some years Chief Justice of New Zealand, has kindly placed in the hands of the Committee a letter written by himself to another party in answer to the question why the work thrives in some districts and languishes in others. The following important extract is here inserted :—

Testimony of Sir W. Martin to the work of the Society in New Zealand.

1. The North, the district first Christianized, was spared any actual visitation of war. The Church was depressed and weakened during that time, for there could not fail to be many Natives in the North who sympathized with their brethren who were fighting in the South ; but there was no open defection. Moreover, it was well provided with Native Pastors, whose labours, being superintended and aided by the Bishop and by the Missionary clergy, have resulted in the present hopeful condition of that part of the island.

2. The East Coast was for a long period a seat of war,—a war carried on, not by the Queen's troops, but by the colonial forces and by Natives fighting against Natives. This district also had a number of Native Pastors, who strove faithfully against adverse circumstances with a reasonable measure of success.

3. The central region, the last occupied by the C.M.S., and naturally the least advanced, was a seat of war in like manner. In the Taupo district, a station had been planted and successfully maintained for years by the Rev. T. S. Grace. He did not leave his post until his life was in danger. His house was burned down and the station ruined. However, he returned from time to time whenever a favourable opportunity offered to visit his people, and is still exerting himself to procure the means of reviving the work. In the Rotorua district there was a Mission station at Tarawera. During the war it became unsafe for the Missionary to stay on the ground. When the war began, neither Taupo nor the Rotorua district had yet been provided with any resident Native Pastor. That, under such circumstances, a lingering war, drawing after it every source of corruption and degradation, should produce the present desolate state of this central district is no cause for wonder, nor is it a cause for despondency.

Four Maori brethren have during the year been admitted to Deacons' orders, all by the Bishop of Auckland—the Revs. Meinata Te Hara, Alexander Wharemu, and Matiu (Matthew) Kapa, on the 24th of August, 1875, and subsequently the Rev. Reihána Kamiti. One Native Minister has died during the year, the Rev. Hare Tawhaa, of the Waiapu diocese. The number of the Native Clergy, taking the island generally, is still below what is requisite. The schools at Auckland, Otaki, Te Aute, and Napier are of much importance for supplying this want; and at the same time the Committee trust that the more experienced European Missionaries in the island will, as opportunity may arise, give preparation to suitable candidates by bringing them under their own personal influence. The whole subject, however, of the supply of Native Ministers is receiving careful consideration, both from the parent Committee and in New Zealand itself. The Rev. E. C. Stuart, formerly the Society's Secretary in Calcutta, has been asked by the Committee to visit New Zealand, and they anticipate, with God's blessing, much benefit from his advice in this and other branches of the work.

In Kaitaia and Waimate together, forming the Archdeaconry of Waimate, the aggregate number of Maori Christians is about 5000, of whom 855 are Communicants. The European labourers are three—Archdeacon Clarke at Waimate, and the Rev. J. Matthews and Mr. W. G. Puckey at Kaitaia. The Native Clergy are nine, including the Rev. Reihana Kamiti; and the auxiliary Native Teachers (most, if not all, unpaid) are seventy-seven. It is an interesting fact that the Rev. Reihana Kamiti has been ordained on the promise, instead of (as usual) the actual receipt of an endowment. The Bishop was induced to accelerate his ordination through the urgent entreaties of the chiefs and people of Ahipara. It appears that Ahipara has supplied two Maori Clergymen to other places, Mr. Matiu Taupaki and Mr. Renata Tangata. It has also helped to raise the endowments of neighbouring districts. These latter are now returning the favour, working hard in the gum-fields together with the Ahipara people in order to raise the promised amount.

Mr. Matthews writes from KAITAIA as follows :—

During the past year our district has enjoyed outward peace, but not plenty. In the winter, the Kaitaia Valley was visited with a fearful flood, which destroyed the greater portion of this year's supply of sweet potatoes. In the autumn the measles broke out. Only one adult died. The Natives, quite contrary to their conduct twenty-one years ago, were very attentive to our directions, and with the happiest results.—The Natives from Hokianga to the North Cape have still proceeded in selling their waste lands. They will soon have but little waste land for sale, and perhaps it will be the best thing for them. The means of grace are, we believe, well attended. The teachers have been diligent in their duties, and the meetings held weekly for their instruction have been well attended, and have proved very interesting.

Mr. Matthews observes in the same letter that "it has proved an incalculable blessing to have the Prayer-book so well translated. The New Zealand language seems to suit the Liturgy in all its richness of devotion and praise." Mr. Puckey, who, after more than fifty years of faithful service, is nearly disabled by the infirmities of advancing age, and is now residing at some little distance from the station, writes as follows :—

When I found how unable I was to resume my usual duties, I used to walk quietly down to the public road and wait for passers-by, to whom I could speak the words of everlasting life ; and many opportunities I had, thank God. By-and-by the winter set in, and I had to leave off. But God had a work still for His unworthy servant to do. A young married Maori woman came to live near us with her baby. They took severe colds, which ended in consumption and death. Lucilla, for such was the mother's name, did not at first appear to have any very serious thoughts about her soul. During her affliction, however, God was pleased to make use of me, His unworthy servant, as the instrument to direct the sufferer to the Saviour. Her last words were, "Do not grieve for me—I am going to Christ—I am leaning on the bosom of Christ. He redeemed me by shedding His blood for me to cleanse me from my sins. Farewell, cleave close to Christ when I am gone." We replied, "Go, through the mercies of God." She then shook hands with each present, looked lingeringly on them, and so fell asleep in Jesus.

Archdeacon Clarke thus reports of the WAIMATE Mission District, which forms part, as before mentioned, of his (the Waimate) Archdeaconry :—

In my own immediate district there are very few who do not attend service on Sundays, or have family prayers. In several places week-day Bible-classes have been established, the good effects of which are shown in the intelligent appreciation of Christian doctrine by some fifty or sixty who are now being prepared for confirmation. —During the year I have sold 180 Prayer Books, 140 New Testaments and forty Bibles, more than I had previously disposed of during the whole previous six years that I have been here. The whole stock of Prayer Books is exhausted. I believe that I could get rid of 100 in a week or two, if I only had them.—The increase in the number of communicants is encouraging. It must be borne in mind that while all who repent and believe are invited to the Lord's Supper, only those are admitted who are personally known to be moral, and who have also been subjected to a course of instruction as to the nature of the holy ordinance. It is our regular practice that all who propose partaking should meet the day before for instruction and conversation. On these occasions personal advice is given, difficulties are explained, and censure or encouragement as required.—In every settled congregation offertories are made for the current expenses of the church; and although the amount contributed is small, the principle is being established, and a spirit of self-reliance is being promoted. The accounts are published annually as a supplement to the "Proceedings of the Native Church Board." Besides the regular offertories, funds are being raised for pastoral endowments by subscription.—Intemperance, the prevailing sin hitherto, has not altogether ceased, but there has been nothing like the excess of previous years. In other respects I have heard of but little immorality.—It has been my privilege to attend the death-bed of several who have slept in Christ. The childlike simplicity of the faith of the genuine Maori Christian is enviable. The question, "How can these things be?" never seems to occur to them. It is simply, "Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners," "I am a sinner, therefore Jesus died to save me." The trust in the Saviour of two young women who died during the winter, and whom I had known from their infancy, was enough to shame many an apparently advanced civilized Christian. True it is that we who profess to be so far ahead of those whom we are supposed to teach may learn many a lesson from these babes in Christ.—In conclusion, I ought to say that, under God, I attribute the present encouraging state of the people very much to the influence of the example of my fellow-helpers, the Revs. Hare Peka Taua and Matiu Kapa. Matiu Kapa is a new hand, having been with me only four months. He is to go to Waimamaku in the Hokianga district, where the Natives have built a neat little church and provided an endowment. I still want two more men, one to be permanently fixed at Kaikohe, and another at Whangaroa. Each would then have a district of over twenty miles long. Value of Maori clergymen.

Hauraki has no longer a European Missionary exclusively devoted to it, the Rev. G. Maunsell having been removed to Tauranga, where Archdeacon Brown's long labours and advancing years deserved for him some assistance and relief. Mr. Maunsell thus speaks of his work in the district from which he has now thus transferred :—

"Other men laboured," and I was permitted to enter upon and consummate such parts of their labours as remained to be performed. Difficulties indeed I met at the outset; but, by the grace of God, they were overcome; and though my heart at times seemed to fail within me, still I found that one by one they were cleared away, and I was able to hand over to a Native brother, in full orders [W. Turipona], that portion of God's flock to which He had enabled me to minister for seven or eight years. Of the large district commited to my care, I rejoice that at Kaipara—another brother, the fruit of the labours of the earliest workers in this vineyard, which they themselves indeed planted, is so diligently supplying my place, and doing more than, owing to many cares, I was able to accomplish.—Looking yet to that other part which in turns I occasionally visited with brother M. Taupaki, viz. Whangarei, I could retire therefrom with a feeling that that was also provided for by the ordination of another deacon, A. Whareuma, in September last. So far, then, I had great cause for thankfulness.—But all were not thus cared for. The Ngatipara, to whom I chiefly paid attention during the past twelve months, have no minister of their own, and will have to depend for such crumbs of religious food as the Native brethren to whom I have referred can spare them, after supplying their own flocks. I could only visit them at considerable disadvantage. Even in these places there has been an outward appearance of improvement, for prayers are daily said by them, whereas before they were utterly negligent. They have bought Prayer-books, and use them constantly.—One section of this people are Hauhaus. Yet both parties have in common agreed to abandon drinking and gambling, of which I saw a remarkable proof at a large gathering in August last. To my delight I hardly saw a single case of drunkenness; and further confirmation was afforded by the remark of one of those touters to the vices of others, who are to be seen wherever they have an opportunity of making gain. This person was asked, by a gentleman who was walking with me, how he was getting on; he replied, "Oh, doing nothing at all, for all these fellows have become teetotallers!" I could not but contrast this with what I had seen at former meetings, when spirits were distributed with lavish hand, whereas in this case none at all was given.—Thus, then, I close my connexion with my old work, thankful for the mercies here recounted, and parting with reluctance from many who kindly and cordially received me, and longed for my continuance amongst them, and expressed regret at my removal.

Mr. Maunsell's statistics give three Native Clergymen, thirty Native Christian Lay Teachers, and 107 Communicants.

WAIKATO.

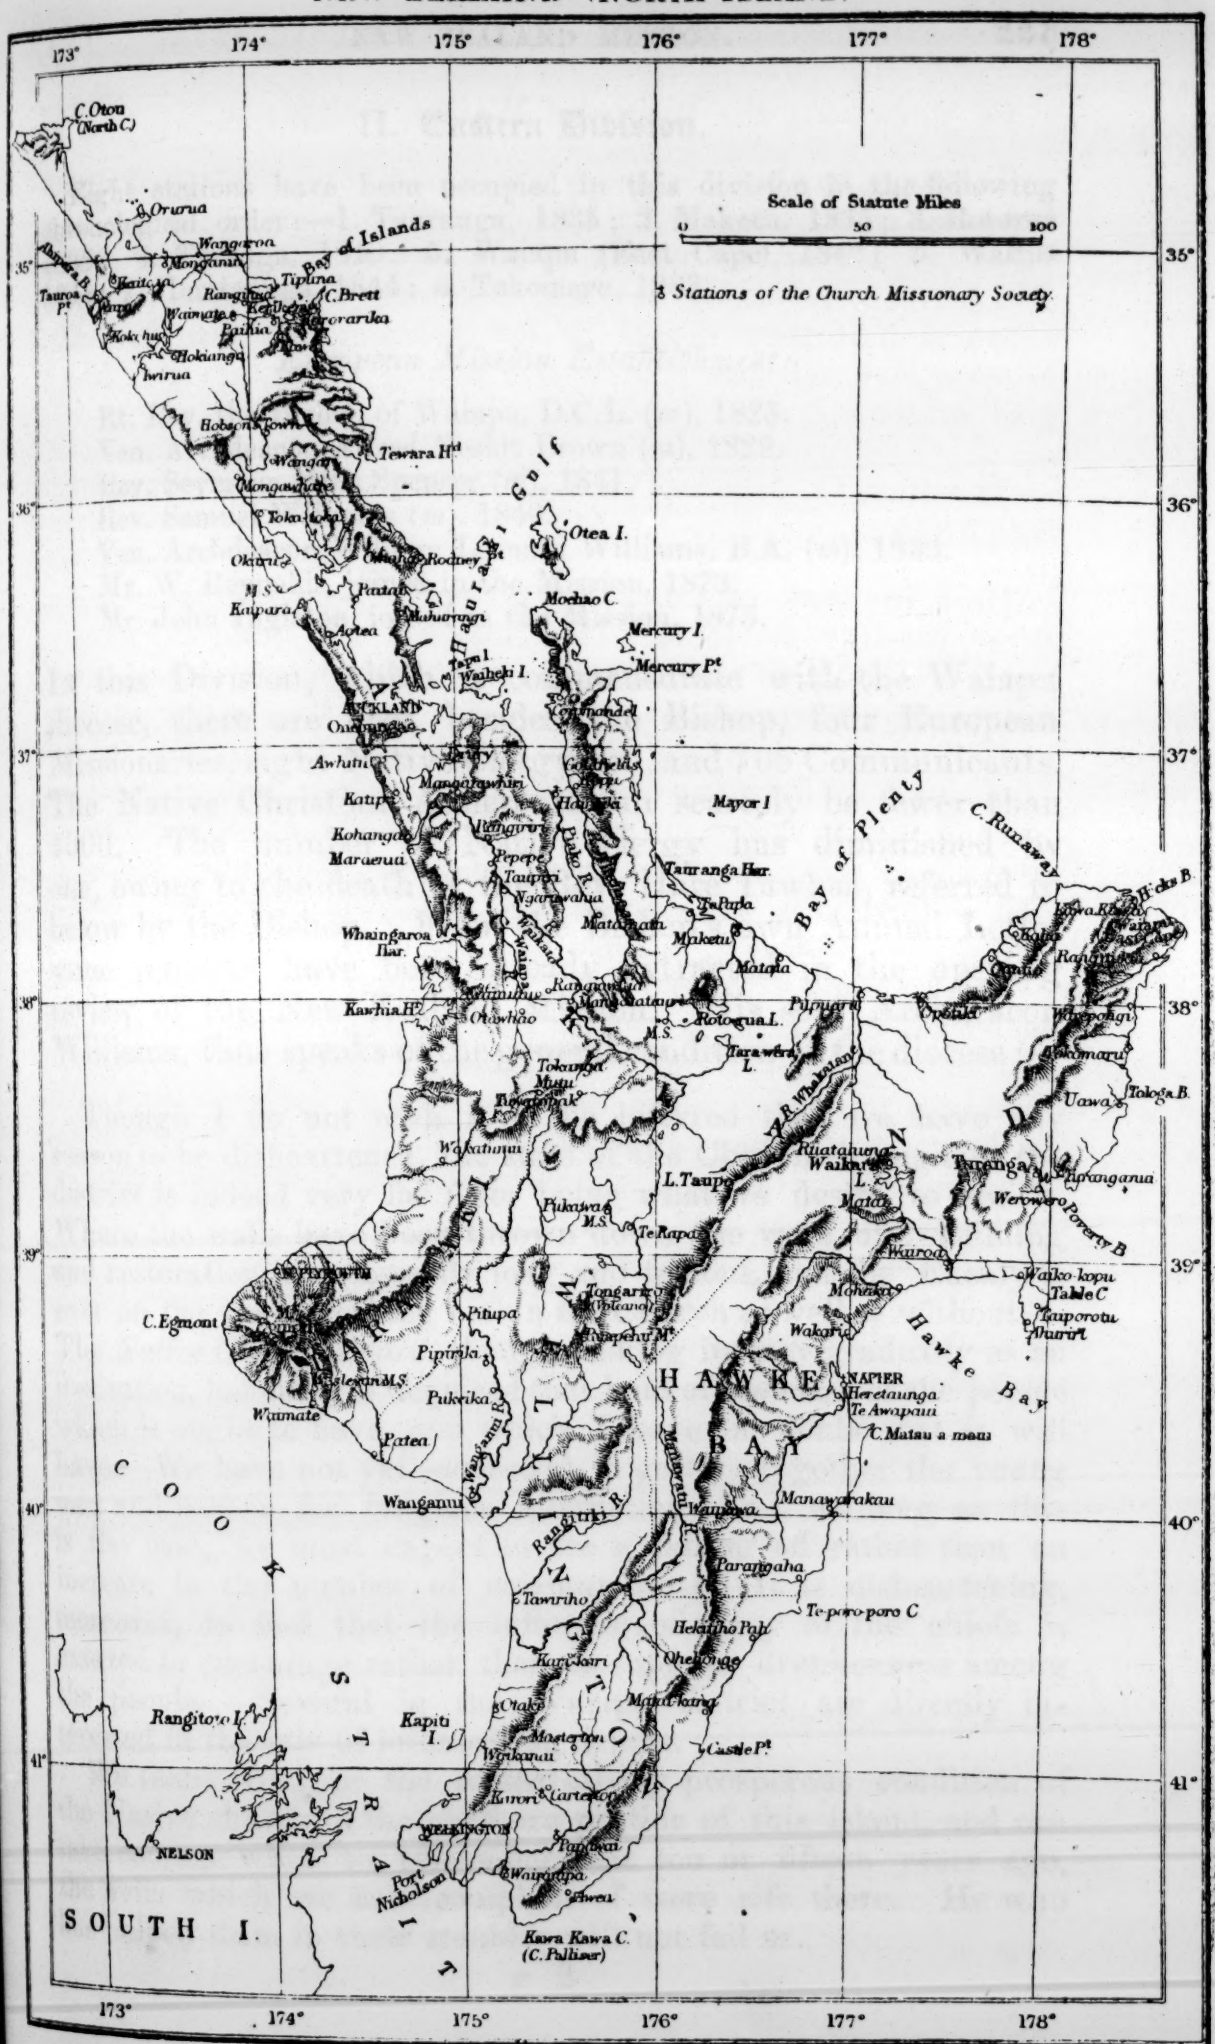

The Rev. B. Y. Ashwell was compelled by the state of his health to spend several weeks of the winter season in Auckland, where he found some missionary work among the Maories in the jail, hospital, and almshouses. After speaking of his own feeble health, Mr. Ashwell writes:—

A missionary's comfort in suffering, and work, and hope deferred.

I feel that any moment I may be summoned away. The thought of being with Jesus is sweet, but the sweetest of all is the being enabled to say from the heart, "Thy will be done," "Renew my will from day to day." It is my great desire, if it is the will of God, to die at my post. Dear old Waikato! I trust I may still be of use there in our Friday prayer meetings encouraging Heta, my dear, dear native brother minister and faithful labourer in Waikato. Waikato, I consider, has suffered more than other places. All the lands belonging to the Waikato tribes have been confiscated, and it requires much patient waiting before the effects of the war will be overcome. I am thankful to say that rum-drinking is decreasing, but I cannot say as yet I see much sign of spiritual life in Lower Waikato, but we must wait, watch, and pray.

The Rev. Heta Tarawhiti has regularly visited the villages near his residence at Taupiri, but has not made long journeys, having been prevented by sickness and family affliction.—Mr. Ashwell has with him a Native Teacher, whom he is preparing for future usefulness in the service of Christ and His Church. —The statistical returns for Waikato give 60 Communicants and 320 Native Christians.

NEW ZEALAND (NORTH ISLAND)

II. Eastern Division.

Eight stations have been occupied in this division in the following chronological order:—1. Tauranga, 1835; 2. Maketu, 1835; 3. Rotorua 1835; 4. Turanga, 1840; 5. Waiapu (East Cape), 1842; 6. Wairoa 1844; 7. Heretaunga, 1844; 8. Tokomaru, 1863.

European Mission Establishment:

Rt. Rev. the Bishop of Waiapu, D.C.L. (m), 1825.
Ven. Archdeacon Alfred Nesbit Brown (m), 1829.
Rev. Seymour Mills Spencer (m), 1841.
Rev. Samuel Williams (m), 1846.
Ven. Archdeacon William Leonard Williams, B.A. (m), 1853.
Mr. W. Reynolds, joined in the Mission, 1873.
Mr. John Ingleton, joined in the Mission, 1875.

In this Division, which is commensurate with the Waiapu diocese, there are now, besides the Bishop, four European Missionaries, eight Native Clergymen, and 705 Communicants. The Native Christian Adherents can scarcely be fewer than 4000. The number of Native clergy has diminished by one, owing to the death of the Rev. Hare Tawhaa, referred to below by the Bishop. From the Bishop's own Annual Letter some remarks have been already extracted in the opening review of the New Zealand Mission. His son, Archdeacon Williams, thus speaks of the general condition of the diocese:—

Though I do not wish it to be inferred that we have any reason to be disheartened, the state of the Church throughout the district is indeed very far from being what we desire to see it. Where the walls have been thrown down the work of rebuilding and restoration is necessarily long and tedious, and the Enemy is ever on the alert, working within the Church as well as without.—The Native Church Board, though making its way gradually as an institution, has not yet acquired that hold of the mass of the people which it ought to have, and which I have no doubt that it will have.—We have not yet succeeded in getting together the young men and women for religious instruction; and, as long as this is the case, we must expect to see a falling off rather than an increase in the number of communicants.—It is disheartening, moreover, to find that the influence of many of the chiefs is exerted to encourage rather than to suppress drunkenness among the people. Several in the Waiapu district are directly interested in the sale of intoxicating drinks.

We thank God for the comparatively prosperous condition of the Native church in the northern portion of this island, and can take courage when we remember that ten or fifteen years ago, the evils which we now complain of were rife there. He who has helped them in their troubles will not fail us.

Of TAURANGA the Bishop of Waiapu writes:—

Tauranga has been for many years in a very desolate condition but some of the chiefs have spoken well of late. They say they have heard that the people of the Bay of Islands, and of the Thames, are returning to their religious duties, and they feel ashamed that they should be left behind; and now that Mr. George Maunsell has gone to live among them, they give him a glad welcome.

The Rev. G. Maunsell himself writes under date December 8th, 1875:—

Efforts to reclaim wanderers.

Here we meet in full force the evil effects of man's angry, fierce passions let loose. How different this from the hearty, ready response of old friends! Here are bitter words, proud taunts, unjust accusations, evil surmisings. We come to a village and introduce ourselves; at once a reply is made, "Oh, we are Hauhaus; we have our own form of worship. You missionaries have deceived us; you took our land. We have forgotten all about your prayers, for we have not heard them since the war," and so forth. A patient bearing, kindly remonstrance, candid explanation, however, in some measure mollify these expressions of anger; and it is agreed to have a short service, particular stress being laid on making it short. The nature of worship, as spiritual and sincere, and to a Spiritual Father in heaven, is the theme of discourse; and at the end, perhaps, we part better friends, with an invitation to come again, although the conduct of some of the congregation was anything but becoming and reverent. And yet what wonder they have been estranged and left to their own imaginations? There is but one small church here which they can attend, though there are many settlements. This church Archdeacon Brown wishes to retain for the remaining strength there is in him, for, as he himself describes it, he is but "faint, yet pursuing."—Finally, I am hopeful, for invitations are made me to visit settlements, inquiries are made as to my next visit, friendliness towards myself is expressed, Prayer-books were asked for, and answers to objections are listened to with candour. Pray for us!

Of ROTORUA, with which Opotiki is at present connected, and of which the Rev. S. M. Spencer is in charge, the Bishop writes as follows:—

The friendly Natives of ROTORUA did not find that a time of war was favourable to the growth of Christian principles. Their Christianity was like a tender plant, which, while it required protection and care, was all at once exposed to the most depressing influences; for though they had a resident Missionary many years ago, they had not arrived so far as to have duly-accredited Maori teachers among them to take the place of their English Missionary, when he was removed through failing health. It is, moreover, a locality which is much resorted to by English people, who go to visit the natural beauties of the scenery, and for whose accommodation hotels have been established, where the Maories have every facility for indulging in the use of intoxicating drinks.

I lately visited Opotiki, the chief part of which has been confiscated by the Government and is settled by military settlers. Mr. Volkner's church, which was desecrated by the orgies of the Hauhaus, and where they carried on his mock trial, and which was then occupied as barracks for the soldiers whom the Government placed there, has been since put into repair by the Government, and is now for the first time consecrated. At the request of the European inhabitants, it has been named "St. Stephen the Martyr." The Natives of the district are located at the eastern side of the valley, and have returned to their old industrious habits.

Church of "St. Stephen the Martyr."

The Rev. S. M. Spencer himself adds:—

I can sincerely declare that for many years past I have not witnessed such encouragement in orderly attendance, in the desire for books, and the resuming of daily worship. Some leading men, who seemed to have been carried away by the devastating flood of intemperance, have made a stand, and are now exerting their influence to induce those around them to practise total abstinence. Great progress may be observed in the assimilation of races in Gospel principles and the reciprocity of political views, making the welfare of all the one thing to be desired. Two adults have been baptized, and fourteen infants.

TURANGA, WAIAPU, AND WAIROA.

The Native Communicants connected with these stations aggregate 642, who must represent a Native Christian community of at least 3000. Archdeacon Williams is the only European Missionary in the district. He is assisted, however, by seven ordained Native brethren. Besides the serious loss arising from the decease of the Rev. Hare Tawhaa, three Native chiefs also have died, whose influence had been good, and whose places, the Archdeacon fears, are not likely to be filled up by persons like-minded with themselves. In reference to the departed brother (Mr. Hare Tawhaa), the Bishop of Waiapu writes:—

The Native Church at Poverty Bay has sustained a heavy loss in the death of the Rev. Hare Tawhaa. He was one of the best of the Maori clergy. By the European settlers at Gisborne he was greatly respected; for though he could not talk to them in English, they always saw in him a most unflinching upholder of that which was right. His own countrymen also held him in high esteem, and the good influence which his teaching and his consistent conduct did among them will not easily be replaced.

No account has reached the Committee of the year's work at HERETAUNGA.

III. Western Division.

The division was first occupied by Bishop Hadfield in 1839. It now comprises two stations: 1. Wanganui, 1840; 2. Otaki, 1842.

European Mission Establishment:

Rt. Rev. the Bishop of Wellington (m), 1838.
Rev. Basil Kirke Taylor, M.A. (m), 1860.
Rev. James McWilliam, joined in the Mission, 1874.

THE Committee have received no account of the work of the Society in this part of the island of later date than that inserted in last year's Report. The Rev. E. C. Stuart has been requested as soon as possible to visit and report upon the WANGANUI district.

NORTH-WEST AMERICA MISSION.

This Mission is divided into four parts, namely,—I. The Southern Division, containing Manitoba, 1823; Cumberland District, 1840; Swan River District, 1842; Fort Alexander District, 1864; II. Western Division, Saskatchewan, (commenced at Lac la Ronge,) 1850; III. Northern Division, Mackenzie River District, 1858; IV. Eastern Division, James's Bay, or Moosonee, 1851; and York Factory, 1854.

GENERAL.

Among many other tokens of God's blessings in this vast and deeply-interesting, though sparsely populated, field may be mentioned the great advantage of a thoroughly friendly, evangelical, and missionary-hearted episcopate. Bishop Machray, Bishop Horden, Bishop Bompas, and Bishop McLean, all heartily help forward the Society's work.—A Synod of the Province of Rupert's Land was held at Winnipeg (Red River) in August, 1875, at which Bishop Whipple, of Minnesota, and five of his clergy were present as visitors. "It was gratifying," writes Archdeacon Cowley, "to hear Bishop Whipple's declarations that the success of the efforts by the C.M.S. among the Indians here made him desirous to enter the Christian ministry." The Synod is termed the Provincial Synod of the Church of England in Rupert's Land, and represents by clerical and lay delegates the four dioceses of Rupert's Land, Moosonee, Saskatchewan, and Athabasca. The Society's well-known Missionary Archdeacon Cowley, was unanimously elected its Prolocutor.

MANITOBA.

The appointment of the Rev. R. Young to the charge of the congregation of St. Andrew's (in room of the Rev. J. Grisdale, who is now a Theological Professor at St. John's College, Winnipeg), was mentioned in the Report for 1874-5. Mr. Young had been six months at his post when he wrote his Annual Letter, dated 16th November, 1875. The congregation, it will be remembered, is of semi-European descent, and is above the average in intelligence. Its members are all more or less connected with the leading families in Winnipeg and the neighbourhood. One very cheering feature is the good attendance of the young men at the means of grace. The Schools, which were in a depressed and disorderly condition, have begun to improve; and Mrs. Young has found interesting and hopeful work in a Bible Class for young women and in Mothers' Meetings. There are, however, causes for solicitude. Mr. Young writes:—

In conclusion, I cannot but feel anxious as to the future of this people. Should a more prosperous period be before the country, through freedom from the grasshopper plague, it will be a crisis in their history. It remains to be seen whether they will be permitted to hold their own with the comparatively energetic and thrifty Canadian settlers, who are sure to pour into the country. The half-breed population has been accustomed for so many years to such abundance at the cost of so little labour that they, as a whole, lack energy and thrift. Again, the influences from without are not healthy. The upper classes, I regret to say, have readily adopted the light, frivolous French tone, too prevalent in Canada, and are tempted to vie with the Canadian in keeping up appearances. Drinking-saloons are sown broadcast, and exercise the same ruinous influence here as elsewhere. Lands and property are often sold for drink, and wretched homes and ruined families are too common.

The Communicants at St. Peter's (INDIAN SETTLEMENT) number 196 persons. This may be supposed to represent a Christian community of not less than 700 souls. Its minister, the Rev. G. Cook, a country-born clergyman, writes as follows:—

Perilous condition of the congregation at the "Indian settlement."

The public worship of the Sanctuary is well attended on the Sabbath. The table of the Lord, too, is well supplied with devout communicants. May I express the hope that many are daily growing in grace and the knowledge of Christ, and looking forward to His glorious appearing. One thing nullifies to a great extent our efforts in advancing the Redeemer's kingdom, viz. the prevalence of drunkenness. No less than three dram-shops are now in full operation just without the reserve, two or three miles from here, and many of our unsuspecting people are but too easily caught by these attractions. Before Canada took up this country it was a rare thing to meet a drunkard on the highway, except during the Christmas holidays, when only limited quantities of rum or brandy could be purchased from the Hudson Bay Company's store. But how different is it now! What, may I ask, has Canada done to assist the Church of England here in the evangelization of the heathen? She has not, as far as I am aware, as yet furnished us with one clergyman even to minister to those of her own children who have come to settle in this country. O that the God of all grace, by His powerful Spirit, may now awaken her to a sense of her duty!

The Rev. Henry George ministers at ST. MARY'S, LA PRAIRIE, to a congregation of mixed descent, who have been under his charge for eleven years. Mr. George is of opinion that in spiritual life, intelligence, and liberality his flock will compare favourably with ordinary rural congregations in England. They have of late years suffered very severely from the ravages of the locusts.

FORT ALEXANDER.

LANDSDOWNE is now occupied by a Catechist, whom Archdeacon Cowley describes as a "simple and earnest man." The Archdeacon visited it in December, 1875, and baptized several adults. The following entry from his journal will be read with interest:—

A heathen Indian's account of the outward peace produced by the Gospel.

December 13*th*, 1875.—Between eight and nine o'clock in the evening we came upon a party hauling fish, and spent about three-quarters of an hour with them. I was greatly delighted at hearing an Indian relate to the Catechist what he had said to one of his countrymen. His speech was a beautiful description of the peace and quietness which Christians enjoy in the possession and practice of Christianity as compared with the unrest of heathenism. It was so very like Isaiah lvii. 21, and xxxi. 3.

In another letter Archdeacon Cowley states that he believes there is not a single professing Christian Indian family in that neighbourhood where family prayer is not the rule. "What a difference," he adds, "from the character they bore when I first knew them!"

The work at FORT FRANCIS is under the care of the Rev. R. Phair. The fort is now brought into the line of regular mail communication. It is also increasingly becoming an Indian centre. The Indians, however, who have been brought much into contact with ungodly whites in the States and in British territory have no desire, generally speaking, at present to abandon their superstitions, or to put themselves under religious instruction. Their habits also are for the most part very improvident, and they often suffer much in consequence.

SWAN RIVER DISTRICT.

At Touchwood Hills the Rev. J. Reader is still only at the commencement of his work, having preached his first sermon in January, 1875. The work at the station had suffered from being long deprived of a resident missionary. The whole number of Native Christians connected with the station, including some of mixed descent, does not exceed sixty; and among these some have been guilty of conduct grossly inconsistent with their Christian profession. Mr. Reader has already had some missionary travels in the neighbouring districts, but will be better able to carry on this and the other departments of his work as he becomes more acquainted with the character and the language of the Indians. He concludes his Report with an earnest prayer to God for the Plain Indians, the struggle to save whom he regards as "but just commencing."

CUMBERLAND DISTRICT.

The Indian Church has suffered a severe loss in the death of the Rev. Henry Budd, Missionary and Pastor of Devon, Ordained twenty-five years ago, having been engaged in missionary work for nearly forty years, and having diligently laboured to the utmost of his strength till within a few days of his departure, he died in April, 1875, in perfect peace, resting on the Rock of Ages. Mission work in the district where Mr. Budd died was first started by himself in June, 1840. At the time of his death there were 1400 names on the Baptismal Register.

On the 23rd of February, 1875, Bishop McLean reached Devon, to the great delight of Mr. Budd, by whom he was very warmly welcomed. On the 26th he addressed the communicants and the candidates for Confirmation; and the Confirmation Service itself was held on Sunday, the 28th, when sixty-six candidates came forward. "The young people," writes Mr. Budd, "conducted themselves very nicely, and very solemnly took upon themselves the vows and promises made at their baptism." In the afternoon the Lord's Supper was administered to 113 communicants.

Mr. Budd's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Cochrane, was with him at the time of his death, having been left there by her husband when he passed through on his way from Winnipeg to Stanley. She gives the following account of his departure:—

The best and dearest of parents has been taken from us, and we can hardly yet, as it were, realize our loss. He was gone from us so suddenly that for a time we could not believe the fact; but now I see and know that the Lord in His love and mercy has spared him a long, lingering illness; but just, as it were, opened the door and let him into the home prepared for him so long. In the afternoon of his last day he had been sitting in his easy chair, talking with a friend, and seemed to doze occasionally, and would speak, as if asleep. In listening I caught the words, "Abide with me," and "Rock of Ages." His mind seemed on holy things, for he murmured words in Indian from God's Word. Two hours after he went to bed, when I asked what he wanted, he opened his eyes with a smile and looked at me, closed them again, and just quietly ceased to breathe.

Death of a Native Pastor.

Towards the close of April, 1875, the Rev. H. Cochrane arrived from Stanley and took charge of the Mission. During the following summer fifteen adults were baptized, respecting whom, however, Mr. Cochrane gives no details.

Western Division.

Rev. John Hines, 1874.

This division of the Mission is conterminous with the Saskatchewan diocese.—Bishop McLean, who takes a warm interest in the Society's operations, has formed a Divinity Class, to train agents both for colonial and missionary purposes. Three have already been sent out from it, after a few months' instruction, to work on probation in different parts of the Mission.—The Bishop, the Rev. J. Mackay, and the Rev. J. Hines, met in conference at Prince Albert (where the Bishop resides) early in the present year, and resolved on taking active measures to prosecute missionary work among the Plain Indians, and on making use, for this purpose, of the proposed Government Conference with the Indians, which was to be held in the following August. (At the same time they took upon themselves the responsibility of sending Mr. Mackay to this country on a brief visit, to confer with the Committee on the subject.) The Committee heartily concurred in this resolution, and have set apart Mr. Mackay for the new enterprise, instructing him to obtain suitable helpers from Manitoba or Saskatchewan itself. It has also been arranged that the Mission in the Western Division should be locally superintended (in its temporalities) by a Conference of the Society's leading agents in the diocese, Mr. Mackay being Secretary, and Dr. McLean himself kindly accepting from the Committee the appointment of Chairman.

NEPOWEWIN, during the earlier half of the year 1875, was under the charge of the Rev. Luke Caldwell. This Native brother was called away from his earthly labours on the 31st July, 1875. There are only thirty-seven Indian families connected with the Hudson's Bay Company's trading-post at Nepowewin, the greater part of whom are still heathen. All these Indians have taken up claims of land on the southern bank of the river, to which it is proposed to remove the Mission buildings, which are now on the northern bank. Two Native agents are shortly to be placed there, to act respectively as Schoolmaster and Reader.

The Station of WHITE FISH LAKE is henceforth to be termed ASISIPPI. (By the Society's orthography, not yet adopted in North-West America, it should be spelt Ésisipi). Mr. Hines, its Missionary, was admitted to Deacons' orders by the Bishop of Saskatchewan on the 9th of January, 1876. Under date 25th January, 1876, Mr. Hines wrote as follows:—

During the summer months, while my people were absent from home, my time was very much devoted to reading. The hours I allowed myself for recreation were spent in assisting my servants in building a house for ourselves and a stable for our cattle.—My people commenced their return from the plains about the last week in August, when about twenty souls returned; in the beginning of October about fifty; and from that time they continued to come until the first week in September, when about seventy came. We have Service twice on Sunday, when a goodly number attend.—On Sunday, the 30th of January, the Chief will be admitted (D.V.) into the congregation of Christ's flock by baptism, and on the second Sunday following he will be married according to the rites of the Church of England.

The Rev. H. Cochrane, who had been appointed to STANLEY by the Society's representatives at Winnepeg, reached it in September, 1874. On the 20th of September he administered the Lord's Supper to ninety-six Communicants. Shortly afterwards, his flock dispersed to their respective wintering grounds. At Easter, in 1875, Mr. Cochrane's Stanley flock were again assembled at the station, and received instruction from him for a few days; but on the 12th April he was summoned to Devon by the sad tidings of the death of his father-in-law, Mr. Budd, leaving Stanley under the charge of his assistant, Mr. John Sinclair. It was then arranged that Mr. Cochrane should remain at Devon, that the Rev. J. Mackay, who had been formerly in charge of Stanley, should be once again transferred thither from the work which he had been more recently carrying on at Winnepeg. Mr. Mackay reached Stanley in July, 1875. Subsequently, however, the Bishop of Saskatchewan requested that Mr. Mackay might be appointed to assist him more generally in the Missionary work of the diocese. The Committee cheerfully agreed to this proposal, and resolved at the same time on making other arrangements for occupying the vacant post at Stanley.—Mr. Mackay remarks that the Society's agents in Stanley now seldom come in contact with heathenism, though they have to maintain a watchful contest against the proselytizing efforts of the Papacy. The Christian Indians enjoyed temporal prosperity; and in reference to the alleged dwindling away of the Indian population, it may be recorded that Mr. Mackay casually observed writing on December 16th, 1875, that since his arrival there in July, there had been nineteen births to two deaths. He also anticipates an increase of population at Stanley, from an immigration of Indians and half-breeds from those districts which will prove attractive to European settlers.

Alleged dwindling away of the Indian population.

The latest intelligence from Stanley is contained in a letter from the Bishop of Saskatchewan, giving an account of a visit which he paid to the station in March of this present year. The Bishop, who on his journey thither had had several deeply interesting opportunities of speaking of the Saviour's love to Indians, both Christian and heathen, writes as follows:—

> On Saturday, the 11th of March, 1876, I addressed [at Stanley] about 150 after morning prayer. In the afternoon of that day I met the candidates for confirmation, and after service I addressed them and examined them on the leading truths of the Gospel. They showed by their replies that they had been carefully trained. I conversed with several old men who had long been members of the Church, and they all spoke of themselves as resting in simple faith on the merits of the Redeemer. At the evening service about 120 were present. Slips were distributed by Mr. Mackay, containing the hymns to be sung. They were printed in Cree, in the syllabic character, by himself at the Mission. On the following day, Sunday, the 12th of March, the Confirmation took place. About 200 people were present. The hymns were beautifully sung. My address was translated sentence by sentence by Mr. Mackay. Fifty-nine persons were confirmed. The majority of the people were evidently reading the syllabic characters as they sang, and following the services closely with their books. Mr. John Sinclair, whose services as Catechist are very efficient and acceptable, was one of my old pupils at St. John's College.

Northern Division.

Rt. Rev. the Bishop of Athabasca, D.D., 1865.
Rev. William Day Reeve (m), 1869.
Rev. Arthur J. Shaw (m), 1874.

THIS division coincides with the Athabasca diocese. The Bishop of Athabasca, it need scarcely be observed, is no other than the well-known and devoted Missionary, Dr. Bompas.

The Rev. A. Shaw, who had been appointed to FORT CHIPEWYAN, has recently expressed his desire to withdraw from it. The vacant post is occupied by a country-born brother, the Rev. A. Garrioch, who has been admitted to Deacons' orders by the Bishop of Athabasca. Roman Catholics have been making considerable progress in these parts in consequence of mixed marriages; but the Committee entertain no doubt that the proclamation to the Indians of the story of Redeeming Love in their own tongue will yield the same blessed fruits as have been graciously granted in other parts of the Mission-field.

The Rev. W. D. Reeve is now stationed at FORT RAE, on Great Slave Lake. From thence he will superintend the work at Hay River Fort, where the Indians have expressed a desire for Protestant Missionary instruction.

From FORT SIMPSON the Bishop reports that the work has proceeded as usual; but that the marked increase of attention to religion on the part of the English-speaking residents will, he has great hopes, have a good effect on the Indians.

Two Native agents, a Schoolmaster and a Catechist, have been stationed at Fort Norman, on the Mackenzie River, below Fort Simpson. Here also a greater desire than formerly has sprung up among the Indians for Christian instruction.

FORT MACPHERSON, on the Peel River, is the head-quarters of the Rev. R. McDonald (now Archdeacon McDonald), who has charge of the Tukuth Mission. Up to January, 1875, the baptismal register of the Mission, begun about 1862, showed 1054 names, more than 1000 of whom are still living. There are 450 candidates for baptism. Archdeacon McDonald's last Annual Letter is dated 1st January, 1875, and gives the account of his labours during 1874. The earlier months of that year he spent at FORT MACPHERSON itself, holding school and translating the Scriptures. The Acts of the Apostles and the Epistle to the Romans have been rendered into Tukuth, together with portions of the Prayer Book. From the 23rd of April till nearly the following Christmas, the Archdeacon was at different outposts or travelling from place to place. During the year he baptized 164 persons, most of whom were adults. Of the Indians at Rampart House, which place he reached on the 4th May, 1874, the Archdeacon writes:—

Very few Indians were on the spot at that time. Three tribes assembled at the beginning of June, and mustered in all about 400. (Two tribes failed to arrive; they would have raised the number to nearly 600.) It was with deep thankfulness to the God of all grace that I perceived an obvious improvement among them. The majority seemed to be animated by a devout earnestness. All remained over a fortnight. Teaching them from day to day was delightful work; there was such a longing for Christian instruction. They committed to memory large portions of Scripture, also a few prayers and hymns. Twenty-five adults and fifteen children were admitted into the visible Church of Christ by baptism. The Holy Communion was administered to sixteen communicants. A feeling of unworthiness and a superstitious reverence for that sacred ordinance kept many back. Better that, however, than that they should partake of it presumptuously. After fuller instruction we may expect a large increase of communicants.

Earnestness of Tukuth Christians

In July of the same year Archdeacon McDonald met a body of Indians at the confluence of the Youcon and the Tunana. Of these he writes:—

Owing to the lateness of the season, I did not see the half of the Indians that annually assemble at their general rendezvous; but those that I saw evinced a cordial earnestness for Christian instruction, and were diligent in their endeavours to acquire it. I spent ten days actively occupied in instructing them in the grand truths of the glorious Gospel of salvation. Many of them remembered all that they had been taught four years previously. Altogether, they have committed to memory the Apostles' Creed, the Decalogue in brief, the Lord's Prayer and four or five other prayers, a dozen verses of Scripture, and as many hymns, which they learnt to sing very well. Candidates for baptism were duly examined. Their knowledge of Scripture is but little; but they have a strong desire to be followers of Christ, and believe in Him as their Saviour. It was a great privilege to administer that sacred ordinance to fifty-eight adults and fifty-four children. May they all be baptized of the Holy Spirit, and their life be hid with Christ in God! The others, about thirty in all, had to be put off to another occasion. All pleaded urgently for a visit this summer. I will endeavour to comply with their request. I expect to meet about 600 in all, and to find many prepared for receiving baptism. Several Christian leaders were appointed.

The Archdeacon adds in the same letter :—

Three months were recently passed at La Pierre's House. With a few families of Indians that were encamped there, daily morning and evening prayers were held. I may mention that in that time they learnt by heart more than fifty verses of Scripture, twenty hymns, and half a dozen collects. School was held with about a dozen pupils. Of these, two that previously knew the alphabet learnt to read passably in the New Testament in their own tongue. Others would have done the same in less than a fortnight had I continued with them. Thus, from what has been done, it is to be hoped that ere long many will be able to read in their own tongue the wonderful works of God.

In different parts of the Mission there are, altogether, eight (unpaid) Christian leaders. Four of these give much satisfaction. The Archdeacon sums up in the following general review :—

General review of the Tukuth Mission.

From the migratory life of the Indians, the vast extent of country over which the several tribes are scattered, and the limited time that can be spent with any one of them, great progress can hardly be expected. All the tribes but one have received a considerable amount of Christian instruction. The conduct of the converts has, on the whole, been satisfactory, and a very marked advance has been made. A wider and deeper acquaintance with the truths of the Gospel has been attained. There is an evident growth of sincere piety. Several instances of apparent true conversion have taken place among the Christians, and there have been large accessions to the visible Church.

Eastern Division.

Rt. Rev. the Bishop of Moosonee, D.D. (m), 1851.
Rev. William West Kirkby (m), 1852.
Rev. J. H. Keen, 1875.

YORK.

The Rev. W. W. Kirkby (now Archdeacon Kirkby), is still labouring at this station, which is within the diocese of Moosonee. He has scarcely the strength that he once had, and from this cause, as well as from the fact that, through God's blessing on past labours, the work of the York district is becoming that of a settled Church rather than of a Missionary station, he has sometimes had serious thoughts of returning to his native country. But various circumstances have concurred in inducing him to wish to remain in the country for some time longer. "Whenever we do leave the work," Mr Kirkby adds, "it will cost us much pain, for we have had mercies in it which none but an ungrateful heart could ever forget."—Bishop Horden's Cree Hymn-book has been translated into the dialect and syllabarium of York, and the manuscript sent home to be printed. The Indians are very much pleased with the book, which the Wesleyans of Oxford House have also expressed their intention to adopt. Archdeacon Kirkby asks that 5000 copies may be struck off. —Reviewing the work generally the Archdeacon writes:—

Condition and character of Indian Christians at York.

The ordinances of religion have been well observed, and both here and at the out-stations the Gospel of the grace of God has been fully declared. Those who know the Saviour have rejoiced in the comforts of His love. The Native readers have continued steadfast and devoted to their work. The communicants have had grace given them to lead holy and consistent lives. A few heathen have come under more direct Christian instruction. Six adults have been received into the Church by baptism, one an old woman sixty years of age, who, in the evening of life, has found the Saviour, and earnestly desired to be numbered among His people.—We have not the teeming population of other lands, nor the thronging crowds which some of our brethren have to address. In this country it is almost the individual soul one has to watch over. But if we have not the crowds we have not also the difficulties to be met with in other lands. The Indians are exceedingly simple and earnest in their nature. Life for them has but few comforts and many hardships. The joys and consolations of the Gospel meet the desires of their minds. By the trials of life God appears to prepare their hearts for the reception of His Word, and to draw them nearer to Himself. He would seem to take occasion of their necessities for the richer communications of His grace to their souls. The reverence with which the Christian Indians treat the Bible is very touching to witness, and even the heathen ones always speak of it with the greatest respect. They know well what it has done for their countrymen.

The Archdeacon adds:—

Natural numerical increase of Indian Christians.

Years ago from this very place a band of three score and fifteen souls went some thousand miles in the interior in search of the Word of life, and when they found the Missionary their first request was for "the Great Book," which, when they heard, they believed, and remained there with the Missionary that they and their families might hear it day by day. Thirty years have passed since then, and those seventy souls have increased to about 2000, and form the parish of St. Peter, Manitoba.

At Churchill, which is also on the shore of Hudson's Bay, about 150 miles to the north-west of York, the language spoken is not Cree (as at York) but Chipewyan, the same as that which the Archdeacon had to make use of when labouring in the Mackenzie River district.

Archdeacon Kirkby was at Churchill in 1875, from April 28th to July 8th, labouring among both Indians and Eskimos. The former thus advanced much in knowledge of the Gospel. The new hymn-books in their own language were a great boon, and gave much delight. During this visit, the Archdeacon was able to finish a Chipewyan version of the four Gospels. The wandering life of the Indians, precluding them, as it does, from the benefits of public preaching, renders the written Word of so much the greater value.—The new Church was also completed and opened for Divine Service, and was "quietly and reverently" used by the Indians, under the leadership of one of their own number, during their stay at Churchill in the autumn of 1875.

Of his work during that visit among the Eskimos Archdeacon Kirkby writes:—

Between thirty and forty Eskimos were there, and it was a grief to me to find how very little could be done for them. They were as anxious to learn as ever, but, from my ignorance of their language, little advance was made. The Fort interpreter, whom I had hoped to employ, was not there. I tried all I could with the people of the Fort, but they did not know enough of the language to help me much. I am rejoiced to hear that plans are being formed for their benefit. The case is not quite a hopeless one. The son of one of the Company's servants, a young man of about twenty-two years of age, who speaks the Chipewyan language well, and knows something of the Eskimos, felt his heart drawn a little to the work this summer, and I hope that he may yet be led by God's good Spirit to give himself wholly to it. I requested him to make it a matter of much prayer before God, and to acquire as good a knowledge of the Eskimo language as he has of the Chipewyan. He reads and speaks English very well, but cannot write. May I ask the prayers of the Committee on his behalf?

JAMES'S BAY.

This district, which includes the Missionary Stations of MOOSE and ALBANY, is part of the diocese presided over by the Bishop of Moosonee, so well known in former times as Mr. Horden of Moose Fort. The Native Christian Adherents are 2000 in number, of whom 200 are Communicants. During the year under review Bishop Horden received a fellow-labourer from England in the person of the Rev. J. H. Keen, who at once commenced the study of the Cree language, and of whose future usefulness the Bishop entertains the best hopes. Mr. Keen is at present with the Bishop at MOOSE, which forms the centre for the out-stations of Brunswick, Misenabe, Matawakumme, Flying Post, Abbitibee, and Long Portage. The Bishop was drawn away from his diocese during a great part of the year by having to attend the First Provincial Synod for North-West America at Red River (referred to above, p. 231). He was, however, as will be seen by the following extracts from one of his letters, able to visit on his route some portions of the Moose division. The Bishop writes under date 15th September, 1875:—

Even while enjoying the society of my [Episcopal] brethren, my heart was with my distant people, and I was regretting that so many would be unable to see my face and hear my voice leading them to the Saviour. But yet I have travelled about a thousand miles through the diocese, and have been much gratified by what I beheld, especially at Brunswick. It is not long ago that the Gospel was first preached there; and it has made, and is making, rapid progress. I baptized nine individuals, confirmed five, and administered the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper to three.

During my absence from home all services were conducted with great regularity, for a while by appointed laymen, both for the English and Indian congregations, and afterwards by Mr. Vincent, who came from Albany for that purpose.

I have in part been disappointed in my teacher for the Ojibbeways of Matawakumme. He spent the winter at Moose, and made good progress in his studies. My hope was to have kept him another year, and then to send him back ordained; but his longing for home became so strong that I was obliged to let him return at once. It is, perhaps, best as it is. He is to act as lay teacher to his tribe; and I shall be able to judge, from the manner in which he performs the duties of that office, as to whether it will be advisable to proceed with his ordination or not.

The gentleman in charge of the H.B.C.'s post at Matawakumme is a good Christian man, and will watch well both over him and all the other Indians connected with his post.

ALBANY, with its affiliated posts of Osnaburgh, Henley, Martin's Falls, and Cat Lake, is under the charge of a country-born brother, the Rev. T. Vincent. Nothing of striking interest has occurred during the year. The gatherings at Christmas and Easter, for Prayer and Holy Communion, were solemn and impressive seasons.—Prosperity had been enjoyed in temporal matters, as there had been a very good goose hunt. "A good goose hunt is in Hudson's Bay like a good harvest to the farmers in England."

The Bishop hopes before long to organize two more divisions of his diocese, on the eastern side of the Bay, which will be named respectively Rupert's House and Fort George. A little to the north of Fort George is Whale River, referred to above by Archdeacon Kirkby as the best centre for work among the Eskimos. Like his Archdeacon, the Bishop yearns over the sad and neglected condition of this last-mentioned tribe. He writes:—

Repeated disappointment in finding teachers for the Eskimos.

The general condition of the Eskimos is very sad. The picture drawn of their doings by my friend Mr. Cotter, who was for a few years stationed at Little Whale River, is a very terrible one; their gross immoralities, and their frequent use of the knife on the slightest provocation, show that their condition is but little above that of the beasts; and yet, with all this, the majority of them long for teachers to show them the good and the right way. To human eyes, how unfortunate we seem to have been with our Eskimos! Three times I thought I had succeeded in planting a teacher among them; three times God has seen fit to remove him by death. The third was Timothy Komak, who seemed the embodiment of strength and good nature; he was very intelligent and became a decided Christian, and I had good hopes that through his influence great results would be accomplished. But it was not to be; the strong form became wasted by rapid disease, and his wondrous strength became the weakness of a child. He died, but as a Christian, and, I trust, is now engaged in singing the praises of his crucified, his risen, his ascended Lord.

The Committee are thankful to say they have recently been able to assign for work among the Eskimos a European labourer whom they cannot but hope God has specially qualified for the post.

The Bishop has been actively engaged during the year in important translational labours.

A Native Schoolmaster from Moose is pursuing his studies at St. John's College, Winnepeg, with a view to his ordination for pastoral work among his countrymen; and Bishop Horden is looking out for other promising young Indians and half-breeds. Bishop Horden also observes, "The assistance I receive from Christian gentlemen in the country is very great; in some cases they are almost as valuable to me as curates.

METLAKAHTLA.

The number of Indians under instruction at Metlakahtla (Baptized, Catechumens, and the infant children of the latter) amounts to 750. Mr. Duncan reports, under date 7th March, 1876, as follows:—

During the past year I have held special meetings for instruction of the Catechumens; and thirty-one have been baptized, along with thirty-six infants. We have still over one hundred Catechumens on our list, principally young people. Many of these have been deferred, not because they are deficient in Christian knowledge or inconsistent in conduct, but because we prefer to see them established more in the Christian life. Our three Sunday and Wednesday evening services are all well attended. At our morning Sunday-school we have over 150 children, and after the morning service, between 12.30 and 2 p.m., we have over 250 adults at school. Our Sunday-school teachers, over twenty in number, assemble at the Mission-house every Saturday evening for preparation for Sunday duty. The congregation elected two (the first) churchwardens on the 15th of last November, and we selected other two. We have a little box placed at each door for money, and a large chest or sort of cupboard in the porch to receive any bulky contribution, such as blankets. Eighty dollars, or about 16*l.*, have already been taken in this way.

We are translating a new and a more ample Church Service, also introducing more hymns in the Native tongue. Two Sundays ago we sang for the first time a translation of "Rock of Ages." It was welcomed by the congregation with great joy, and is now being eagerly learnt. We have a translation of the "Venite" ready, which is being practised by the Sunday-school teachers.

Fresh settlers are still finding their way to us from every tribe around, but especially from Fort Simpson. They are impelled mostly by a desire to rise with their advancing brethren. But there are also the oppressed, who seek us as a refuge:—A poor slave woman, still young in years, who had been stolen away when a child, and carried to distant tribes in Alaska territory, where she had suffered many cruelties, fled from her oppressors last summer, and, though ill at the time, took to the sea in a canoe, all alone, and determined to reach Metlakahtla or perish in the attempt. On her way (and she had upwards of 150 miles to travel) she was seen and taken by a party of Fort Simpson Indians, who would, no doubt, have been glad to hand her back to her pursuers for gain; but, on hearing of her case, I demanded her freedom; and finally she was received into a Christian family here, and tenderly cared for. Both the man and his wife who received her into their home had themselves been slaves years ago. They understood her language, sympathized deeply with her, and laboured hard to impart to her the knowledge of the Saviour of Sinners. After about three months her cruel master with his party came here to recapture her, but they had to return home unsuccessful. In three months more her strength succumbed to the disease which had been brought on her by cruelty and hardship. She was a great sufferer during the last few weeks of her life; but she died expressing her faith in the Saviour, and rejoicing that she had been led here to end her days.

A slave woman escapes to Metlakahtla from her oppressors, and dies rejoicing in the Saviour.

Our building operations during the past year consisted of putting down a new floor to our church, and another covering to the spire; erecting and furnishing a new and very commodious and substantial school; building a new prison; and furthering the work at the sea-wall round the village. The expense of the church-work is borne by our secular fund. The school receives aid from various quarters. The prison is built at the Government expense; and the sea-wall partly by tax and partly from the secular fund. Our new school, 60 × 27, answers the purpose of evening meetings. It seats about 350 persons; and even the severe and dark winter weather did not keep it from being crowded on Sunday evenings, when we used it for Divine service, as being more easily lighted up than the church. In the new village, sixteen houses are in building, and there would be many more if we could prepare material quicker. We propose improving our saw-mill to facilitate our movements.

The day schools are under the care of Mr. W. Collison. The numbers on the rolls are 170, with 110 average attendance.

During the year, Mr. Duncan undertook a journey to Ottawa, the capital of Canada, to confer with the Dominion Government on the policy to be adopted towards the Indian population. The Minister for the Interior gave the most attentive hearing to Mr. Duncan's representations, and also made him a donation of $1000 to help forward the work at Metlakahtla. The Provincial Government has selected one of Mr. Duncan's men to be constable of the district, on a salary of 350 dollars per annum.

Mr. Duncan and Mr. Collison express the very earnest desire that work may be taken up among the Hydah Indians of Queen Charlotte's Island, and also among the Indians at Fort Rupert, at the north of Vancouver's Island. Under date 11th October, 1875, Mr. Duncan writes:—

> At this moment there is in our village the head chief of Fort Rupert Indians, who has come all the way (over 300 miles) to see us. He gave an address in our Sunday-school last Sunday, which greatly rejoiced the hearts of us all. He says that a rope has been woven and thrown out from Metlakahtla which is encircling and drawing together all the Indian tribes into one common brotherhood.

The Committee have sent out a Missionary schoolmaster to Metlakahtla, in order that Mr. Collison may devote himself to the Hydah Indians, with whose language he has already made himself partially acquainted.—As regards the evangelization of the tribes in the interior, Mr. Duncan hopes that this will be effected by Native evangelists from the stations already occupied by the Society.

KINCOLITH.

The Rev. R. Tomlinson, the excellent and devoted Missionary of this distant outpost, has not given any statistical returns; but the following extracts from his Annual Letter, written in February, 1876, will be read with interest, and will call forth thanksgiving to God. Mr. Tomlinson writes:—

Though the increase to our numbers during the year has been but small, there has been a visible improvement in the bodily health and moral character of the settlers.

Evangelistic zeal of Indian Christians of Kincolith.

During the fishing season at Nass this year, the Christian Indians from Kincolith, instead of occupying a separate camp as heretofore, were surrounded by large numbers from all the different villages; and I had grave fears lest this might interfere with that order and quiet which on two former occasions had been maintained. But I am happy to be able to report that our Christians, by their teaching and conduct, exerted such an influence that, on the Sabbath, instead of the din of work and the medicine-man's rattle, all was quietness and peace. Frequently, also during the summer and autumn, several of our Christians would form a party and visit the Nass villages, and hold services in one of the chiefs' houses, lent them for the purpose. The number attending these services steadily increased during the year. A little before Christmas the village council met, and it was decided to supplement the work carried on at Nass during the year by an invitation to all the chiefs—those who had attended the services which had been held, and a few others who were known to be favourably inclined to the truth—to spend the Christmas with us. Though the weather was very severe, and the ice bad, nearly thirty accepted our invitation, including five chiefs, and among these one who, a little more than a year ago, sided with those most opposed to us. They remained with us nearly three weeks, and before they left they expressed their regret that they had been so long opposed or indifferent to the truth, and promised to act differently in future.

I am happy also to be able to inform you that, after three years' direct opposition to school teaching, the Nishkahs are beginning to open their eyes to the folly of such conduct. Several have sent their children to school, and when the river opens we look for a much larger number.

Promising efforts for the temporal and spiritual

Mr. Tomlinson has been able, in friendly concert with the local Government, to organize and set on foot measures for the temporal benefit of the Kitikshean Indians, which will also have the effect of bringing many of them under Christian instruction. The plan adopted has been that of cutting a road or "trail" from the head of navigation on the Naas to the forks of the Skeena, the work being effected by Indian labour at Government expense. A commencement was made towards the close of May, 1875, with much earnest prayer on the part of Mr. Tomlinson—prayer which he felt was graciously answered. Opposition on the part of some chiefs was met, and through God's blessing, overcome by firm but friendly and peaceable action. About fifty Indians set to work with great enthusiasm (the number afterwards rising to 85); and all attended Mr. Tomlinson's religious services during the few days he was with them. welfare of the Kitikshean Indians.

* During the present year the Society has transferred to the Native Church in Sierra Leone the Pademba Road Congregations, in connexion with which there were 475 Communicants, 450 Children in Schools, and 950 Native Christians. There has also been a transfer during the present year in the Foh-kien province of China of 450 Native Christians, including about 150 Communicants, to another Missionary Society. The Society has in past years withdrawn from 78 Stations, chiefly added to Parochial Establishments in the West Indies, or transferred to the Native Church in Sierra Leone, containing 10 Native Clergy, 4356 Communicants, and 12,866 Scholars.

CONCLUSION.

THE Society's year just concluded has been characterized, abroad, by doors opened, and entered, for carrying the Gospel message into regions hitherto unevangelized; and also by the increased activity of those Native Christian Churches, in the formation of which the Lord has been graciously pleased to use the Society's instrumentality. The growth of the Native Church is witnessed by the unparalleled increase in the number of Native Clergy (twenty-eight at least having been ordained in the course of the year); by the now almost universal acknowledgment on the part of the converts of the duty of bearing their own Church expenses; by greater knowledge of GOD'S Word, greater delight in united prayer and praise, greater activity in making known the Gospel to heathen neighbours and countrymen; and, lastly, by the greater devotedness and spiritual power of Native Christian preachers, whether connected with the Native Church, or more directly supported by the Society. Prominent features of the year, at home, have been the liberality of friends in offering help for new efforts, and the large accession of candidates for the Society's College at Islington. And though the supply of men from among the younger clergy and University graduates, and generally from men ready at once to proceed to the Mission field, has been as regards quantity painfully inadequate, it cannot be denied that at the English Universities there are manifestations in influential quarters of a warm desire to co-operate in the Church's appointed task of evangelizing all nations.

The Committee freely acknowledge also marks of sincere interest in Missionary effort in many circles, where there is no distinct profession of those spiritual principles which are the strength of the Society and the reason of its existence. The benevolence, the philanthropy, the desire for the spread of moral refinement, and the other motives by which this interest is prompted, will receive the appreciation which to such sentiments is always rendered. But the Committee believe, as firmly as they ever did, that, for the right carrying out of true evangelistic work, it is absolutely necessary that those engaged in it should be thoroughly grounded in the vital truths of the Gospel, and thoroughly animated by its spirit. The Society's agents must still, as in former years, be "men who have so felt the constraining love of Christ as to be weaned by it from the love of this world, and to be willing to spend and be spent for Him—men who know what true conversion of the soul is by personal experience, and can testify to others that they have found the pearl of great price." The grace of God is confined within no narrow limits; and far be it from the Committee to deny the existence of true godliness even in Churches that have fallen far away from the simplicity of the Gospel. But the Church Missionary Society holds, and always has held, that doctrinal additions to the plain teaching of Scripture, and needless multiplication of ceremonies, are detrimental to spiritual life, and, even if accompanied by the Gospel, tend to diminish its efficacy. There are, and always have been, professed Christian teachers who virtually withhold the Gospel altogether; and there also are, and have been, those who lay the true foundation, but who build upon it wood, hay, and stubble, acting as if they believed it possible to begin in the Spirit, and to be made perfect in the flesh. Men of neither of these two classes does the Society willingly employ. The men whom it seeks for are those who stand fast in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made them free; and who are determined to know nothing among those to whom they preach, but Jesus Christ and Him crucified. The Committee praise GOD for all men of this description who have been raised up in years past, and for the hopes of continued supply for the time to come; and they offer up the earnest prayer, that GOD's love, as manifested in the gift of His only begotten Son, may be so shed abroad in the hearts of His people, and His enlightening Spirit so abundantly vouchsafed to them, that they may not only cheerfully dedicate themselves and all their powers to the making known of His way upon earth, His saving health among all nations; but may have full and clear perception of that glorious Gospel of Divine Grace, which is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth. Then will the Church truly deliver her appointed testimony, and thus speed forward the arrival of that bright day when He that hath loved us, and washed us from our sins in His own blood, shall see the complete fulfilment of the purposes of His redeeming work, and they that have overcome through faith in His name shall sit down with Him on His throne, and reign for ever and ever.

PRAYER USED AT THE ANNUAL MEETINGS OF THE SOCIETY.

ALMIGHTY and most merciful FATHER, we give Thee humble thanks for the light of Thy Gospel. Make us more grateful for this Thy mercy, and more zealous for the salvation of all mankind.

Visit in mercy the Church of Christ; enrich it more abundantly with the grace of Thy Holy Spirit; and bless its endeavours to make known Thy truth. Unite, as one man, all who are truly labouring for Thee. Disappoint the designs of Satan. Let all Christian Societies live in harmony and love; give them wisdom in all their plans; perfect Thy strength in their weakness; and direct their labours to Thy glory!

The Harvest truly is great, but the Labourers are few! O Thou Lord of the Harvest, send forth Labourers into Thy harvest! Fill with Thy Spirit those whom Thou hast sent forth; and enable them faithfully and boldly to preach, among Jews and Gentiles, the unsearchable riches of Christ. Keep them from the snares of the world, the flesh, and the Devil; deliver them from all evil; and make them wise to win souls.

Upon all the Native Converts whom Thou hast gathered to Thyself, through Thy labouring servants throughout the world, pour out Thy Holy Spirit, that, as Thou hast begotten them again unto a lively hope, so they may ever be followers of Thee as dear children. Deliver them from all remaining darkness and ignorance; destroy and abolish in their hearts all that remains of Satan's kingdom; grant that their faith, and hope, and love may grow exceedingly; make them to be ready to every good work, and more especially to exert themselves for the salvation of those around them; that so, by their zeal and faithful testimony, by their holiness and fruitfulness, they may glorify Thy Name before their countrymen, and bring in unto Thee, from the midst of them, such as shall be saved.

Have compassion, O Most-merciful Father, on all those who have come under instruction, though they be not yet altogether Christians. Convince them effectually, by Thy Word and Spirit, of their sinful and miserable state; pour upon them the spirit of grace and supplication, and draw them to Jesus.

Take away blindness from the Jews. Let them receive Thee, O Jesus, as their Messiah, and proclaim Thy saving Name among the Gentiles.

Deliver all Mohammedans from the delusions of the False Prophet! O Thou True Prophet of Thy Church, enlighten them by Thy Holy Spirit, and bow them down at the foot of Thy Cross!

Pity blind Idolaters, who are kept in cruel bondage by the god of this world. Turn them from idols, that they may serve the Living and True God.

O Thou Almighty Saviour, who by the right hand of God art exalted, and hast received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, shed forth His light and grace on this dark world!

Cause all Christians, we beseech Thee, to sow bountifully; that they may reap also bountifully. O Thou that lovest a cheerful giver, let all grace abound toward them, that they may minister liberally of their substance to the making known of Thy Name!

With these our humble prayers, we join our praises and thanksgivings for what Thou hast already done in making known Thy salvation: perfect Thy work, O Lord; shortly accomplish the number of Thine elect; and hasten the coming of Thy Kingdom.

Be present with us, O Lord, at this time. Give us all a single eye to Thy glory. May Thy blessing rest upon our meeting; and may all our hearts be this day quickened and encouraged to fresh and persevering efforts in Thy Service.

We ask these mercies for the glory of Thy Name, through the merits and mediation of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ; and would ascribe to Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, Three Persons in One God, everlasting praise. Amen!

Our Father which art in Heaven: Hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil; for Thine is the kingdom, the power and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

PRAYER USED AT THE OPENING OF MEETINGS OF THE COMMITTEE OF CORRESPONDENCE.

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, who hast purchased to Thyself an universal Church, by the precious blood of Thy dear Son, we give Thee hearty thanks that it hath pleased Thee to call us to the knowledge of Thy grace and faith in Thee, and to appoint our lot in an age and country, where the true light shineth. We bless Thee that Thou hast awakened us in some measure to feel our responsibilities. We praise Thee for what we have seen and heard of the power of Thy word among the heathen; we adore Thee for Thy many servants who have gone out from amongst us to toil and suffer and die in making known Thy salvation; and we thank Thee that Thou dost allow us, unworthy sinners, to unite together in this work of faith and labour of love.

We humbly confess our past lukewarmness in this Thy service, notwithstanding these Thine inestimable benefits and mercies. For our Lord Jesus Christ's sake, forgive us our past negligences, and so endue us with Thy Holy Spirit, that we may more earnestly seek Thy glory in the salvation of souls.

Grant us, we beseech Thee, Thy very present help at these our meetings. We ask, most gracious God and Father, for a constraining sense of the love of the Lord Jesus, and for wisdom to direct us in all our endeavours. Increase upon us the spirit of power and of love and of a sound mind. Give us faith and courage; give us zeal and patience; give us a single eye to Thy glory, and help us to bear and to forbear. The silver and the gold are Thine, O King of kings! Supply us with what is needful for our great work, and make us faithful stewards of Thy bounty, for proclaiming to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ.

We pray also for all who are united with us in the direction of this sacred cause. May Thine especial blessing rest upon our Committees, with their Secretaries, throughout the world. Bestow on them the help that we feel so needful for ourselves. Enable them to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace, and ever to find favour in the sight of all with whom they may have to do.

Especially we beseech Thee to look, O most merciful Father, upon our Missionary brethren. Draw out our hearts towards them more and more; and while they are bearing the burden abroad, give us grace to help and succour them by our sympathy and prayers at home. Bless every letter written to them from this house, and all our intercourse with them. We pray for them that they may be filled with Thy Spirit. Grant that the same mind may be in them which was also in Christ Jesus. Let them never lose their first love. Raise them above the cares of this world. Help them to deny themselves and to endure all things for the elect's sake. Give them the tongue of the learned. Clothe them with humility. Teach them to follow peace with each other, and with all men. Support them under spiritual distresses, temptations of the adversary, bodily sickness, domestic anxieties, and hope deferred. And so confirm Thy word from their lips by the power of the Holy Ghost, that through them multitudes may be turned from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto Thee, our God.

We most heartily thank Thee, O Lord, for those whom Thou hast already sent forth through this Society; and we pray for a yet larger outpouring of a Missionary spirit on our younger Clergy, on the members of our Universities, on those who are elsewhere preparing for this holy work, on the young men of all ranks and orders throughout our land. And herein do we implore Thy special favour on our Islington Institution, that its numbers may be replenished continually; and that none may go forth thence but such as shall be able ministers of the New Testament, full of faith, and of the Holy Ghost.

We praise Thee, O Thou God of all grace, for the Converts, the Native Catechists, and the Native Clergy, whom Thou hast granted to us in our several Missions. As Thou hast raised the Native Churches thus far, bring them, we pray Thee, to full ripeness and perfectness of age in Christ. Pour out upon them Thy Holy Spirit. Stablish, strengthen, settle them, and so enlarge their liberality, that they may both maintain Thy word among themselves, and may make it known to the regions beyond them, till all the Gentiles hear the glad tidings of Thy love.

And now, O Lord God, be Thou in the midst of us to-day. Give us a constant sense of Thy presence, and may all our undertakings be begun, continued, and ended in Thee, to the honour of Thy great name, for the sake of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

APPENDIX.

MEMORANDUM ON THE INCREASE OF THE INDIAN EPISCOPATE.

In consequence of numerous inquiries respecting the recent movement in favour of increasing the Episcopate in India, the Committee of the Church Missionary Society have deemed it expedient to make the Society's friends acquainted with the course they have taken in the matter up to this time, and with the views they entertain on the subject

Without going farther back into the attempts in which the Society has taken part from time to time for the appointment of Bishops of India, it will suffice to commence with the year 1873, when the opinion of eminent counsel was given on the state of the law bearing upon the subject at that time, to the effect "that it is lawful for the Crown, without another Act of Parliament, and either by Royal Licence or Letters Patent (though, having regard to recent usage, the former mode would probably be adopted), to authorize the Archbishops and Bishops of the Church of England at home, to consecrate Bishops, with the view of their acting as Episcopal Commissaries to the Bishops of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay respectively, in their respective Dioceses, and that the Bishops so consecrated will be competent so to act, provided they shall have previously obtained the authority of the respective Diocesans."

On July 22nd, 1873, the following Resolutions were passed by the Committee:—

"That, in the opinion of this Committee, it is expedient that advantage be taken of the law as at present interpreted, in respect to the consecration of additional Bishops in India, for the appointment, in those districts in which the exigencies of the Native Christian community make it advisable, of Coadjutor Bishops, whose ministrations shall as far as possible be confined to the Native Church.

"That the Presbyters appointed to this office should, as a general rule, be Missionaries of experience, acquainted with the Native language, and identified in their sympathies and interests with the Native Church.

"That such appointments should be regarded as provisional and temporary, as preparing the way for the consecration of Native Bishops, and to cease when the time has arrived for that consummation; consequently, that it appears advisable that such Bishops should derive their income from the Missionary Societies labouring in the field, rather than from any special endowment fund raised for the purpose, which would be calculated to invest their position with an air of permanence.[1]

"That, in all cases, therefore, in which the exigencies of the Native Christian community seem to make such a step desirable, this Committee will be ready to forward the appointment of such Bishops by supplying the necessary stipend, in the event of any of their own Missionaries being chosen to fill the office, provided that their ministrations are as far as possible confined to the Native Church, and so long as they remain in the Mission-field."

These Resolutions were forwarded to the Bishop of Madras, with the request that he would promote the consecration of the Society's experienced Missionary, the Rev. E. Sargent, to exercise Episcopal functions in the Society's Missions in Tinnevelly, with a view to preparing the way for a Native Episcopate.

The Bishop of Madras readily entered into the wishes of the Committee, and communicated to the Archbishop of Canterbury his request that steps might be taken for the consecration both of Mr. (now Dr.) Sargent, of the Church Missionary Society, and Dr. Caldwell, of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, to be Coadjutor Bishops to himself, in the districts in which they were labouring

The matter was taken up warmly by the Archbishop, and matters were rapidly progressing when a letter was received from the Bishop of Calcutta as Metropolitan of India, dated September 8th, 1873, "requesting time for consideration and counsel before any action was taken in the matter of consecrating additional Bishops for India." Out of deference, therefore, to the Bishop of Calcutta, the matter was postponed.

[1] To prevent misunderstanding, the Committee would explain that their remarks in this Clause, on the provisional and temporary character of the proposed appointments, do not apply to the appointment of the individual Bishops, but to the perpetuation of the bishopric in the persons of succeeding European Bishops, whereby a barrier might be raised against the consecration of Native Bishops, and the development of the Native Church be thus hindered rather than helped. In the event of this being effectually provided against, it seems to the Committee to be of comparatively small moment whether the stipend of the Coadjutor Bishop be derived from the interest of a capital sum set apart for a time for that purpose, or be a guaranteed annual payment from the general funds of the Society with which he is connected.

In the year 1874 the Colonial Clergy Act was passed, which, in the opinion of some, made it lawful for the existing Bishops in India, with the consent of the lawful authorities, to consecrate Suffragan Bishops in India; and, toward the close of the year, a letter, dated November 11th, 1874, was received from the Bishop of Madras referring to the Act, and asking whether the Committee were prepared to give a guarantee for the payment of Dr. Sargent's stipend if consecrated Bishop. Thereupon a Resolution was passed by the Committee, December 14th, 1874, stating that they "were prepared to guarantee an adequate stipend to Dr. Sargent, so long as he remained a Missionary of the Society."

Early in June of the present year, (1875) a letter was received from the Archbishop of Canterbury, stating that the question of Indian Missionary Bishops seemed likely to become prominent again, and suggesting the holding of a "friendly informal conference of persons interested in the matter." This conference was held at Lambeth Palace, on the 18th of June, and was attended by the Secretaries of the Society, who stated the terms of the Resolutions of the Committee of July 22nd, 1873, and December 14th, 1874 (above quoted), as showing the nature and degree of support the Church Missionary Society could legitimately give to the object in view. The following Resolutions were then agreed to, the Archbishop having explained that the conditions on which the Church Missionary Society would contribute to an increase in the Indian Episcopate, were to be considered as covered by, and not inconsistent with, the Resolution No. 3:—

"1. That the present state of the Native Churches in India calls for an increase of the Episcopate, with the view of promoting the good government of these communities, and as likely to lead to an addition to the numbers of the Native Clergy.

"2. That it is desirable to take steps for obtaining the opinion of the authorities, civil and ecclesiastical, as to the possibility of proceeding without loss of time to the appointment of assistant Bishops in India, who shall stand to the Bishops of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, in a similar relation to that in which suffragan Bishops consecrated under the Act of Henry VIII. stand to Diocesan Bishops at home.

"3. The Meeting hears with satisfaction that there is a readiness on the part of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, and the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, and the Church Missionary Society, to contribute funds towards the increase of the Indian Episcopate."

It should be observed by the friends of the Society that these Resolutions deal expressly with the exigencies of the Native Church. The Committee would also draw special attention to the fact already referred to—especially as some misconception has arisen on this point—that the third Resolution respecting the readiness of the Church Missionary Society to contribute funds towards the increase of the Indian Episcopate was drawn up on the strength of the Resolutions of the Committee, already referred to, of July 22nd, 1873, and December 14th, 1874, and on the distinct understanding that, so far as the Church Missionary Society is concerned, it was not intended to convey more than is authorized by those Resolutions.

The Committee have always with much jealousy guarded against the diverting of the funds entrusted to them to any other purpose than that for which they are distinctly given, viz. the furtherance of the Gospel among the unevangelized nations of the earth. While, therefore, they are ready to aid in the further development of the Native Churches, by supplementing the stipends of any of the Society's Missionaries who may be appointed Bishops for that purpose, they are unable, as some of their friends have supposed they were about to do, to employ any of the funds of the Society for the endowment of Bishoprics required mainly by the exigencies of the European community.

With the question of Endowment Funds for Bishops of this latter description, the Committee are not concerned. They would, however, call attention to their Resolutions of July 22nd, 1873, from which it will be seen that they are not in favour of raising special endowments for such Coadjutor Bishops as at present are required for the Native Churches. The considerations that such Bishops ought to be Missionaries of experience—that their position is a temporary and transitional one—that they will be succeeded, as the Committee hope, by a Native Episcopate—and that their maintenance meanwhile legitimately belongs to the Missionary Society, which, by the blessing of God, has brought up the Native Church thus far—together with the fact that the number of Missionary districts in India, in which the Native Church is ripe for the appointment of Native Bishops appears to be at present comparatively small—are all arguments in favour of the view of the Committee that it is not so much special Endowment Funds that are wanted at the present time for India, as a larger number of men of devoted spirit and intellectual power to enter the Mission Field as teachers and evangelists, and along with these the supply of increased means for their maintenance.

PROPER FORM OF A BENEFACTION TO THE SOCIETY BY WILL.

No. I.—Form of a Bequest of a Common Legacy.

I give and bequeath to the Treasurer for the time being of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East the sum of Pounds *free of Legacy duty for the general purposes of the said Society to be paid within calendar months next after my death, exclusively out of such part of my Personal Estate as by the Laws in force at my death may be bequeathed for charitable purposes and in priority to all other payments thereout but to be subject to abate proportionably with other Legacies in case my general Personal Estate shall be insufficient for payment of them all in full. And I declare that the receipt of the Treasurer for the time being of the said Society [or each of the said Societies] shall be an effectual discharge for the said Legacy [or Legacies respectively].

No. II.—Form of Bequest of the Residue, or a Share of the Residue.

And in order to give full effect to the bequest hereinafter contained for charitable purposes I direct that my Debts, the expenses of my funeral and of the probate and execution of this my Will and the Legacies bequeathed by this my Will or any Codicil thereto† shall be paid out of such part of my Personal Estate as by the Laws in force at my death may not be bequeathed for charitable purposes as the primary Fund‡ and in case only of the same being insufficient for payment thereof then out of such part of my Personal Estate as may be bequeathed for charitable purposes as the ultimate Fund: and subject as aforesaid, I give and bequeath unto the Treasurer for the time being of The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, for the general purposes of the said Society, such part of my Residuary Personal Estate as by the Laws in force may be bequeathed for charitable purposes [or if a share only of the Residue be intended to be given, then, instead of the words in Italics, say, "such sum of money as shall be equal to one fourth or one half, (according to the intention) of my whole Residuary Personal Estate to be paid exclusively out of such part thereof as may be bequeathed for charitable purposes or such less sum as the said last mentioned part of my Personal Estate will extend to pay"]. And I declare that the Receipt of the Treasurer for the time being of the said Society shall be an effectual discharge for the said residue [or sum of money, as the case may be]. And as to the remainder if any of my general Residuary Personal Estate I bequeath the same, &c.§

* If so intended.

‡ If it be intended also to charge the Debts and Legacies on Real Estate, then add, "and in the next place out of my Freehold and Copyhold Estates."

§ The latter Clause to be filled up according to the Testator's wishes; but it must not be for any charitable purpose.

 This mark * denotes that the Sermon was preached at St. Ann's, Blackfriars; this †, that it was preached at St. Bride's, Fleet Street; the Twenty-third was preached at Christ Church, Newgate Street; the Thirty-first at St. Sepulchre's; the Thirty-second at St. Clement Danes; and the Thirty-third at St. Andrew's, Holborn.

The Collections at the Sixteenth and Subsequent Anniversaries include the sums contributed at the Annual Meetings.

NOTICE TO TREASURERS AND SECRETARIES OF ASSOCIATIONS.

THE Committee of the Church Missionary Society request the Treasurers or Secretaries of Associations to transmit the proceeds of their respective Associations, together with the Contribution Lists and Accounts, as soon after the close of their Financial Year as possible.

The Society's General Accounts are closed on the 31st of March, and all Moneys belonging to the year must be received at the Society's House by that date, in order to secure the insertion of the Lists in their proper places in the Report.

The Lists and Accounts (written legibly to avoid mistakes in printing, and made up in the manner in which the same are printed in the Parent Society's Report) must, in order to secure insertion among the Association Lists in the Report, be sent in not later than the 31st of March. But both labour and expense may be saved to the Society by sending in the Lists and Accounts as much earlier as is possible. The date at which the Accounts of the Association are closed, and the names of the Local Officers, should be specified. Should no names be given, it will be assumed that they remain the same as in the previous Report, and the List will be so printed. Where the Account or the List is a printed one, two copies should be forwarded.

Where an Association has Branches connected with it, the Accounts of the Branches must be forwarded to the Secretary of the Association some time before the period for forwarding the Accounts of the Association to London. When this is not done within a reasonable time, such Branches should be considered as self-excluded, and the Accounts forwarded without them.

To prevent mistakes, it is requested that Branch Associations will in every case, where practicable, forward their Money and Lists through the Association with which they are connected, and not direct to the Parent Society.

The Committee would also point out, for more universal adoption, the convenience of making remittances on account whenever any considerable proportion of the year's receipts is in the hands of the Local Treasurer. This course would tend to equalize in a greater degree the Income and Expenditure in the earlier months of the Society's Financial Year, and save the Society a considerable yearly sum.

The Committee return their cordial thanks to the Treasurers of Associations, and to those friends who kindly fill the office of Secretary—an office which, they are well aware, draws largely on the time and attention of those who occupy it, but on the efficient discharge of the duties of which, the prosperity of an Association chiefly depends.

N.B.—Benefactors of Ten Pounds and upward, whose names have appeared in former Lists of the Associations, will find them in the List of "Benefactions of Former Years."

IV.—ENGLISH ASSOCIATIONS.

* These Funds are deposited with the Society, pending their appropriation by their respective Trustees or Claimants.

We, the Auditors, having examined the Accounts of the Society for the year ending March 31, 1876, and compared them with the Books, find that the above Balance Sheet is correct; and that the several Securities, Bills, and cash at the Bankers' are as therein stated:

ALEXANDER BEATTIE.
F. A. BEVAN.
R. WILLIAMS, JUN. } Auditors.

April 26th, 1876.

Suggested Order of Proceedings at a Meeting Preparatory to the Formation of an Association in Aid of the Church Missionary Society.

1.—Mr. will move, and Mr. will second, a Resolution, "That be requested to take the Chair."

2.—The Chairman will briefly state the object for which the Meeting is assembled, and then call on the Rev. to offer up the usual Prayer to Almighty God, for a blessing on the proceedings of the day.

3.—After Prayer, the Chairman will make such further observations as he may deem necessary, and then call on Mr. to move the first Resolution.

FIRST RESOLUTION.—Moved by
Seconded by

That this Meeting fully recognises the duty incumbent on Christians to employ all suitable means for the propagation of the Gospel throughout the world; and hails, with thankfulness to the Great Head of the Church, the labours of the CHURCH MISSSIONARY SOCIETY in its various Stations in Heathen Lands, and among decayed Christian Churches.

SECOND RESOLUTION.—Moved by
Seconded by

That an Association be now formed, and entitled, "The Church Missionary Association;") and that the following be its Officers and Rules:—

PRESIDENT. VICE-PRESIDENTS.

COMMITTEE:
with power to add to their number.

RULES.

I. Annual Members of this Association shall be all persons subscribing annually One Guinea or upward: or if Clergymen, Half a Guinea; and also such persons as shall collect in its behalf One Shilling or upward per week.

II. Life Members shall be Benefactors of Ten Guineas or upward; or if Clergymen, such as shall contribute Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas; and Executors paying bequests of Fifty Pounds.

III. Annual Governors shall be Subscribers of Five Guineas per annum.

IV. Life Governors shall be Benefactors of Fifty Pounds.

V. Members will be entitled to receive the Annual Reports of the Parent Society, and to vote at its General Meetings. Subscribers of Ten Shillings per annum will receive a copy of the Annual Sermon and Abstract of Report. Collectors of Sixpence and upward per week will receive a copy of each Monthly Number of the "Church Missionary Record;" and Collectors of Two Shillings and upward per week will receive a copy of the Annual Report in addition to the "Record." Governors will be entitled to receive the Reports; and, if Members of the Established Church, to vote at Committee and General Meetings of both the Association and the Parent Society—Clergymen will have the same privilege as Governors. Contributors of 1*d.* a-week and upward will be entitled to receive the Parent Society's "Quarterly Paper."

VI. The objects of this Association shall be, to call forth the zeal of well-disposed persons, and particularly those of the Established Church, in support of the Church Missionary Society—to recommend proper persons who may offer themselves as Missionaries to the Parent Society—to disperse as widely as possible Missionary information—to promote the formation of Branch Associations—and to procure Collections and other Contributions.

VII. The whole of the funds so obtained, after deducting incidental expenses only, shall be remitted to the Church Missionary Society, in aid of its designs.

VIII. A General Meeting shall be held annually, on such day as shall be fixed by the Committee; when a Report of the Proceedings of the Association shall be read, and an account of its receipts and disbursements presented, duly audited.

THIRD RESOLUTION.—Moved by
Seconded by

That the success which, under the Divine Blessing, has attended the Church Missionary Society in its efforts to make known the Gospel of Christ among the Heathen, is a loud and providential call for increased exertions, for devout thanksgiving to Almighty God, and for continual prayer for a more abundant out-pouring of the Holy Spirit to render the means employed successful.

FOURTH RESOLUTION.—Moved by
Seconded by

That the new and enlarged openings for Missionary exertion, in different quarters, demand our best energies to make known the blessed Gospel of Christ to Heathen and Mohammedan Nations.
